Land Deal In Marin City Brings Anger

Residents Protesting Shift Of Ridgeland

By ERIK M. INGRAM

A group of Marin City residents, embittered by action taken last night to release valuable ridgelands surrounding their community to a developer, carried their fight today to Housing and Urban Development Department office in San Francisco.

About 50 residents, among them several school children, boarded a bus and automobiles in Marin City shortly before noon for the caravan across Golden Gate Bridge.

Object of their wrath was the Marin County Redevelopment Agency, which voted unanimously last night to release 176 acres above the Southern Marin community to California Development Co. without obtaining an option to purchase the property back. The option had been demanded in several stormy public meetings of the agency by members of the community, who see it as a safeguard to community control of development.

Residents said today they will ask HUD officials to nullify the agency decision and prohibit the signing of contracts which would seal the deal. That signing was expected today.

The redevelopment agency's vote followed an abortive effort to make such a deal Tuesday during a lengthy joint meeting with the Marin County Housing Authority.

California Developments Co. has served as the community's sole developer for eight years and has failed to complete development in that period. It still controls the flatland redevelopment acreage because of past agreements.

The company purchased the ridgelands for $441,000 in 1962 as part of that agreement with the housing authority and redevelopment agency.

Both groups have been holding the company's final payments on the ridgelands in escrow, thus holding up final sales and transfer of title.

The release agreements approved last night would end the stalemate. Those agreements have been at the heart of controversy during the past week in the predominantly black, low-income community.

Residents today repeated their argument that if the ridgeland is released an option should be attached so that it may be purchased back.

Last night's action was called a "ripoff of the community" by Thelma McKinney, a protest leader. She said today that if the releases are signed formally, the community will lose its voice in future development.

The action taken has caused "overt anger in the community," added Rev. Samuel Banks. He said the redevelopment agency board appeared

Angela In Court; Hears Trial Date

By MARY LEYDECKER

PALO ALTO — Angela Davis, who yesterday left her tiny basement cell here for the first time, learned she will go to trial Jan. 31 in San Jose.

The trial date was set during a one-hour conference in a judge's chambers attended by Miss Davis, her attorneys, the prosecution and Judge Richard E. Arnason.

Meanwhile, about 150 supporters of the former university instructor milled around in a hall outside and listened to speeches from militant leaders, including Bobby Seale.

(Seale, apparently forgetting he was in California not Connecticut, ended his talk with an exhortation to the crowd, with the words, "We all know why we're here — we're here to free Sister Erika Huggins!"

(Mrs. Huggins was freed earlier this year after a Connecticut jury couldn't agree on murder charges growing out of the slaying of a Black Panther who was believed to have been a police informer.)

The surprise announcement that the long-delayed trial will be held in San Jose, not the North County office building in which Miss Davis is now held, came from Santa Clara County's presiding superior court judge, John T. Racanelli.

Racanelli said through a court spokesman in San Jose that the choice was the "consenus view" of the 19 superior court judges in Santa Clara County that the Criminal-Legal Superior Court Building — where felony trials are usually held — is the best place for the trial.

The choice was not a popular one with the sheriff's department, responsible for security for Miss Davis while she stands trial on murder, kidnapping and conspiracy charges stemming from the August 1970 shoot-out in Marin.

Undersheriff Thomas Rosa said yesterday, "We would

Dr. Bunche, U.N. Leader, Dies At 67

NEW YORK (UPI) — Dr. Ralph J. Bunche, former U.N. Undersecretary general for special political affairs and winner of the Nobel Peace Prize in 1950, died at 12:40 a.m. EST today at New York Hospital after a long illness. He was 67.

Bunche's widow said the Negro diplomat entered the hospital two days ago for new tests and had "seemed to be doing very well." He had been suffering from kidney malfunction, diabetes, heart disease and various complications for months.

U. N. Secretary General Thant said today the late Ralph Bunche "was an international

India Troops Push Across River Barrier To Dacca

By U. P. INTERNATIONAL

An Indian military spokesman indicated today in New Delhi that Indian troops had crossed the Meghna River, one of the last major water barriers protecting the East Pakistani capital of Dacca, and that Indian aircraft were inflicting heavy casualties on fleeing Pakistani troops.

The Indian air force and navy bombarded the ports of Karachi and Chittagong in West and East Pakistan today, inflicting heavy damage on shipping. At Dacca, a direct hit on an orphanage by Indian planes buried hundreds of children.

Rescue workers lifting huge chunks of concrete by hand said they had recovered 30 bodies and expressed fear the death toll among the children and in nearby shops and houses could be as high as 500. Pakistan protested to the International Red Cross against this and other bombings of civilians.

Indian Defense Minister Jagjivan Ram told a cheering, desk-banging Parliament today that the Pakistani army in the East was fleeing "in great confusion and disorder" and that their land, air and sea escape routes had been sealed. Tonight, Indian military spokesmen told of the tightening noose around Dacca itself.

The spokesman reeled off a list of East Pakistani towns he said were now in Indian hands and said "we are now firmly astride the Meghna," indicating the Indians were on both sides. A lesser river, a branch of the Brahmaputra, also protects Dacca from the east.

The spokesman also reported Indian successes in Kashmir, 1,000 miles away across India, and said attacks by 18,000 Pakistani troops and 130 tanks had been thrown back in the Chamb sector of southern Kashmir and that India had pushed Pakistanis back across the Munawar Tawi River. He also reported victories in the far north of Kashmir near the borders of Tibet.

Gen. Jagjit Singh Aurora, commander in chief of India's eastern front, told newsmen in Calcutta the Indian air force had destroyed the last Pakistani aircraft in East Pakistan. He also reported the capture of Chandpur, a major riverport 30 miles south of Dacca that controls water approaches to Dacca.

He said Indian tanks at Chandpur opened fire on a Dac-

Lay Teachers Back To Catholic Schools

Lay teachers who had struck seven Bay Area Catholic high schools, including Marin Catholic in Kentfield, returned to their jobs today following acceptance of a contract offer yesterday.

Rev. Francis A. Lacey, principal at Marin Catholic, said nine of 10 lay teachers and four nuns who had walked out with them Nov. 15, resumed their teaching jobs this morning.

One teacher, John Komo, resigned during the strike to accept a nonteaching job elsewhere, Father Lacey said.

The new contract calls for no wage increase during 1971 and a salary increase of 5 or 6 per cent in 1972-73, "depending upon placement on the salary schedule itself," said Gerald Killian, president of the Secondary Teachars Association.

The striking teachers had been seeking a 6 per cent increase this year and next.

The archdiocese's original offer was for no wage increase in the current year and increases of four per cent in the second and third years.

The striking teachers association voted "overwhelmingly" last night to accept the contract offer, Killian said.

Top-Level Reshuffle Has Water Director Support

By PAT ANGLE

A proposal to reorganize management of the Marin Municipal Water District yesterday won enthusiastic support of district directors, who not only adopted the plan but moved swiftly to designate people to fill new management slots. (See charts on page 38, and other water district stories, page 3.)

According to the consultants who prepared the plan, adoption of all recommendations in the reorganization study will mean a net cost to the district of an additional $15,000 a year. They said a new community interests division will add about $47,000 to the district's annual payroll, but indicated this cost will be offset by payroll reductions of about $32,000 resulting from some consolidation of jobs proposed in the study.

The reorganization, proposed by the San Francisco consulting firm of Cresap, McCormick and Paget Inc., divides district functions into five main divisions, each to be headed by a manager who will report only

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Pension Pitch

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon wants Congress to give 14 million self-reliant "little men" a tax break to encourage them to save for their age.

In a special message to Congress yesterday, Nixon outlined a pension reform plan featuring legislation permitting individuals to claim an income tax deduction of up to $1,500 a year for money systematically put aside for retirement.

The President also urged Congress to write into law a complex formula to guarantee that workers with at least a minimum time on the payroll do not lose private pension benefits because they change jobs before retirement.

Auto Cutback

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The White House and other executive branch agencies have been ordered by government budget managers to buy no new cars for the next six months, an economy measure that will mean 20,000 fewer orders for U. S. auto makers.

The step also is expected to save $30 million.

The auto austerity program will continue into the fiscal year of 1972-1973 which starts next July 1.

Salvation Army Honors Nixon

Tricia

The award, the Salvation Army's highest, praised the President for his "faithfulness as a statesman while fulfilling his role as father and husband" and Mrs. Nixon for being "a happy homemaker and the finest type of American woman."

The citation praised the first family "for their strong sense of family unity and a love for God that is shown in the desire to serve him by serving others."

Mrs. Cox, the President's eldest daughter, squelched published rumors that she was pregnant. "Far be it from me to question the veracity" of these reports, she said. "Maybe they know something I don't know but I'm really not."

The award ceremony was held before 3,500 members and guests of the Salvation Army in the New York Hilton.

Price Violations

CLEVELAND (UPI) — The AFL-CIO says that preliminary reports it has gathered demonstrate "widespread evasion and violation" of price controls from coast-to-coast despite President Nixon's control program.

Leo Perlis, coordinator of the labor organization's price monitoring program, last night urged the Price Commission and the Internal Revenue Service to crack down on violators of government guidelines.

"In the face of highly flexible price controls and totally inadequate enforcement, the price control program is a farce," Perlis said.

Perlis spoke at an AFL-CIO-sponsored rally. He urged consumers to monitor prices of food, rent, health services, clothing and other goods and services.

Bellow, Welty Join Academy

NEW YORK (UPI) — The American Academy of Arts and Letters has elected six new members, bringing its membership to the full complement of 50, it was announced Wednesday.

Elected were novelist Saul Bellow, painter Isabel Bishop, playwright Arthur Miller, sculpfor Isamu Naguchi, historian Barbara Tuchman and novelist Eudora Welty.

Policeman Slain

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (UPI) — A part-time Ulster militiaman was shot to death and his 10-year-old daughter wounded in the leg as they watched television in their home last night. The gunman was believed a member of the Irish Republican Army (IRA).

It was the second shooting death of a part-time soldier in 24 hours, and an Army officer said today that the killings neither will frighten nor demoralize the civilian militia to which both belonged.

Mariner Flares Up

PASADENA (UPI) — Something went wrong with the electrical system aboard Mariner 9, the U. S. satellite circling Mars, and its reserve power had to be switched on, Mariner scientists said yesterday.

The satellite then resumed operating normally, said the Mariner center at jet propulsion laboratory.

Instruments keeping track of Mariner showed a sudden rise of 15 degrees in the temperature and the electrical output of the power unit more than tripled as the satellite swung around the planet on its 48th orbit Tuesday, the scientists said.

73 Cong Killed In Big Fight

SAIGON (UPI) —South Vietnamese forces supported by allied artillery and helicopter gunships today fought the biggest battle so far in the 17-day-old campaign against Viet Cong and North Vietnamese sanctuaries in the Cambodian rubber producing country.

The South Vietnamese command reported 73 Viet Cong killed in six hours of fighting today with the fighting still raging at dusk in the area to the west of Tay Ninh on the South Vietnamese border.

There was no immediate report of allied casualties. Nor was there a breakdown on how many guerrillas were killed by ground forces and how many in air and helicopter strikes.

More than 100 guerrillas were reported killed Monday and Tuesday by B52 air strikes on the Chup rubber plantation, believed to be a Communist stronghold, but that was exclusively an air strike.

Since the new offensive in the Cambodian rubber country began the South Vietnamese report 508 guerrillas killed— including the 73 reported killed today—and 32 guerrillas captured, at a cost of 40 South Vietnamese killed and 241 wounded.

The U.S. command reported today that four Americans were killed in action and 14 others wounded last week, the ninth week in a row U.S. battle deaths numbered fewer than 10.

South Vietnamese battle deaths, which have been running about 300 a week all year, totaled 314 last week. Guerrilla dead totaled 808, the South Vietnamese command said.

Total combat dead since the official beginning of the war Jan. 1, 1961, nearly 11 years ago, according to allied figures, are 45,617 Americans, 130,469 South Vietnamese and 785,572 guerrillas.

Susan B. Anthony $2 Bills Sought

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Sen. Glenn Beall Jr., R-Md., has introduced legislation to authorize the Treasury to resume printing $2 bills with a portrait of women's rights champion Susan B. Anthony.

A similar bill was introduced earlier in the House. The old $2 bill, which carried the portrait of Thomas Jefferson, has not been printed since 1966.

Pay Board Tightens Wage Policies

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Pay Board has tightened its control over contract settlements in the construction industry in an effort to bring building trades wage agreements more in line with its 5.5 per cent annual guideline.

In a meeting Wednesday night, the Pay Board and the Construction Industry Stabilization Committee (CISC) agreed to establish a six-man subcommittee "to work out specific procedures to assure conformity with the announced policies of the Pay Board." In the meantime, the temporary freeze on construction contracts settled after Aug. 15 will continue.

The Pay Board had ordered members of the construction committee to explain why agreements they have approved have averaged twice the board's 5.5 per cent a year increase guideline. The board also asked why some settlements have allowed retroactivity during the wage-price freeze despite the general ban.

Government sources said the general tone of the Wednesday meeting made one thing clear—the Pay Board expects the CISC to put wage settlements more in line with the 5.5 per cent guideline, although the Board itself approved a first year 15.5 per cent pay and benefit increase for coal miners.

The board let stand some 450 agreements approved by the CISC that were negotiated prior to the wage-price freeze that started Aug. 15, of nearly 11 per cent a year and despite the fact some of them provided retroactivity during the freeze.

One public member of the board said CISC Chairman John Dunlop, a Harvard dean, made a convincing argument in favor of the committee's approval of retroactive payments during the freeze.

Dunlop said the retroactive wage payments were approved under a Pay Board rule allowing such payments in cases where employers had raised prices prior to the freeze in anticipation of wage increases caught in the freeze.

Congressional Deadlock; U.S. Foreign Aid Is Dead

WASHINGTON (UPI ) —The U.S. foreign aid program technically expired at midnight Wednesday when Congress, deadlocked over an antiwar anendment, failed to meet the deadline for approving a new program.

The program expired a few hours after Senate leaders sent word to the House they would not consider a House appropriations bill until Congress clears the foreign aid authorization measure.

The authorization legislation includes an amendment introduced by Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield declaring it a "national policy" to withdraw all U.S. troops from Indochina within six months in exchange for release of American prisoners of war.

Wednesday the House approved a $2.7 billion appropriation for foreign aid for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1972. House leaders had hoped to bypass the stalled authorization measure.

The expiration of the old foreign aid program ended authority to make new spending commitments and meet payrolls that include 14,000 workers.

However, projects under way continued and money in the pipeline continued to flow. By the time the next pay checks are due it is expected Congress will have made a compromise settlement.

Defense Department spending authority also expired at midnight. Congress has not given final passage to the department's annual money bill. But in this case also, Congress was expected to complete work on the new legislation before there is a spending pinch.

Foreign aid spending authority originally expired Nov. 15 but was extended by the passage of a continuing resolution. The resolution expired at midnight Wednesday.

District To Annex Own Land

Directors of the Marin Municipal Water District voted unanimously yesterday to annex approximately 1,000 acres of land which the district owns near Nicasio.

Directors learned that the annexation will mean the district no longer must pay $10,659 in annual taxes on the reservoir land. Of those taxes, $1,042 were paid in the past to Nicasio School District and the remainder went to the County of Marin, according to Seeger.

The annexation will not have a serious effect on the school district, which raises approximately $25,305 annually through property taxes in the district, Seeger said.

The land to be annexed has an assessed value of $118,424.

The Marin Municipal Water District Board also:

FENCE — Awarded a contract for fencing for storage tanks in the Rafael Highlands, Glenwood, Escalle and Tennessee Valley areas to the Able Fence Company of San Rafael whose low bid was $15,916.

FIRELINE — Agreed to enter into a contract to form an assessment district in conjunction with the city of Corte Madera to finance provision of 615 feet of eight-inch fireline pipeline on Hawthorne Lane in Corte Madera.

PIPE — Awarded a contract for 4,200 feet of six and eight-inch pipe to United Concrete Pipe Corp. of Riverside whose low bid was $19,108.

EXTENSION — At the request of the Tamalpais Fire Protection District agreed to install 770 feet of pipe between Shoreline Highway and South Morningsun Avenue. Total cost for the lines will be $18,074. Of that, the district will pay $9,037 and the fire district will contribute $11,690.

FIRE HYDRANTS — Awarded a contract for fire hydrant equipment to the Water Works Supply Company of Union City. The firm's low bid was $18,815.

SERVICE REQUESTS — Approved variances allowing the district to provide water service to Ronald Antonioli, 4477 Redwood Highway, San Rafael, and to Arthur J. Lange, Lot 3, Geldhert Drive, Tiburon.

DEMANDS — Agreed to pay $416,100 for district expenses in November, including payroll, services, supplies and equipment.

COMPLETION — Accepted a notice of completion from Maggiora and Ghilotti Inc. of Corte Madera for an $83,076 project to upgrade the district's lines in the Sausalito area.

EQUIPMENT — Awarded a contract for service stops and fittings to the Mueller Company of Brea, Calif., whose low bid was $13,805.

Informers Warned

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI)—The city council, in an attempt to curb narcotic peddling in the capital city, has offered a $500 reward for information leading to the conviction of heroin pushers.

City-School Joint Study Is Rejected

A proposal that Fairfax School District sponsor with the City of Fairfax a study of economic effects of various possible uses of the Marin Town and Country Club property has been rejected by the school board.

The board, however, did authorize a letter to the city council urging the council to make such a study before residential development was allowed on the property.

The joint planning study of the property was suggested to the board Tuesday by Everett Jensen, a member of a committee, called Preserve Land and Nature, which hopes to prevent residential development of the town and country club site.

Fairfax schools Supt. H. Reginald Hammond said the board would be concerned if it appeared costs of educating the children brought in by residential development would exceed tax revenues from the development.

The board Tuesday also acknowledged receipt of a $3,110 check from Marin Municipal Water District for a pipeline easement at White Hill School and authorized Hammond to use the money for improvements to the playground area at White Hill.

A communications workshop program for the Central School staff was approved by the board for three weekends in January and February at a cost to the district of $900, Hammond said.

'Witch' A Teacher Again

TUCSON, Ariz. (UPI) — An English teacher who was fired because her pupils believed she was a witch has been ordered reinstated by the court.

The Flowing Wells School Board was ordered Tuesday to rehire Ann Stewart, suspended Nov. 25, 1970.

Superior Court Judge John C. Collins ordered Mrs. Stewart reinstated with a new one year contract. He ruled that the board had not held the required hearing for the tenured teacher after notifying her of dismissal.

Marin Reservoirs Down Markedly From '71 Level

The Marin Municipal Water District's four reservoir lakes are filled to 54 per cent of capacity, as compared to 94 per cent at this time last year, district directors learned yesterday. (Another water district story, page 1.)

In a report designed as one of a series to inform the board and the public about the district water supply, administrative engineer B. G. Grant and senior engineer Bernie Heare said the lakes currently contain approximately 9.24 billion gallons. Total capacity of Bon Tempe, Alpine, Kent, Lagunitas and Nicasio is about 17 billion gallons.

The engineers said the district will use an estimated 10 billion gallons during 1971.

Rainfall in Marin to date this year, at least in the areas where the lakes are located, has totalled five inches, as compared to 25 inches for this same period last year, the engineers noted.

TVs Are Banned In Texas Vehicles

Top-Level Reshuffle Has Water Director Support

to Gen. Mgr. William R. Seeger.

The five major changes approved by the water district board are:

1. Establishment of a division of water treatment and distribution in order to handle all district functions relating to these two activities. In the past, activities dealing with treatment and distributions were scattered throughout the district organization.

e 2. Setting-up of a full-service engineering division which, for the first time, will include such related activities as surveying.

3. Establishment of a division of construction and maintenance which will deal only with those functions. Under current organization, this division also handles operations or movement of water, a function which will now fall to the division of treatment and distribution.

4. Creation of a new division of community interests, designed to increase rapport between the district and the public. The manager of community interests will have charge of environmental and land-use planning, horticultural and recreational programs, public relations and the district's watershed patrol.

5. Expansion of the existing auditor-controller division to include personnel activities.

The consultants recommended no change — at least for the present — in the duties or responsibilities of the project manager for the district's Improvement District A.

After meeting in closed session for about three hours, the board accepted the reorganization plan and voted to make some new personnel designations.

J. Dietrich Stroeh, now principal engineer, was named manager of engineering, a job similar to but somewhat expanded from the post he now holds. H. P. Puccinelli will continue as superintendent of construction and maintenance, the board decided, and auditor-controller P. R. Gilliam will retain his present job.

Directors voted to recruit, both from in and out of the district, persons to fill the posts of manager of water treatment and distribution and manager of community interests.

Consultants Joseph F. Klammer and Robert V. Goode, who explained the proposed changes to the board, said the new structure will make delegation of responsibility and determination of accountability much easier. This will result from the fact that all activities related to one district function will be located in a single division, under one manager.

Another important aspect of the reorganization, according to consultants, is that it will facilitate training of successors to management personnel, something the consultants said has not been possible in the old organization. In the past, they said, most managers have been engaged in very specialized activities which did not give them the overview of the district or the experience to prepare them to move up, for example, to the post of general manager.

They told the board the new system will provide proving grounds for managerial competence and give the five division managers the chance to acquire general manager skills. (Seeger is scheduled to retire in 1977.)

As part of this aspect of the proposal, the consultants recommended that the general manager — now heavily involved in all district activities — delegate more authority and decision-making to division heads. They also urged the district board to provide structured training programs to help develop management personnel at all levels from among its own employees.

By improving the chain of management succession in the water district, Goode and Klammer said future expansion of the district will be simplified. In addition, they said better future management will be insured.

In making the presentation to the board, the consultants said the district had been functioning very effectively in spite of, rather than because of the existing organizational structure.

The consultants warned that unless the structure is changed to provide managerial training grounds, problems will arise when long-time employees and managers retire.

"We think you should use the organization as a tool to develop management," Goode told the board.

Road Warnings Up As Snow Falls In Sierra

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— Snow fell today at ski resorts in the Northern California mountains, and travel warnings were posted in the Central and Southern Sierra for locally heavy snow and wind.

The 10 a.m. report from the California State Automobile Association:

Interstate 80: Sugar Bowl 6 inches new, 3-6 feet total, open this weekend; Boreal Ridge 3-5 inches new, night skiing through Sunday.

Highway 89: Squaw Valley 1z-36 inches, 4-9 lifts operating; Alpine Meadows 20-40 inches, fair skiing, 4 lifts; Tahoe Ski Bowl, open tomorrow for weekend; Homewood may open this weekend.

Highway 50: Heavenly Valley 4 chairs and tram operating; Echo Summit 42 inches, open this weekend; Sierra Ski Ranch 29-42 inches, very good, 2 chairs, 1 poma.

Highway 4: Bear Valley 3 chairs operating.

Novato Woman Is Found Dead

Won Jong Frink, 26, of Novato, a native of Korea, died at her home yesterday of a gunshot wound that was apparently self-inflicted, according to the coroner's office.

Mrs. Frink, wife of Roland Frink of 20 Margory Court, was discovered dead in the family garage by her husband at 8:50 a.m., a bullet wound in her head. Nearby was a .38-caliber revolver. The coroner's office listed the death as suicide.

She had been a resident of Marin for eight months.

Private family service will be held Saturday at Marin Memorial Gardens, Novato.

Postal Branch For The Rush

Postmaster John F. Fahy said the annex, at United Travel Service, will be open from noon to 5 p.m. weekdays and from 9:30 a.m. to noon Saturdays until Dec. 18.

Throughout Marin and Southern Sonoma, post offices will be open the next two Saturdays until noon, in addition to regular hours.

10 Children Books Hit: Racist Ideas

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— Children's books that could fill impressionable young minds with racist and sexist ideas have been listed by the Association of Children's Librarians (ACL).

The ACL named 10 such books —among them "Mary Poppins" and "Dr. Dolittle" — and recommended that they be re-evaluated because of racist references.

The "Dr. Dolittle" books refer to "niggers," the library group said.

The "Mary Poppins" book contains a passage in which she and her friends encounter some blacks in rags who say:

"Ah bin 'specting you a long time, Mar' Poppins. You bring dem chillun dere into me li'l house for a slice of watermelon right now."

Other books the ACL recommended for re-evaluation included the following: "The Matchlock Gun," "Charlie and the Chocolate Factory," "The Secret Garden," "The Rooster Crows," "Bedknob and Broomstick," "Caddie Woodlawn" and "The Story of the Treasure Seekers."

Nancy Schimmel, co-chairman of the association's social responsibilities committee, said, "We are not recommending that the books be removed from the shelves. That we leave up to the individual libraries."

Barrier For Span May Be Shelved

Construction of a suicide barrier on the Golden Gate Bridge, under consideration since 1948, once again may be shelved by bridge district directors.

The district already has spent $5,000 on a new architectural study for a barrier, but the building and operating committee of the district balked today at a staff request for $60,000 to complete wind tests and other engineering analyses.

Board president Lowell Edington, a member of the committee, cautioned that high costs for the upcoming bus system may drain district reserves too heavily to leave money for other bridge plans and projects.

Other members of the committee agreed and postponed action on the $60,000 allocation for at least two months, pending long-range projections of district expenses.

In another matter today, the committee recommended to the full board installation of a new roadway lighting system that would cost about $213,000. The equipment, to be installed over the next year, would improve motorist visibility, according to Dist. Engineer Robert E. Shields.

Patrol Prevents Leap At Bridge

"I'm so lonely. You couldn't know how lonely I am."

The two officers, suspicious because of the hour (3 a.m.) and rainy weather, had hailed the pedestrian. McCarthy ran to a rail and started to climb over. The officers leaped from their car, grabbed his leg and pulled him back.

institution in his own right, transcending both nationality and race."

"I myself have lost an incomparable friend and colleague," said Thant.

"As a leader of the United Nations, he played one of the most prominent roles in keeping the world at peace," Bush said.

Bunche retired from his United Nations post —the highest ever held by an American official —in October. His career had been identified with the United Nations from its inception until his decision to step down from the post of undersecretary due to ill health.

Bunche was working in the State Department in 1945 when he received the assignment to begin plans for an international organization which could bring some order to a world wracked by a war that was drawing to its close. He negotiated the armistice agreements between the new state of Israel and her Arab neighbors in 1948 and won the Nobel Peace Prize for his efforts.

In 1949 he succeeded Count Folke Bernadotte as the U.N. mediator when the Swedish nobleman was assassinated in Jerusalem.

He became an undersecretary in 1955 with no specific responsibilities except to work directly with the secretary general on knotty international problems. He had been offered the job of assistant Secretary of State by President Eisenhower but turned it down, reportedly because it meant a pay cut and moving back to a "Jim Crow" city.

Bunche is survived by his widow, the former Ruth Ehtel Harris of Montgomery, Ala., whom he married in 1930 when she was a schoolteacher, a daughter, Joan and a son, Ralph Jr. Another daughter, Mrs. Burton Pierce, died in 1966.

The diplomat was born in Detroit, Mich., Aug. 7, 1904, son of a barber from Ohio and an amateur pianist from Kansas. He was orphaned at 13 and entirely self-supporting by the time he was 15.

He attended schools in Detroit, Albuquerque, N.M., and Los Angeles, attended the University of California at Los Angeles and received his master's degree and doctorate at Harvard.

Bunche was light-skinned enough to pass as white but he had known racial slights. Several years ago his son applied for membership in the famed tennis club at Forest Hills, where the family lived, and was rejected.

Bunche joined government service in 1941 as a senior social service analyst for Africa and the Far East.

He was a member of the San Francisco U.N. Conference at which the United Nations was born and also was a member of the first U.N. General Assembly in London in 1946.

Five-Part Office Idea Is Advanced

The Sausalito Community Appearances Advisory board last night gave conceptual approval to a plan by Richard York to build offices on Harbor Drive, between the Big G Market and Clipper Yacht Harbor, building inspector William L. Hynes reported.

Hynes said York is seeking to build five small office units — rather than a single large office building — on the one-acre parcel.

Architect Rolan Mays, who made the presentation of plans, said he would now prepare working drawings.

The board also gave tentative approval to plans by Joseph and Al Scoma to remodel and reopen the old Blue Fin Inn restaurant, 2009 Bridgeway, as a restaurant called "Mama Annie's."

Hynes said the restauranteurs will probably have to obtain a variance for the remodeling since the building is now nonconforming and the work they plan will be greater in value than 50 per cent of the worth of the existing structure. The building is nonconforming, he said, principally because it does not meet city requirements for off-street parking.

"hypnotized not to listen to community complaints last night."

The action came on a recommendation from a negotiating committee made up of board members from the two agencies and three residents. The committee met yesterday with a California Development official for the announced purpose of preparing for negotiation on furure development in Marin City.

Last night, however, according to residents, it was learned an "informal agreement" was signed by the committee to release ridgelands as a condition to future negotiations.

"Future negotiations over what?" one resident asked today. "With the releases signed there's nothing left to negotiate."

The three community members of the negotiating committee complained last night that they had been "hoodwinked" into signing the informal agreement.

Frank T. Phillips of the Marin City Community Services District and Marin City resident, last night said he didn't realize the legal impact of the informal document when he signed it.

At Tuesday's joint meeting of the housing authority and redevelopment agency boards, Phillips predicted what happened yesterday would occur. He asked the community not to blame him if their interests were not represented in the informal agreement since he had only one vote.

ca-bound river steamer packed with 400 to 500 Pakistani troops and that Indian planes then roared in and set the craft on fire.

UPI correspondent Lemmy Pinna reported from Karachi on the west coast of Pakistan that Indian warplanes sank a foreign merchant ship today and set two other ships ablaze. The foreign ship was not identified.

Unconfirmed reports in Karachi said one of the ships hit was American. In London a spokesman for the Gosland Steamship Company said India aircraft attacks Wednesday night killed seven crewmen aboard the British cargo ship Harmattan.

The Indian air force has carried out almost daily attacks on Karachi harbor and it is overlaid with a dense pall of smoke. Pakistan officials said the Indian planes also hit civilian population areas, causing heavy loss of life and property.

At Chittagong, the main port for East Pakistan, Indian naval forces thwarted attempts of Pakistani gunboats to sneak out from their bottled up positions in the Bangla Desh port, India's eastern command spokesmen announced.

The spokesman said the Injians sank four gunboats when they refused to surrender and that the navy captured two Pakistani merchant ships and was escorting them to Indian ports.

Several foreign ships including one American have been hit by Indian attacks. The captain of a Panamanian freighter hit near Chittagong said in Rangoon one crewman was killed and two wounded. He said a Danish ship also was hit.

The bombing of the Moslem orphanage in Dacca was the second major apparent mistake bombing in the area this week. About 300 workers were reported killed when bombs hit a jute mill housing project near a power plant. The Dacca orphanage was near the Dacca airport which has been put out of business by the bomb attacks.

Radio Pakistan said the government had drawn the attention of the International Red Cross "to the heinous acts being committed by the Indian air force by indulging in indiscriminate bombing and strafing of the civilian population..."

Both sides reported sinking or damaging submarines. Ram told the cheering Indian Parliament that a second Pakistani uubmarine had been sunk and that Pakistan has so far lost three warships, nine gunboats and two submarines.

Pakistani spokesmen in Karachi said the Pakistani navy badly damaged a Soviet-made submarine of the Indian navy 47 miles south of Karachi on Wednesday and that a destroyer and a frigate were following up today in hopes of confirming the kill. A spokesman said the submarine was leaking oil badly.

OBITUARIE

GRACE C. SCRIPILLITI

Requiem Mass will be offered at 10:30 a.m. tomorrow in St. Pius Catholic Church, Redwood City, for Grace C. Scripilliti, mother of Eustace Scripilliti of Tiburon.

Mrs. Scripilliti, 69, died on Tuesday in Redwood City, where she was a longtime resident. She was a native of Italy.

She was a member of Galileo Galilei Chapter 1959, Sons of Italy and of the Italian Catholic Federation in Redwood City.

She also is survived by another son and a daughter, Rosario Scripillini of Belmont and Mrs. Ralph Gatton of Redwood City, eight grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

Sons of Italy services will be conducted at 7:45 p.m. today in the Redwood Chapel, Redwood City, followed by recitation of the Rosary at 8 p.m.

STRIKE

About 100 members of the association had struck the high schools last month to back their demand for higher wages.

"While the teachers were not completely satisfied with the contract offer from the archdiocese, they felt it was in the interests of the school system and their students to return to the schools and end the crisis," Killian said.

Nonstriking lay teachers at the seven struck schools yesterday had denounced the American Federation of Teachers for its role in the three-week walkout. The teachers association affiliated with the federation shortly after the strike began.

Ed Fennelly, business manager at Riordan High School in San Francisco, acted as spokesman for nonstriking instructors yesterday and said the strike would have ended two weeks ago if the AFT had not been involved.

Crash Victim Satisfactory

A San Rafael woman was reported in satisfactory condition today at Marin General Hospital with injuries suffered when her car crashed into a San Anselmo shop earlier today.

Terry Leland, 49, of 754 Bamboo Terrace, suffered a cut forehead and left knee and a dislocated right hip, the hospital said.

San Anselmo police said she was injured when she lost control of her car and crashed into the Londoner Fish and Chips Shop, 75 Red Hill Avenue, at 2:15 a.m. today.

A Windmill Caper Staged In Michigan

LUDINGTON, Mich. (UPI)— Mrs. Anna Miteen complained to the Mason County Sheriff's Department that someone had stolen the 35-foot tall windmill from her farm.

Officers said the windmill was sawed off at the base and tracks indcated it had been hauled away in a truck.

LET THERE BE LIGHT

The Christmas lights festooning that tall tree in Courthouse Square in San Rafael today are not the work of Christmas elves. As can be seen here, they were strung Tuesday by members of the San Rafael Fire Department using the department's 85-foot snorkel truck. The lights were provided by the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce.

Patrick Firm To Court Dec. 20 On Sales Count

A San Rafael men's clothing firm, accused of using a false sales pitch to recruit prospective distributors, will be called on to defend itself Dec. 20 in Marin Superior Court.

The firm, Alexander Taylor, Inc., headed by cosmetics magnate William Penn Patrick who is not named in the suit, plans to call two experts in marketing, according to its attorney, Alvin H. Goldstein Jr., to rebut five days of prosecution testimony that ended Tuesday.

The state is asking the court to stop the company from soliciting distributors and to pay $250,000 civil damages and $250,000 punitive damages.

After Diana Woodward Cohan and Michael J. Kelly, deputies in the State Attorney General's office in San Francisco, completed their case, Judge Joseph G. Wilson set the Dec. 20 date to hear the defense's key witnesses.

Mrs. Cohan and Kelly alleged that Alexander Taylor Inc., located at 68 Paul Drive in Northgate Industrial Park, is an "endless chain" scheme that violates the state Penal Code. They said the company also violates the state Franchise Investment Law by not registering its offer of franchises with the state Commissioner of Corporations, and is guilty of misrepresentation.

Mrs. Cohan said the company misrepresented the amount of money a distributor can earn, and told distributors they would get goods directly from the factory at low prices.

Calvin McPherson of Fresno, a senior consultant who worked for the company since December 1970, testified he was told he could earn $31,000 per year by recruiting one senior consultant per month. He said he became disillusioned because he had trouble selling the firm's products.

H. K. White of San Rafael, who was president of Alexander Taylor until Nov. 1, testified that the company's price markup was triple the cost. He said goods bought for $1 would be sold for $3. White was succeeded as president by Thomas J. Benzing of San Diego on Nov. 1.

Gary Richmond, buyer for the company, testified that some suits were marked up more than three times the cost price.

Goldstein protested that the amount of markup has no bearing on the case. "Brooks Brothers might mark up many items more than three times, and cosmetics companies and jewelry stores have markups of 10 and 20 times," said Goldstein.

He said his expert witnesses on Dec. 20 will show that Alexander Taylor is a legitimate clothing firm that is violating no law. "Its object is not to proliferate distributorships but to sell products," said Goldstein.

Judge Wilson said witnesses will be heard on Dec. 20 and final arguments will be presented on Jan. 7.

Alexander Taylor Inc. was founded in the spring of 1970, with offices on Lincoln Avenue in San Rafael. The office moved to Northgate Industrial Park, and Patrick, founder of Holiday Magic cosmetics firm, became chairman of the board of directors in August.

Other Patrick firms include Sta-Power Industries.

Seven Injured By Live Shell

SAIGON (UPI)—South Vietnamese officers "accidentally" threw a live cannon round into a U.S. officers' hut at a Da Nang Air base party Monda, injuring seven Americans, military sources said today.

Official spokesmen confirmed there had been "an explosive device" detonated inside the billet, but refused to give specific details because the case was under investigation.

Vietnamese Air Force officers at a party next door to the American hut had thrown a number of smoke grenades at the officers' barracks, the sources said. Suddenly, apparently by mistake, one threw a shell from an aircraft 40mm cannon at the hut.

FIRE CALLS

YESTERDAY:

5:09 p.m., San Rafael —Overheated furnace motor in Harry Bach residence, 17 Crestwood Drive, caused minor smoke damage.

6:38 p.m., Petaluma — Car fire at Petaluma Boulevard North and Washington Street; vehicle owned by Theresa Oliver, 10 Bassett Street. Found to be short-circuited battery cable; no damage.

7:26 p.m., Petaluma — Fire in kitchen and entryway of the Richard Robert home, 119 Post Street, caused by overheated pan of grease on stove. No damage estimate made.

9:47 p.m., San Anselmo — Kitchen fire in F.B. Niess home, 317 Laurel Avenue, caused by wax igniting during candle making project. Smoke damage and damage to curtains estimated at $150.

New and prospective brides and bridegrooms should check their health care coverage to make sure they are adequately protected, suggests the Blue Cross Association.

Facelifting Plans For Firms Approved

The Larkspur Planning Commission approved plans yesterday for facelifting the Rainbow Market, 483 Magnolia Avenue, and an adjoining barber shop and beauty parlor, according to the city's planner, John W. Appleton.

The structure will be redecorated with stucco, a coat of paint and trim in conformance with plans for the downtown by the Downtown Action Committee.

The Independent-Journal erred yesterday in reporting that development plans turned down by the Larkspur Planning Commission included only one parking place for each four units.

The plans actually included 1.4 spaces for each of the 224 units as recommended by the city's consultant, Sydney Williams.

The commission shot down the proposal of Larwin Multi-Housing Corp. of Beverly Hills after more than four hours of discussion during which city staff repeatedly warned of a possible lawsuit if the plan was denied.

The commission adjourned to 8 p.m. Tuesday at city hall to take up items on the agenda not discussed last night.

Progress Made On Dutch Elm Disease

DETROIT (UPI) —Detroit is making progress in the war against Dutch elm disease with the 1971 elm inspection revealing 9,600 positive Dutch elm disease cases, a drop of 400 from last year.

"While the figure is still within the 10,000 range we've been experiencing annually, we're holding on to many trees," report Leslie Toth, city forester.

Serving The Needs

DETROIT (UPI) —More than 523,000 trucks serve the daily needs of Michigan's people and industry, reports the Michigan Trucking Association which maintains a Cooperative Safety Patrol of 95 men, some with radar equipment, to check on the driving habits of regulated truckers.

PALO ALTO CELL — The small cell with double bunks is the one occupied by Angela Davis in Palo Alto as she awaits transfer to San Jose, where her trial on charges in connection with the Marin Civic Center shoot-out is scheduled to begin Jan. 31.

have preferred that the trial be here (Palo Alto) because of the security."

He added there are no women's quarters at the present time in the San Jose building. Miss Davis's chief counsel, Howard Moore Jr., said later that it will take officials about a month to prepare quarters for her in San Jose and she will remain in Palo Alto in the interim.

As for the date of the trial, it was a compromise, according to Asst. Atty. Gen. Albert W. Harris Jr., who said he had asked an earlier one and the defense a later one.

Harris estimated the trial will last from four to six months and said he plans to call about 110 witness. Asked if that number of witnesses was not unusual, Harris replied, "This is a complex case."

He blamed the long delays on Miss Davis's attorneys and her codefendant, San Quentin convict Ruchell Magee, who stalled the case before his case was split from Miss Davis's. His trial awaits the conclusion of hers.

Miss Davis's current quarters and the security in Palo Alto were in great contrast to Marin yesterday.

Outside the four-story building in Palo Alto, only two deputies patrolled in the morning before the crowd of supporters arrived. Although their number was later increased, there were no metal detectors, no personal searches and no banning of "Free Angela" placards within the building.

Business, too, was going on as usual in the building, which seems stark alongside Marin's Civic Center. There was an air of friendly quiet, however, as county workers cheerfully volunteered information.

"She's almost my roommate," a law librarian said, referring to her proximity to Miss Davis on the basement level of the building.

Outside a tunnel entrance to the jail, a workman was installing drop gates, a precaution apparently due to Miss Davis's presence. Inside the jail, the usual booking desk was manned by sheriff's deputies.

The sheriff's department yesterday handed out pictures of Miss Davis's quarters, showing two tiny cells and an even tinier day room between them.

According to menus given to press, Miss Davis lunched yesterday on chicken gumbo soup, a sandwich and coffee and for dinner she got cole slaw, stew, spinach and jello.

Although Moore carefully refrained from favorably comparing Marin's jail facilities with those at Palo Alto, he said she cannot use her electric typewriter in Palo Alto because there is no electric outlet.

Moore also said he will continue to "fight until there's no more room to fight" against the trial being held in Santa Clara County.

"In many ways, San Jose reminds me of the South," he said, "although there are more races (in San Jose.)"

He had asked her trial be held in San Francisco.

Mini-Plants Urged For Sewage

A retired sanitary district engineer last night urged directors of the Bolinas Community Public Utility District to investigate small packaged sewage treatment plants, with an eye to buying one for use in the district, secretary Helen McKay reported.

She said former engineer Jack Kerr told the board such a small plant might solve the district's sewage problems and stop the district from dumping raw sewage from about 180 homes into Bolinas Lagoon. The district is under an order from the Regional Water Quality Control Board to cease the sewage discharge into the lagoon.

The board appointed Kerr to a committee to study the district's sewage treatment needs and investigate the various treatment plans available, Mrs. McKay said. Others appointed to the committee, which also will study the district's water distribution system, include directors Gregory Hewlett and Fred Wade, district Gen. Mgr. Archie Goldsberry and residents Mark Maser and Peter Warshall.

In another matter, the board agreed to send out a newsletter with water bills.

Innocent Plea In Forgery

Pamela Mae Wilson, 20, of Fairfax, pleaded innocent yesterday in Marin Superior Court to possessing stolen property and forging a credit card sales slip.

Judge E. Warren McGuire set Feb. 14 as the trial date.

She was arrested on Nov. 1 in a Sausalito shop and accused of trying to use someone else's credit card.

School Consolidation Opposed By Cotati

The Cotati School District board agreed last night to oppose consolidation of Southern Sonoma school districts.

Board secretary Miriam Horne said the board agreed that it would not be to the best advantage of the Cotati district to merge with nine other districts and the Petaluma Board of Education.

Southern Sonomans will vote June 6 on whether to merge all elementary schools districts with the Petaluma district. In 1967, voters heavily defeated a unification election. State law requires an election be held at least every four years.

Mrs. Horne said the board believed that residents would have better control over their schools with only local people serving on the school board. They said the tax rate also would increase if districts were unified.

In other matters, the board saw the recently elected Anthony Carbone sworn in as a board member, and met in closed session with Schools Supt. James H. Davidson to instruct him in salary negotiations with the Association of Cotati District Teachers.

7,500 Coupons For Machine

Pupils of San Rafael's Coleman School have collected 7,500 Betty Crocker coupons for the Kidney Foundation drive to buy kidney machines for hospitals.

The coupon collection has been under way for two months as a student council project under Robert Epstein, student council president at the kindergarten-sixth grade school.

The coupons will go toward obtaining a kidney machine for an Oakland hospital since one already has been obtained for Marin County. Eight hundred thousand coupons are required for one such machine.

Merchant Ship Going Under

HONOLULU (UPI) — The Coast Guard said today the Danish merchant vessel "Heering Kirse" was sinking or has sunk in 30-foot seas about 120 miles north of Midway Island.

A spokesman said several SOS signals were received the final one saying, "Leaving ship now." The Coast Guard reported "terrible" weather in the area with visibility three miles.

China Charges S. Korea, U.S.

HONG KONG (UPI)—China today accused South Korea and the United States of "increasing acts of war provocations" against North Korea.

The People's Daily said that the United States and South Korea took a "serious" step to "aggravate the tension in Korea deliberately" on Monday by proclaiming a "state of national emergency" in South Korea.

"It is very clear that the perverse action of the Park Chung Hee clique is aimed at further tightening its Fascist military dictatorship over the South Korean people and maintaining its tottering puppet regime," the newspaper said in a commentary broadcast by the New China News Agency.

Yule Trees Exempt From Price Controls

NEW YORK (UPI)—Christmas trees untainted by paint sprays or any other treatment are "raw agricultural products" the Internal Revenue Service declared Wednesday and exempted from the price controls.

The ruling was an early Yuletide gift for Christmas tree vendors who now can charge whatever they wish. The IRS ruling does not apply to artificial trees, those sprayed with paint or fireproofing material or treated in any way.

Five Found Slain In Jersey Mansion

WESTFIELD, N.J. (UPI)—Patricia List, 16, had worked hard to get the lead role in "Streetcar Named Desire," but in early November her drama workshop was told she would not be able to appear in the play.

On Nov. 10, notes were sent to the schools which Patricia and her two brothers, John, 15, and Frederick, 12, attended, saying they would not be in class because the family was taking a vacation to North Carolina.

The day before, the post office had been notified to stop delivering the mail to the $90,000 home of John E. List and family in the affluent New Jersey suburb.

For the next month the 18-room mansion remained apparently empty. The paint began to peel and the lawn as cluttered with unraked leaves. There was no activity in the yard and no one came or went — until Tuesday.

Acting on the suspicions of some neighbors, two policemen entered the house Tuesday and found the bodies of the three children and their mother, Helen, next to each other on top of sleeping bags on the empty ballroom floor. They had been shot to death. In an upstairs closet, police found the children's grandmother — List's mother—Mrs. Alma List, 85, shot in the head.

A warrant was issued for the arrest of John List, who until early November had been a salesman for State Mutual Life

JOHN E. LIST
Object of search

The notes to the schools, the excuse of a vacation and discontinuing the mail apparently were part of an elaborate attempt to conceal the five murders, officials said.

Autopsies showed young John, who police theorized had put up a struggle, had been shot 10 to 12 times and the others had been shot once in the head. All had been dead for more than a month and it appeared some were killed in other sections of the house and dragged to the ballroom. The grandmother lived in an apartment upstairs.

The disappearance of the family caused little notice in the suburb where executives move in and out frequently without making close friends. Edwin Iliano, instructor at Patricia's drama workshop, became concerned when a truant officer visited the house Nov. 22 and found no one home.

Iliano began talking to neighbors and they finally asked the police to investigate.

Except for Patricia, a pretty girl with long straight hair who starred in several other plays, neighbors considered the family reclusive. They said the children's mother apparently was bedridden and List worked hard to make up for it.

"He gave every appearance of being a hardworking, dedicated father," said Dr. William Cunnick Jr., a neighbor. "He played baseball with the boys in the back yard. He took them to Little League games. He drove the kids everywhere, and he did the marketing too, because his wife had a vision problem and couldn't drive."

Betty De Voe, who lived across the street, said she believed Mrs. List had suffered a nervous breakdown and spent most of her time in bed. She said she had not seen Mrs. List in five years, almost the entire time the family lived here.

"Patricia was the true mother of the family," Mrs. De Voe said.

"She was absent from school quite a bit and we heard it was because her mother wanted her to cook for the family," said Alice Manca, a classmate. "We all heard a lot of stories about her mother, but Pat would tell you nothing."

Mrs. Alma List will be buried Monday in Bay City, Mich., Mrs. Helen List, survived by her mother, three brothers and a sister, and a daughter by previous marriage, and the three List children will be buried Saturday in Westfield, after services at the Lutheran Church of the Redeemer, where List taught Sunday school.

"They were a wonderful family," said the pastor, Rev. Eugene Rehwinkel. "God have mercy."

Trio Steals Milk Money

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Three men entered the classroom of a 51-year-old second grade teacher Tuesday and stole about $3 from a paper bag containing her pupils' milk money.

Miriam Elizabeth Hudson, who teaches at Sir Francis Drake Annex in Hunters Point, told school officials that three young men came into the room shortly after classes ended.

She was alone when the men, who apparently knew where the milk money bag was, walked in and locked the door.

Mrs. Hudson's husband later said she was not threatened or harmed.

Found Guilty In Slaying Of Son

OAKLAND, Calif. (UPI)—A middle-age security guard was found guilty Wednesday of killing his 20-year-old son in the kitchen of their home following an argument over long hair and life styles.

Warren Freitas, 53, Castro Valley, was convicted of voluntary manslaughter. He shot his son, Roger, twice with a .32 caliber revolver April 12.

The San Leandro manufacturing firm guard gave himself up after the shooting, which climaxed a feud over his son's anti-establishment attitudes.

Superior Court Judge Harold B. Hove set Dec. 27 for sentencing.

Texas Judge Rules On Topless Dancer

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) — Municipal Judge Ronald D. Earle says a topless dancer cannot be convicted of disorderly conduct unless she creates a disturbance.

He made the ruling in the case of a dancer arrested for performing topless in a nightclub, noting that even if the dance had caused a disturbance, those potentially disturbed had subjected themselves willingly to the experience.

New Sausalito College Names 12-Member Board

A 12-man board of trustees of the newly formed New College of California in Sausalito was named today by John P. Leary, college president.

Named, besides Leary were Dr. Romulo Gonzales, psychiatrist of Fresno; Andrew Polich, electrical engineer of Lake Oswego, Ore.; Delos Putz, dean of law at University of San Francisco; Urban Whitaker, dean of undergraduate studies at San Francisco State College; Lewis Mayhew, author and professor of education at Stanford University.

Also, Donald Cummins, San Francisco attorney; Raymond Roy, president of the Sausalito Chamber of Commerce; Mrs. George Sears of Sausalito; Eli Thomas, president of Eli Thomas mens' stores in San Jose and Sunnyvale; Robert Raines, assistant professor at New College, and Daniel Christianson, former Santa Clara University student.

Temporary offices of the college are at 3030 Bridgeway, with classes held in various locations throughout the city. The spring term of the college, an experimental humanities school, will start Jan. 10.

Guilty Plea To Pot Charge

I-J Special Report

YREKA — Michael Bruce Millar, 20, of Homestead Valley, has pleaded guilty in Siskiyou County Superior Court to a charge of possessing marijuana when arrested in Yreka last June 7.

Judge James E. Kleaver set sentencing for Dec. 27.

In exchange for his guilty plea, Millar was told that additional drug charges against him would be dismissed and that he would be fined, not jailed.

Millar was picked up by authorities in Marin County last week after he failed to show up for a trial in Siskiyou County and a bench warrant was issued for him.

Behr To Report On The Legislature

A report on this year's record legislative session will be made by Sen. Peter H. Behr, R-San Rafael, to the Marin County Board of Realtors at 8 a.m. Tuesday at the Corte Madera Lions Club.

The senator will discuss the Legislature's effort to grapple with taxes and ecology issues.

High School 'Exchangers' Are Listed

Ten Redwood High School students will participate in student exchange programs next school year and two others will take part in a summer program, according to the Redwood International Student Exchange.

According to the group, six students will be involved in direct exchange programs with other high schools. They are: Betsy Burton of Kentfield, who will travel to Blandford, England; Bill Chrisman of Tiburon and Monica Moore of Kentfield, both to Preetz, Germany; Brian Ripley to Freiburg, Germany; and Tom Roth and Jeff Guasco, both of Greenbrae, to Highland Park, N.J.

Four others will study abroad, but the location has not been decided, according to a Redwood official. They are Diane Ring, Ann Proctor and Mark Stokes, all of Tiburon, and Reuben Haller of San Francisco.

The two who will participate in 1972 summer programs are Rick Holman of San Rafael and Lynden Larson of Corte Madera, according to the exchange group.

Guilty Plea To Card Forgery

Howard Earl Rhodd, 21, of Novato, has pleaded guilty to a misdemeanor charge of fraudulently using someone else's credit card.

Rhodd was originally charged with a felony, but this was reduced Tuesday in exchange for a guilty plea. Judge David Menary set Dec. 30 for sentencing.

Rhodd was arrested on Nov. 16 in San Rafael where police said he used the credit card of George Morf of San Rafael to get gasoline and a lubrication job from a Third Street service station.

THE POLAROID CHRISTMAS FAMILY

Among the most popular photographic gifts is the Polaroid family of cameras ... from the budget-priced Swinger and the remarkable Colorpack II on up to sophisticated models with fine lenses, close-up attachments, timer signals to let you know when the picture is ready, and other features.

We're sometimes asked which is better, a conventional camera or a Polaroid. The answer depends on the user. Polaroid cameras have one great benefit of seeing instant results, which is fun for parties, family get-togehers and the like. They have disadvantages in the areas of fast shooting, reprints, slides, lens attachments.

Whatever your choice, photographic gifts, like the pictures they take, can give a lifetime of enjoyment. See us now for the right camera or other gift selection that shows how much you care.

U.S. Harsh In Paris Talks —Hanoi Envoy Challenged

PARIS (UPI)—The United States formally asked North Vietnam today to comment on reports the Communists have launched military attacks in Cambodia and Laos to force allies into accepting negotiating demands in Paris.

U.S. peace negotiator William J. Porter challenged Hanoi delegate Xuan Thuy to confirm recent reports from Peking quoting visiting North Vietnamese Premier Pham Van Dong as saying Communist negotiating proposals were "an offensive to drive the other side into a corner."

Porter said he had a report that one of Hanoi's government-controlled newspapers "openly admits your intention to step up your military aggression in Laos and Cambodia in order to support this 'diplomatic offensive' and pressure us into negotiating solely on the basis of your demands."

Porter said the Communist performance at the negotiating table was "lamentable." He said Hanoi after three years of talking apparently has not given its Paris representatives the authority to truly negotiate.

"Your authority to answer even the simplest question apparently is non-existent," Porter said. Unlike his predecessors, Porter has been handling his Communist opponents more harshly because his experience in Paris, he said, has strengthened his belief tha Hanoi and Viet Cong delegates merely use the talks as a propaganda forum.

Porter said the Communists so far have been authorized "to provide only immediate and automatic 'no's'" to U.S. and South Vietnamese negotiating offers.

He listed rejection of five basic issues ranging from allied calls for a cease-fire to exchange of war prisoners.

"After 137 sessions and almost three years, your attitude toward a peaceful settlement of the Vietnam problem remains consistently negative," Porter said.

He walked into the conference calling on North Vietnam to agree to the selection of a neutral embassy or consulate in Hanoi to handle mail from U.S. prisoners of war who, he charged again, have not been allowed to write home contrary to international rules.

There are about 200,000 professional firemen in this country.

"Somehow, this all seems like a rerun."

Pope Still Firm On Priest Issue

VATICAN CITY (UPI)—Pope Paul VI repeated his opposition today to a proposal allowing married men to become priests but he did not reject outright a recommendation by the Third International Synod of Bishops to relax the church law.

The synod, which ended Nov. 6, came up with two proposals —one forbidding married men from becoming priests under any circumstances and one which would allow the practice in special cases.

The Pope, in making public documets approved by the group, said he alone would decide when and if any of its recommendations would be converted to church law.

Vatican Secretary of State Jean Villot said the Pope repeated to him his opposition to allowing married men into the priesthood but the recommendation was not publicly rejected outright.

The Pope already had confirmed he would not relax the church law forbidding priests to marry and Villot said the Pope reiterated this again today.

The Pope is not obliged to accept any of the recommendations of the bishops, who spent 38 days in Rome deliberating subjects touching on the lives of all the world's 614 million Roman Catholics.

The Pope himself earlier agreed reluctantly to consider allowing some elderly married men to become priests under special circumstances. That is, in places where there is a desperate shortage of priests.

Other recommendations covered a vast range of subjects, from pollution to the arms race, from church wealth to abortion and birth control.

New Leukemia Research Told

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—A scientist who successfully switched leukemia-producing cells in mice to those that produce antibodies combatting it, says the process is a "long way" from being applied to humans.

Dr. Louis Borella, of St. Jude's Children Research Hospital in Memphis, Tenn., reported on his findings Tuesday at a meeting of the American Society of Hematology.

The doctor said that he introduced a protein called hemocyanin into the spleen cells of mice inflicted with leukemia. The result was a decrease in leukemic cells and an increase in the number of anti-body producing cells, he said.

FIREWOOD: A FAULTY DELIVERY

A haul of firewood headed southbound on Highway 101 at the Marin City exit was sidetracked yesterday when a truck pulling the wood-laden trailer flipped on its side. The driver, Morris T. Bootzin, was uninjured. The California Highway Patrol could furnish no further details of the 3:40 p.m. mishap.

San Rafael Club Asks Book Banned

The San Rafael Improvement Club has adopted a resolution calling for removal of "The Movement Toward a New America" from San Rafael High School and banning views which it represents from the public schools.

The resolution was adopted by the club's executive board on Monday and approved by the membership Tuesday, Marion L. Tacchi, secretary, said today. A copy has been sent to the San Rafael Board of Education.

The resolution says the club investigated the teachings in the book and "we find this teaching to be completely alien to the democratic system by which we live. The book teaches and advocates an overthrow of government . . ."

"We as a group employ (sic) and demand such teachings be banned from our public schools and such books removed immediately," it concluded, "and further:

"Resolved, that copies of this resolution be sent to concerned public citizens, with a view to having it enacted by our Legislature."

Conflict Arises On Playing Field Size

Conflicts between baseball and soccer expansion plans went unresolved last night at the Petaluma Recreation, Music and Parks Commission meeting.

Representatives of the American Little League requested permission to expand the Little League field at Lucchesi Park by 20 feet to accommodate senior league play. Soccer league officials, however, complained that the expansion would cut off a portion of the soccer field, when actually it needs to be enlarged.

The baseball representatives said fences on the expanded field could be made portable to allow for soccer play, but commission members said that would not be a long range solution to the problem. Recreation Director Richard Schollenberger said the expanded field would cost an extra $310 a year maintenance costs.

Representatives of the Valley Little League requested approval for a second baseball field at the La Tercera School play area. Costs for irrigation systems and maintenance at the proposed field have not been determined.

Commission secretary Phyllis Brewer said the commission agreed to gather representatives from all three groups for another meeting later this month to find a solution and send a recommendation to the city council.

Jail Term On Theft Of Car

Robert Ben Choate, 19, of Modesto was sentenced yesterday to 90 days in Marin County Jail and put on supervised probation for two years for auto theft.

Judge E. Warren McGuire of Marin Superior Court sentenced him for stealing a car from the Milton Morse home on Miller Avenue in Mill Valley last September.

Choate and Daryl Lloyd Waddell, 19, of no known address, were arrested on Sept. 17 and charged with burglary of the Morse home as well as car theft. The burglary charge was dropped when they admitted the car theft.

Waddell was sentenced last month to 60 days in jail and two years' probation.

Fire Board In Tiburon Picks Slate

William J. Carter was elected chairman, Fred C. Hannahs vice chairman and Wellman Topham secretary of the Tiburon Fire Protection District board last night, Topham reported.

The board also awarded a contract for an emergency power generator to Cal West Electric Co. of South San Francisco, low bidder at $2,992, Topham said. Installation will run another $300.

The board agreed to consider at its next meeting Jan. 12 a policy on providing emergency aid to residents. Topham said some citizens are "going too far" in their requests for assistance.

Winds Hamper Fire Fighters

VENICE (UPI)—The strong winds that whistled through Southern California helping to spread numerous fires for two days began to diminish Thursday but not before hampering firefighters at two major early morning blazes.

The wind swept a greater alarm fire through three homes and two apartment buildings in venice shortly before 4 a.m. Some 30 residents, many in their night clothes, evacuated the structures.

A fire department spokesman said the blaze was believed caused by a faulty furnace in one of the homes. The flames whipped by the winds, then spread to the other buildings, causing an estimated $75,000 damage.

Youth Held In Burglary Probe

Two 16-year-old Petaluma boys have been arrested in connection with the theft of six cases of liquor from a Northwestern Pacific Railroad car.

The youths were booked into Sonoma County Juvenile Hall on suspicion of burglary, possession of stolen property and possession of alcohol by a minor. Police refused to name the youths or give further information about the case on the advice of the Sonoma County District Attorney's office.

Officers said they believed a third youth was involved in the theft and would be arrested today. Police said some of the liquor, valued at $238, had been recovered.

Belvedere Building Story Clarification

(Editor's note: A story in Tuesday's Independent-Journal reporting Belvedere City Council adoption of an emergency ordinance imposing an interim building moratorium contained numerous errors. The council, by a 4-0 vote, approved the measure, which will be in effect for 90 days, in order to consider zoning revisions proposed in a study by the planning consultant firm of Livingston and Blayney. Following is a summary of the inaccuracies and their correction.)

The story quoted City Atty. Robert F. MacKay as saying the moratorium would deprive owners of property rights, but MacKay said he was referring to an alternate moratorium suggestion which was not adopted. The attorney said he is convinced the adopted ordinance does not infringe upon property rights.

Further, City Mgr. William L. Cavalli was quoted as giving assurances to MacKay that a property owner could file for a conditional use permit to build or repair during the 90-day period. MacKay told the I-J he made the assurance, adding that a property owner would be eligible to file only if he met requirements of the ordinance, and would be granted a building permit only if the planning commission and city council approve a conditional use permit.

The moratorium, MacKay said, was not suggested by Livingston and Blayney, as the story reported. The attorney said he drew up the ordinance following discussions with city officials, who have been reviewing the firm's proposals since the plan was offered in June.

Mayor Thomas S. Price was quoted as saying the city would use the 90-day period to examine zoning suggestions, preserve the status quo and to protect the "safety, health and welfare of the community," when he, in fact, was reading from Livingston and Blayney's report.

Elsewhere in the story, Councilman Edwin J. Drechsel was reported to have said that "housebuilders who are complying with conditional use" could sue the city. Said MacKay, "My recollection is that Councilman Drechsel simply raised the question that the city might be subjecting itself to lawsuits by imposing the moratorium." The attorney said he pointed out "that property owners could still obtain building permits and commence new construction provided the contemplated construction satisfied the conditional use requirements."

The story also quoted MacKay as indicating the moratorium would prevent rebuilding of "faulty structures." The attorney said, "I do not recall making any such statement, and it would be out of my province to do so." Moreover, he added, "so long as the proposed construction complies with the existing and future restrictions, it would be permitted after obtaining the use and building permits."

Spending Hike

MANILA (UPI) — Household spending in the Phillippines increased at a rate of 3.9 per cent last year, compared with 6.1 per cent in 1969, government statistics show.

White House Is Being Decorated For Christmas

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Christmas season officially opened at the White House today as the household staff began to deck the halls with boughs of holly and trim a 20-foot fir tree with sparkling baubles.

The massive evergreen, a gift from North Carolina tree growers, goes up in the Blue Room —Pat Nixon's favorite spot for it. Some of last year's trimmings were to be used again but there were expected to be some new touches in the executive mansion this yuletide.

Mrs. Nixon has requested J. W. Lidden, a Philadelphia floral designer, to transform the White House for the thousands of vistors who will come to see it during the holiday season.

The $25,000 native Italian crib donated to the White House during the Johnson era again will be the main attraction in the gold-draped East Room. The White House will be closed to public tours Friday and Saturday during decorating.

Supervisors Agree To Continue 'Swing Shifts'

The Marin County Board of Supervisors has agreed to continue its schedule of holding a "swing shift" night meeting once a month for at least another few months.

Supervisors, under pressure from the Marin Alternative and other groups, agreed Tuesday to continue the afternoon-night sessions before evaluating their aiding public participation in government.

Due to the holidays, December will not have a night meeting.

However, night meetings will be held on the last Tuesday of January, February and March, the supervisors said.

County Administrator John F. Barrows had recommended that night meetings be held only when public interest in an issue was high.

The Marin County Board of Supervisors also:

ROAD REALIGNMENT — Turned down a request from a group of Bayside Acres residents that the board reconsider the approved realignment of Point San Pedro Road from Bayside Acres to Peacock Gap. Residents said the road widening poses a threat to pedestrians.

CONTRACT — Approved an $800 contract for a consultant to the planning department to study the compatibility of housing development to agricultural use in the agricultural preserve. The consultant will be Edward P. Morphy of San Rafael.

CLOSED SESSION — Entered a 15-minute closed session to discuss threatened litigation against the county by a former employee who contends he was fired from the public defender's office before his probationary period was up.

NAME CHANGE — Authorized changing the name of Quarry Road near McNear's Beach to Haley Road in memory of Superior Court Judge Harold J. Haley who was killed in the 1970 Civic Center shoot-out.

MOTORCYCLE — Directed the parks and recreation department to help the county's ad hoc motorcycle committee find open land for off-street riding. A location near Gnoss Field was suggested by Supervisor Arnold Baptiste.

YOUTH COMMISSION — Appointed Janice Fuhrman of 230 South Oakwood Drive, Hamilton Air Force Base, to the Marin County Youth Commission. Miss Fuhrman is a junior at Novato High School.

CONVENTION — Authorized expenditure of $250 to host a state-wide convention of county auditor-controllers next February in Marin. The convention is expected to draw about 200 persons.

POLICE RELATIONS — Heard a progress report from Bella A. Aaron of the police-community relations project on the three-year, state-funded police training program in Marin.

AMBULANCE — Authorized a reduction in the rates charged West Marin residents using the county fire department's ambulance in trips to the West Marin Medical Center. Some residents were charged the $80 rate — levied for trips to Marin General Hospital — for the short runs which are now set at $37.50 plus $1.50 per mile.

FIRE HOUSE — Awarded a $103,000 contract with Joseph Redmond Co. to construct the Marin City Fire Station and Sheriff's substation. Approval of the contract was delayed earlier over insurance matters.

SOUND EQUIPMENT — Approved purchase of $4,645 worth of additional sound equipment for the new Marin Veterans Memorial Building. The equipment includes sophisticated recording devices.

BIKE TRAILS — Received a report from the parks and recreation department on bicycle trails showing constructin of such paths near Fort Baker and between Novato and Stafford Lake as highest priority.

CLAIM — Rejected a claim for damages totaling $1 million from the family of Frank DeLeon, a San Quentin guard killed in the August escape attempt by inmates. Claims from the families of two other guards killed have also been rejected.

Texas Commission Has Growth Goal

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) —The Texas Industrial Commission set up goal for industrial growth in 1963 designed to carry the state through 1977.

The 15-year plan alreadh is over 90 per cent completed, however, and officials now expect the goals to be reached during 1971 —six years ahead of schedule.

TOSSING TRASH IN TIBURON

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Bullard gather discarded beer cans (left) and dump the litter from their cleanup efforts into a bin (right) at the Hilarita Housing Project in Tiburon. The Hilarita couple joined in a three-pronged attack on the litter problem by residents, the Marin County Housing Authority and the state Division of Highways. Bullard said the cleanup, expected to last a week, is a public relations gesture to blunt criticism of the new Hilarita housing project. The existing development of World War II barracks housing is to be torn down within six months to make room for a moderate income apartment project.

Overthrow Plot Sentences Given

CAIRO (UPI)—Former Vice President Aly Sabry and a group of former government officials were found guilty today of plotting to overthrow President Anwar Sadat and were sentenced to death. But Sadat commuted their sentences to life at hard labor.

The Middle East News Agency said a three man revolutionary court passed the sentences on Sabry, Former Interior Minister Eharawi Gomaa, former presidential affairs minister Sami Sharaf and Farid Abdel Karim Bisyouni, an official of the Arab Socialist Union, Egypt's only political party.

The agency said former war minister Mohammed Fawzi, in a separate trial before a military court, was sentenced to life imprisonment today. This was reduced to 15 years in jail at hard labor by Sadat on appeal.

Reinecke's Redistricting Idea Brings Quick, Heated Reaction

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Legislative reapportionment, supposedly enjoying a 10-day cooling off, was thrust into new controversy today after Lt. Gov. Ed Reinecke announced plans to activate a Republican-dominated redistricting commission.

Reaction exploded in every direction:

—Republicans split their support and opposition.

—So did commission members.

— Republican Atty. Gen. Evelle Younger, himself a commissioner, urged Reinecke not to carry through, at least until the legislature completes its current reapportionment special session.

But Reinecke, chairman of the commission, said he had no choice under the state Constitution but to activate the commission "within 30 days" since the Legislature failed to reapportion itself during the 11-month-long regular session.

He told reporters Wednesday he was convinced the current special session on reapportionment called by Gov. Ronald Reagan at the request of lawmakers is unconstitutional. He indicated he might challenge in court any redistricting plan passed by the legislature and signed by Reagan.

The lawmakers recessed the special session Tuesday for 10 days so legislative leaders of both parties and staff consultants could meet together and quietly attempt to draft a compromise.

The commission, never used in modern history, includes Reinecke, Younger and state Controller Houston Flournoy, all Republicans, and state Schools Superintendent Wilson Riles and Secretary of State Edmund G. Brown Jr., both Democrats.

Democrats contend the commission is unconstitutional on ground it would be illegal to delegate legislative power to a separate government agency.

The Constituion provides for the commission in case the legislature doesn't reapportion itself, and Reinecke said he had private legal advice that the concept is legally "valid."

"I think the responsibility of the commission is to come up with a fair, honest and equitable nonpartisan approach to reapportionment, something the people of California have never had."

Assemblyman Henry Waxman, Assembly Democratic reapportionment chairman, said Reinecke agreed not to activate the commission until the Legislature had an opportunity to act in exchange for Waxman's promise not to test the commission's legality in court.

He accused the lieutenant governor of breaking a "gentlemen's agreement" but Reinecke said the lawmaker "read a lot more into my words than I indicated."

Reinecke said he was merely serving "notice of intent" to gear up the commission and said he assured Waxman "under no circumstances would I pull any surprises."

Pisces Is Visible Any Clear Evening

By SHERMAN WALKER

The constellation of the Fishes (Pisces) is one that can be seen on most any clear night at this season, but it is a little on the dim side and its delicate lines can best be traced out on a moonless night. The two fishes are separately known as the Western Fish and the Northern Fish. They are supposed to be tied together at the tails, and the star where the two lines join is called Al Rischa, which translates as the Knot.

The Northern Fish appears to be headless, but the other has a well-defined head made up of a very pretty little subgroup called the Circlet. About 5 degrees southeast of the Circlet is the vernal equinox where the sun crosses the celestial equator on March 21-22 in its apparent journey northward.

To locate the Fishes, face southward at 9 p.m. and look at the region of the sky that is three-fourths of the distance up from the southern horizon to overhead.

The Fishes are made up of stars of magnitudes 4 and 5 in almost equal numbers. Stars of magnitude 5 are at the limit of vision and are the faintest that can be seen without optical aid.

A few persons claim to be able to see stars of the 6th magnitude, but this requires exceptional eyes and exceptional observing conditions.

Pick 'Em On Ability, Not Sex

FRAMINGHAM, Mass. (UPI) —Gloria Cuzzi broke tradition her first day in the job as superintendent of the state women's reformatory here.

She appointed Alfred D'Simone, 42, of Foxboro deputy superintendent Wednesday. He is the first male to hold the post.

"One should be picked on the basis of ability and not on sex," Mrs. Cuzzi said.

List Of Numbers On Skyjacker's Loot

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The FBI is distributing a 34-page list of the serial numbers on $200,000 worth of $20 bill with which a hijacker escaped by parachuting from a Northwest Orient Airlines jetliner Nov. 24.

The list is being sent to police departments, banks and other financial and business places across the country. The hijacker jumped from the plane with the ransom money while it was en route from Seattle to Reno, Nev., and has not been heard from.

Heavy Snow Blankets Sections Of Montana

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Heavy snow, freezing rain and high winds continued to blanket the western portion of the nation today as two powerful storm systems remained anchored overhead.

Heavy snow warnings were posted for the south central Rockies and the adjacent plains of New Mexico while blizzard warnings were in effect for the southwest portion of Montana.

Los Alamos, N.M., was buried under nearly a foot of new snow and 10 inches of snow covered Jemez Springs, N.M.

High winds combined with snow and blowing snow reduced visibilities in the southwestern portion of Montana to near zero as severe weather warnings were posted. At Livingston, Mont., wind gusts were better than 70 miles an hour with a recorded peak of 90 miles an hour.

Gusts of up to 80 miles an hour forced the closure of Interstate 90 and U.S. 10 between Bozeman and Big Timber, Mont., as visibility in the area reportedly dropped down to one-sixteenth of a mile.

Semi-trailer trucks, snow plows and an unknown number of private cars were blown off the slick, wind-swept road.

Continuing sub-zero temperatures created logjams of ice above Great Falls, Mont., in the Missouri River slowing the water flow necessary for hydroelectric power. Power problems were felt as far south as Billings and as far west as Missoula.

Additional snow fell in the upper Mississippi Valley and travelers' warnings were posted for much of the interior of New England as light snow mixed with rain coated highways with an icy glaze.

Exceptionally warm weather spread over southern Texas and much of Florida with early morning lows in the 60s and 70s.

Throughout the rest of the east cloudy and mild weather was the rule although showers and thunderstorms were occurring near the Mississippi river.

Temperatures ranged from nine below zero at Aberdeen S.D., to 75 at McAllen, Tex.

ALFABELLE DOUGLAS
"I thought it was the most thrilling thing in the world to work for a newspaper."
(Independent-Journal photo)

I-J's Alfabelle Douglas Retiring After 25 Years

"I haven't been sorry."

That's the way Alfabelle Douglas looked back on the day 25 years ago when she stopped at the office of Marin newspaperman Roy A. Brown on her way to a job interview.

Brown offered her a job. She called the other business and canceled the interview and has remained with the newspaper since.

That career will end Dec. 31 when Mrs. Douglas will retire from her position as Independent-Journal credit manager.

She started in a business office with three employees and a newspaper with a circulation of 8,000. She'll leave a business office employing 11 and a newspaper with a circulation of about 43,000.

As credit manager, it's been her job to check the credit of large advertisers, approve giving them credit and then "try" to collect it, she said.

When she started with the newspaper, "I thought it was the most thrilling thing in the world to work for a newspaper," she said.

The thrill has faded, she said, but has always come back again.

The growth of the paper has been "almost unbelievable," Mrs. Douglas said, but she looked back with fond memories of the days when "it was more of a family affair."

Now some departments are larger than the whole staff was 25 years ago, she said.

Mrs. Douglas, 65, who was born, raised and married in Kansas came to California with her husband, Glenn, in 1942, when the war made it difficult for Douglas to get supplies for his oil field welding shop.

Douglas continued in the welding business for several years and later worked as a guard at San Quentin Prison. He died in 1952.

Mrs. Douglas, who lives at 260 Merrydale Road, San Rafael, said she's looking forward to retirement.

"I have so many things I want to do, I could never get them all in," she said.

For starters, she's planning a trip to visit a friend in Egypt. Other activities will include organ lessons, work with the Christian Church of San Rafael and further involvement with meditation and the Inner Light Foundation of Novato.

Arson Suspect Dies Of Burns

NAPLES, Italy (UPI)—One of two men charged with arson and multiple homicide in the explosion which destroyed an apartment building at Frattaminore last week died early today.

The death of Francesco Mozzillo, 64, brought to 16 the number of persons killed by the explosion.

Raffaele Donelli, 63, owner of a furniture store on the ground floor of the building, also is charged with arson and multiple homicide.

Police said the explosion apparently came after gasoline was poured on the floor and walls of the furniture store.

Ferry Music On Again; Temporary Truce Reached

A temporary truce between the Golden Gate Commuters Club and Musicians Union Local 6 will allow resumption tomorrow of live music aboard the 5:30 p.m. Sausalito ferry from San Francisco.

David Elliott Stovel of Sausalito, publicity director for the club, said the union had granted the club a 30-day reprieve on its demand that the musicians be paid union scale.

Pressure from the union forced cancellation of last week's Friday music program. The union threatened to picket the ferryboat, which could have forced it to stop operating.

Stovel, praising union officials for their "cooperative attitude," said they had given the club a month to negotiate a contract assuring payment of union-scale wages. Stovel, an architect, said the contract would mean the weekly programs would cost about $3,000 a year, adding the club will seek donations "from wealthy Bay Area citizens."

The club started the programs about two months ago, paying musicians whatever commuters gave voluntarily.

Contract For School Additions

The San Rafael Board of Education last night awarded a $105,740 contract for classroom additions at Santa Venetia Middle School to Pearson and Johnson Co. of San Francisco.

The company submitted the lowest of five bids, Supt. John F. Plank reported.

Plank said the base bid calls for construction of three new classrooms at the school and modernization of six others.

Alternate bids by Pearson and Johnson accepted by the board were a $13,800 offer for covered locker areas and $28,000 for an additional exercise room at the school gymnasium.

Plank said the projects should be completed by July 1972 and will be paid for with a final $100,000 remaining from a 1965 construction bond issue and reserves in this year's budget.

Two Minor Crashes In Traffic Jam

Skies cleared over Marin this morning but not before rains that began in the night had contributed to two minor traffic mishaps which backed up traffic on Highway 101 to the Marin County Civic Center.

The California Highway Patrol said accidents at the crest of Puerto Suello Hill in San Rafael and on the Golden Gate Bridge teamed up with slick pavement to contribute to heavier than-usual traffic.

The patrol said the regular morning traffic jam, which usually stretches from Greenbrae to the bridge, began around the Civic Center today. No details of either accident were available.

A spokesman for the California Division of Highways said the road work being done to the freeway Tuesday and yesterday is complete and there should be no repeat of delays caused by closing of lanes near Marin City.

He said the lanes were closed from 9:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. both days for repaving, catching the tail end of the commute jam and also hordes of shoppers on their way to San Francisco.

Gate Span Crash— Ross Woman Critical

A Ross woman whose car collided with a tractor-trailer on the southern approach to the Golden Gate Bridge yesterday was reported in critical condition today with multiple fractures and internal injuries.

The California Highway Patrol credited the truck driver with averting an even more serious accident by bringing his brakeless rig to a stop and preventing it from jackknifing into the opposite lane.

A spokesman at Mission Emergency Hospital said Ravelle M. Prola, 22, of 34 Shady Lane, was in the intensive care unit with multiple fractures of the legs and ribs and a collapsed left lung.

The highway Patrol said her car, southbound on Doyle Drive at 11:20 a.m., crossed the center divider and struck the rear of a trailer rig driven by Lawrence H. Laackman, 37, of Broderick, Yolo County, knocking one pair of wheels off.

According to the patrol, Laackman said he felt a jolt and looked into his rear view mirror to see the wheels rolling away. The trailer began to slide, throwing sparks, the patrol quoted Laackman as saying, but he managed to keep the rig in the northbound lanes and downshifted the brakeless truck to a stop.

A San Francisco Fire Department rescue squad extricated the injured woman from the wreckage and rushed her to the hospital. Traffic in both directions was slowed for nearly an hour while crews cleared the wreckage.

Panel Seeks Session On City Growth

The Petaluma Water Commission yesterday called for a joint meeting with the city planning commission to coordinate efforts to keep city growth in line with the amount of water available.

The commission supported the efforts of the city council in urging the Sonoma County Water Agency to make more water available by next June to meet projected increases in water consumption, but said a meeting should be held as soon as possible with the planning commission to study all possible contingencies.

City engineer David A. Young has said that all building will stop in Petaluma next summer if more water is not available. He said new wells should be drilled on Russian River and a new pumping station installed in Cotati to increase the water supply to Petaluma and North Marin.

Office Party Still Popular

NEW YORK (UPI)—The office Christmas party, often criticized because of excessive drinking and necking, is still popular with many companies, the Administrative Management Society said Wednesday.

In spite of all the criticism and the 1970-71 recession, just about as many companies will have office parties this year, the society said. The actual proportion is 68 per cent, down only 1 per cent in the past four years.

And 74 per cent of the parties will have liquor compared with only 67 per cent four years ago.

Of the companies that answered the society's inquiry and said they were not having parties this year, 61 per cent said they had Christmas parties in the past.

Mill Valley Site For Yule Songs

Mill Valley's Lytton Square will ring with the music of 40 young voices tomorrow when the Tamalpais High School choir and the madrigal singers present a program of Christmas carols and holiday music.

The 30-minute concert, which begins at 6:30 p.m., is being sponsored by radio station KTIM and Mill Valley merchants. The program will be broadcast on KTIM-FM.

The singers will hold forth from a flatbed truck to be parked in front of the Mill Valley Chamber of Commerce office fronting on the square, according to Hugh Turner of KTIM.

The Christmas concert was a tradition in Mill Valley for many years but was dropped several years ago, Turner said. Laurence A. Nelson, a music teacher at Tamalpais High, will direct the choir and madrigal singers.

Also on hand will be Rita Abrams, the schoolteacher who wrote and recorded, along with her class, the "Mill Valley," and Richard C. Conrad, past president of the chamber of commerce.

Secret Memo Claim On Closing Of Two Public Health Hospitals

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Rep. Paul Rogers, D-Fla., disclosed a secret administration memorandum today which indicates the government wants to close the Boston and San Francisco public health hospitals this year and turn them over to local organizations.

At a news conference, the chairman of the public health and environment subcommittee charged the Department of Health, Education and Welfare with "Conspiracy" to withhold this information from Congress.

Rogers said Congress appropriated $85.7 million for eight Public Health Service hospitals and 30 clinics with the directive they remain under government control through mid-1973.

The memo, dated Nov. 10 from Assistant Health Secretary James B. Cardwell, said it was important to demonstrate to the Office of Management and Budget (OMB). "We are definitely going to do something about the two cities in question —this year —here and now."

He said the OMB which is the White House budget arm, needed the information to determine employment ceilings.

"In short," the Cardwell memo said, "all this means that we can not postpone for very long identification of Boston and San Francisco for early conversion. This means, of course, that we have to sound out the proposals affecting those two cities immediately."

Rogers told newsmen there was a rumor the Boston hospital might be turned over to a private consortium soon.

He was enraged at language in the memo which suggested Rogers and other congressmen be excluded from the department's plans.

He said Health Secretary Elliot Richardson should review the status of Cardwell and other officials involved in the memorandum, but stopped short of recommending they be fired.

The memorandum said Rogers and other congressmen should get an "innocuous" letter describing the results of studies on whether the hospitals should be converted.

"It is quite clear that we will eventually have to go up and explain both the proposals and our decisions concerning them to Rogers and other key members, and committees.

"Primarily at the suggestion of Steve Kurzman (another assistant secretary), we decided that the better part of valor at this time would be to offer them as few materials as we can get away with and hold off for as long as possible a confrontation concerning what we will or will not do vis-a-vis each of the hospitals."

Rogers said "This obvious policy of withholding information in an attempt to keep the Congress from acting is the most arrogant form of contempt for the legislative branch of government I have seen."

"This conspiracy leads me to believe that HEW's (the Health Department) attempt to pervert the law in this situation by secretly withholding information most probably is carried throughout the department on many other situations and completely undermines any information which the Congress receives on other matters."

Private Club Plans Approved

Preliminary plans for a private swimming and tennis club in Scott Valley have been approved by the Mill Valley Architectural Advisory Committee.

Zoning administrator Howard R. McGill said the Scott Valley Swim and Tennis Club still must receive a conditional use permit from the city Planning commission and final architectural approval from the advisory committee.

The club, to be located on 5.32 acrss at the east end of Underhill Road, will consist of six tennis courts, a swimming pool, an office building, locker and equipment rooms and 27 parking spaces.

Innocent Pleas In Charges Of Burglary

Two Oakland men have pleaded innocent in Marin Municipal Court to a charge of burglarizing the Pacific Motor Co. and the Railway Express Agency at 35 Jordan Street in San Rafael on Dec. 3.

Franklin Wilder, 24, and Fred Michael Chavez, 24, appeared before Marin Municipal Court Judge Robert A. Smallman, who set preliminary hearing for Dec. 21.

DR. BETTY HALPERN, (standing) and Mrs. Libby Byers (seated foreground) share an office at Sonoma State College, where it is not unusual for them to hold a class and conference simultaneously. Their students are enrolled either in the early childhood credential or permit program; both designed to train educators of young children.

TWO WOMEN'S ROLE

Sonoma State — One Of A Kind

By DYANNE FORTNER

Of the 19 California state colleges, Sonoma State College in Rohnert Park has the only accredited early childhood credential program.

Dr. Betty Halpern, coordinator of the two-year-old program, and her colleague, Mrs. Libby Byers, explained modestly, "we had a good proposal ready when the accreditation team came to the college and it was accepted on its first draft."

Dr. Halpern said that a prerequisite for the fifth year program is to have a BA or post graduate degree in any major but management. Two semesters of 15 units each are required of students. This includes student-teaching experiences in three school settings — the pre-school, kindergarten and one of the first three grades. The program is limited to 24 students because class space is at a premium and because of the size of staff needed to supervise that number of student teachers.

"THESE ARE beautiful kids, bright. I like them," said Dr. Halpern of her students. "It's a different choice now, they have their degrees. Education isn't the last alternative but rather a discovery to involve themselves in educating the young."

Of the three young men in the credential program, the coordinator mentioned they lend a definite balance to classroom teaching.

"Most of the fellows feel that for too long the classroom has had an atmosphere of a feminine trip," she said. "My students are compassionate with one another: I don't teach competitiveness in my classroom. We're a very integrated group and enjoy the feedback between each other, whether it is in the classroom or on a field trip," she said.

Dr. Halpern has recently been named by the state colleges chancellor to the liaison committee on early childhood education articulation conference. Also, she recently accepted an invitation to serve on the accreditation committee for the early childhood program at Chico State College.

BETTY HALPERN immigrated to New York City with her parents from Rumania at the age of 5 and lived at home until she was 20. (Her daughter, 19, and studying music in India, recently moaned, "Mama, you mean you stayed at home with your mother until you were 20?")

She holds a BA in drama, an MA in elementary education and an ED. D., all from the University of California at Berkeley.

"Role Playing: Its Therapeutic and Educative Application to the Black Ghetto Child" was her thesis topic. She has worked two summers at the Bank Street College of Education in New York. For 15 years she served as director of the Berkwood School in Berkeley, a kindergarten through sixth-grade environment. Before joining the Sonoma State faculty three years ago, she was a member of San Francisco State College's and U.C. Berkeley's faculty.

Special interest areas of Dr. Halpern include the curriculum of the elementary school: language arts, reading, children's literature and creative dramatics.

A recent publication by the educator is titled, "Using Creative Writing, Dramatics and Role Playing with the Mexican American Child."

She and her husband, a psychologist, reside in Berkeley and are the parents of a 22-year-old son.

THE PERMIT program, described by Mrs. Sanford Byers, is in its fifth year at Sonoma State College. Its emphasis is the education of young children from the ages of 2 to 5. Graduates earn a certificate which authorizes them to teach in any California preschool situation, public or private.

Recommended prerequisites are a major in psychology, anthropology, sociology or an approved behavioral science plus 12 semester units of psychology and a standing of junior or above. Student teaching also is required of the participant with an emphasis on planning activities for the young child as well as evaluating his growth in learning. This program also is limited to 15 students because of staff size needed to supervise appointments of the student teachers.

Although the outlook for teacher placement appears to be negative, Mrs. Byers acknowledged that of the graduates desiring jobs, all were placed last year.

She continued that if a teacher is to be effective and enjoy a harmonious relationship with students she must maintain a positive attitude.

"On campuses today you will discover many students fleeing authoritarian homes," she stated. "However, without realizing it, most are seeking the comforts of structure. They will eventually see guidelines are necessary but only at a later time in their lives."

She said that often a student will come to her and admit "what a fine rapport" they share despite an age differece. "What they don't understand is that they need a good relationship with someone of their parents' age, if not with their parents."

MRS. BYERS expects her students to be concerned with the possible misunderstandings young children have of certain experiences, for example a divorce or death in a family.

"A child sometimes blames himself and carries a burden of guilt because he does not understand that he was not responsible for the event. To restrict ourselves from being swept away emotionally as adults we must balance our thoughts and feelings. Sometimes it is our intellect that pulls us through life's crises," she believes.

LIBBY BYERS lives in San Rafael. Her husband is a research chemist in coronary disease. The Byerses are parents of four sons and a daughter, ranging in age from 16 to 27. A native of New York, she holds a degree in physiology from Hunter College and an MA from San Francisco State College in early childhood education. She is now a doctoral candidate at U.C. Berkeley. Commuting more than 100 miles a day, she supervises 12 students in 10 locations throughout Marin County and Berkeley.

An extension class at Coleman School also is taught by Mrs. Byers and she admitted, "The feedback from this class of experienced teachers. . . he aring it from the horse's mouth is invaluable to me."

Children's art and literature are her curriculum favorites and her most recent publication is a paper titled, "To Laugh Is To Know," seeking the cognitive element in children's humor. She is the vice-president of the Northern California Association for the Education of Young Children.

Good Combination

A good combination for clean-up chores is a straw scrubber and a low-phosphate, all-purpose cleaner. Straw scrubbers, made from the root of the rice plant, won't absorb water and can be used for all types of scrub jobs, according to the household products department of American Cyanamid Company.

Women's Lib Movement In Morocco

RABAT, Morocco (UPI) — American women discard their bras and Europeans on occasion disrobe completely in the name of women's "lib," but Moroccans still consider it rather risque even to lower their veils in public.

Equality of the sexes in this Arab monarchy has progressed considerably from the time a few years ago when Princess Llalla Aiche unveiled for the first time in public to dramatize women's demands for a better deal.

American author Paul Bowles, a longtime resident of Tangier, recalled the outrage among conservatives then, and how "many of my friends whispered the princess was a harlot and worse."

Today, the princess is her country's ambassador to Rome, the highest position reached by any woman in Morocco.

Women have been granted the right to vote. Many city girls dress Western style, sport bikinis on the beach, and coyly hold hands in public with their boy friends.

Attorney Describes Women's Struggle In Law Profession

By PAT BALMES

"It is an alienating experience to walk into a courtroom full of men. You feel intimidated with no support from other women," attorney Colquitt Walker told students at Redwood High School Little Theater on Wednesday.

In a soft, southern accent the woman attorney added that her career has been stimulating and exciting. A woman lawyer must be poised, not shy. She must be competitive; willing to work long hours in a competitive field.

Miss Walker, assistant dean of Boalt Hall School of Law, University of California in Berkeley, spoke on "The Law as a Profession for Women."

She told high school boys and girls that young women must start thinking about what they are going to do after college and marriage. Textbooks are "horrible" and do not stimulate girls to think beyond teaching and being laboratory technicians. They depict men as the professionals.

"I DID not know what a woman lawyer looked like. I only knew I wanted to be a lawyer," she recalls.

Girls should not think of a profession as ominous or that a professional woman is a non-fun, aggressive type, she said.

Intoning reasons why there are so few womenin professions, she droned for effect,

"Everybody is telling them they can not do it. They do not think that they can do it. They do not try to do it."

Women number 9 per cent of doctors, 2 per cent of lawyers and 1 per cent of accountants, engineers and architects, she said.

"The only way to break down the sex barrier in professions is by numbers. If women would graduate in large numbers from law schools, they would be more accepted in professions. The law requires firms to hire women in law in the same proportion to men, as they are available in the national pool of available lawyers."

FIRMS COP OUT by saying, "There are no women. We cannot find qualified women."

At Boalt Hall Law School this year, 25 per cent of the freshman class was women. The assistant dean says they represent only 12 per cent of the applications. The women lawyers group there has made posters for high schools reading, "WANTED BY THE LAW: WOMEN!"

Boalt Hall's top graduate this year is a woman in her early thirties, a wife and the mother of two children. She has been appointed clerk to Justice William O. Douglas of the Supreme Court, and her husband will accompany her to Washington, D.C.

Law firms come to Boalt Hall to interview second and third year law students for jobs. The school's sex discrimination committee may show concern about the firm's attitude toward women, she said.

"If they ask women law students what they are going to do after marriage Are they going to have children? The committee may feel they are in violation of the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission ruling. They may ask the law firm not to come back and interview their students," Miss Walker said.

Reciting the gloomy prospect facing a woman law graduate in recent years, Colquitt said Harvard Law School only took its first woman student in 1950. Her prospect if she got a job with a prestigious firm was a low-status position in the back room, doing some kind of family law.

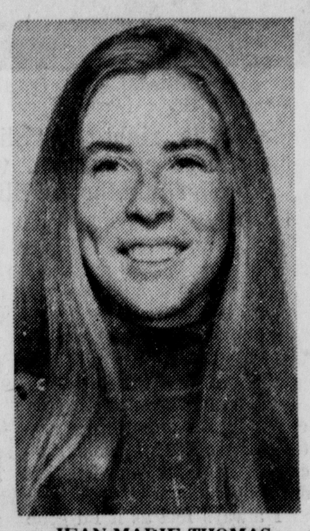
Of 5,000 judges in the United States 150 are women. Women are stopped from becoming judges because they cannot achieve the steps before judgeship, becoming partners in law firms, clerks to judges or political appointees, she said.

FEDERAL JUDGE clerkships, a most sought-after position, is almost closed to women graduates, she says. Only four Federal judges have had women clerks.

There are only 53 women law professors in the United States.

Of the 92,500 law students in the United States 8,800 are women, but that is an increase of 2,000 women over last year, Dean Walker said.

Colquitt Walker is the author of an article on sex discrimination in government benefits to be published in the Hastings Law Journal later this month. She is a graduate of Salem College in Winston-Salem, N.C., and Emory University school of law in Atlanta, Ga. She has practiced law in Oakland, Jersey City, N.J., and Atlanta.



JEAN MARIE THOMAS
Engagement announced

Engagement Of Couple Is Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Roby E. Thomas are announcing the engagement of their daughter Jean Marie to Kenneth H. Loer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Loer, all of Novato.

Jean is the sister of Mrs. Steven D. Reynolds of South Pasadena, Stanley Thomas, serving with the Navy and Alan Thomas of Novato. Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Loura of San Francisco are the future bride's local grandparents. She was graduated from San Marin High School and is attending Santa Rosa Junior College. She is employed at Mix and Match in Novato and Louella's in San Anselmo.

Kenneth was graduated from Novato High School and Gavilan College near Gilroy. He is employed at Williams Brothers in Terra Linda.

Wins Round In Fight Against Plane Smoking

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz. — When Mrs. Herbert E. Carnes, internationally known ornithologist, wants something she doesn't give up until she gets it.

Her latest victory came when American Airlines agreed to put in a no-smoking section on all flights, but it didn't come until she canceled reservations and flew either United or TWA, both of which have no smoking areas on all planes.

The climax came in Buffalo when she learned her American flight was filled and no arrangement could be made for nonsmokers. So she transferred to TWA. A letter of apology came from American.

She has no problem with guests in her home. A tactful little sign everyone sees reads, "Thank you for not smoking" saves everyone embarrassment. (Los Angeles Times Syndicate.)

Holiday Party

Tamalpais Retirement Residence annual Christmas party will be held Dec. 20 in the auditorium of the residence in Greenbrae.

A Christmas pageant with Mr. and Mrs. Santa Claus will precede the exchange of gifts and refreshments.

ON THE AGENDA

Santa To Make An Appearance At Yacht Club's Party For Children

The Christmas party season has arrived and organizations in Marin are ready to celebrate the season.

SANTA CLAUS will arrive by boat for the Loch Lomond Yacht Club's children's Christmas party Saturday at the clubhouse in San Rafael. Mrs. Robert C. Ryan, chairman of arrangements, said that during the 1 to 3 p.m. party the children will also be entertained by a magician and be served cookies and punch.

The club's adult Christmas party will be given Dec. 18 with a buffet supper and band for dancing. Mrs. Lewis Glaeser of Corte Madera is arrangements chairman for that party.

THE BRITISH American Club's North Bay Chapter will have its Christmas celebration and dance at 9 p.m. Saturday at the American Legion Log Cabin in San Anselmo. It will feature novelty dances to the music of a live group.

MARIN MOTHERS of Twins Club will have its Christmas party Monday at 8 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Joelene Pariani in San Rafael. A silent auction will be held during the evening.

THE CHRISTMAS party of the Marin County Alumnae of Alpha Omicron Pi will be given for the members at 11 a.m. Monday at the home of Mrs. Arthur W. Feidler in Ross. A short business meeting will be followed by a luncheon and silent auction of white elephants. Auction proceeds will go toward refurbishing the Berkeley chapter house of the sorority. Mrs. Peter Skaer will assist the hostess with the event.

Members will hear a report that the club's benefit raised $200 for the Endowed Bed Fund at Ross General Hospital.

"CHRISTMAS CUSTOMS in Colonial Times" will be the theme of the meeting of El Marinero Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, Monday at noon at the San Rafael home of Mrs. Edwin W. Thomas. Again this year, members will bring presents for the veteran patients at nearby military hospitals.

Hostesses for the luncheon will be Mmes. Donald D. DuPertius, Henry F. Clouette, Edward J. Ehmann and Charles W. Thissell.

MEMBERS OF the Petaluma Garden Club will bring holiday arrangements for public display Monday to the Kennilworth Recreation Center at 1 p.m. A club member will deliver a commentary on several of the arrangements.

Refreshments will be served and gifts for Los Guilucos School for Girls will be collected from each member.

THE SOCIAL-LITES Singles Club of Marin and Sonoma Counties will hold a dance Saturday evening at the Sportsman's Lodge in Novato. Dancing to a live band will begin at 9 p.m.

WORLD WINGS International Marin Chapter, will have a dance Saturday at the Bel Marin Keys Clubhouse, beginning at 8 p.m. A magician will be on hand to entertain the former stewardesses, their husbands, and other guests. Proceeds will go to the "Nancy Fund" at Napa State Hospital. Reservations chairmen are Mmes. Richard D. Hamann of Mill Valley and Robert F. MacKay of Ignacio.

THE SAUSALITO Yacht Club will have its Christmas Party and installation of officers Saturday at the clubhouse with Carl Lischeske taking over the duties of commodore from Ernest N. Perry.

Chairman and reservations chairman is Daniel Ohman. Cocktails will be served at 6:30 before the 8 p.m. dinner and dancing to music of an orchestra.

THE GENERATION RAP

by Helen and Sue Bottel

Homecoming Queens And The Like Are Sometimes Welcome Relief

DEAR HELEN AND SUE:

The Student Affairs Committee of our College has voted to withdraw student support from future homecoming queen and other festival queen contests. They are traditions in our town and I am sure that most of the college students still want these contests to continue.

However, the Women's Liberation Group (of about 40) persuaded the committee that campus queen contests are "meat shows" and morally degrading to women.

Seems to me this should be up to the majority of students on campus, not a small Student Affairs Committee. (Yes, members are elected by "popular vote," but very few people bother to vote — perhaps one-tenth of all registered students. Therefore they don't represent us.)

As for so-called beauty contests being "degrading," why is it bad to award girls for popularity? After all, awards are made in other fields — scholastic, athletic, scientific.

Do you, Helen and Sue, consider that queen or beauty contests put down women? — COLLEGE STUDENT

DEAR STUDENT:

Let's put it this way: Many professions which draw women (and men too) require attractiveness, outgoing personalities, the "cool" that comes from public appearances. Many beauty queens (actually, they're popularity queens) have gone on to careers in acting, advertising, modeling and maybe these can also be put down as "meat show" jobs but the pay is great, they require brains as well as looks, and they offer self-esteem which is what Women's Liberationists push hardest, right?

We think queen contests are pleasant traditions for high schools and colleges. If they are to be eliminated, then it should be by popular vote, not by edict of the student council. True, they don't generate wild enthusiasm as they did in past years (nor do national or worldwide "beauty" contests), but they're still a welcome change from all that "life is real life is earnest" tension that envelops campuses these days.

(Okay, Liberationists, strike us dead!) — HELEN AND SUE

NOTE FROM HELEN: Occurs to me that if only one-tenth of all registered students bother to vote in campus elections, then the others haven't much cause for complaint on how student affairs are run. They've already defaulted.

NOTE FROM SUE: Why doesn't "lib" concentrate on important issues, and leave queen contests to those who enjoy them?

DEAR RAP:

This is for " A Friend of the Fair Sex" who implied that women's dress and actions invite rape, etc.

I had to recheck the date on the paper! I couldn't believe that letter: it sounded like "Friend" just stepped out of the 1950s.

This is 1971, Sweetie: Smarten up! If every girl who wore hotpants got raped, I'd start feeling sorry for the rapists.

No one "invades" bars any more. That's left to John Wayne and old westerns. People walk right up civilly (leaving their harpoons at the side, of course), and girls aren't "asking for it" when they stop for a drink.

As for bringing crime under control (by dress regulations, and making bars off-limits to females), gals got raped when they wore ten crinolines and two corsets. It just took a little longer, that's all. On the other hand, Eve had no trouble, and she only wore a fig leaf.

People belong only where they want to belong. If they want to stay at home, that's cool, but I'm not the cookie-baking little homebody that "Friend" seems to want all women to be. Actually, I'm 15, so I can't go into bars yet, but I defend the right of older girls to do as they please. — NOT A CHINA DOLL

Red Cross Is Seeking Volunteers

The chapter will have an open training course for those who wish to volunteer on Tuesday from 9:30 a.m. to noon at the Red Cross Chapter House, 715 Fifth Avenue, San Rafael.

The volunteers visit lonely and elderly in convalescent homes, hospitals or private homes.

A Storing Hint

Do not starch garments before you store them for the winter. Substances contained in stains and starches are food for insects.

A MOST UNUSUAL ARTIST

Work Reflects Her Belief In Children

By GAY PAULEY

Concentration on the young sets her apart from most other artists. But what makes her even more unusual is the fact that Mrs. Spiro-Smith is legally blind. With contact lenses in the one eye that functions, she has about 10 per cent vision.

"I like the honesty of a child, the freedom, doing its own thing as it were," said the sculptor, whose works capture the world of children from the games they play (follow the leader), to parent-child relationships (a mother and child sculpture is called "lullaby"), to a solitary youngster huddled in a corner ("he might be trying his first smoke") to the adolescent girl wallflower to the sculpted heads of a boy and girl named "puppy love".

Mrs. Spiro-Smith (a combinatio of her maiden and married name) does not use child models for her sculptures. All the figures are done from her imagination and vivid memories —you see, the sculptress began to go blind when she was 14, loss of sight caused by uveitis, an inflammation of the eye. By the time she was 21, she had lost all sight. The small percentage since restored in the left eye is thanks to several operations ("about 12 I think") including those for cataracts that developed.

"I always feel as if I'd gone to every doctor who was an eye specialist," she said in an interview at the Jewish Guild building. "I got a lot of no-nos."

It was Dr. Joseph Laval of Mt. Sinai Hospital, New York, who finally through intricate surgery was able to restore some vision. It was at Mt. Sinai too that she met a patient who became her husband, Joseph Smith, a businessman now deceased. The couple had one son, John, now 19, who is an accomplished artist also.

THE TWO women recalled that for generations there had been artistic and musical talent in their families "but no one pushed it." Mrs. Spiro-Smith said, "I suppose I pushed because of the handicap I had to overcome."

She models most of her little figures in wax and then has them cast in bronze by a Long Island firm with the kilns and other equipment needed.

Her first "break" with a gallery showing came when a neighbor saw her delicate artistry and sent her to see Charles Mann, who runs a fine arts gallery. In New York and national competition, she now has six firsts.

I asked her how with such minimal vision she could sculpt fine details —eyes, hands, hair and the like. "Oh, I have all sorts of magnifying lenses," she said.

The sculptor is largely selfeducated (she was still in high school when her sight began to go). She has a trigger-quick mind, and keeps up with what's going on in the world with the magnifying glass which permits her to read a few minutes at a time, uses the Recording for the Blind books and music and reads from tape. She knows Braille but elects not to use it.

I asked her if she ever felt any bitterness at loss of sight. "No," she said, "never bitterness. Frustration, yes. Frustration of waiting for someone to go with me, at wanting to read more. I was awfully lucky to have parents who encouraged me to run, to feel..."

She recalled that when she makes her regular visits to her eye doctor, she always says "Thank You" as a routine politeness when she leaves. He always tells her, "Don't thank me, thank God."

Marin Units To Sponsor 'Sweet Shop'

The Y Debs and Young Ys of the Marin YWCA Youth Program will sponsor the "sweet shop" at the Holiday Fair to be held at the San Francisco YWCA, 620 Sutter Street, on Sunday from 1 to 6 p.m.

The girls are having candy parties and packaging parties to supply the booth, and contributions will be accepted at the Marin YWCA, 305 Mission Avenue, No. 8, in San Rafael.

The girls will attend the fair and work in the booth and also swim and enjoy the other activities at the fair, which will include international food, flea market, films, craft booth, and a children's play.

The Y Debs and the Young Ys are fifth and sixth grade girls from Marin City, Sleepy Hollow, and Bahia Vista elementary schools.

SIMPLE DECORATIONS

Oranges Can Give Special Holiday Air

The fragrance of fresh oranges and their natural look will give a holiday home or office a special air. Here are two decorations that are simple to make but lend an elegant mod look.

FESTIVE HOLIDAY SWAG

Supplies needed:

Natural or artificial pine or laurel rope long enough for swag and drops

20 medium-size oranges

8 lemons

2 rolls orange cellophane wrap

1 roll yellow cellophane wrap

Lightweight household wire

2 wall hooks to attach swag to wall

Prepare oranges and lemons by cutting 12-inch squares of cellophane. Place fruit in center of square, bringing edges to stem end and secure with wire. Allow six inches of wire to attach firmly to swag. Use nine-inch squares of yellow cellophane for lemons. Attach two oranges and one lemon in groups on swag and several single pieces of fruit here and there. Form two bows and attach these with wire to swag; then hang on wall hooks. Or you can lay swag in center of dining table or on mantle top.

MOD ORANGE CNTERPIECE

Supplies needed:

14 medium oranges

Bright colored metallic foil paper to accent your color scheme

Green pine

Small ornamental balls the same color as foil paper

Wrap each cylinder in metallic foil and secure with glue or tape. Depending on the area to be decorated, arrange cylinders in circle or line. Top each with orange. Arrange greenery around base and scatter balls throughout greens. Keep extra oranges on hand to replace the ones that get eaten.

The Reins Of Business Passed To Daughters

An ancient Asian adage says, "To a creative man, a dynamic daughter is born." According to an article in the December issue of New Woman magazine, more and more fathers are taking the saying to heart by passing the reins of control of their businesses to their daughters.

The article profiles 13 women who have inherited command of a business from their fathers. Included are Caroline Goldstein, president of Candyland Novelty Co., Brooklyn; Ella Brennan Martin, general manager, Brennan's French restaurants in New Orleans, Houston, Dallas, and Atlanta; Laura Maioglio, owner, Barbetta restaurant, New York City, and Dorothy Fritz Cope, owner and managing director, the Huntington Hotel, San Francisco.

Unlike many male counterparts, women don't appear to concentrate as much on their competitors or jockeying for rank within their industry, as they do on satisfying their personal demands for superior performance, the article states.

A Profile Assembled On The 6 To 11 Age Bracket

I-J Special Report

NEW YORK — A profile of 6-to-11-year-olds has been assembled by the Health Insurance Institute from early childhood surveys by the National Center for Health Statistics in Washington, D. C.

American children in this age category are among the largest in the world, according to the institute. While boys at the age of 6 are slightly taller and heavier than the girls, by the time they get to be 11, girls are larger.

According to parents, 46 per cent of the children have no difficulty getting along with others; 49 per cent "get along as well as most children do," and 4 per cent report having difficulties.

The children are not too fussy about their food, according to the surveys. While 44 per cent eat nearly all kinds of foods, as they get older they eat more varied foods. At 6, 25 per cent are finicky eaters, but about five years later only 19 per cent are fussy about what they eat.

In answer to "how much television do children watch?" the survey revealed that one-third of 6-year-olds watch one hour of television daily, and 4.1 per cent watch four hours or more. Eleven-year-olds have the same figure for one-hour watchers, but 8 per cent watch four hours or more daily.

More than three-quarters of the children have at least one regular household chore, with the number of bed makers and leaf rakers growing as they get older. Nine out of ten 11-year-olds have regular tasks.

The average bedtime is 8:50 p.m. Half of 6-year-olds are in bed by 8:30 p.m., while half of 11-year-olds stay up until 9:10 p.m. Only 6 per cent do not have a regular bedtime.

The average child has 10 days per year of restricted activities — days in which the child cuts down for an entire day on things he usually does because of illness. Less than half of these days are spent in bed.

Tonsilitis and acute respiratory conditions are the major causes for staying away from school or play. Among medical problems of children in the 6-to-11 category the survey showed that less than 1 per cent have defective hearing, while 8.4 per cent have speech defects or similar problems.

Candle Safety Tip

For safety, enclose Christmas candles in hurricane lamps. Soot and candle drippings can be washed off glass chimneys with hot soap or detergent suds. Wash them in the dishpan, right along with ash trays, candy dishes and other holiday accessories that need daily sudsings.

How To Look Exotic For The Season

Begin with a light, delicately sheer foundation make-up in a shade lighter than normally used to give today's newest, more colorful make-up accents their proper prominence.

"Try one of the shimmering shades of make-up for added glamour. To make up your eyes in the current fashion, select smoky, sultry tones of shadow. Add a narrow band of silver or white shadow highlight over the center of the lid for an even more extreme sultry look under evening lights. Apply long upper and lower lashes.

Blend blusher in a circular motion onto the cheeks. Confine the color to a small rounded area for the newest effect in cheek coloring. Select a clear, bright shade of lipstick and polish nails with one of the deeper, most fashionable frosted shades.

Marinites To Participate In Area Event

Marin women will participate with 400 Bay Area women in a pageant being produced by Build the Earth tomorrow from 10 to 11:30 a.m. at the Masonic Temple in San Francisco.

Build the Earth is a nonprofit, educational organization dedicated to pereserving and enhancing the quality of life and educating women to claim their full role in the contemporary world.

"From Woman to Bless Mankind," is the title of the pageant, that will present a new identity for women — an identity that includes all men, religions, races and nations, according to Mrs. Donald Fitton pageant program chairman.

The Male Image In Advertising Under Attack

There seems to be an industry-wide orientation among drug manufacturers to perpetuate male chauvinistic thinking, in the opinion of Dr. Natalie Shainess, lecturer in psychiatry to Columbia University College of Physicians and Surgeons.

Interviewed in the December issue of New Woman magazine, Dr. Shainess notes that ads placed in medical journals, in essence, tell a doctor that he can solve man's problem (showing a picture of a bedraggled husband) by giving his wife this pill (some new sedative).

"That sort of thing is obviously antifemale," Dr. Shainess states. "It entirely overlooks the fact that a female patient might have a perfectly legitimate reason for reacting to her husband the way she does."

ART REVIEW

Main Failing Of Any Student Show: The Lack Of Expertise

By LAURA DEVENDORF

Unless there is a display of startling capability and polish, most student shows can be best enjoyed with a few thoughts in mind. And with the senior art show, through Dec. 16 at Dominican College's San Marco Gallery in San Rafael, it is most helpful.

First, consider that to graduate, a student is usually required to take many subjects outside his field. Second, in high school there is usually little emphasis on art. Therefore, most students begin college with only limited experience. And third, most college art departments require that he explore several areas from art history to drawing and painting, and from wood, synthetics and steel sculpture to such things as ceramics and weaving.

Obviously, to master any one of these requires time, usually years of concentration to develop technical skills, plus his own talent and ideas. So, in viewing a student exhibit, expertise cannot be expected.

It is mainly interesting to see if a student's special mark can be seen threading through each of the things he tries. Or, if he has already developed a special device or style, how distinctive it is and how sophisticated he has made it.

The two-man senior show at Dominican has students who give an idea of each. Sister Marjorie Kouba's work is like a visit through all her exposures and her ups and downs along the way. She works in batik, charcoal, glue, ink, acrylic, oil, watercolor, wax and pastel.

And the qualities which come through are a fairly strong sense of design — a poetic quality when she lets her work flow and an ease in working with the figure, even though there is no distinctive style to connect the various media and approaches.

Lesley Matusek takes a theme and sticks to it. Working solely in acrylics on canvas, she produces variations on a theme of colored pools and splashes. In some, color suggests a specific, such as "Springtime," done in brilliant greens. In others, she refers to generalities such as "My Fantasy World," a galaxial, purple mass dotted with pale tones.

These, however, are no different than her untitled works. And all are more or less effective according to their color and sense of happenstance or structure. In the latter instance, especially, some seem to have just happened aimlessly with no assistance from the artist.

Others, such as a canvas in moody deep reds strung with black, another which has a nice solid brown shape within greens, and most of all, "Tides," which is exquisite in its swirling, delicate darks and misty light, all show that she has a pleasant idea going if she learns to control it.

Unless he is some sort of genius, a student should be reaching. And the show by Sister Marjorie and Miss Matusek explain a little about how, and also where, he may arrive.

Orchestra Piccola Will Be Featured

The first concert in the new Family Vespers Concerts at St. Stephen's Church in Belvedere will be given Sunday at 5 p.m.

Performing will be the Orchestra Piccola, consisting of 35 members of the Marin Youth Orchestra, conducted by Hugo Rinaldi.

The first half of the program will include Ives's "Unanswered Question," Vivaldi's Concerto in C Major for Violin, Two String Orchestras and Harpsichord, with Dan Smiley as violin soloist, and the same composer's Concerto in D Major for Guitar and String Orchestra, with Paul Bertolli as guitar soloist.

The second half of the program will be composed of Mozart's Sinfonia Concertante, with solos by Jenny Sperry, oboe; Steve Gordon, clarinet; Kathy Kaeppel, bassoon, and Brian McCarty, French horn; and the first movement of Bizet's Symphony in C.

Complimentary refreshments will be served in the parish hall after the concert.

Ticket information may be obtained by calling Mrs. Gustav Snelling of 2002 Paradise Drive, Tiburon.

Novato High Sets Choral Concert

The Novato High School music department will present a choral concert, featuring three groups, at 3 p.m. Sunday in the girls gymnasium at the school.

Performing will be the 65-voice choir, the 45-voice choraliers, and the 25-voice "Vocal Message," under the direction of John Enders, vocal music instructor, and Craig Bond, former Novato High student.

Bond, music director of the Church of Nativity in Lucas Valley, has performed with Vince Guaraldi. A song from a mass he has composed will be sung by the choraliers.

The singers will be accompanied by a small instrumental group. Proceeds will benefit the school music department.

'Dandy Dick' To Be Presented by ACT

By JAMES E. WILLIAMS

The American Conservatory Theater of San Francisco will introduce Bay Area audiences to Arthur Wing Pinero's "Dandy Dick," on Tuesday night at the Geary Theater.

The spirited Victorian culture-confrontation pits a conservative clergyman against his family's black sheep — his racetrack-loving sister.

Taking the leads of the comedy which will join ACT's rotating repertory will be William Paterson as the Dean and Joy Carlin as Georgiana, his sister.

In connection with the opener, ACT announced this week booking of "The Effect of Gamma Rays on Man-in-the-Moon Marigolds" for a run at the Marines' Memorial Theater beginning Dec. 27. The 1971 Pulitzer prize for drama winner will feature Dorothy Loudon in the central role.

MUSIC

The New York Pro Musica is currently staging "The Play of Daniel," and "The Play of Herod" at Zellerbach Auditorium on the University of California campus at Berkeley. They will run through Sunday with "Daniel" tonight and tomorrow night and "Herod" Saturday and Sunday nights and Sunday afternoon.

The San Francisco Bach Choir will present its 36th annual Christmas concert Sunday night at St. Ignatius Catholic Church on the University of San Francisco campus. The work to be performed will be Bach's "Christmas Oratorio."

Featured as this week's guest with the San Francisco Symphony — in its second week of the season — are pianist Andre Watts and the symphony's concertmaster Stuart Canin and flutist Paul Renzi. The featured works of the program, which will be presented again tomorrow night, are Beethoven's "Pastoral" Symphony and Liszt's "Totentaz," featuring Watts.

Other events.

Out Of Hospital

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (UPI)—Barbara Stanwyck, 64, was released Wednesday from St. John's Hospital where she underwent a kidney removal operation several weeks ago.

Marinites To Campus Music Spots

Four Marin County students have been chosen to participate in musical groups at the University of California at Santa Barbara.

Teresa Ann Becker, daughter of J. W. Becker of 853 Pine Lane, San Rafael, was chosen to play the violin in the university's symphony orchestra. Michael Stephen Rosso, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Rosso of 121 Du Bois Street, San Rafael will sing with the chamber singers and also with the Schubertians, a small group specializing in the music of Franz Schubert.

Janet A. Guastavino, daughter of R. A. Guastavino of 114 Barber Avenue, San Anselmo and Grace E. Fielder, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Fielder of 1 Underhill Road, Mill Valley, have been selected for the women's glee club.

The Paddy Buffalo Is Being Replaced

KUALA LUMPUR (UPI)—Mechanization of rice paddy-operations in Malaysia has led to a decrease in the number of water buffalo in the country, the government reports.

Between 1964 and 1969 the buffalo population dropped by 50,000 to a total of 223,300.

1200 Sedan $2021.
Ask the expert.
Here's the small car that's big enough for four, delivers around 30 miles per gallon and has all the style and grace of much, much more expensive small cars. As the Small Car Expert can show you, the Datsun 1200 Sedan is the least expensive Datsun. But it still comes fully equipped with all-vinyl bucket seats...lots of little extras wrapped in a tough unibody for solid protection.

The 1200 Sedan has a sporty engine that leaves other small cars behind, and it's got great stopping power with safety front disc brakes. # Ex-Warden Duffy Keeps Alive His Fight For Prison Reform

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Clinton T. Duffy, former San Quentin Prison warden often called the "father of America penology," is now 74 and supposedly retired.

But he remains an active factor in prison reform. He is the author of three books and continues lecturing nationally.

"When people are sent to prison," he says, "they are there for a reason. Call it punishment, if you will, but to me confinement is all the punishment that is needed.

"From the moment a man or a woman enters the front gate of a prison, every effort has to be made by the inmate and the staff to change that anti-social person to one who may be considered for eventual release back into the community."

Duffy, vigorous and clear-eyed despite his years, said a stepped up program should be made in meaningful trade training, academic opportunities offered by intensified teaching, more religious training, and, most of all, better and more widespread use of sociological and psychiatric help.

"One of the main stumbling blocks in the effort of prisons to remotivate its inmates is lack of adequate program financing and adequately paid personnel," he says.

"Every prison administrator I've known—and that covers hundreds—wished to have a better developed program in their institutions...but most prison budgets are considered toward the bottom rung on the ladder.

"Idleness and assignment gimcracks that are not meaningful , are a cause of much trouble inside the walls. Active minds that are being developed toward a change in their personal lives and future rarely cause trouble...Of those who do return to society a good many today are as good as you or me and are good citizens because they had the proper approach to their needs."

Duffy believes that prison terms for 90 per cent of all the crimes against property and 10 per cent of crimes against persons could be handled at the community level.

Those who are sent to prison, he says, "should remain there until they, with the help of staff, are known to be ready for release back into the community as better people."

This approach, Duffy says, stimulates the committed person to work harder on his own problems, solving as many as possible and understanding himself.

"It could also stimulate the prison staff to work more closely with the inmate in preparing him to be released back into the community. If some inmates want to sit around and just do time, they would be required to remain in prison for the rest of their natural lives, or make changes for their future," he says.

"Not only would society be saving millions of dollars in the case of the large prison population, but we also would be reducing crime and recidivism. More important of all," he said, "we would be salvaging human beings.

Old Rocket Refurbished For Skylab

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—A rocket built in 1966 has come out of hibernation and is being refurbished for the launch of the first skylab space station crewmen in 1973.

The Saturn 1B first stage, stored in a plastic cocoon for 34 months, will be shipped to Cape Kennedy in August for final flight preparations.

The eight-engine booster is one of three Saturn 1Bs that will launch three-man Apollo command ships to rendezvous and link up with the orbiting skylab. Each crew will occupy the station for four to eight weeks over an eight month period.

The skylab, a 188,000-pound assembly with the room of a small house, is scheduled to be lofted into orbit first on April 30, 1973, by a Saturn 5 rocket.

The smaller two-state Saturn 1B will follow the next day with the first skylab crew. The second three-man team is to be launched by another Saturn 1B July 30, 1973, with the third crew following on Oct. 28, 1973.

The initial skylab booster, identified as vehicle No. 206, has been at the cape before. It was standing on launch pad 37 in January, 1967, when the three Apollo 1 astronauts were killed in a spacecraft fire atop another Saturn at an adjacent pad.

At that time, Saturn 1B 206 was to have launched an unmanned moon landing craft on an Earth orbital test flight. After the accident, the test program was revised and the original Apollo 1 rocket launched the lunar module.

Another Saturn 1B orbited Apollo 7 astronauts Walter M. Schirra, Donn F. Eisele and Walter Cunningham in October 1968. The Apollo program then turned to larger Saturn 5 rockets and the Saturn 1B booster were put in mothballs at the hugh Michoud Rocket Plant here.

The first skylab rocket was rolled out of its massive, airconditioned storage tent Oct. 19 and now is being inspected and readied for flight. A maze of yellow scaffolding surrounds its engine section.

Parts such as rubber seals, valves and some electrical parts that wear with age or periodic testing are being replaced and some engineering improvements are being made to bring the rocket up to date. Then the rocket systems will be thoroughly tested before being shipped to Cape Kennedy.

Charles A. Vogtner, assistant chief of manufacturing for the Saturn 1B program here, said the first stage for the second skylab crew launch will be taken out of storage Feb. 1 with the third emerging from its cocoon in March.

There are a total of nine Saturn 1B boosters in the inventory and three others also will be removed from storage and updated. One will be kept at the cape for possible skylab rescue missions and the other two may be used for Earth orbital flights in 1974 for which the space agency now is seeking financing.

Legitimate Need; Illegitimate Method

Seeking the money, it has cast its eyes on the city treasury — which is not unusual either.

The city council this week heard a plea by Paul Ciampi, chamber president, that the city contract with the chamber of commerce for services. Just what the services would be was not detailed.

The idea is that a contract for services would get around a city charter restriction that limits to $1,000 the amount San Rafael can spend annually for promotion and advertising.

THE STORY WAS the same: the chamber needed money; the council was willing to extend a helping hand, but was limited by the charter. And so a contract was made with the chamber. For $4,000, it was to provide a survey of business conditions, types of businesses, number of hotel and motel rooms, etc., etc. — all the sort of thing the chamber collects regularly anyhow (or should).

The city paid the money. But no survey report approximating $4,000 value, even at the ridiculous prices charged by consultants for surveys, resulted from the expenditure.

And so, when the chamber proposed that the same thing be done again the next year, then-City Atty. David Menary Jr. told the council he had doubts of its legality, and recommended that no such attempt to circumvent the charter restriction be repeated. The council listened to his advice.

STILL, THE CITY fathers wanted to help the chamber. So in April, 1967, they put on the municipal election ballot a proposal to remove the $1,000 promotion expenditure limit, leaving the city free to spend as much for such purposes as the council wished.

The voters turned that down, 3,344 "no" to 2,177 "yes."

They tried the same thing again on the June, 1970, primary election ballot. It was dumped, 7,962 "no" to 2,797 "yes."

They tried again last April. For the third time, it was defeated, 3,780 "no" to 3,038 "yes."

In June, Ciampi appeared before the council asking $19,000 for the chamber, in the form of a special contract. Couldn't be done, said City Atty. Fred C. Robbins Jr. The voters had spoken.

BUT THIS WEEK, Ciampi was back — his sights lowered only slightly, to $15,000. And this week, Robbins reversed himself — and likewise reversed his predecessor, who now sits on the municipal court bench. He thought such a contract might be legal.

And Mayor C. Paul Bettini, in an amazing statement, said, "I have no qualms about giving the chamber the money." The three turndowns at the polls, suggested the mayor, resulted from "misunderstanding of our charter by the people."

The council put the chamber's request down for discussion during budget time next May.

WE APPRECIATE the chamber of commerce's need for more funds. We agree that it can make a good case that its activities benefit the city as a whole, therefore are entitled to taxpayer support.

But the voters of San Rafael have said plainly three times that they don't want to give the chamber, or anybody else, a free hand at the public treasury. The charter stands. It is the city's law. If there is any misunderstanding involved, it is misunderstanding by the mayor of what is meant by abiding by the law.

Too Many Democrat Campaigns; Too Little 'Mother's Milk'

By PHIL HANNA

SACRAMENTO (Capitol) — "Money is the mother's milk of politics," is the oft-repeated quote of former Assembly Speaker Jesse Unruh, and it was never more true than it is today.

As many as 10 potential Democratic presidential candidates are eyeing California's delegation to the 1972 Miami Beach convention.

To gain this delegation is costly, with expenditures estimated at from $1.5 million to $2.5 million for the winning candidate.

How many Democrats can afford to campaign under circumstances such as this? The answer is, "Not many."

Sen. Edmund Muskie of Maine is a cinch to try to qualify his delegation. Also likely to be on the California ballot are Senators Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota, Henry Jackson of Washington and George McGovern of South Dakota.

CAN DEMOCRATS SUPPORT successfully four different presidential primary campaigns and have any cash left over for the final campaign? It doesn't seem likely.

Where does this put the candidates for Congress, State Senate and Assembly?

Congressional campaigns cost from $100,000 to $250,000 at a bare minimum. State Senate races are pegged at from $75,000 to $150,000. Drives for State Assembly candidates can easily cost $50,000 to $100,000, depending on the competition.

Adding all these factors together it could cost Democrats $23 million to campaign in California in 1972, and this kind of cash just isn't in the cards.

At last report the Democratic Party had a $7 million national deficit, and many printers, billboard companies and airlines want to have this tab paid before starting a new one.

REPUBLICANS ARE IN MUCH better condition.

President Richard M. Nixon reportedly has put $25 million or more in the bank to operate the presidential drive next year.

Except for the gadfly, Rep. Paul McClosky of San Mateo, Nixon won't have any competition in primary elections. This saves money.

It also means that congressional and legislative candidates will have clear sailing when they hit the GOP "fat cats" for the $10 million - 15 million they need to mount active, effective and successful campaigns of their own.

ALREADY ONE DEMOCRAT Sen. Fred Harris of Oklahoma, has pulled out of the race, because he had a $40,000 debt, the campaign was bankrupt and he couldn't see any chance for more money in the future.

How many more prominent presidential hopefuls will fall by the wayside when they tally the bills and find they can't keep the gas turned on and the telephone in service?

Jesse Unruh was never more accurate.

Mt. Sutro Tower Affront To Region

A monster is growing up in San Francisco that menaces the entire Bay Area. I refer to the enormous TV tower being erected on Mount Sutro. Although less than half its final height, it is already a hideous sight on the skyline. It is especially repulsive when viewed from Marin and the East Bay as it looms over the Golden Gate Bridge and the Bay Bridge. To permit such a development in the midst of the finest metropolitan landscape in the world is a travesty of planning that cannot be ignored. We should not quietly submit to this affront to our esthetic values because of jurisdictional boundaries. We will all have to live with the result.

Because several of the major news sources in the Bay Area are involved in the project, it has received very little publicity. I beg you to bring out the facts, to print the artist's conception of the final structure (the Sierra Club Yodeler has done this), and to expose the way it came to be.

This is not just another TV tower. It is unprecedented in its height and bulk. At 980 feet it will be 200 feet taller than the Golden Gate Bridge towers and comparable in bulk to the bridge towers without their design quality. All that stuck on top of 900-foot Mount Sutro!

This is the time for indignation! This is a symbolic clash of values: TV reception vs. the quality of our environment.

When will we put a stop to these assaults on the incomparable beauty of our region? Now?

America's Interests Tied With Israel's

While the military dictators of 10 Arab nations are rattling their Soviet-made sabres, our Arabist State Department refuses to sell jets to Israel for her survival. This embargo might eventually lead to the Soviet domination over the entire Middle East. Arabian oil interests seem to be more important than U.S. national interests. While 78 of 100 senators signed a petition urging to sell Phantom jets to Israel, our secretary of state, Mr. Rogers, not only maintains the embargo, but also pressures Israel into withdrawing to indefensible borders and allowing Egypt's tanks to cross the Suez Canal.

According to the paper Near East Report, the Arab states have a combined total of 2,226 aircraft of all types; Israel has 478. The Arab armies have 5,075 tanks; Israel has 1,375. In Egypt alone there are 980 missiles, 20 times Israel's number. There are some 200 Russian pilots who regularly fly supersonic jets for the Egyptian air force, and at least 20,000 Russian military advisers. In the last month the Russians flew Tupelov bombers to Egypt — planes equipped with air-to-surface missiles which can attack Israel's towns from a distance of 85 to 100 nautical miles.

Despite President Nixon's stated policy of maintaining the military balance in the Near East, we deny Israel the means to defend herself. No wonder that Sadad feels that this is an excellent time to start a new bloodshed in the Middle East.

Coalition Seeks Water Bond Vote

Why should you sign the petition that is now circulating in Sonoma County to put the $115 million authorization for water projects on the ballot?

Here's why:

This $115 million is not tied to any specific project or projects. It's just there on the books to be tapped whenever the board of supervisors — sitting as the board of directors of the water agency — wants to put in a water system. All they have to do is find some city or water district or group of developers who'll buy the water — in this county or in some other county.

The Sonoma-Marin aqueduct is not dead. Marin voters voted down the bonds that their county was to raise, but Sonoma's part is just as alive as ever, only temporarily dormant.

Marin citizens got to vote on their bonds. How come we didn't? . . .

On Oct. 12, 15 organizations in the county, speaking through a coalition, asked the board for a public hearing. It was denied.

On Nov. 8, this coalition askedthe board to repeal Ordinance No. 1, since the Marin voters had so clearly said they wanted no part of the Sonoma-Marin aqueduct (the first water project to be constructed). Mr. Vella, chairman, said it should be repealed — there was no longer any justification for it, and fiscal accountability called for a repeal. On Nov. 11, the coalition asked Mr. Vella when he would put this to a vote of the Board, and there has been no answer . . .

Ample Reason For Worry About Radioactive Wastes

(Reprinted from Buffalo Evening News)

An incredible situation has come to light in several western states where radioactive waste poses a potential threat to thousands of persons.

Since the beginning of the atomic age, uranium mills around the country have been creating dump piles of radioactive sandy material called "tailings." Hundreds of thousands of tons of the potentially dangerous material have been given away for use as land fill around houses, factories and public buildings.

THESE TAILINGS contain the same radioactive elements that can cause lung cancer — years later — in uranium miners. A U.S. Public Health Service doctor estimates that of 6,000 Colorado uranium miners, 600 to 1,100 will die of lung cancer within the next 20 years. Genetic damage is also a threat.

Various authorities have urged the removal of all tailings from within 10 feet of habitable structures at an estimated cost of $20 million in Colorado alone. Two federal agencies opposed this.

In the present confused situation, some things seem obvious. First, there seems to be an incredible lack of any sense of urgency among many high officials. There may be some doubt about what exactly is a "safe" level of radioactivity, but the readings in many buildings are well beyond the level considered permissible in uranium mines. A school in Grand Junction, Colo., has readings 38 times the danger level every morning until the school is ventilated.

SECOND, THERE is a deplorable gap in regulations governing radioactive materials. The Atomic Energy Commission, which rigidly controls the handling of nuclear materials, takes no responsibility for materials such as tailings with comparatively low radioactivity. So far no one else has either.

Two members of the Joint Congressional Committee on Atomic Energy have requested a hearing. It should be expedited to bring about some action on this strange and worrisome situation.

Nixon In Japan Must Focus Attention On Trade Problems

TOKYO — In the merry-go-round of summits that President Nixon will hold prior to his mission to Peking, none is more important than the meeting with Japan's Prime Minister Eisaku Sato. It will be an opportunity to achieve at the very least an atmosphere in which the terms of trade with America's largest overseas trading partner can be adjusted to the Nixon new economic policy.

The bruises of the Nixon shock are still deeply felt. The government officials I have talked with do not believe it will be possible to get agreement on new terms with concessions from both sides prior to the Sato-Nixon meeting in January. And, in the meantime, what is called here a recession continues to deepen with the specter of a worldwide slowdown on the horizon.

WE MUST TRADE TO LIVE! The visitor hears that on every hand in a country only a little larger than Finland, with less than 20 per cent of arable land and a population of more than a hundred million. If trade with the United States and Western Europe is blocked by protectionist measures, then Japan must find other partners.

That search is now going forward with the vigor and the drive that have put this country in second place economically in the non-Communist world. In a close-knit society, private industry and government work together with an awareness that virtually all raw materials must be imported. Shigeo Nagano, chairman of Nippon Steel, has just returned from Peking, where with other Japanese industrial leaders he explored the potential of trade with mainland China.

At the same time he is responsible for negotiation with the Soviet Union on a deal involving $2.5 billion —some sources put it as high as $5 billion —for oil, natural gas, minerals and timber from Siberia. A pipeline from the Siberian gas reserves will extend at least 6,000 miles under water and then across Sakhalin and the northernmost province of Hokkaido to the big industrial centers.

This is by no means final, yet the outline is clear enough. The Japanese government would lend Japanese industry one-third of the construction cost for a project of extraordinary magnitude. A new port would be built on the Japan Sea, and Japan would participate with the Russians in development of a petroleum field.

WHILE IT IS in the more-distant future, Nagano, as a result of his trip to Peking and a lengthy talk with Premier Chou En-lai, sees the potential of a similar negotiation with China. The outcome would also depend to a considerable degree on Japanese government loans to underwrite the initial costs.

"My personal impression," Nagano said, "is that economic planning in China is steady and sound. Progress is based presently on increased agricultural production. But in the future there will be a parallel development of heavy industry and consumer goods. This is gradual and carefully thought out, with nothing high-flown about it."

In Nagano's opinion China is a good credit risk. If trade is expanded, underwritten by government loans, the first imports will be soy beans and other agricultural products. Soy beans today come largely from Indiana, Illinois and other midwestern states. Later Japan would take coking coal, most of which comes now from West Virginia, petroleum and other minerals as sources are developed.

IN ALL THIS there is no sense of reprisal. It is simply the urgent need to find alternative sources of supply for vital raw materials closer at hand than the Middle East and the United States. Most Japanese, both in government and in industry, understand that the United States had to take steps to correct the trade imbalance and protect the dollar. With a reserve of $14 billion — in dollars except for only a small fraction in gold — the health of the dollar is no laughing matter.

The ties with the United States are so close in every field that the visitor, after a brief look at this complex society, must believe that the present differences will be resolved. The two Pacific powers are so alike and yet so unlike. The paternalistic nature of Japanese industry masks the economic slowdown. It is still, even in textiles, following the government-to-government quota on exports to the U.S., little felt at the worker level. But nearly four months have passed since Aug. 15 and time is running out.

Castro Visit Demonstration Hints Trouble For Allende

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

The life of a Latin American ruler, whether freely elected or a dictator, frequently is not an easy one, and Chilean President Salvador Allende Gossens is beginning to find it out.

Cuban Premier Fidel Castro was just winding up his three-week-long visit to Chile, his first trip outside Communist Cuba in 11 years, and generally it had gone well. From blustery Punta Arenas, the world's southernmost city, to the deserts of the north, Castro had met friendly audiences and had preached unity against imperialists.

He had in fact seemed to come closer to Allende's theory of "construction of socialism" through majority rule than his own frequently proclaimed belief in victory through violent overthrow.

A FAREWELL RALLY at National Stadium in Santiago should have brought the visit to a successful climax.

Instead, there were empty seats and troops enforced a state of emergency declared after some 5,000 women had staged the most violent anti government demonstration yet experienced by Allende's year-old regime.

Beating upon empty pots and pans and filling the street from curb to curb, the women marched along Bernardo O'Higgins Boulevard leading to the presidential palace.

"In Chile there is hunger. We do not want Castro here," was one of their chanted slogans.

THE COMING YEAR could be the determining one for Allende and for Chile.

In his first year in office, Allende took over the American-owned copper interests, took control of the nation's banking system, speeded up the agrarian reform program and nationalized a variety of industries and businesses.

It aroused no great opposition at home, both because it played to Chilean nationalism and because of general sympathy for any program that seemed to soak the rich.

He halved inflation and increased purchasing power through a general 35 per cent raise for all workers.

THE TIME WAS COMING though, when he would have to pay the piper. Foreign reserves were down to about $120 million from $500 million when he took over. Miners were demanding wage increases higher than government ceilings. Farm production was down, partly as result of illegal seizures by leftwing peasant groups.

He needed foreign investment but his seizure of the copper interests without compensation did nothing to encourage the flow of new money into Chile.

His move to replace the two-house parliament with a single "people's assembly" meant that he also was tampering with democratic processes.

So far it has kept hands off the Allende program. But in the end it may hold the key.

Christmas Mail On Phase Two; No Raise For Bob Cratchit

WASHINGTON — There are many persons concerned with how Phase Two will affect their Christmas this year. Here are some letters the Cost of Living Council has had to deal with.

The first is from a man named Ebenezer Scrooge, a partner in the firm of Scrooge and Marley. Mr. Scrooge writes:

"Dear Sir,

"I HAVE AN EMPLOYEE named Bob Cratchit who works as a clerk in my warehouse. For some years I was under the impression that Cratchit was not doing his share of the work. (For example, he always asked to take Christmas Day off, which I have considered humbug.)

"But last year I had a bad experience. I won't go into the details, other than to say it changed my attitude on many things. One of them was my feeling toward Cratchit. I decided I had been mistaken about him, and to make amends I promised him a raise. Unfortunately, I told him the raise would go into effect on Aug. 16, 1971.

"My question is: Can I now go ahead and give him this raise, as I would hate to go through the same bad rip this Christmas as I did last year?"

Scrooge's letter was turned over to someone at the pay board who replied:

"Dear Mr. Scrooge,

"YOUR LETTER in regard to your employee Robert Cratchit was referred to this office. Unfortunately, we cannot give you a definite answer at this time as to whether you can raise his salary. The raise, if permitted, would have to be within the wage guidelines set forth by the Cost of Living Council.

"Would you be kind enough to tell us if this is a merit raise, an across-the-board raise or an inflationary raise which would cause you to raise the price of your products?

"Speaking for the administration, we urge you to forego Mr. Cratchit's raise at this time so that we all can win the President's great battle against inflation."

Another sample of the kind of mail the Cost of Living Council is getting comes from Mrs. Dalla Young, who writes:

"WE HAVE NO MONEY for Christvas this year so I'm going to sell my beautiful hair and with it buy a gold chain for my husband's watch. I understand Jim is secretly planning to sell his watch to buy a comb for my beautiful hair. Are we permitted to do this under Mr. Nixon's Phase Two economic plan?"

"Dear Mrs. Young,

"In answer to your question, I am advised to tell you that you can exchange a gold watch-chain for a comb, providing you apply for an exemption on combs and watch-chains as specified in Paragraph 4A, Chapter XII of Volume III of Phase Two price and wage guidelines (as amended in Index 345). Please submit in quadruplicate your request to the price commisssion and we will try to get you an answer before March 1,1972."

THE FINAL LETTER came from a young girl named Virginia.

"Dear Sir,

"Is there a Santa Claus? My friends say that under Phase Two there isn't. Who am I to believe?"

"Dear Virginia,

"You should stop speaking to people like George Meany and get on the President's team.

"Hail to the Chief,

"John Connally

"Secretary of the Treasury."

Reed Acts To Head Off Property Taxes

The Reed School District board has declared two surplus school sites as outdoor classrooms in a move to head off paying property taxes on the parcels.

Supt. Ralph D. Giovanniello said the board declared the sites surplus Tuesday and then instructed him to inform the State Allocation Board that they are "biological, geological and environmental study and outdoor clasroom areas."

Under a new law, districts which do not use property for school purposes for five years must notify the state board, which in turn tells the county tax assessor to begin taxing the land.

The sites are the 10-acre ring point site on Paradise Drive and the 13-acre north central site on Hacienda Drive. Their existence was not known to trustees until April.

Giovanniello said it is up to the allocation board to determine whether Reed's use of the two sites for outdoor classrooms is sufficient to exempt the district from paying taxes on them.

He said he has no idea how much the district would owe in taxes if the parcels were to be taxed.

Several commercial uses have been suggested for the land, including sale and long-term leases for commercial or housing purposes. The land definitely would be taxed if such plans were carried out.

In other business, the board set a sale of surplus desks, chairs and a pickup truck for 10 a.m. Dec. 18 at the district office and said it may hold a special meeting at a date to be announced to discuss roles of and appointments to three district citizens committees.

The board failed Tuesday to give instructions to the sixth, seventh and eighth grade committee after some audience members questioned the need for the panel, Giovanniello said.

If the special meeting is called, the board also will consider charges to the committee and appointments to two others, the small schools fact-finding and the recreation and community services committees.

The board also approved a combined application for a $2,262 federal grant for Reed Schools plus Marin Country Day School and St. Hilary's School. If the money were obtained, it would be split among the applicants and spent for library materials.

A Beacon Shines For Pearl Harbor

OAKLAND (UPI) —A light that shines only once a year blinked on Tuesday night atop nearby Mount Diablo as a memorial for servicemen who died 30 years ago in the attack on Pearl Harbor.

Present for a brief ceremony were 14 survivors of the attack.

The beacon was built as a navigational aid in 1928 and switched off the day of the attack because the military feared it might guide Japanese bombing runs in this area.

Since 1964, it has been turned on only as a memorial.

Libya Punishes An Oil Company

ALGIERS (UPI)—Libya nationalized a major British oil company Tuesday to punish Britain for allegedly enabling Iran to seize three Arab-ruled islands in the faraway Persian gulf.

The action by the two-year-old regime of Col. Moammer Khadafy, ruler of one of the world's richest countries, came a week after Iran invaded the three islands on the eastern fringe of the Arab world on what Khadafy said were "orders of British imperialism."

Libya withdrew its funds from Banks in London as well as taking over the assets, shares and operations of the British Petroleum Co. The action was announced by Tripoli radio after the playing of martial music and patriotic songs.

Rites Set For Zen Buddhist

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Services will be held Sunday for Suzuki Roshi, 67, who is credited with bringing Zen Buddhism to the West.

He died Saturday.

Suzuki Roshi, one of the 10 highest priests in the Soto School of Zen in Japan, came to San Francisco in 1958 as the spiritual leader of the Sokiji Zen Buddhist Temple.

He was the author of the book, "Zen Mind, Beginner's Mind."

Tam Board Will Have Goals Session

A dinner meeting to discuss the place of goals in educational planning has been scheduled by the Tamalpais High School District for 6:30 p.m. Dec. 20 at Dominic's in San Rafael.

Trustees, school board members, school administrators and Parent-Teachers Association representatives from throughout the county have been invited to the discussion with Dr. J. Richard Harsh, Southern California representative for the Educational Testing Service.

Construction Financing To Be Eyed

The Marin Community College District board again will consider ways to finance future construction today, but must first deal with objections by one board member to building a new campus in Novato.

Board vice president Charles W. Gray said Dec. 1 he opposes building the Indian Valley Colleges, thus causing the board to adjourn its discussion of financing to 8 p.m. today in Room 101 of the Science Center at the College of Marin.

The board is expected to discuss Gray's stand, which has met with mixed public reaction, but is pressed for time to decide the issue.

It must apply by the end of the month for state matching funds if work on the Novato campus is to begin next fiscal year. The board previously had voted a maximum tax rate of 32 cents per $100 assessed valuation to finance site preparation in Novato and work in Kentfield, but the tax is contingent on state matching funds.

Authorization to apply for state funds for building next year also will be considered today.

The board has been grappling with alternate methods of financing its long-range building program since voters turned down a $16.8 million bond issue.

Candy Canes To Be Given Away

The Marinwood Firemen's Association board agreed at a meeting Tuesday night to sponsor the Christmas gesture, Gerald A. Falbo, association secretary, reported.

The candy will be distributed between 1 and 4 p.m., he said.

(UPI Telephotos)

Special Bus Lane In Washington Area Producing Amazing Results

WASHINGTON (UPI) —It's morning rush hour on an interstate highway called Shirley, and the traffic snarl is at its frustrating worst.

The cars are bumper-to-bumper. Inside, drivers fiddle with radio dials, smoke, curse, or simply sit in quiet resignation as they go through the Monday-through-Friday routine that imprisons them up to one hour in their autos covering 10 miles or so from their northern Virginia homes to their offices in Washington.

But out of the clouds of carbon monoxide, red and silver buses loaded with commuters race by the glut of cars, at 45 miles an hour, using a lane completely free of other traffic.

What the automobile drivers see —and which more of them have come to join —is one of the most simple, and most successful, innovations in mass transit: the exclusive bus lane.

(California's Division of Highways is expected to decide by early spring whether to allow an exclusive lane for Marin commute buses on the Waldo Grade. The lane would reverse bus traffic on a northbound lane mornings and a southbound lane evenings. The division also is studying extension of the exclusive bus lane north to Greenbrae.

(The Golden Gate Bridge District's long-range transit plan envisions an exclusive right-of-way for buses from Novato to downtown San Francisco.)

Shirley Highway, officially known as Interstate 95, is the first government-financed, exclusive bus lane program in the nation and its success has produced some equally successful imitators.

The Shirley concept is basically this: Buses are provided a lane of their own during rush hours —one way into the city in the morning and the reverse in the afternoon. Free of traffic jams, the buses can provide commuters with a quick, comfortable ride from an area as far as Springfield, Va., and they are therefore willing to leave their cars home.

Federal and local leaders are enthused about the acceptance of the program which got in full swing last spring. Because of heavy use of the "Shirley Express" buses, the number of runs already has been increased.

The Transportation Department's Urban Mass Transit Administration (UMTA) says ridership on the exclusive lane buses has increased to 20,000 a day, a 167 per cent jump since the first segment opened in 1969.

So far, UMTA has put $7 million into the project, including newly released money for the purchase of 60 additional buses. By 1970 the outlay will rise to $9 million, which will include funds for development of fringe parking lots.

With the bus lane concept a success, the next step may be to allow car pools to share the bus lanes. Again, the theory is that commuters will leave cars in the garage, if given an efficient replacement.

The Shirley Highway experiment has been emulated in other areas, using their own variations of the idea.

In the New York City area, an exclusive bus lane is used to carry 35,000 New Jersey commuters into downtown Manhattan.

Unlike the Shirley project, the New York buses use a lane normally occupied by out-bound traffic. The lane is used by the buses for one hour during the morning rush, allowing an average of 495 buses to travel the 2 1-2 mile section of the highway. The normal commuting time is cut by 15 minutes.

In California, the state's toll bridge authority is using still another variation.

Buses are allowed to pass over the San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge on an exclusive lane and the bus company is billed by the month, eliminating delays caused by bus drivers paying the toll.

The idea has been expanded under a test program to allow persons using car pools to cross the bridge free of charge during rush hours.

Officials are hoping the number of cars crossing the bridge will be substantially reduced during rush periods.

Also in California, an 11-mile exclusive busway is being built between Los Angeles and El Monte. Engineers estimate that travel time from El Monte to downtown Los Angeles will take a bus 18 to 20 minutes compared to twice that for cars in the rush hour traffic.

Seattle also is operating exclusive bus lanes, and Pittsburgh is planning two lanes, one eight miles long, the other four. Highway planners in Milwaukee have recommended construction of eight miles of exclusive bus lanes.

But there will always be some who will try to beat the system. In the Shirley Highway project, police have made a fruitless effort to catch the "Red Baroness," a lady motorist in a red mustang.

She likes to dart into the exclusive lane through one of the bus entrances, race along a stretch of the highway, packed with snail-paced traffic, then squeeze back into the line of commuter cars near destination.

Art Being Displayed

A collection of various art works by Jackie Kirk of San Rafael, teacher in the San Rafael Schools' adult education department, is being shown this month at the Redwood Bank in San Rafael.

Bay Bridge Auto Pool's First Round

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— The San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge yesterday began an experiment letting car pools pass in special lanes for free. Officials said the first day looked promising.

Normally, commuters waste 10 to 15 minutes as 23,000 vehicles try to get on the bridge between 6 a.m. and 9 a.m.

In an effort to rejuce congestion, autos with three persons or more were allowed to zip through the toll plaza in special lanes 1.3 miles long.

The smiling car poolers waved as they were watched by thousands in the lonely splendor of their cars waiting bumper-to-bumper. The other drivers paid 50 cent tolls.

On the first day, delays for non-car poolers were slightly more than normal, but bridge officials were relieved. They said the experiment could have gone wrong and caused a monster jam.

For the experiment to work, traffic engineers believe they must motivate creation of 500 new car pools—which theoretically would reduce volume by 1,000 autos.

But a spokesman said, "It looks promising, but we don't know yet if it will work."

The experiment was the first of its kind in the nation, and it was observed by officials of the New York Port Authority and other bridge operators.

Some irate citizens phoned to argue that the experiment didn't improve things. They said it wasn't fair for people in car pools to get preferential treatment.

Gross Investment

MANILA (UPI) —The Philippine National Economic Council reports that gross domestic investment in the country totaled 6.6 billion pesos ($1.1 million) in 1970, compared with 6.5 billion pesos ($1.08 million) in 1969.

A 30-YEAR SECRET IS OUT AT LAST

WICHITA, Kan. — For 30 years Ralph Reynolds had a secret — one of which he wasn't too proud.

But, the world knows it now. A few weeks ago his 16-year-old son, Greg, caught a turtle and took it home.

The 48-year-old Reynolds took one look and then turned the turtle over and there they were — the initials he had cut into its shell in 1941 when he was 18. His son found it about a mile from the spot his dad originally caught it.

"The reason I remembered it," Reynolds said, "is I was half ashamed for cutting him as deep as I did." (Los Angeles Times Syndicate)

Soledad Trial Petition Loses

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The American Civil Liberties Union has lost a petition to ease courtroom security measures for the trial of the "Soledad Brothers."

The ACLU called the strict precautions, including a bullet-proof glass shield "harassment" and said women were deterred from attending the trial, where testimony begins Tuesday.

The state District Court of Appeal rejected the petition, ruling that the precautions "under all circumstances, are reasonable."

Mountain Recreation Area Is Proposed

Teague was joined by 25 other California congressmen as cosponsors of the measure to help preserve open space in the Los Angeles area.

Costs Through 1985 For Airport Work Computed

By PAUL E. PETERZELL

Improvements planned at three airports in Marin and Southern Sonoma would cost $16.5 million if built this fiscal year, and more than twice as much if delayed until 1985, the Association of Bay Area Governments reported yesterday.

Converting Hamilton Air Force Base for joint use by scheduled airlines would cost $11,691,000 if done this year, but $23,146,000 if put off to 1985, it said.

Needed improvements at Gnoss Field would cost $3,702,000 if done this fiscal year, and $8,014,000 if delayed until 1985.

A privately owned landing strip at Petaluma would require $1,115,000 if needed improvements were made now, and $2,498,000 if postponed to 1985.

The estimates came in a capital cost analysis by Bechtel Inc. of San Francisco to guide future airport planning. The improvements assumed by the consultants as needed were based mostly on master plans for the various airports.

In the case of the county's airport north of Novato, however, the consultants relied on predictions by Airport Mgr. Francis E. Torr, who told the Independent-Journal that the cost totals never before had been computed. The county is only beginning its master planning for the field.

Torr also told the Independent-Journal that the list of anticipated improvements he outlined for the ABAG consultants included "a lot of deluxe things" that would have to be built either by the federal government or private operators.

The ABAG report, figuring Gnoss Field now is the base for about 125 aircraft, assumed its capacity would be expanded to 300 aircraft. This expansion, in turn, would mean reconstruction of dikes and drainage canals to protect the additional 120 acres needed to accommodate the related improvements.

Because of low elevation, 790,000 cubic yards of fill would be needed for an additional runway, taxiway and aircraft apron, the report noted.

Also, a frontage road would have to be extended some 600 feet and parking for 60 cars added.

Other additions would include an annex to the administration building, a control tower, tee hangars for 32 aircraft, runway and taxiway lighting and navigational aids for operations in poor weather.

At Hamilton Air Force Base, according to the report, facilities would be necessary to handle 2.7 million passengers a year by 1985. The new terminal would be northeast of the runway, and a four-lane road would be needed connecting Bel Marin Keys with the terminal.

Cost estimates also were computed for the intermediate years of 1975 and 1980. The figures for Gnoss Field were $4,903,000 and $6,264,000, respectively, with the 1985 estimate at $8,014,000.

The 1975 and 1980 estimates for Hamilton Air Force Base were $14,933,000 and $18,629,000.

The estimates for Petaluma were $1,528,000 and $1,953,000.

Bolinas Lagoon Plan Adopted By Park-Rec Commissioners

The Marin County Parks and Recreation Commission adopted the Bolinas Lagoon plan yesterday during a brief hearing which, unlike earlier hearings, produced no major objection from residents.

The plan, which calls for keeping the lagoon as an ecological preserve, will be forwarded to the planning commission for expected review next month.

During three earlier hearings, West Marin residents complained bitterly that the plan was defeating its own purpose of preserving the lagoon by including recreational facilities around the picturesque body of water.

As proposed by the parks and recreation department, the plan calls for observation points, nature interpretation centers, hiking trails and picnic and parking areas.

Bolinas and Stinson Beach residents said such development would attract tourism, thus spoiling the tranquil lagoon area.

At the commission's last meeting, objecting residents were characterized by one commissioner as "unfair and completely selfish" in proposals to block easy public access to the lagoon.

At yesterday's session, no resident spoke in favor of dumping the plan.

Discussion among the commissioners centered on changes to the plan suggested last month to reduce much of the parking and picnicking facilities at Pine Gulch Creek.

The commission, in voting approval of the plan, amended it to include statements that the county would consider small boat launching facilities when needed, that the state highway department notify the county on proposals to cut or fill along Shoreline Highway and that the county will treat the lagoon's watershed area as part of the ecological environment of the lagoon in future planning.

The lagoon plan was required by the state when it turned over responsibility of preserving the lagoon to the county. The plan must be adopted by the board of supervisors and forwarded to the state within a year.

Funding Discussion On East Marin Open Space

An outline of ways to finance purchase of open space lands in Marin's "eastern urbanized corridor" was considered yesterday by the county's park and recreation commission which took no action, pending further study.

The proposal, drafted by Park and Recreation Director Pierre W. Joske and others, calls for the county and participating cities to budget matching funds to acquire desired open lands in danger of being developed.

Yesterday's discussion centered on the acquisition of the North Ridge between Larkspur, Corte Madera and Mill Valley and how the estimated $2 million purchase price might be divided up among local governments.

Mill Valley City Councilman Jean S. Barnard complained that city shares based proportionately on city property within the acquisition area would work an unfair hardship on Mill Valley which has about 400 undeveloped acres on the ridge.

Corte Madera, she noted, only has about 56 acres on the ridge, thus meaning they would pay less unless all jurisdictions shared equally for the entire project.

"Corte Madera has a lower tax rate, more industry and all our auto agencies," she said, urging they share equally.

Her comments prompted lengthy discussion by the commission on other possible means of financing purchases. It ended with the matter being referred to a special committee for further study.

In other action, the commission approved changing its meeting day from the second Wednesday of the month to the third Wednesday.

Mrs. Atkin Files For Dissolution

The wife of James Blakesley Atkin, 41, former chairman of the Redd School District Board of Education, has petitioned in Marin Superior Court for dissolution of their marriage.

Margarita Frances Atkin of 38 Alcatraz Avenue, Belvedere, filed the petition for dissolution last Friday. Mrs. Atkin said she and her husband were married in New Jersey on June 29, 1956, and separated in August 1968. They have two girls, 11 and 12, and a boy, 8.

Atkin, an attorney with the San Francisco firm of Pillsbury, Madison and Sutro, was on the Reed School board from January 1965 to December 1968, serving as its chairman in 1966.

Crippled Children Budget Is Filled

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Moving to guard against any "further disruption of services," Gov. Ronald Reagan has ordered a budget shortage filled in the $13.2 million crippled children's program.

Reagan directed state Human Relations Secretary James H. Hall Wednesday to determine the size of the "deficiency" and advance money previously budgeted for the last three months of the current fiscal year to plug the gap.

The governor's order came four days after the Assembly narrowly failed in an attempt to override his veto of a $1.2 million bill to provide more funds for the health program.

"Information has been made available to us which indicates that there would be insufficient funding of the crippled children's program without this action," Reagan said of his plan.

Under the proposal, previously budgeted funds already set aside for expenditure in April, May and June would be advanced to cover the shortage.

Reagan said Placer, Santa Cruz, Siskiyou and Tulare counties "are known to have reduced" the level of services while Tehama County closed its crippled children's operation.

"The additional money which is to be made available will assure that there is no further disruption of services for this vital program," the governor said.

Assemblyman Robert W. Crown, D-Alameda, leader of the override attempt, said during floor debate there were 23 counties which had sharply curtailed or abandoned such services as the result of Reagan's budget cuts.

The governor said the resulting gap from advancing the budgeted money would be met by the legislature passing a deficiency appropriation bill at the 1972 session. He said Crown agreed to sponsor the measure.

Crown succeeded in rounding up 51 votes to override Reagan's veto of his $1.2 million bill, just three short of the two-thirds majority necessary.

The program is a joint state-county affair with the state providing 75 per cent of the financial support in the form of loans.

The governor last February proposed the state's share at $12.6 million in his budget, but the legislature increased it to $14.4 million. Reagan then vetoed the figure back to $13.2 million.

Crown then introduced his bill, contending that although the case has remained about the same as the previous year inflation had taken its toll and Reagan ignored it.

Reagan then vetoed the Crown bill contending that the $1.2 million sum proposed was "inappropriate."

An aide said when Reagan vetoed the Crown bill, the state budget was faced with a $330 million deficit. He said passage of the tax bill by the legislature puts a "little different light on the problem."

The caseload statewide of crippled children has remained about the same at approximately 50,000 patients. In fiscal 1970-71, the state contributed $13.6 million while it spent $13.5 million in the previous fiscal period.

New College Announces 12 Trustees

The New College of California in Sausalito has announced the appointment of 12 new trustees to form the institution's first governing board, president John Leary reported.

Appointed to four-year terms as trustees were Dr. Romulo Gonzales, a Fresno psychiatrist; Andrew Polich, Lake Oswego, Ore., engineer; Delos Putz, dean of law at the University of San Francisco and Urban Whitaker, dean of undergraduate studies at San Francisco State College, Lewis Mayhew, author and professor of education at Stanford University; Donal Cummins, San Francisco attorney; Raymond Roy, president of the Sausalito Chamber of Commerce; Mrs. George Sears, Sausalito housewife; Eli Thomas, San Jose Businessman, and Leary.

Appointed for one-year terms were Robert Raines, assistant professor at New College and Daniel Christianson, a student at the school. The faculty and student representatives to the board will subsequently be elected each year by their respective constituencies.

The college begins its spring term Jan. 10, Leary said. It has no campus, but holds classes in various locations, including the basement of Star of the Sea Catholic Church, the Sausalito Art Center and the president's home.

Theft Suspect Pleads Innocent

Judge Robert A. Smallman set a preliminary hearing for Dec. 21.

Derham, a service station attendant, was arrested on Dec. 6 and accused of stealing a car on Oct. 29 from Quality Auto Repair in Mill Valley.

Welfare Law 5-Week Delay

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Enforcement has been delayed for at least another five weeks of a state welfare law provision allowing counties to invoke a one-year residency requirement for applicants during high unemployment periods.

Superior Court Judge Irving Perluss Wednesday issued a preliminary injunction that will remain in effect until a full hearing on the controversial provision is held Jan. 11.

The ruling was praised by Catherine Jermany, president of the California Welfare Rights Organization, which sought the injunction along with a Stanislaus County family which moved to California in October and went on welfare Nov. 1.

Withholding Tax —Reagan Talks

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —With state income tax withholding now set to begin Jan. 1 for 8 million California wage earners, Gov. Ronald Reagan says he is determined to make it tougher for future legislatures to hike the tax rates.

"There's no question that withholding makes it easier to increase taxes," Reagan said Wednesday as he signed the historic act, part of a $501 million tax hike this fiscal year.

"That's one of the reasons why I had to be dragged kicking and screaming into wanting withholding."

Reagan, who signed withholding into law at the Los Angeles International Airport then immediately flew to Sacramento, said he believes any income tax increase from now on should require a two-thirds vote of the legislature.

"You'd really have to have a need for increased taxes to be able to muster a two-thirds vote in the legislature," he said. "I can't foresee of a time when you could easily get that unless there was a crying need for the revenue."

Current law permits income and sales taxes to be raised by a majority vote of the legislature. But it takes a two-thirds vote to boost bank and corporation taxes. That's why the $501 million tax increase bill containing withholding required a two-thirds vote of each house to pass the legislature Tuesday.

Reagan indicated he will propose the two-thirds vote requirement as part of a comprehensive property tax relief plan after the 1972 legislative session convenes. He suggested a similar two-thirds provision last year but the legislature didn't act upon it.

Reagan, seated before a battery of television cameras and newsmen in a jampacked jumbo jet satellite, said he still is philosophically opposed to withholding—a concept he did not endorse until two years ago.

The Republican governor said he has been against withholding because "the Republican governor said he has been against withholding because "the people should always be conscious of the pain of taxation so that they will be more on guard to keep their elected representatives from carelessly increasing taxes."

"I spent a lot of sleepless nights," he continued, "exploring and forcing our people to explore every avenue to meet this problem without going to withholding and there was no other way. We had to go for it."

Reagan said the state's uneven cash flow caused by lump sum income tax payments in April, the crippled economy and the bad bond market forced him to accept withholding.

"We had to meet the payroll and pay the bills on a regular basis," he said.

"It proved one point I'd always said—that withholding was really for the convenience of government, not for the convenience of people. And this proves it. When I finally had to give in it was for the convenience of government."

But Reagan signed the bill with a smile, using three balky pens and proclaiming, "it is now law."

The bill was signed in Los Angeles as soon as Reagan stepped off a jet from New York because state fiscal experts didn't want to wait for him to return to Sacramento. They said it was imperative for the measure to be inked before 1 p.m. to meet a deadline for advertising tax anticipation notes.

If it were not for that, the state would have had to issue I.O.U. registered warrants for the first time since the depression.

Reagan philosophosized that "evidently the people are getting so used to credit cards and federal withholding that gradually over the years they too now want withholding. They feel it will be a convenience for them."

Besides explaining his withholding views, Reagan also ticked off the major features of the bill to newsmen, legislators and state finance officials who crowded nearby.

The measure, by Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, will plug a $310 million revenue gap in this year's $6.8 billion state budget, finance $150 million in capital outlay, pump $21 million into business inventory tax relief and provide the state with a $20 million fiscal cushion.

Of the capital outlay, $80 million will be spent for higher education, $40 million for beaches and parks and $30 million for earthquake-threatened schools.

In January, 1973, the minimum income tax will be raised from 10 to 11 per cent, hitting primarily couples earning more than $36,000.

The bank and corporation tax this fiscal year will be increased from 7 to 7.6 per cent. The oil depletion allowance will be cut from 27 ½ to 22 per cent.

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Old Saying: "We Don't Always Know What Is Best" Holds True

In an argument with some Athenian bridge players, Socrates once stated that man does what is best for him. Now, everybody seems to agree that Socrates was a pretty wise old bird, but he was a pretty naive bridge player. The bridge records of some 2,400 years ago are somewhat sketchy, but we can test the Socratic statement with a hand he played himself.

A HEART LEAD

East put up the king of hearts at the first trick, and Socrates won with the ace. Then he led a diamond and tried a finesse with dummy's queen. This proved that Socrates didn't always do what was best for him.

East could defeat the contract by refusing to win the first diamond trick with the king. Declarer would get only two diamond tricks by any normal line of play, since dummy doesn't have enough entries to develop and cash the last diamond.

NO WISER

But East wasn't any wiser than Socrates. East took the king of diamonds at his first opportunity, and that was the end of effective defense. East returned a heart, of course, and Socrates held off. Declarer took the next heart, led his remaining diamond to cash the ace and jack, and then gave up a diamond. This set up dummy's last diamond, and the ace of spades was the entry to cash it.

After all these centuries we know how Socrates should have played the hand. When he leads the first diamond from his hand he should try a deep finesse (really a duck rather than a finesse) with dummy's eight of diamonds. East must win with the nine since it doesn't pay him to refuse this kind of trick.

NORMAL FINESSE

When Socrates takes the queen of hearts, he tries a normal diamond finesse with the queen. East can take the king, but now the rest of the diamonds are good. Declarer reaches dummy with the ace of spades to take the ace and jack of diamonds followed by the established three of diamonds.

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid two clubs, the Staymen Convention, asking partner to show a major suit of four or more cards if he can.

If he bids two spades, you will raise to four spades. If he bids anything else, you will bid three no-trump.

Funds Advanced To Fight Blood Disease

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Senate yesterday has passed unanimously a bill authorizing a three-year $142 million campaign to fight sickle cell anemia, a deadly blood disease believed to affect at least 2.5 million black Americans.

The measure, introduced only two months ago, was approved on a 81 to 0 roll call vote and sent to the House, which is considering a similar bill.

28 Selected For Advisory Panel

The Dixie School District board last night named 28 citizens to serve on its Citizens Advisory Committee for 1971-72.

The group will conduct a general study of the district's budget, enrollment trends and school boundaries, and will prepare materials in connection with the required unification measure on the June ballot, Supt. Clifford W. Campbell reported.

The board also heard a report from assistant superintendent Joseph B. Goff that the district will be able "to survive another year" with increased property tax revenue, based on increased assessed valuations, balancing decreased state assistance.

Passage of a proposed state ballot measure which would limit property taxes, however, "could hurt the schools massively," Goff said.

Campbell noted that the district now derives about 75 per cent of its income from property taxes and the rest from state and federal support. He said the percentages had reversed themselves in the last eight or nine years.

The Dixie School District Board also:

SECURITY — Authorized spending up to $5,000 for installation of burglary and fire detection systems in the district's schools in an effort to combat increased breakins and vandalism.

REPRESENTATIVE — Named board member Dorothy Brown as the district's representative to the Marin County School Boards Association.

FUNDS — Approved an application for $6,517 in federal funds for library materials.

SALARY — Adopted a new salary regulation to allow the district to hire instructors for short special class offerings at $7.50 an hour.

CARPET — Authorized installation of carpet at the Bernard Hoffman School library and kindergarten and at the Santa Margarita School library. The $4,700 estimated cost of the carpet will be offset, according to Campbell, by a donation of $1,500 by the Bernard Hoffman School teacher-parent group.

HIRES — Agreed to employ Roselee Metzger as part-time teacher at Mary E. Silveira School for $3,871 for the rest of this school year; Thelma Martin as library assistant at Miller Creek School for $2,617 for the rest of the school year; John Vaughn and Paul Carmichael as custodians at Vallecito School for $1,927 for four hours a day for the rest of the school year; Marybeth Gaskins as instructional aide at Vallecito School for $76 for one hour a day for 28 days; Mary Lou Jacobson as instructional aide at Vallecito School for $677 for two hours a day for the rest of the school year, and Mary Tober as instructional aide at Don Timoteo School for $1,041 for three hours a day for the rest of the school year.

MEETING — Adjourned to Jan. 12. No meeting will be held Dec. 22.

Utility Undergrounding Canvass Is Under Way

Tiburon residents in Del Mar and Little Reed Heights are canvassing their neighborhoods for support in forming an assessment district to finance putting utilities underground, according to Asst. City Mgr. Robert L. Kleinert.

Kleinert said today that he and officials of Pacific Gas and Electric Co. and Pacific Telephone Co. met with some 35 members of the Del Mar Homeowners' Association in the Del Mar School on Tuesday. They reviewed pros and cons of forming the assessment district.

Average cost of the undergrounding would total about $2,000 per home, Kleinert explained.

No opposition appeared when a show of hands was requested, the city aide said.

He added that a spokesman for the neighboring Little Reed Heights homeowner group reported on a postcard poll of its members, in which 30 of 52 cards returned were in favor of an assessment district.

Tuesday's meeting resulted from a city council letter sent to all Tiburon homeowner organizations. The council requested that areas wanting inclusion in undergrounding districts submit petitions asking for help in preliminary engineering and other groundwork, Kleinert said.

Car Hits Tree; Two Injured

Two persons were injured at 12:01 a.m. today when their car struck a tree on North San Pedro Road, according to the California Highway Patrol.

Norman E. Nelson, 20, of 432 Calle Arboleda, Novato, was treated at Kaiser Foundation Hospital in San Francisco for scrapes. His passenger, Robin Campbell, 19, of 805 Vendola Street, San Rafael, was reported in good condition at that hospital with a jaw injury and cuts.

The patrol said Nelson told them he was eastbound on North San Pedro Road when an animal ran into his car's path and he swerved to avoid it, ramming a tree.

Tax Notes Will Be Sold

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —State Treasurer Ivy Baker Priest has set Dec. 20 for the sale of $160 million of California tax anticipation notes to help the state meet its revenue needs.

Mrs. Priest said the tax bill signed Wednesday by Gov. Ronald Reagan extends the authorization to sell the anticipation notes. The notes will mature on April 28, 1972.

It will be the third sale of notes under legislation designed to finance the state's cash needs in times of low revenue. The first issue of $150 million, sold Aug. 17, was redeemed Nov. 15. The second sale of $200 million was held Sept. 14 and the notes will mature next March 31.

Flash Fire At Veterans Auditorium

A flash fire in the Marin Veterans Memorial Building did between $1,000 and $1,500 damage yesterday, and slightly injured one workman.

The blaze started at 3:14 p.m., while contractor's crews were spraying lacquer on metal trim on the movable seating in the auditorium. Firemen said cigarette ashes fell onto a drop cloth on which lacquer thinner had spilled, igniting it. While workmen were trying to drag the cloth out a door at the north lobby, a gallon can of the thinner spilled, spreading the flames.

Dry chemical extinguishers and a hose put out the fire. Damage was limited to asphalt tile flooring and carpet, with minor smoke damage to the walls, according to Les Wider of the county public works department.

Bruce McClenden, a member of the contractor's crew, suffered minor burns on his left hand, but refused treatment.

Wallet Taken From Woman

San Rafael police said Mildred B. Tannyhill, 62, of 15 Blossom Drive, told them she was jostled by another woman while shopping yesterday at the Disco department store, 555 Francisco Boulevard, and later discovered her wallet missing.

The wallet was found outside the store, police said, but $230 in cash was gone.

Mustang Stolen

A 1969 Ford Mustang was stolen yesterday from a parking lot at San Rafael High School, police reported today. Officers said the green car, with license plates 357EDJ, owned by Roy A. Padgett of 34 Redding Way, San Rafael, was parked at 8:15 a.m. and discovered missing at 9:27 a.m.

Rehnquist Vote Set By Senate

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Senate agreed today to vote at noon EST Friday on a motion to shut off the week-long debate on the Supreme Court nomination of William H. Rehnquist.

Senate Republican Whip Robert P. Griffin said he was "very close" to having the required two-thirds majority necessary to stop the debate and force a confirmation vote. The GOP leadership filed a petition for cloture —a device to stop debate — late Wednesday.

Griffin said the Republicans would offer a second cloture petition later today as insurance if they lose Friday. That would require another vote on Saturday to shut off debate. Under Senate rules, a cloture motion must be voted on within two days after it is filed.

Sen. Alan Cranston, D-Calif., announced in a speech prepared for the Senate that he would oppose Rehnquist, the Justice Department's legal counsel, on grounds he is "lacking in requisite judicial temperament and ... embraces an extreme and unbalanced judicial philosophy."

Cranston said Rehnquist, 47, of Phoenix, Ariz., had used "reasoning backwards" in taking positions on racial equality, civil disobedience, the vote for 18-year-olds, woman's rights, the President's war powers, privacy, government surveillance and other issues involving the First Amendment.

Rehnquist, whose record on civil rights has been criticized, picked up more support Wednesday and appeared certain of confirmation.

If debate is cut off Friday, each senator would have one hour to speak on the nomination. The time is not transferable and not all would take the opportunity to speak. In that case, it was expected a final vote on the nomination would take place late Friday.

Cloture normally is used to stop a filibuster. But Sen. Birch D. Bayh, D-Ind., leader of the anti-Rehnquist forces, denied any filibuster was in progress.

"How can this be a filibuster when we've been debating this nomination only two days?" Bayh asked.

A key factor in forcing a quick vote was that Congress wanted to adjourn. If Bayh could have delayed Senate action until next year, he thinks he might have generated enough public support against Rehnquist to defeat him.

But that apparently was not in the cards.

Rehnquist picked up key support Wednesday when Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., announced in a floor speech he would vote for him.

Rehnquist also sought to allay doubts on his position on school desegregation. He wrote a letter to Sen. James O. Eastland, D-Miss., chairman of the Judiciary Committee, saying:

"... I wish to state unequivocally that I fully support the legal reasoning and the rightness from the standpoint of fundamental fairness of the Brown decision." He referred to the 1954 Supreme Court decision which said segregated public schools were unconstitutional.

Rehnquist felt such an avowal of support for the decision was necessary because his Senate opponents were using a memorandum he wrote as a law clerk in 1952 to Justice Robert Jackson.

Rehnquist conceded he wrote the memorandum. But he said he prepared it "as a statement of Justice Jackson's tentative views for his own use at conference ...

"It is absolutely inconceivable to me that I would have prepared such a document without ... specific instructions to do so," he said.

Fourth-Party Candidate Liked, State Poll Shows

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—A fourth-party candidate would find strong support among California voters and also might help President Nixon's chances for reelection, the California Poll reported today.

Pollster Mervin D. Field said today his findings indicate a large potential vote for a fourth party to the left of the Democratic Party and seeking the votes of "disaffected groups such as militant young voters, blacks, brown, women's libbers, consumerists, and anti-war activists."

In a three-way race among Nixon, Democrat Edmund Muskie and Alabama Gov. George Wallace, for instance, the current percentages of support show 42 per cent for Nixon, 40 per cent for Muskie and 10 per cent for Wallace.

But if former Minnesota Sen. Eugene McCarthy runs as a fourth candidate, it results in 37 per cent for Nixon, 30 for Muskie, 7 for Wallace and 20 for McCarthy.

If New York Mayor John V. Lindsay is the fourth-party candidate, the percentages are 39 for Nixon, 31 for Muskie, 7 for Wallace and 18 for Lindsay.

The potential strength of a fourth party candidate are even more in evidence when a less well-known Democrat is mentioned.

In a race involving Washington Sen. Henry M. Jackson and McCarthy, for instance, Nixon gets 40 per cent, Jackson 13 per cent, Wallace 8 per cent and McCarthy 29 per cent.

Trains Facing Operation Halt

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Amtrak has told the governors of New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois that it will discontinue two passenger trains operating between New York and Chicago via Cleveland and Buffalo, N.Y., unless those states reimburse the rail corporation for two-thirds of the $3 million annual operating loss on the runs.

The service was started May 10, on a provisional basis to give the states time to arrange the financing, as provided in the law which established Amtrak. But the corporation said none of the states has complied and it gave them until Jan. 5 to do so.

If the provisional service is dropped, trains would continue on the regular New York-Chicago route via Pittsburgh, Lima, Ohio, and Fort Wayne, Ind.

Smog-Free Car Rulings 'Conflict'

DETROIT (UPI) — The development of safer, pollution-free cars has been impeded by conflicting state and federal standards that in most cases cannot be met, Henry Ford II said Wednesday.

"I say that it is wrong in principle to establish requirements that cannot be obeyed and are bound to cause conflict and controversy," said Ford, board chairman of the Ford Motor Co.

"To leave management uncertain of what it must do to obey the law until the last moment before the law becomes effective is to create waste and chaos and to trifle with the jobs and incomes of American workers."

DOUBTS TOLD

Ford, in his traditional year-end statement on the economy and the nation's auto industry, also expressed doubts about some of President Nixon's Phase II programs.

"Under Phase II," he said, "some goals must be sacrificed so that others can be achieved. But there are serious risks of making the wrong choices and compromises and thereby doing more harm than good."

Ford cited recent Pay Board decisions and said that if wage pressures are not contained "either inflation control will turn out to be short-lived or profits will be severely restricted," undermining business expansion in 1972 and in the future.

On the positive side, Ford said 1971 has been an "excellent year for the free world motor vehicle industry" with total sales of 30 million units—10 per cent higher than last year's effort and 8 per cent better than the previous high in 1969.

He said car sales will hit 10.2 million in the United States this year and could reach 10.5 million in 1972 if Congress repeals the 7 per cent excise tax. If the business climate improves, he said, car sales could be even better.

Ford said his company will spend about $150 million next year to meet governmental bumper standards for 1973 models and $35 million to reduce air and water pollution from its plants in North America.

NOT OPTIMISTIC

He said he was not optimistic that the company would meet 1975 and 1976 federal exhaust emission standards because "Our research and development programs continue to be impeded by constant changes in the interim requirements of the federal government and by conflict between federal and California requirements."

Federal emission standards require that 1975 model cars reduce emissions of hydrocarbons and carbon monoxide by 90 per cent from 1970 models and that 1976 models cut nitrogen oxide emissions 90 per cent from 1971 models.

Unauthorized Car Horns Attacked

SINGAPORE (UPI) — Motorists in Singapore who use unorthodox car horns risk violating traffic laws.

The Registrar of Vehicles reports six motorists were ordered to dismantle their horns after complaints from the public that five of them used "musical" horns and one had a high-pitched air horn.

Wolves Attack Suit Is Filed

SAN DIEGO (UPI)—The father of a Palos Verdes Estates boy who was attacked by wolves at the San Diego Zoo last April filed suit for $100,000 Wednesday.

Lucien C. Williams alleges his son, David, 15, was injured because the wolf enclosure was negligently and carelessly operated.

The boy climbed the enclosure barriers and was attacked by wolves, who inflicted 26 lacerations, puncture wounds and bruises.

Grain Farmer Aid Bill Clears House

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A program to boost price support loans to grain farmers 25 per cent and raise their income by $2 billion annually passed the House early today and was sent to the Senate where it was expected to receive a favorable reception.

Democratic supporters of the legislation, which is opposed by the administration, said they expected the Senate to pass the bill in the waning hours of the current sessio and send it to the White House.

An Attack On ACLU's Stance

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—The American Civil Liberties Union has stepped into the shoes of Scrooge and the Grinch as an enemy of the Christmas spirit, charged a legal defense group that said it would fight the ACLU efforts to bar cribs and hymns from public school holiday celebrations.

The Citizens Legal Defense Alliance Tuesday offered to defend in court any teacher or school administrator who disregards the ACLU drive.

The ACLU recently issued a set of "constitutional guidelines" mailed to school administrators, contending that the display of any religious symbols in holiday festivities in the public schools violated the constitutionally required separation of church and state.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

How Do You Get The Child Who's Underweight To Eat?

Mrs. P. T. writes: "My 6 year old is slight of build and weighs eight pounds less that he should. Our family physician has examined him carefully and tells us that the child is otherwise healthy. How can I get him to eat?"

Slimness per se is not an indication of malnutrition even though the child is 10 pounds lighter than he should be. Since he is not ill, we must assume he is a victim of poor eating habits. All too often, the mother is overly concerned about the quantity not the quality of a dietary regimen. Inadequate rest, insufficient sleep, and too much emotional excitement may also play a role in keeping down the weight.

SOME YOUNGSTERS eat a scanty breakfast or none at all. Others may not drink milk and yet receive no substitutes for the beverage. A few become tea or coffee users at an early age. Many are between-meal snackers and are not hungry at mealtimes.

For nervous, irritable, and restless children, we must emphasize serving meals that are appealing to the eye and at regular times. Quarreling, bickering, and fussing at the table can kill anyone's appetite. If junior refuses to eat, don't use force or threats. After a certain length of time, remove the plate and allow no bedtime snack. Each mother must work out the plan most successful for her particular child.

NOW AND then a midmorning (or midafternoon) snack, such as a glass of milk or orange juice, may prove beneficial. Most mothers know something of the basic dietary requirements. Yet, we all know homes where the table is heavy with starchy indigestibles and essential foods are excluded. So long as the son of our reader remains healthy and lives in a loving environment, we predict that he will thrive.

Questions on medical topics will be answered by mail if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the Independent-Journal.

WARTS AND VIRUSES

H. B. writes: I always considered a wart to be a kind of tumor but read that it is due to a virus. Is this correct?

REPLY

Yes, but the wart is also a growth. Viruses stimulate the skin to form an uneven wrinkled mound which we call a wart. We do not know how long the virus remains in the lesion. Send stamped, self-addresses envelope for our leaflet on warts.

MAPLIKE TONGUE

J. P. writes: Is geographic tongue due to eating the wrong foods?

REPLY

We do not know why furrows develop in the tongue, creating a pattern that looks like a map. Fortunately, it is a harmless disorder. For more information on this manifestation, send stamped, self-addressed envelope for our leaflet.

ACNE AND MENSTRUATION

D. T. writes: Why does the face break out during the menstrual period?

REPLY

Acne during menstruation usually is due to changes in the hormonal secretions. I assume you are not taking medicine at this time to which you are allergic.

DAYDREAMING

Miss P. writes: Can arteriosclerosis cause the mind to wander?

REPLY

This is a moot question, as daydreaming is more prevalent among teen-agers than in the elderly. There is no correlation between senility and hardening of the brain arteries. Our leaflet on senility can be obtained by sending stamped, self-addressed envelope with request.

INSANE BEHAVIOR

C. L. W. writes: How does a person act when he is temporarily insane?

REPLY

Insanity comes in many forms and the early stages are difficult to detect because they border on the normal. The condition is more obvious when the individual becomes abnormally depressed or excited, suspicious of everyone, sits like a statue all day, thinks he is Napoleon, or becomes so overactive he works 20 hours a day. The situation finally reveals itself in his total lack of judgment and understinding.

CALCIUM ON THE SPINE

F. D. writes: There is calcium on my spine, and I wonder if there is any way to remove it.

REPLY

Not without mutilating your back. Calcium deposits represent battle scars from arthritis and strain. Removal of these deposits will not lessen the symptoms.

CHAPPED SKIN

REPLY

Various ways of protecting the skin from this annoying winter disorder are discussed in our leaflet on chapping. It can be obtined by sending stamped, self-addressed envelope with request.

PREGNANCY, HYPERTENSION

Mrs. J. D. writes: Would it be dangerous for a woman with essential hypertension to become pregnant?

REPLY

Pregnancy aggravates an elevated pressure but the condition can be maintained at safe levels through diet and medication. The experience is trying because the expectant woman must see her physician at frequent intervals. These visits enable him to detect sudden weight gain, dropsy, albumin in the urine or an increase in the blood pressure. Bed rest and even hospitalization often are necessary. Send stamped, self-addressed envelope for our leaflet on hypertension.

THREE MOLES

B. A. writes: I tried to remove a mole from my forehead by putting a loop of thread over it and pulling it off. Now I have three moles instead of one. Please explain.

REPLY

A person who treats himself has a fool for a doctor. Never monkey with moles. Consult your physician and tell him what you have done.

Self-Confessed Bank Robber

SANTA ROSA, Calif. (UPI)— A man who allegedly walked into a bank and robbed it by saying "give me what you've got," walked into a police station Wednesday.

"Do I look like a bank robber?" said the man, tossing a roll of bills on the desk. "This is part of what I got."

"Yeah, you could be," replied Lt. Robert Waldron. "Let's sit down and talk about it."

Police later identified the man as Sanford Calvin Shrout, 30, a drifter, whom they believed robbed a Wells Fargo bank Branch Monday of $3,500 without showing a weapon.

Burglary Case To Higher Court

Thomas Eric Grayson, 21, and Robert Louis Arnett II, 22, both of San Rafael, have been ordered to appear in Marin Superior Court Dec. 13 on a burglary charge.

After a preliminary hearing Tuesday in Marin Municipal Court, Judge David Menary bound them over to the higher court for trial.

The two were arrested by San Rafael police on Nov. 24 and charged with burglarizing the home of Jack G. MacPhee on Woods Street.

Picture-Framing Course Scheduled

A five-week course on picture framing will be held Wednesdays from 7:30 to 10 p.m. beginning next week at the Sausalito Art Center, 630 Nevada Street.

Gerald Kotler and Alan Pugh, co-owners of The Framery in Sausalito, will teach the course. Interested persons should call the art center for more information.

LURE OF VALUABLES

Beachcomber Turns Up Solid Gold Teeth

NAHANT, Mass. — Harold Sprague has been an almost full-time beachcomber for 45 years, since he was 8.

He admits that his take is spotty, but after big storms and high tides he does very well. He has found more than $10,000 worth of old coins, such as a Liberty set of dimes from the 1950s and 1870s, and eagle pennies from 1865 to 1868.

He also has dug up, using a metal detector, all manner of rings and, once, a set of solid gold teeth.

"I do it for the fun of it," says Sprague, "but I am lured by the hope of someday finding something very valuable."

Average take? "Oh, about $2 a day."

U.S. Life-Style May Collapse

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— Sociologist Philip M.Hauser said Wednesday the United States and its way of life may collapse in the next half century unless money is spent to make all citizens productive.

Hauser, director of the University of Chicago's Population Research Center, said the current federal and state welfare programs are ineffective. They do about as much good as "Bandaids applied to wounds of cancer," he said.

In a speech to public welfare administrators holding a four-day national convention here, Hauser said persons on welfare are predominantly denied access to the mainstream of American life. They are not given the education and job skills essential to equal partnership in the economy, he said.

FALLEN OBJECT FROM PLANE PROMPTS CHASE

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — A police sergeant noticed something drop from a light plane flying low over the city yesterday and he mobilized an aerial chase.

Police ground units hastened to look for the object, radar operators of the Federal Avaiation Administration tracked the plane, and three police helicopters took up the pursuit.

Bill Sumner, a photographer for the State Division of Highways, told the police pilots who followed him to the Santa Monica Airport that he had been taking aerial photos of a freeway project and his glasses fell off.

The glasses were not recovered.

Vietnam Murder Charges Against General Dropped

Ft. MEADE, Md. (UPI) The Army dropped murder charges today against Brig. Gen. John W. Donaldson who had been accused of killing six South Vietnamese civilians by shooting them with a rifle from his helicopter in 1968-69.

The announcement was made by Lt. Gen. C. E. Hutchin, the commandant of First Army headquarters here where Col. Oran K. Henderson is on trial on charges he failed to investigate an earlier mass slaying of civilians at My Lai, and subsequently tried to cover it up.

The incidents involving Donaldson were alleged to have taken place after My Lai — from November 1968, to January 1969. The My Lai massacre was on March 16, 1968.

Donaldson succeeded Henderson as commander of the 11th Brigade of the Americal Division, and was in that position at the time of the incidents. The 11th Brigade was still operating in coastal Quang Ngi province, which includes My Lai, at the tine.

Donaldson was charged with shooting the civilians as he directed ground actions from his chopper.

The murder charges were announced against him last June 2 —the first American general since the turn of the century to be accused of murder.

Besides six counts of murder, Donaldson was accused originally of two counts of assault. One of these was dropped at the outset of the subsequent investigation and the other was dismissed today.

Early in the Henderson courtmartial, which began Aug. 23, Donaldson testified in the absence of the jury at one of a long series of hearings on the whereabouts of the report on the My Lai operation by Lt. Col. Frank Barker, commander of the task force involved, who was killed less than three months later.

The Henderson case will go to a jury of two generals and five Colonels next week.

The dismissal of charges against Donaldson left one other officer facing charges related to alleged war crimes in Vietnam. He is Lt. Col. William J. McCloskey, a native of Wilkes-Barre, Pa., charged with murder of two Vietnamese civilians in March, 1969, a year after My Lai.

Award Goes To New York Times

TUCSON, Ariz. (UPI)—The 1971 John Peter Zenger award, presented annually for "distinguished service to freedom of the press and the people's right to know," has gone to The New York Times for its publication of the Pentagon Papers.

It was the first time in the award's 18-year history that it went to an organization rather than to an individual.

The award, given by the University of Arizona, will be accepted Jan. 14 at the Arizona Newspapers Association Meeting in Scottsdale, Ariz., by A. M. Rosenthal, managing editor of The Times.

Zenger was a Colonial printer who in 1735 won acquittal of libel charges, an early victory leading to establishment of a free press in America.

Taiwan Is Booted From Worldwide Atomic Panel

VIENNA (UPI)—The board of governors of the International Atomic Energy Agency (IAEA) voted today to expel Nationalist China from the IAEA and invite Mainland China to join.

Nationalist China called the vote "entirely illegal" and said it may appeal to the IAEA general conference, which meets in Mexico City in September.

The board voted 13 to 6 with five abstentions for a Romanian resolution, with the United States fighting Taiwan's expulsion but with Britain and France joining the Soviet Union in favor of Peking.

White Bread 'Facelift' Asked

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Food and Drug Administration (FDA) has proposed the first nutritional facelifting for white bread in 30 years. Iron content would be doubled and Vitamin D removed.

Amounts of other nutrients also would be affected, with fixed levels replacing the ranges presently allowed for thiamin (vitamin B1), riboflavin (vitamin B2), niacin and calcium.

The proposed regulations also would increase doses of the same nutrients in enriched flour to amounts that would result in bread and rolls with nutrient levels matching those proposed for commercially baked white bread.

A spokesman for the American Bakers Association said the baking industry probably would support the changes.

SPORT NOTES

Marin Grid Pair Get Plethora Of Honors

By RALPH CHATOIAN

Honors keep rolling in for two former Marin County footballers now doing their thing at University of Pacific. Pete Carroll (Redwood High and College of Marin) and Vern Kellerman (College of Marin) were among the 11 players picked for the All-Pacific Coast Athletic Association defensive team yesterday.

Carooll, a safety who intercepted eight passes this season to rank fourth in the nation, is a junior so will be back for another season. Kellerman is a senior and his college playing days are through.

MARK LEWIS had a fantastic freshman football season for University of California at Davis, leading the Aggies to a perfect 7-0 season. The former whiz from Marin Catholic High was unanimously named player of the year on a team that averaged 45 points per game.

As a tailback in the Aggies' I-Formation, his impressive season statistics included 109 carries for 737 yards, a 6.8 average, and 13 touchdowns rushing; five pass receptions for 66 yards and one touchdown. Against Santa Clara he gained 235 yards, picked up 133 yards against San Francisco State and 106 against Sacramento State. In that San Francisco State game he scored four touchdowns. I wonder if he helped out in the halftime entertainment or sold peanuts.

SCOTT TROBBE, all-star basketball player from Redwood High, will be playing for the University of Stanford freshmen team this season. Said the Stanford pressbook about the 6-foot-6 Trobbe: "Very polished both offensively and defensively, according to Stanford coaches . . . Considered an outstanding forward prospect."

MOTORCYCLE BUFFS will be able to get their fill Saturday at the Cow Palace in San Francisco when the Cycle Circus, first show of its kind, is staged. A collection of the best motorcycle stuntmen in the country is promised by show organizers. Highlight of the show is expected to be an attempt by Super Joe Einhorn to set a new indoor motorcycle jump record by leaping over more than 14 cars from a ramp. Crazy, man, crazy. Show times are 2 and 8 p.m.

SCHEDULED SPEAKERS at next Monday's luncheon of the Marin Chapter, 49er Goal Rushers Club are defensive tackle Earl Edwards and running back Vic Washington. The meeting, at Holiday Inn, starts at 12:15.

THOSE OF YOU planning to hitchhike to Sunday's game at Candlestick between the 49ers and Falcons might be able to buy a seat on Shaun Wiltshire's double-decker bus. If interested, give him a call at Wiltshire Towers, San Rafael.

HAPPY FISHING at Happy Camp area of the Klamath River. Report from Jim Roads of Klamath River Guide Service has it that Bill and Paul Chase and Peter Berg, all of Tiburon, caught limits of steelhead between four and 10 pounds.

Roads, in his report, says, "Before you rush to this area, remember that steelhead aren't easy to catch." Amen. I've tried.

Seals Tie Pittsburgh In Defensive Battle

PITTSBURGH (UPI) —There are 60 minutes in a hockey game and the California Golden Seals were scoreless in 55 of them Wednesday night.

But what they did in the first five minutes earned them a 1-1 tie with the Pittsburgh Penguins before 8,831 at the Civic Arena.

Gerry Pinder got the puck to That gave California a 1-0 lead until 2:41 remaining in the second period when Bob Leiter zinged a 15-footer past Seals goalie Gilles Meloche to even it up. There was no scoring in the third period as the Penguins outshot the Seals 11-9 and 28-21 for the game.

The tie lifted California into a fourth-place deadlock with idle St. Louis in the NHL West and gave Pittsburgh sole possession of third place.

Club Owners 'Helping' A's To Move

CHICAGO (UPI) —A Chicago baseball writer says major league club owners are trying to help Charles O. Finley move his Oakland A's baseball team and California Seals hockey club to Washington, D.C.

Finley, a Chicago insurance executive, said, "I don't want to say anything about it. I don't want to get into hot water with the people in Oakland."

WRITER SAYS

Writer Jerome Holtzman of the Chicago Sun-Times said Wednesday baseball owners in both leagues have held discussions on the matter. He wrote that these owners were anxious to move the A's because the San Francisco-Oakland area can support only one team.

According to Holtzman's contacts, the owners are trying to help Finley find ways to break his 20-year baseball lease with the Oakland-Alameda County Coliseum board which has 16 more years to run.

CONTRACT

Holtzman wrote that Finley's contract with the coliseum carried a clause requiring him to pay a penalty of $300,000 per year if he moved.

However, Robert T. Nahas, president of the Oakland Coliseum complex, said there was no such clause, but that there was "an injunctive clause in relation to his baseball team playing in Oakland throughout the contract."

'INTEREST'

"It isn't just that the rent for those seasons is important," said Nahas, "but the interest of the community is taken into consideration as well as he is obliged to field the team at the coliseum."

Nahas said the contract requiring the Seals to play in Oakland has three years to run.

Representatives seeking a baseball team in Washington appeared before the major league meeting last week in Phoenix attempting to help acquire a new franchise for the area. Another meeting on the matter will be held in the nation's Capitol Dec. 14.

Approval would be needed from the American League to allow the A's to move and the National Hockey League would have to approve a transfer of the Seals' franchise.

VS. FALCONS

All-Out War Set By 49ers

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — With everything to lose and still something to gain, coach Dick Nolan of the San Francisco 49ers is pulling out all stoppers against the Atlanta Falcons.

"They have momentum going for them," said Nolan of the Falcons. "Their victory over the Raiders last Sunday and our loss to the Chiefs really helped them. They have a good chance to grab a playoff spot by beating us and it's bound to give them a lift."

Nolan is worried that the 49ers have been able to dump the quarterback only three times in the last four games.

"We're going to do something about that," he said.

Nolan also said Steve Spurrier will probably take over Jim McCann's punting duties because Spurrier "is better under pressure."

If Spurrier is retained as the regular punter, Nolan might put McCann on the taxi squad and bring up newly acquired defensive back John Douglas.

Nolan also said he is certain quarterback Bob Berry will be at quarterback for the Falcons despite his troubles with the law this week.

Novato Upsets Marin 'Cats

San Marin Trampled By Napa

By LEW CODDINGTON

Before last night, Novato High School's basketball team was alleged to consist of Marty Moroski and four spear-carriers. Maybe so — but the spears were awfully sharp and the participants knew what to do with them.

Novato got a balanced scoring attack with three men in double figures and stunned the fourth-seeded Marin Catholic Wildcats, 72-49, in the Drake Invitational Tournament last night at Drake High School. In an earlier game, top-seeded Napa overwhelmed San Marin, 73-22.

First-round play continues today, with third-seeded San Rafael (2-1) facing Terra Linda (2-2) at 5 p.m. and second-seeded Petaluma (3-1) meeting host Drake (2-2) at 6:30.

Novato (now 2-3) bolted out to a 19-4 lead, raised it to 36-17 at halftime and still had Marin Catholic doubled late in the third quarter at 50-25. This represented a sharp reversal of form for the Hornets, who tended to let Moroski carry the load in earlier games.

Willie Barnes, a 6-4 forward, scored 12 points, many on tip-ins and follow shots. Joe Powell added 10, chunky Joe Robinson nine, and Dan Del Rose eight, mostly on free throws when Marin Catholic (now 1-3) started fouling late.

Moroski was there with his usual excellent contribution, scoring 19, mostly on picture-perfect jump shots from the key or the corner. He also rebounded effectively.

"They (Novato) played like I thought they could play," said Hornet coach Jim Carinica. "The 1-3-1 zone defense was very good. We got excellent rebounding from Barnes, Moroski and Robinson — Robinson did a great job for his height." He is a 5-foot-11 guard.

"We kept our poise on offense," continued Carinica. "Even when we got ahead, we kept working our patterns. We were aggressive this time — we weren't in the other games."

In the decisive first half, Moroski scored eight points, and Barnes, Robinson and Powell had six each.

Raiders Release Dickey

OAKLAND (UPI) —Wide receiver Eldridge Dickey won't be around for Sunday's titanic in Kansas City between the Oakland Raiders and Chiefs, or for the Denver game Dec. 19.

The 25-year-old native of Houston, Tex., was dropped from the Raiders squad Wednesday after a series of missed workouts and suspensions. The 6-2, 198-pounder had been the Raiders top draft pick as a quarterback from Tennessee State in 1968.

Coach John Madden refused to talk about the Dickey case. It is presumed the Raiders will try to make a deal for him.

The Raiders drafted Dickey, who is married and has a daughter, for his all-around athletic ability on the gridiron. He didn't play in 1969 due to knee injury and later was used as a backup quarterback and kick return specialist.

Dickey was switched to wide receiver this year and appeared to be adjusting well to the new position. He scored his first professional touchdown against the Philadelphia Eagles after catching a pass and faking out four defenders on a brilliantly executed run into the end zone.

He had been suspended for two weeks early in November for repeated absences from practice. When reinstated, Dickey was placed on the taxi squad but still skipped workouts from time to time.

Johnson Fires 67 In Bahamas Golf

Johnson celebrated his 33rd birthday Wednesday by shooting a four-under par 67 at the 6,805 yard Lucayan Country club, the scene of the 44th and final tournament of 1971.

Cal Of Santa Barbara Ends Football Program

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (UPI)—The University of California, Santa Barbara, has bowed out of intercollegiate football competition because of financial losses.

UCSB Chancellor Vernon I. Cheadle made the announcement Wednesday saying a series of studies indicated football was not financially feasible.

"It is clear from these studies that the football program as presently constituted has consistently produced the greatest financial loss among all sports.

"It is also quite clear that, except for a comparatively small number of extremely loyal and dedicated townspeople and students, football at UCSB lacks any broad range of support," he added.

North Stars Mull Offers

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

TORONTO — Four members of the Minnesota North Stars, including Barry Gibbs and Bill Goldsworthy, said Wednesday night they have been approached with offers to jump their National Hockey League club next year and sign with teams in the World Hockey Association.

Gibbs, Goldsworthy, Jude Droiuin and Cesare Maniago all admitted interest in the newly-forming league but said they would wait until the end of the NHL season to make decisions.

Gibbs said that he had been contacted by Scotty Monroe, general manager of the Calgary team. He further claimed that each club in the WHA had submitted a list of our NHL players whom it wished to contact.

"Every team submitted to WHA headquarters the names of four NHL players they wanted to approach," said Gibbs, who played junior hockey under Monroe. "They called me long distance and we had a chat but I told them I wouldn't think about it until after the season. If the proper deal could be made, I'd be interested."

"A few of us were talking to a representative of the league," said Goldsworthy. "He asked what we would expect if we jumped to the new league. I told him long-term contracts and money in escrow. I told him I was happy in Minnesota but I definitely would consider playing for St. Paul (in the new league) if a proper offer were made."

Auto Racing

BOLOGNA, Italy — World champion driver Jackie Stewart told sports car makers Wednesday that his colleagues want instant adoption of a new gasoline tank designed to prevent fires in auto crashes.

Stewart's plea for gasoline safety tanks came two months after BRM team leader Jo Siffert died when his car crashed and burned at Brands Hatch, England, during a formula one race to honor Stewart, the 1971 formula one world champ.

Equestrian

LONDON — Prince Philip, president of the International Equestrian Federation (FEI), said Wednesday it was the duty of the federation to segregate riders in order to ensure Olympic rules are not broken.

Prince Philip, speaking at the annual meeting of the FEI, said: "It is necessary to segregate those competitors who compete for a living and those who compete for fun.

"I don't think we are being successful at the moment. If we don't make this effort we can't complain if competitors are thrown out of the Olympics. We owe it to the public to make this distinction."

Prince Philip's daughter, Princess Anne, is one of those who compete for fun. She won the European three-day event title earlier this year despite a lack of training.

Under FEI rules, successful riders do not personally receive prize money which is paid to the horse's owner. This has been a bone of contention as far as the International Olympic Committee is concerned.

Baseball

NEW YORK — A meeting focusing on exploratory discussions with an eye to obtaining a major league franchise for Washington, D.C. has been scheduled for the nation's capitol on Tuesday morning, Dec. 14.

SEATTLE, Wash. — Wycliffe N. (Bubba) Morton, a retired outfielder who spent 15 years in professional baseball, will become baseball coach at the University of Washington, it was reported Wednesday.

Morton, who will be 39 Monday, completed his playing career with the California Angels of the American League in 1969. He will succeed Ken Lehman, who retired last May after seven years as baseball coach.

He is the third black coach to be hired at Washington since demands for more black coaches less than a year ago.

NEW YORK — Orlando Cepeda of the Atlanta Braves, who underwent knee surgery last August, plans to give the knee a good workout even before spring training. He'll play in the sixth annual $30,000 American Airlines Golf Classic for baseball and football stars in Puerto Rico, Feb. 4-6.

The tournament, won a year ago by Bill Mazeroski of the Pittsburgh Pirates and linebacker Andy Russell of the Pittsburgh Steelers, is a 54-hole event for two-man teams made up of one baseball player and one football pro.

Bowerman To Coach Olympic Track Team

PORTLAND, Ore. (UPI) — Oregon's Bill Bowerman, who will coach the men's U.S. Olympic track team next year, says rules governing amateur athletics need updating.

Trip To Ballet Scheduled

The Rohnert Park Recreation Commission will sponsor a trip to the San Francisco Ballet Company performance of "The Nutcracker Suite" Dec. 27 at 2 p.m.

The department will also offer an astrology class beginning Jan. 13 to meet on Thursdays from 7 to 10 p.m. at Rancho Cotate High School.

Carolan, Wolford Lead Cage Victory

Former Kansas City Chiefs tight end Reg Carolan and Ray Wolford each scored 19 points to lead Buresh, Vallarino, Costamagna and Claxton to a 66-43 victory over Dump Truck in San Rafael Parks and Recreation adult basketball last night.

Bill broody, former St. Ignatius star, led the Turkeys to a 53-39 triumph over We in another game, scoring 17 points.

HOCKEY PLAY

New York Rangers Tie Chicago

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

The division-leading New York Rangers rallied to tie Chicago 2-2 Wednesday night while Boston beat Los Angeles 5-3 and Montreal downed Detroit 4-2. As a result, a mere point separates the top three teams in the division.

Vic Hadfield scored his 20th goal of the season with 12 minutes left to give the Rangers their tie with Chicago. The Black Hawks had taken the lead a little more than a minute earlier on Pit Martin's goal. The tie left Chicago unbeaten on home ice in 15 games this season and pulled the Black Hawks to within two points of first-place Minnesota in the Western Division.

Chicago can tie for the lead tonight by beating Los Angeles.

Boston erupted for three goals in a 2:56 span early in the third period to beat Los Angeles but the victory may have been a costly one for the Bruins. Center Derek Sanderson was ejected from the game after two consecutive misconduct penalties.

Jerry West Leads Lakers To Victory

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

That was Coach Bill Sharman's summation Wednesday night after the Los Angeles Lakers beat the Houston Rockets 125-120 and moved to within two victories of the National Basketball Association's all-time mark of 20 in a row.

The Lakers' 18th straight victory —two behind the 20 in a row put together by the Milwaukee Bucks last season gave them a seven-game firstmark to 24-3 and gave them a seven-game firstplace lead over idle Seattle in the NBA's Pacific Division. It was the Lakers' second closest margin of victory during the man. "The Rockets are 100 per "This was by far the toughest game of our string," said Sharman. "The Rockets are 100 per cent improved since our last meeting and seem to be adapting to Tex Winter's triple post offense. And Jerry West was just great in the clutch — as usual."

"They're getting harder every game," said West, who scored six of his 33 points in the last two and a half minutes to clinch the verdict. "The other team has our number in their eyes and we're beginning to think about it ourselves. We weren't at first, but we are now. If we break the record, we're going to have to do it the hard way."

Gail Goodrich had 42 Hayes led the Rockets with 31 points. the Cleveland Cavaliers 126-107, the Baltimore Bullets beat the Portland Trail Blazers 115-97 and the Philadelphia 76ers topped the Cincinnati Royals 115-109 in other Wednesday night games.

John Havlicek's 28 points led six Celtics who scored in double figures in an easy victory over the Cavaliers. The Celtics led 63-46 at halftime and closed out the victory with a 40-29 fourth period.

ABA ROUNDUP

Kentucky Smashes Carolina Cougars

By U. P. INTERNATIONAL

Rookie Artis Gilmore says that defense is his "bread and butter" but the Kentucky Colonels' 7-foot-2 rookie also packs a mighty offensive wallop.

Gilmore, who had been averaging "only" about 22 points a game while leading the American Basketball Association in rebounding and blocked shots, showed some of his offensive prowess Wednesday night when he and Dan Issel combined for 75 points in a 122-111 victory over the Carolina Cougars at Charlotte, N.C.

Issel scored 41 points and Gilmore added 34 for the Colonels, who raised their record to 18-7 and increased their first-place lead over the idle Virginia Squires to three games in the ABA's East Division. Fourteen of Gilmore's points came in the fourth period during which he led a 122 breakaway from a 109-109 tie.

George Lehmann led the Cougars with 26 points and Larry Miller and Jim McDaniels added 20 each.

The Utah Stars defeated the Dallas Chaps, 116-97, and the Memphis Pros beat the Denver Rockets, 109-91, in other Wednesday night games.

Zelmo Beaty scored 25 points, including 20 in the second half, to lead Utah to its victory at Salt Lake City. The stars shot only 38.5 per cent from the field in the first half but wound up with 50 per cent for the game on the strength of a strong second half.

The victory was the 20th in 28 games for the Stars, who have a 3 ½-game first-place lead in the West Division.

Johnny Neumann scored 18 points and Wendell Ladner 17 for the Pros, who had seven players in double figures. The Pros led, 57-38, at halftime and the Rockets never drew closer than seven points. Ralph Simpson scored 24 points for the Rockets.

Slalom For Men Begins

It follows the first downhill in St. Moritz last week —and the top 10 there were heavy favorites today.

One exception was Noel Augert of France, who was busy at Les Munieres in France during the St. Moritz week, winning a special slalom in the European Cup competition.

Bernhard Russi of Switzerlan winner at St. Moritz and World Downhill champion, has to be among the very top favorites, as are his teammates Walter Tresch and Michel Daetwyler, third and fourth at St. Moritz.

Among the Austrian favorites are Heini Messner, veteran Karl Schranz and Josef Loidl, second, fifth and sixth, respectively in Switzerland.

The French, severely beaten at St. Moritz without one placing in the top 10 which count for World Cup points, are determined to take revenge on their home ground.

Besides Augert, Henri Duvillard and Bernard Orcel were certain to go all out for a high placing.

A Pool Problem In Water Polo

By LEW CODDINGTON

Jim Brosnan, the celebrated pitcher-author of a decade ago, ought to write a book about Marin County water polo. He could call it, "The Wrong Season."

The Marin County Athletic League plays water polo from November through January. The rest of the known world plays it September through November, concurrently with football.

There is a reason for this, however, says MCAL commissioner George Corson. It seems that girls swimming, also held in the fall, has squatter's rights on the pools. Girls swimming is a long-established sport in Marin County, while water polo is only four years old.

Nonetheless, there is a movement afoot to change it. A proposal to move water polo to the fall was approved by the MCAL athletic directors Monday and will go before the board of managers (principals) early next month.

In September, the board of managers rejected the proposal on a 3-3 vote, with one abstention. A two thirds majority of the voting schools is required to pass the proposal.

The main roadblock is the pool situation in the north county. Novato High has a pool, but San Marin does not, forcing the Mustang aquatic teams to practice at Novato. In addition, some local non-school teams have made arrangements to use the Novato pool for practice. If you add the girls swim teams to this, the resulting situation resembles the Bayshore at rush hour.

At the other schools, having water polo at the same time as girls swimming would present problems, but not insurmountable ones, at least in the eyes of the water polo coaches. But the Novato situation is a dolphin of a different color.

One solution would be the pool at the San Marin Recreation, Tennis and Swim Club, a private club. However, officials of the club want to charge for its use. The price tag is or is not prohibitive, depending on whom you talk to.

"The rental cost probably equals what it would normally cost to maintain a pool," said San Marin coach Dave Barni, who is growing weary of holding his practices at exotic times like 6 a.m. and 7 p.m., the only hours he can get the crowded Novato pool.

"I'd like to see a pool built at San Marin," he went on. "Obviously, it wouldn't be ready for next fall, so I think we should rent the country club's pool until ours is ready." Barni is already trying to drum up support for his ideas.

Novato principal Stanley Onderdonk disagrees. "The (Novato Unified) school district simply can't pay that kind of money," he said. He refused to comment on whether or not his school would change its vote if another solution were found.

San Marin principal Henry Moroski also claimed the price is high, and added that it would be difficult for his small school to remain competitive if water polo joined the other nine sports in the fall. "Moving soccer to the fall (from the winter) has already hurt our football program," he said. Moroski agreed that "the community needs another pool."

Significantly, no one argues that water polo truly belongs in the winter. It's simply a question of whether or not the obstacles against moving it to the fall are too great.

Terra Linda's coach, Charles Metz, perhaps the leading advocate of moving the season, ticks off four reasons. "We could schedule outside teams," he says. "We could be on a par with these teams, instead of being at the beginning of our season. We could enter tournaments. And we would have a better chance of getting our athletes some All-America recognition."

A fifth reason is weather. All pools are outdoors, and the cool, rainy Marin winters are no fun for a wet athlete clad only in swimming gear. The pools are heated, but that presents another problem — hot water and cool air produce steam. "We had one game where we couldn't see six feet in front of us," said Metz.

In my opinion, water polo belongs in the fall, but damaging the athletic program at the Novato schools is an awful price to pay to move it there. A solution should be found along the lines of getting hold of another pool, somehow.

Redwood, Tamalpais In S.F.

Redwood and Tamalpais High Schools will be gunning for some regional glory — and maybe each other — when they open play tonight in the Crusader Classic basketball tournament at Riordan High in San Francisco.

Tamalpais (2-1) plays Lowell of San Francisco at 7:30 p.m. Redwood (3-0) meets Lincoln, also of San Francisco, at 9.

The winners tonight play each other at 9 p.m. tomorrow, which sets up the possibility of a Redwood-Tamalpais confrontation. Such a game would provide an interesting peek into the future, since the two teams are expected to contend for the Marin County Athletic League title.

There is a less glamorous possibility. The losers of tonight's games also play each other tomorrow, at 5 p.m.

Redwood defeated Lincoln last weekend, in a 64-54 game that was not that close, but an instant replay is not expected. "Lincoln will be better," said Redwood coach Dick Hart. "They beat Sacred Heart (of San Francisco) Saturday. It should be a closer game."

Redwood's star center, Steve McGee, scored 24 points against Washington earlier. Darrell Elder and Tim Hennessy also scored in double figures, and Sam Farb and Mike Connor provided reliably steady guard play.

Tamalpais has a problem on its hands. Lowell beat the St. Ignatius team that handed Tam its only defeat. Lowell plays the kind of steady disciplined game that freewheeling Tam finds so obnoxious.

Will Garner, who goes to the basket with the same ease that other people go to the store, will spearhead the Indians. (He will also be trying to wreck the Indians, since Lowell and Tam share the same nickname.) Forwards Mike Dinehard and Jared McFerrin and guards Pat Losey, John Johnson, David Jones and Clifford Hall will also be in evidence.

Golden State Hosts Hot Lakers Tonight

OAKLAND (UPI) —Quick now, what was the last team which defeated the sizzling Los Angeles Lakers?

Yes sir, or madame, it was the stumbling, bumbling Golden State Warriors. With Joe Ellis getting hot in the final stages, the Warriors upended the Lakers 109-105 Oct. 31 at the Forum in Los Angeles.

Since then, it's been steak and potatoes for the Lakers and mostly water and crackers for the Warriors. Under the superb tutoring of former Warrior coach Bill Sharman, the Lakers have reeled off 18 wins in a row and need only two more to tie the Milwaukee Bucks for the alltime win string in the National Basketball Association.

Trying for No. 19 in a row, the Lakers come to the Oakland Coliseum-Arena tonight to meet a rag-tag group of Warriors who have been nearly run out of the stadium in losing four straight to the likes of the Portland Trail Blazers, Phoenix Suns (twice) and Atlanta Hawks.

Walkenhorst, was the big factor in his team's victory over San Marin even though he scored only 12 points.

"We got psyched out," said San Marin assistant coach Tito Velasco, subbing for head coach Andy Frauenhofer, who is in bed with the flu and strep throat.

"We started concentrating on the big man (Walkenhorst)," Velasco continued. "We shut him off offensively, but he got a lot of rebounds. He got the ball out on the outlet pass and the other three guys ran."

San Marin (now 1-2) did not attempt to penetrate on offense, settling for the outside shots and not making them. The Mustangs also suffered a number of pass interceptions and stolen balls, and Napa (now 4-0) ran effectively after getting control of the ball.

When San Marin's defense sagged on Walkenhorst, Tom Warrington was there to score 16 points and Ron Fisher 15. The outcome was never in doubt.

Napa will play Novato in the tournament semifinals at 7 p.m. Friday. San Marin will meet Marin Catholic in a loser's bracket game at 4 p.m. Friday.

Giants Sign Baylor Shortstop Phil Beall

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Phil Beall, a shortstop from Baylor University, has signed a contract with the San Francisco Giants.

A defensive back on a team coached by his father, Beall delayed his signing until completion of the football season at Baylor. He was a top selection in the June free agent draft.

Smith Wallops In Tennis

PARIS (UPI) —Stan Smith joined the U.S. Army and won $100,000.

Smith, currently America's top tennis player, this week celebrated the anniversary of his induction by installing himself as the favorite for the Pepsi Masters tournament — and another $15,000 in prize money.

The 6-foot-3 private, who now plays out of Sea Pines, S.C., Wednesday won his third straight match in the roundrobin Masters tournament of six matches —the last major tournament before the International Lawn Tennis Federation (ILTF) and World Championship Tennis group (WCT) split. He beat Pierre Bartles of France 6-4, 6-7, 6-3.

Pat Sullivan, Marinaro Named

ST. LOUIS (UPI)—The Sporting News Wednesday named Auburn's Pat Sullivan and Cgrnell's Ed Marinaro as co-College Players Of The Year.

Sullivan, a quarterback and winner of the Heisman Trophy, and Marinaro, a running back, led the 38th annual All-America team chosen by the weekly newspaper. Michigan and Notre Dame had three players each on the team, and Auburn, Oregon and Southern California had two each, but not one player was taken from collegiate powers Nebraska, Oklahoma or Alabama.

The other running back spot on offense was filled by Bobby Moore of Oregon with Terry Beasley of Auburn and Mike Siani of Villanova as wide receivers and Riley Odoms of Houston as tight end.

Although Oklahoma was not represented by any players, The Sporting News selected Chuck Fairbanks of the Sooners as the Coach of the Year.

On defense the newspaper picked players at pro-formation positions with a front four of Walt Patulski of Notre Dame and Herb Orvis of Colorado at ends and Mike Kadish of Notre Dame and Sherman White of California at tackles.

Sugar Bowl Adds Two New Runs

By CHARLIE COANE

It wasn't there when the Donner party strolled over the last summit on its trek across the Sierra — but it's there now. Sugar Bowl is located very near that summit and is now the fourth largest ski resort in California.

In a nutshell, Sugar Bowl has seven chairlifts, a gondola, a T-bar, a rope tow, a 500-car underground garage and a lodge.

"We've added two new runs this season," says general manager Don Schwartz. "This will enable intermediate skiers to handle the upper part of Mt. Lincoln and give advance skiers a chance to try a powder run through some trees."

Other changes on the mountain include the installation of anti-backroll brakes on the lifts.

"A bit of luxury has been added to our cafeteria," says Schwartz. "We've installed wall-to-wall carpeting and wall paneling. The lodge has a new roof, a new deck and a new coat of paint."

The skiing area and the overnight lodge of Sugar Bowl are located away from the main highway and parking areas and are reached via a "magic carpet" or chairlift. When first arriving at the area, you can park your car in an underground garage and ride the magic carpet gondola and never step outside. A chairlift into the area also parallels the gondola, and outside parking is also available. The underground garage costs $2 for 24 hours.

Lift tickets can be purchased at the entrance to the magic carpet or in the ski area itself. The adult daily tab runs $8, with children under 12 half-price. A season pass is $25 or $200, Wednesdays only for $25; every day for $200. Half-price rates apply during mid-week for a number of groups: playboy bunnies, stewardesses, nurses, clergy, students, military and Far West Ski Association members.

The ski school at Sugar Bowl is commanded by Alex Brogle and Toni Marth and the GLM (Graduated Length Method) of teaching is available.

Sugar Bowl has a number of package plans involving accommodations in the lodge, lifts, lessons and meals.

GOLF NOTES

A Wintry Season On Marin Courses

As the rainy winter season drips into Marin County, activity at the local golf courses decreases, and members begin to focus on next season.

Mill Valley Golf Club held its elections for 1972, with Keeler Nash being re-elected as president. Ed Victor will return as secretary-treasurer, while Bill Cavalli is the new vice-president.

Board of directors consists of Jules Prizant, Paul Taylor, Tom Wallace, Dr. Dave Schmidt, Mike Cunningham and Gene Addleman.

Also at Mill Valley, the blind-draw best-ball twosome of Prizant and George Davenport shot 123, one stroke ahead of the Mario Polacci-Herb Theime duo.

The results:

BOWLING TIPS

By MARION LADEWIG

Good balance at the release offers the bowler the best chance of delivering an effective ball. Although finishing with your weight forward — on the left leg — is not the only answer to balance, you will be off kilter if you do not release the ball in this manner. "Rearing back" always causes a loss of balance.

San Marin Grapplers Pin Tomales, 48-26

San Marin High School wrestlers won one of two battles in a triangular meet with El Molino of Forrestville and Tomales yesterday.

San Marin defeated Tomales 48-26 in Forrestville but lost to the host El Molino team 42-27.

Terra Linda Cagers Move Marks To 3-0

The Terra Linda High School freshmen and "B" teams upped their basketball marks to 3-0 yesterday.

King, Casals Head San Francisco Net

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Billie Jean King and Rosemary Casals lead a group of 16 finalists in the $15,000 British Motors Womens Pro Tennis championships at the Civic Auditorium Jan. 12-15.

Far To Reach Wins

SAN MATEO (UPI) —Far To Reach and Henry Knight of Pinole were the big winners Wednesday at Bay Meadows.

Far To Reach ($7.80) won the $25,000 added Children's Hospital Handicap by two and a half lengths over the favored Rock Bath.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Concern Over His Retirement Fund

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. I recently sold property and invested more than half the $20,000 I cleared in Gulf Oil and Talley Industries preferred. These promptly dropped several points. Since this is my retirement fund I am concerned. — L.B.

A. The drop in price for your Big Board holdings reflects more the uncertain state of the stock market than any fundamental weakness in either issue. Long-term equity investors must develop a certain amount of detachment in order to survive the fluctuations which characterize the stock market. If you find you are unable to live comfortably with these ups and downs you might be happier holding bonds, or bank certificates of deposit.

Gulf Oil, a worldwide integrated petroleum company, has sizeable interests in Kuwait, Venezuela, Nigeria, Iran and Canada. Reflecting the growing militance of the OPEC nations, the market overreacted and the international oils sold off. Gulf has stepped up exploration activities in Indonesia, Canada and the North Sea in order to spread its crude sources. Earnings this year should reach about $2.80 and shares now trading 9x this figure are on the bargain shelf. Talley has aggressively moved out of government-funded business through acquisitions. Consumer and industrial products account for 80 per cent of sales and government business 20 per cent. Earnings are estimated at $1.10 a share for the year to end March 31. Shares are well worth holding toward your retirement.

Q. I plan to retire in less than six months at 66. It is possible for me to increase my annuity income by $9.20 per year for each additional $100 voluntarily paid into the Civil Service Retirement Fund. Would this be advisable or should I put it into a commercial annuity? — C.J.

A. This rate, 9.2 per cent, is probably as generous as any available commercially. While in some other investment vehicle such as a bond or a savings account your capital would be wholly or partially retained, the return would be at best 7 per cent. I certainly approve of increasing your retirement benefits through this fund.

Stocks In A Slow Retreat

Analysts said the weakness reflected more of the same profit taking that began trickling in early in the week in the wake of the market's sharp advance since Thanksgiving.

Near noon, the Dow Jones industrial average was off 4.82 at 850.03. Standard & Poor's 500 stock index showed a loss of 0.25 at 96.67, and declines topped advances, 724 to 456.

Prices also worked lower in moderate trading on the American Stock Exchange.

Among the most active Amex issues were Syntex down more than a point on 16,000 shares, Presley Development slightly lower on 14,000 shares, and Ozark Airlines also fractionally lower on 14,000 shares.

On the Big Board, Honeywell and Wrigley (ex-dividend) fell 2 or more. Down a point or so were Getty Oil, Superior Oil, Bausch & Lomb, Control Data, Burroughs, Itek Corp., and Walt Disney.

Steels, chemicals, rails, and aircrafts were fractionally mixed. Motors and airlines were slightly easier.

A NEW PROGRAM

The Division of Bay Toll Crossings has put into effect a new bridge-painting program aimed at achieving long-range savings in maintenance costs — mainly by stretching out the time between paintings. Here San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge painters, 60 stories up, move the headblock for the suspender stage.

Building Begun

SAN FRANCISCO (BW) — Construction of the Fromm & Sichel Inc. headquarters building has begun — at the corner of Beach and Hyde streets, with completeion expected early in 1973.

Company Reports Revenue Losses

SHERMAN OAKS (BW) — Western Research & Development Inc. announced sales and earnings for the fiscal year ended April 30.

Total revenues for the period amounted to $1,779,531 while posting a loss of 13 cents per share. Comparable figures for fiscal 1970 show revenues of $3,164,326 and a net profit of 9 cents per share. Earnings figures include extraordinary losses of 2 cents per share in fiscal 1971 and 7 cents per share in fiscal 1970.

WR & D spokesmen attributed the loss in fiscal 1971 to a change in accounting procedures whereby the provision for contract cancellation was increased from 2 per cent to 11 per cent.

El Chico Reports 61% Earnings Hike

DALLAS (BW) — El Chico Corp. has reported a record six months as earnings rose 61 per cent on a 17 per cent sales increase.

For the 24 weeks ended Nov. 12 net income amounted to $288,836, or 25 cents a share, up from $179,560, or 15 cents a share a year ago, spokesmen said.

OTHER PEOPLE'S BUSINESS

By HARRY CRAFT

Marine Supply Company's New Owners To Expand, Renovate

There are new owners for Loch Lomond Marine Supply in San Rafael, which is now in the hands of two East Bay boatsmen.

Don Tomb of Oakland and M. B. (Marty) Kimpson of Alameda have bought out Arthur E. McIrvin, who is concentrating his time on his pest control business (Jackson Pest Control).

Both men have been in the boating business for many years. Tomb still has Catalina Marine in Oakland. Kimpson has been associated with the Cris Craft line of marine equipment.

They are increasing the inventory at Loch Lomond Marine to about three times its former size, with considerable expansion in equipment for cruisers, including refrigeration, air conditioning, water pressure systems and other lines. The store is being renovated — a process that will probably go on until the spring boating season.

Winter hours are from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. seven days a week. There will be extended hours during the summer season.

NEW MANAGER at Kinney Shoes, 2100 Fourth Street on the San Rafael Miracle Mile, is Ben Garr, who has been transferred to Marin from Hilo, Hawaii where he has been assistant manager for the past 18 months. He has been with the Kinney organization for about three years and has taken up residence in East San Rafael.

Former manager James Campbell has been transferred to Oakland.

IF YOU SHOULD come across some new buildings on Gravenstein Highway between Sebastopol and Forestville in Sonoma County, done in country Russian architectural style and appearing as though they should be located over on the coast at Fort Ross, these are the new winery and accessory structures designed and now being completed by R.E. Nolan and Son of Anselmo for the Russian River Vineyards.

"BARGAINS," "SALES" AND "SPECIALS" that are advertised may offer less than you expect, according to the Federal Trade Commission, which says some pricing practices are deceptive by their nature and are used to mislead — and that a little comparison shopping will prove it.

The pricing claim, "All items in stock reduced 25 per cent," is misleading if the regular merchandise carried by the store is removed from the floor and inferior quality merchandise is substituted. Also, offers such as "Buy one — get one free", or "Two for one," are not true bargains when the price of a single item is inflated.

Generally speaking, the consumer gets no bargain unless the sale price is less than the regular market value. "Manufacturer's list price" and "suggested retail price" often are inflated and are nothing more than the price the manufacturer would like to get.

These and other deceptive practices are covered in "Guides Against Deceptive Pricing," available free from the Federal Trade Commission, 450 Golden Gate Avenue, Box 35005, San Francisco 94102.

MOTOR VEHICLE REGISTRATIONS in Marin County for the first nine months of this year increased 4 per cent from the same period in 1971. The 1971 total was 132,750, compared to 127,200 in the nine-month period of last year. Biggest percentage gain was in motorcycles — more than 10 per cent.

Western's Mileage

LOS ANGELES (BW) — Western Airlines has reported preliminary November traffic of 373 million seat miles sold. In November 1970, seat miles sold — inflated by a strike that shut down a major competitor — totaled 377 million.

Hub Schools To Fight Pupil Transfer Cost

The San Anselmo School District board has agreed to fight a Marin County Board of Education decision approving transfer of a student to the Sausalito School District.

The transfer previously had been approved by the San Anselmo board, with the condition that there be no charge to the San Anselmo district.

The Sausalito School District board then rejected the transfer with that condition, saying San Anselmo must pay for the education of the student.

Carol Pukis of 12 Hazel Avenue, mother of the student, Anthony Pukis, appealed the Sausalito decision to the county board of education, which upheld the appeal, but in doing so knocked off San Anselmo's condition.

If the decision is allowed to stand, San Anselmo Schools Supt. W. Kenneth Lowry said, the district will have to pay Sausalito about $1,500 or $1,600 a year when the boy could be educated in San Anselmo for about $700 or $800.

The San Anselmo board had no objection to the transfer, Lowry said, but agreed at a meeting Tuesday to appeal to the county board to reconsider its decision which would force San Anselmo to pay.

Mr. Pukis requested the transfer because, she said, she leaves Anthony at the Manzanita Day Care Center in Marin City while she works.

No day care center facility is available in San Anselmo, she said.

The San Anselmo School District board also:

WINDOWS — Agreed to continue its policy of replacing broken windows with nonbreakable plastic windows, a policy which has been costing the district about $400 a month. The board directed Lowry to send letters to parents explaining the problems the district has had with vandalism and asking parents' help in combatting it.

BUS — Authorized Lowry to call for bids on a surplus school bus and agreed, if approval of the Marin County Counsel's office is obtained, that payment for the bus could be in goods or services, as an alternative to cash.

MEMORIAL — Rejected a committee recommendation that a manual skills program be established and a geodesic dome be constructed at Red Hill School to house it as a memorial to former Red Hill principal Donald L. Shaw, who died in July. Lowry said the board considered the projected $16,000 cost of the dome beyond its means. He was directed to investigate the possibility of establishing a manual skills program anyway and to review other proposals for the Shaw memorial.

STUDY — Agreed to hire Management Design Inc. of San Francisco for an appraisal of district management at a $300 fee.

Opera Opens On Low-Keyed Note

MILAN, Italy (UPI)—An audience in evening dress packed La Scala opera house Tuesday night for the opening of the 1972-73 season, but something was missing.

Gone was the ostentatious display of past years. Gone, too, were the demonstrators whose yells and egg-throwing of the late 1960s put an end to the parade of wealth which regularly brought tax officials to the opera to help them decide who was cheating on returns.

Nothing more than dark suits was requested for this year's opening, a speeded-up renditon of Giuseppe Verdi's "Simon Boccanegra." A prologue and three acts was presented in two parts with only one intermission, and the opera was out by midnight —something rare for Italy.

Ashland Festival Deer Is Killed

ASHLAND, Ore. (UPI)—A five-pointed buck that was lodged in the Lithia Park adjacent to the Shakespearean festival facilities has been found decapitated — the apparent victim of a trophy hunter.

Park officials said the buck was shot with about six arrows sometime before dawn Tuesday morning. Some of the arrows went completely through the animal.

The body was dragged over the stream bank on the edge of the pen holding the herd of deer and the whole head with the rack of horns of at least five points was removed. There was no meat taken.

Park officials said the animal, raised in the city-run park, was tame.

Land Deal In Marin City Brings Anger

Residents Protesting Shift Of Ridgeland

By ERIK M. INGRAM

A group of Marin City residents, embittered by action taken last night to release valuable ridgelands surrounding their community to a developer, carried their fight today to Housing and Urban Development Department office in San Francisco.

About 50 residents, among them several school children, boarded a bus and automobiles in Marin City shortly before noon for the caravan across Golden Gate Bridge.

Object of their wrath was the Marin County Redevelopment Agency, which voted unanimously last night to release 176 acres above the Southern Marin community to California Development Co. without obtaining an option to purchase the property back. The option had been demanded in several stormy public meetings of the agency by members of the community, who see it as a safeguard to community control of development.

Residents said today they will ask HUD officials to nullify the agency decision and prohibit the signing of contracts which would seal the deal. That signing was expected today.

California Developments Co. has served as the community's sole developer for eight years and has failed to complete development in that period. It still controls the flatland redevelopment acreage because of past agreements.

The company purchased the ridgelands for $441,000 in 1962 as part of that agreement with the housing authority and redevelopment agency.

Both groups have been holding the company's final payments on the ridgelands in escrow, thus holding up final sales and transfer of title.

The release agreements approved last night would end the stalemate. Those agreements have been at the heart of controversy during the past week in the predominantly black, low-income community.

Residents today repeated their argument that if the ridgeland is released an option should be attached so that it may be purchased back.

Last night's action was called a "ripoff of the community" by Thelma McKinney, a protest leader. She said today that if the releases are signed formally, the community will lose its voice in future development.

The action taken has caused "overt anger in the community," added Rev. Samuel Banks. He said the redevelopment agency board appeared

Angela In Court; Hears Trial Date

By MARY LEYDECKER

PALO ALTO — Angela Davis, who yesterday left her tiny basement cell here for the first time, learned she will go to trial Jan. 31 in San Jose.

The trial date was set during a one-hour conference in a judge's chambers attended by Miss Davis, her attorneys, the prosecution and Judge Richard E. Arnason.

Meanwhile, about 150 supporters of the former university instructor milled around in a hall outside and listened to speeches from militant leaders, including Bobby Seale.

(Seale, apparently forgetting he was in California not Connecticut, ended his talk with an exhortation to the crowd, with the words, "We all know why we're here — we're here to free Sister Erika Huggins!"

(Mrs. Huggins was freed earlier this year after a Connecticut jury couldn't agree on murder charges growing out of the slaying of a Black Panther who was believed to have been a police informer.)

The surprise announcement that the long-delayed trial will be held in San Jose, not the North County office building in which Miss Davis is now held, came from Santa Clara County's presiding superior court judge, John T. Racanelli.

Racanelli said through a court spokesman in San Jose that the choice was the "consenus view" of the 19 superior court judges in Santa Clara County that the Criminal-Legal Superior Court Building — where felony trials are usually held — is the best place for the trial.

The choice was not a popular one with the sheriff's department, responsible for security for Miss Davis while she stands trial on murder, kidnapping and conspiracy charges stemming from the August 1970 shoot-out in Marin.

Undersheriff Thomas Rosa said yesterday, "We would

NEW YORK (UPI) — Dr. Ralph J. Bunche, former U.N. Undersecretary general for special political affairs and winner of the Nobel Peace Prize in 1950, died at 12:40 a.m. EST today at New York Hospital after a long illness. He was 67.

Bunche's widow said the Negro diplomat entered the hospital two days ago for new tests and had "seemed to be doing very well." He had been suffering from kidney malfunction, diabetes, heart disease and various complications for months.

India Troops Push Across River Barrier To Dacca

By U. P. INTERNATIONAL

An Indian military spokesman indicated today in New Delhi that Indian troops had crossed the Meghna River, one of the last major water barriers protecting the East Pakistani capital of Dacca, and that Indian aircraft were inflicting heavy casualties on fleeing Pakistani troops.

The Indian air force and navy bombarded the ports of Karachi and Chittagong in West and East Pakistan today, inflicting heavy damage on shipping. At Dacca, a direct hit on an orphanage by Indian planes buried hundreds of children.

Rescue workers lifting huge chunks of concrete by hand said they had recovered 30 bodies and expressed fear the death toll among the children and in nearby shops and houses could be as high as 500. Pakistan protested to the International Red Cross against this and other bombings of civilians.

Indian Defense Minister Jagjivan Ram told a cheering, desk-banging Parliament today that the Pakistani army in the East was fleeing "in great confusion and disorder" and that their land, air and sea escape routes had been sealed. Tonight, Indian military spokesmen told of the tightening noose around Dacca itself.

The spokesman reeled off a list of East Pakistani towns he said were now in Indian hands and said "we are now firmly astride the Meghna," indicating the Indians were on both sides. A lesser river, a branch of the Brahmaputra, also protects Dacca from the east.

The spokesman also reported Indian successes in Kashmir, 1,000 miles away across India, and said attacks by 18,000 Pakistani troops and 130 tanks had been thrown back in the Chamb sector of southern Kashmir and that India had pushed Pakistanis back across the Munawar Tawi River. He also reported victories in the far north of Kashmir near the borders of Tibet.

Gen. Jagjit Singh Aurora, commander in chief of India's eastern front, told newsmen in Calcutta the Indian air force had destroyed the last Pakistani aircraft in East Pakistan. He also reported the capture of Chandpur, a major riverport 30 miles south of Dacca that controls water approaches to Dacca.

He said Indian tanks at Chandpur opened fire on a Dac-

Lay Teachers Back To Catholic Schools

Lay teachers who had struck seven Bay Area Catholic high schools, including Marin Catholic in Kentfield, returned to their jobs today following acceptance of a contract offer yesterday.

Rev. Francis A. Lacey, principal at Marin Catholic, said nine of 10 lay teachers and four nuns who had walked out with them Nov. 15, resumed their teaching jobs this morning.

One teacher, John Komo, resigned during the strike to accept a nonteaching job elsewhere, Father Lacey said.

The new contract calls for no wage increase during 1971 and a salary increase of 5 or 6 per cent in 1972-73, "depending upon placement on the salary schedule itself," said Gerald Killian, president of the Secondary Teachars Association.

The striking teachers had been seeking a 6 per cent increase this year and next.

The archdiocese's original offer was for no wage increase in the current year and increases of four per cent in the second and third years.

The striking teachers association voted "overwhelmingly" last night to accept the contract offer, Killian said.

Top-Level Reshuffle Has Water Director Support

By PAT ANGLE

A proposal to reorganize management of the Marin Municipal Water District yesterday won enthusiastic support of district directors, who not only adopted the plan but moved swiftly to designate people to fill new management slots. (See charts on page 38, and other water district stories, page 3.)

According to the consultants who prepared the plan, adoption of all recommendations in the reorganization study will mean a net cost to the district of an additional $15,000 a year. They said a new community interests division will add about $47,000 to the district's annual payroll, but indicated this cost will be offset by payroll reductions of about $32,000 resulting from some consolidation of jobs proposed in the study.

The reorganization, proposed by the San Francisco consulting firm of Cresap, McCormick and Paget Inc., divides district functions into five main divisions, each to be headed by a manager who will report only

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Pension Pitch

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon wants Congress to give 14 million self-reliant "little men" a tax break to encourage them to save for their age.

In a special message to Congress yesterday, Nixon outlined a pension reform plan featuring legislation permitting individuals to claim an income tax deduction of up to $1,500 a year for money systematically put aside for retirement.

The President also urged Congress to write into law a complex formula to guarantee that workers with at least a minimum time on the payroll do not lose private pension benefits because they change jobs before retirement.

Auto Cutback

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The White House and other executive branch agencies have been ordered by government budget managers to buy no new cars for the next six months, an economy measure that will mean 20,000 fewer orders for U. S. auto makers.

The step also is expected to save $30 million.

The auto austerity program will continue into the fiscal year of 1972-1973 which starts next July 1.

Salvation Army Honors Nixon

Tricia

The award, the Salvation Army's highest, praised the President for his "faithfulness as a statesman while fulfilling his role as father and husband" and Mrs. Nixon for being "a happy homemaker and the finest type of American woman."

The citation praised the first family "for their strong sense of family unity and a love for God that is shown in the desire to serve him by serving others."

Mrs. Cox, the President's eldest daughter, squelched published rumors that she was pregnant. "Far be it from me to question the veracity" of these reports, she said. "Maybe they know something I don't know but I'm really not."

The award ceremony was held before 3,500 members and guests of the Salvation Army in the New York Hilton.

Price Violations

CLEVELAND (UPI) — The AFL-CIO says that preliminary reports it has gathered demonstrate "widespread evasion and violation" of price controls from coast-to-coast despite President Nixon's control program.

Leo Perlis, coordinator of the labor organization's price monitoring program, last night urged the Price Commission and the Internal Revenue Service to crack down on violators of government guidelines.

"In the face of highly flexible price controls and totally inadequate enforcement, the price control program is a farce," Perlis said.

Perlis spoke at an AFL-CIO-sponsored rally. He urged consumers to monitor prices of food, rent, health services, clothing and other goods and services.

Bellow, Welty Join Academy

NEW YORK (UPI) — The American Academy of Arts and Letters has elected six new members, bringing its membership to the full complement of 50, it was announced Wednesday.

Elected were novelist Saul Bellow, painter Isabel Bishop, playwright Arthur Miller, sculpfor Isamu Naguchi, historian Barbara Tuchman and novelist Eudora Welty.

Policeman Slain

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (UPI) — A part-time Ulster militiaman was shot to death and his 10-year-old daughter wounded in the leg as they watched television in their home last night. The gunman was believed a member of the Irish Republican Army (IRA).

It was the second shooting death of a part-time soldier in 24 hours, and an Army officer said today that the killings neither will frighten nor demoralize the civilian militia to which both belonged.

Mariner Flares Up

PASADENA (UPI) — Something went wrong with the electrical system aboard Mariner 9, the U. S. satellite circling Mars, and its reserve power had to be switched on, Mariner scientists said yesterday.

The satellite then resumed operating normally, said the Mariner center at jet propulsion laboratory.

Instruments keeping track of Mariner showed a sudden rise of 15 degrees in the temperature and the electrical output of the power unit more than tripled as the satellite swung around the planet on its 48th orbit Tuesday, the scientists said.

73 Cong Killed In Big Fight

SAIGON (UPI) —South Vietnamese forces supported by allied artillery and helicopter gunships today fought the biggest battle so far in the 17-day-old campaign against Viet Cong and North Vietnamese sanctuaries in the Cambodian rubber producing country.

The South Vietnamese command reported 73 Viet Cong killed in six hours of fighting today with the fighting still raging at dusk in the area to the west of Tay Ninh on the South Vietnamese border.

There was no immediate report of allied casualties. Nor was there a breakdown on how many guerrillas were killed by ground forces and how many in air and helicopter strikes.

More than 100 guerrillas were reported killed Monday and Tuesday by B52 air strikes on the Chup rubber plantation, believed to be a Communist stronghold, but that was exclusively an air strike.

Since the new offensive in the Cambodian rubber country began the South Vietnamese report 508 guerrillas killed— including the 73 reported killed today—and 32 guerrillas captured, at a cost of 40 South Vietnamese killed and 241 wounded.

The U.S. command reported today that four Americans were killed in action and 14 others wounded last week, the ninth week in a row U.S. battle deaths numbered fewer than 10.

South Vietnamese battle deaths, which have been running about 300 a week all year, totaled 314 last week. Guerrilla dead totaled 808, the South Vietnamese command said.

Total combat dead since the official beginning of the war Jan. 1, 1961, nearly 11 years ago, according to allied figures, are 45,617 Americans, 130,469 South Vietnamese and 785,572 guerrillas.

Susan B. Anthony $2 Bills Sought

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Sen. Glenn Beall Jr., R-Md., has introduced legislation to authorize the Treasury to resume printing $2 bills with a portrait of women's rights champion Susan B. Anthony.

A similar bill was introduced earlier in the House. The old $2 bill, which carried the portrait of Thomas Jefferson, has not been printed since 1966.

Pay Board Tightens Wage Policies

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Pay Board has tightened its control over contract settlements in the construction industry in an effort to bring building trades wage agreements more in line with its 5.5 per cent annual guideline.

In a meeting Wednesday night, the Pay Board and the Construction Industry Stabilization Committee (CISC) agreed to establish a six-man subcommittee "to work out specific procedures to assure conformity with the announced policies of the Pay Board." In the meantime, the temporary freeze on construction contracts settled after Aug. 15 will continue.

The Pay Board had ordered members of the construction committee to explain why agreements they have approved have averaged twice the board's 5.5 per cent a year increase guideline. The board also asked why some settlements have allowed retroactivity during the wage-price freeze despite the general ban.

Government sources said the general tone of the Wednesday meeting made one thing clear—the Pay Board expects the CISC to put wage settlements more in line with the 5.5 per cent guideline, although the Board itself approved a first year 15.5 per cent pay and benefit increase for coal miners.

The board let stand some 450 agreements approved by the CISC that were negotiated prior to the wage-price freeze that started Aug. 15, of nearly 11 per cent a year and despite the fact some of them provided retroactivity during the freeze.

One public member of the board said CISC Chairman John Dunlop, a Harvard dean, made a convincing argument in favor of the committee's approval of retroactive payments during the freeze.

Dunlop said the retroactive wage payments were approved under a Pay Board rule allowing such payments in cases where employers had raised prices prior to the freeze in anticipation of wage increases caught in the freeze.

Congressional Deadlock; U.S. Foreign Aid Is Dead

WASHINGTON (UPI ) —The U.S. foreign aid program technically expired at midnight Wednesday when Congress, deadlocked over an antiwar anendment, failed to meet the deadline for approving a new program.

The program expired a few hours after Senate leaders sent word to the House they would not consider a House appropriations bill until Congress clears the foreign aid authorization measure.

The authorization legislation includes an amendment introduced by Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield declaring it a "national policy" to withdraw all U.S. troops from Indochina within six months in exchange for release of American prisoners of war.

Wednesday the House approved a $2.7 billion appropriation for foreign aid for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1972. House leaders had hoped to bypass the stalled authorization measure.

The expiration of the old foreign aid program ended authority to make new spending commitments and meet payrolls that include 14,000 workers.

However, projects under way continued and money in the pipeline continued to flow. By the time the next pay checks are due it is expected Congress will have made a compromise settlement.

Defense Department spending authority also expired at midnight. Congress has not given final passage to the department's annual money bill. But in this case also, Congress was expected to complete work on the new legislation before there is a spending pinch.

Foreign aid spending authority originally expired Nov. 15 but was extended by the passage of a continuing resolution. The resolution expired at midnight Wednesday.

District To Annex Own Land

Directors of the Marin Municipal Water District voted unanimously yesterday to annex approximately 1,000 acres of land which the district owns near Nicasio.

Directors learned that the annexation will mean the district no longer must pay $10,659 in annual taxes on the reservoir land. Of those taxes, $1,042 were paid in the past to Nicasio School District and the remainder went to the County of Marin, according to Seeger.

The annexation will not have a serious effect on the school district, which raises approximately $25,305 annually through property taxes in the district, Seeger said.

The land to be annexed has an assessed value of $118,424.

The Marin Municipal Water District Board also:

FENCE — Awarded a contract for fencing for storage tanks in the Rafael Highlands, Glenwood, Escalle and Tennessee Valley areas to the Able Fence Company of San Rafael whose low bid was $15,916.

FIRELINE — Agreed to enter into a contract to form an assessment district in conjunction with the city of Corte Madera to finance provision of 615 feet of eight-inch fireline pipeline on Hawthorne Lane in Corte Madera.

PIPE — Awarded a contract for 4,200 feet of six and eight-inch pipe to United Concrete Pipe Corp. of Riverside whose low bid was $19,108.

EXTENSION — At the request of the Tamalpais Fire Protection District agreed to install 770 feet of pipe between Shoreline Highway and South Morningsun Avenue. Total cost for the lines will be $18,074. Of that, the district will pay $9,037 and the fire district will contribute $11,690.

FIRE HYDRANTS — Awarded a contract for fire hydrant equipment to the Water Works Supply Company of Union City. The firm's low bid was $18,815.

SERVICE REQUESTS — Approved variances allowing the district to provide water service to Ronald Antonioli, 4477 Redwood Highway, San Rafael, and to Arthur J. Lange, Lot 3, Geldhert Drive, Tiburon.

DEMANDS — Agreed to pay $416,100 for district expenses in November, including payroll, services, supplies and equipment.

COMPLETION — Accepted a notice of completion from Maggiora and Ghilotti Inc. of Corte Madera for an $83,076 project to upgrade the district's lines in the Sausalito area.

EQUIPMENT — Awarded a contract for service stops and fittings to the Mueller Company of Brea, Calif., whose low bid was $13,805.

Informers Warned

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI)—The city council, in an attempt to curb narcotic peddling in the capital city, has offered a $500 reward for information leading to the conviction of heroin pushers.

City-School Joint Study Is Rejected

A proposal that Fairfax School District sponsor with the City of Fairfax a study of economic effects of various possible uses of the Marin Town and Country Club property has been rejected by the school board.

The board, however, did authorize a letter to the city council urging the council to make such a study before residential development was allowed on the property.

The joint planning study of the property was suggested to the board Tuesday by Everett Jensen, a member of a committee, called Preserve Land and Nature, which hopes to prevent residential development of the town and country club site.

Fairfax schools Supt. H. Reginald Hammond said the board would be concerned if it appeared costs of educating the children brought in by residential development would exceed tax revenues from the development.

The board Tuesday also acknowledged receipt of a $3,110 check from Marin Municipal Water District for a pipeline easement at White Hill School and authorized Hammond to use the money for improvements to the playground area at White Hill.

A communications workshop program for the Central School staff was approved by the board for three weekends in January and February at a cost to the district of $900, Hammond said.

'Witch' A Teacher Again

TUCSON, Ariz. (UPI) — An English teacher who was fired because her pupils believed she was a witch has been ordered reinstated by the court.

The Flowing Wells School Board was ordered Tuesday to rehire Ann Stewart, suspended Nov. 25, 1970.

Superior Court Judge John C. Collins ordered Mrs. Stewart reinstated with a new one year contract. He ruled that the board had not held the required hearing for the tenured teacher after notifying her of dismissal.

Marin Reservoirs Down Markedly From '71 Level

The Marin Municipal Water District's four reservoir lakes are filled to 54 per cent of capacity, as compared to 94 per cent at this time last year, district directors learned yesterday. (Another water district story, page 1.)

In a report designed as one of a series to inform the board and the public about the district water supply, administrative engineer B. G. Grant and senior engineer Bernie Heare said the lakes currently contain approximately 9.24 billion gallons. Total capacity of Bon Tempe, Alpine, Kent, Lagunitas and Nicasio is about 17 billion gallons.

The engineers said the district will use an estimated 10 billion gallons during 1971.

Rainfall in Marin to date this year, at least in the areas where the lakes are located, has totalled five inches, as compared to 25 inches for this same period last year, the engineers noted.

TVs Are Banned In Texas Vehicles

A law passed by state legislators this session prohibits motorists from having television sets in their vehicles if the screen is visible to the driver.

Former I-J Reporter Wins Press Award

Don Branning, a former Independent-Journal reporter now with the San Francisco Examiner, has won the James A. Harrah Memorial Press Bar Award given by the Bar Association of San Francisco.

Branning's winning entry was composed of a three-part series on problems in San Francisco municipal courts and a five-part series on problems at the city's youth guidance center.

Top-Level Reshuffle Has Water Director Support

to Gen. Mgr. William R. Seeger.

The five major changes approved by the water district board are:

1. Establishment of a division of water treatment and distribution in order to handle all district functions relating to these two activities. In the past, activities dealing with treatment and distributions were scattered throughout the district organization.

e 2. Setting-up of a full-service engineering division which, for the first time, will include such related activities as surveying.

3. Establishment of a division of construction and maintenance which will deal only with those functions. Under current organization, this division also handles operations or movement of water, a function which will now fall to the division of treatment and distribution.

4. Creation of a new division of community interests, designed to increase rapport between the district and the public. The manager of community interests will have charge of environmental and land-use planning, horticultural and recreational programs, public relations and the district's watershed patrol.

5. Expansion of the existing auditor-controller division to include personnel activities.

The consultants recommended no change — at least for the present — in the duties or responsibilities of the project manager for the district's Improvement District A.

After meeting in closed session for about three hours, the board accepted the reorganization plan and voted to make some new personnel designations.

J. Dietrich Stroeh, now principal engineer, was named manager of engineering, a job similar to but somewhat expanded from the post he now holds. H. P. Puccinelli will continue as superintendent of construction and maintenance, the board decided, and auditor-controller P. R. Gilliam will retain his present job.

Directors voted to recruit, both from in and out of the district, persons to fill the posts of manager of water treatment and distribution and manager of community interests.

Consultants Joseph F. Klammer and Robert V. Goode, who explained the proposed changes to the board, said the new structure will make delegation of responsibility and determination of accountability much easier. This will result from the fact that all activities related to one district function will be located in a single division, under one manager.

Another important aspect of the reorganization, according to consultants, is that it will facilitate training of successors to management personnel, something the consultants said has not been possible in the old organization. In the past, they said, most managers have been engaged in very specialized activities which did not give them the overview of the district or the experience to prepare them to move up, for example, to the post of general manager.

They told the board the new system will provide proving grounds for managerial competence and give the five division managers the chance to acquire general manager skills. (Seeger is scheduled to retire in 1977.)

As part of this aspect of the proposal, the consultants recommended that the general manager — now heavily involved in all district activities — delegate more authority and decision-making to division heads. They also urged the district board to provide structured training programs to help develop management personnel at all levels from among its own employees.

By improving the chain of management succession in the water district, Goode and Klammer said future expansion of the district will be simplified. In addition, they said better future management will be insured.

In making the presentation to the board, the consultants said the district had been functioning very effectively in spite of, rather than because of the existing organizational structure.

The consultants warned that unless the structure is changed to provide managerial training grounds, problems will arise when long-time employees and managers retire.

"We think you should use the organization as a tool to develop management," Goode told the board.

Road Warnings Up As Snow Falls In Sierra

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— Snow fell today at ski resorts in the Northern California mountains, and travel warnings were posted in the Central and Southern Sierra for locally heavy snow and wind.

The 10 a.m. report from the California State Automobile Association:

Interstate 80: Sugar Bowl 6 inches new, 3-6 feet total, open this weekend; Boreal Ridge 3-5 inches new, night skiing through Sunday.

Highway 89: Squaw Valley 1z-36 inches, 4-9 lifts operating; Alpine Meadows 20-40 inches, fair skiing, 4 lifts; Tahoe Ski Bowl, open tomorrow for weekend; Homewood may open this weekend.

Highway 50: Heavenly Valley 4 chairs and tram operating; Echo Summit 42 inches, open this weekend; Sierra Ski Ranch 29-42 inches, very good, 2 chairs, 1 poma.

Highway 4: Bear Valley 3 chairs operating.

Novato Woman Is Found Dead

Won Jong Frink, 26, of Novato, a native of Korea, died at her home yesterday of a gunshot wound that was apparently self-inflicted, according to the coroner's office.

Mrs. Frink, wife of Roland Frink of 20 Margory Court, was discovered dead in the family garage by her husband at 8:50 a.m., a bullet wound in her head. Nearby was a .38-caliber revolver. The coroner's office listed the death as suicide.

She had been a resident of Marin for eight months.

Private family service will be held Saturday at Marin Memorial Gardens, Novato.

Postal Branch For The Rush

Postmaster John F. Fahy said the annex, at United Travel Service, will be open from noon to 5 p.m. weekdays and from 9:30 a.m. to noon Saturdays until Dec. 18.

Throughout Marin and Southern Sonoma, post offices will be open the next two Saturdays until noon, in addition to regular hours.

10 Children Books Hit: Racist Ideas

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— Children's books that could fill impressionable young minds with racist and sexist ideas have been listed by the Association of Children's Librarians (ACL).

The ACL named 10 such books —among them "Mary Poppins" and "Dr. Dolittle" — and recommended that they be re-evaluated because of racist references.

The "Dr. Dolittle" books refer to "niggers," the library group said.

The "Mary Poppins" book contains a passage in which she and her friends encounter some blacks in rags who say:

"Ah bin 'specting you a long time, Mar' Poppins. You bring dem chillun dere into me li'l house for a slice of watermelon right now."

Other books the ACL recommended for re-evaluation included the following: "The Matchlock Gun," "Charlie and the Chocolate Factory," "The Secret Garden," "The Rooster Crows," "Bedknob and Broomstick," "Caddie Woodlawn" and "The Story of the Treasure Seekers."

Nancy Schimmel, co-chairman of the association's social responsibilities committee, said, "We are not recommending that the books be removed from the shelves. That we leave up to the individual libraries."

Barrier For Span May Be Shelved

Construction of a suicide barrier on the Golden Gate Bridge, under consideration since 1948, once again may be shelved by bridge district directors.

The district already has spent $5,000 on a new architectural study for a barrier, but the building and operating committee of the district balked today at a staff request for $60,000 to complete wind tests and other engineering analyses.

Board president Lowell Edington, a member of the committee, cautioned that high costs for the upcoming bus system may drain district reserves too heavily to leave money for other bridge plans and projects.

Other members of the committee agreed and postponed action on the $60,000 allocation for at least two months, pending long-range projections of district expenses.

In another matter today, the committee recommended to the full board installation of a new roadway lighting system that would cost about $213,000. The equipment, to be installed over the next year, would improve motorist visibility, according to Dist. Engineer Robert E. Shields.

Patrol Prevents Leap At Bridge

"I'm so lonely. You couldn't know how lonely I am."

The two officers, suspicious because of the hour (3 a.m.) and rainy weather, had hailed the pedestrian. McCarthy ran to a rail and started to climb over. The officers leaped from their car, grabbed his leg and pulled him back.

institution in his own right, transcending both nationality and race."

"I myself have lost an incomparable friend and colleague," said Thant.

"As a leader of the United Nations, he played one of the most prominent roles in keeping the world at peace," Bush said.

Bunche retired from his United Nations post —the highest ever held by an American official —in October. His career had been identified with the United Nations from its inception until his decision to step down from the post of undersecretary due to ill health.

Bunche was working in the State Department in 1945 when he received the assignment to begin plans for an international organization which could bring some order to a world wracked by a war that was drawing to its close. He negotiated the armistice agreements between the new state of Israel and her Arab neighbors in 1948 and won the Nobel Peace Prize for his efforts.

In 1949 he succeeded Count Folke Bernadotte as the U.N. mediator when the Swedish nobleman was assassinated in Jerusalem.

He became an undersecretary in 1955 with no specific responsibilities except to work directly with the secretary general on knotty international problems. He had been offered the job of assistant Secretary of State by President Eisenhower but turned it down, reportedly because it meant a pay cut and moving back to a "Jim Crow" city.

Bunche is survived by his widow, the former Ruth Ehtel Harris of Montgomery, Ala., whom he married in 1930 when she was a schoolteacher, a daughter, Joan and a son, Ralph Jr. Another daughter, Mrs. Burton Pierce, died in 1966.

The diplomat was born in Detroit, Mich., Aug. 7, 1904, son of a barber from Ohio and an amateur pianist from Kansas. He was orphaned at 13 and entirely self-supporting by the time he was 15.

He attended schools in Detroit, Albuquerque, N.M., and Los Angeles, attended the University of California at Los Angeles and received his master's degree and doctorate at Harvard.

Bunche was light-skinned enough to pass as white but he had known racial slights. Several years ago his son applied for membership in the famed tennis club at Forest Hills, where the family lived, and was rejected.

Bunche joined government service in 1941 as a senior social service analyst for Africa and the Far East.

He was a member of the San Francisco U.N. Conference at which the United Nations was born and also was a member of the first U.N. General Assembly in London in 1946.

Five-Part Office Idea Is Advanced

The Sausalito Community Appearances Advisory board last night gave conceptual approval to a plan by Richard York to build offices on Harbor Drive, between the Big G Market and Clipper Yacht Harbor, building inspector William L. Hynes reported.

Hynes said York is seeking to build five small office units — rather than a single large office building — on the one-acre parcel.

Architect Rolan Mays, who made the presentation of plans, said he would now prepare working drawings.

The board also gave tentative approval to plans by Joseph and Al Scoma to remodel and reopen the old Blue Fin Inn restaurant, 2009 Bridgeway, as a restaurant called "Mama Annie's."

Hynes said the restauranteurs will probably have to obtain a variance for the remodeling since the building is now nonconforming and the work they plan will be greater in value than 50 per cent of the worth of the existing structure. The building is nonconforming, he said, principally because it does not meet city requirements for off-street parking.

"hypnotized not to listen to community complaints last night."

The action came on a recommendation from a negotiating committee made up of board members from the two agencies and three residents. The committee met yesterday with a California Development official for the announced purpose of preparing for negotiation on furure development in Marin City.

Last night, however, according to residents, it was learned an "informal agreement" was signed by the committee to release ridgelands as a condition to future negotiations.

"Future negotiations over what?" one resident asked today. "With the releases signed there's nothing left to negotiate."

The three community members of the negotiating committee complained last night that they had been "hoodwinked" into signing the informal agreement.

Frank T. Phillips of the Marin City Community Services District and Marin City resident, last night said he didn't realize the legal impact of the informal document when he signed it.

At Tuesday's joint meeting of the housing authority and redevelopment agency boards, Phillips predicted what happened yesterday would occur. He asked the community not to blame him if their interests were not represented in the informal agreement since he had only one vote.

ca-bound river steamer packed with 400 to 500 Pakistani troops and that Indian planes then roared in and set the craft on fire.

UPI correspondent Lemmy Pinna reported from Karachi on the west coast of Pakistan that Indian warplanes sank a foreign merchant ship today and set two other ships ablaze. The foreign ship was not identified.

Unconfirmed reports in Karachi said one of the ships hit was American. In London a spokesman for the Gosland Steamship Company said India aircraft attacks Wednesday night killed seven crewmen aboard the British cargo ship Harmattan.

The Indian air force has carried out almost daily attacks on Karachi harbor and it is overlaid with a dense pall of smoke. Pakistan officials said the Indian planes also hit civilian population areas, causing heavy loss of life and property.

At Chittagong, the main port for East Pakistan, Indian naval forces thwarted attempts of Pakistani gunboats to sneak out from their bottled up positions in the Bangla Desh port, India's eastern command spokesmen announced.

The spokesman said the Injians sank four gunboats when they refused to surrender and that the navy captured two Pakistani merchant ships and was escorting them to Indian ports.

Several foreign ships including one American have been hit by Indian attacks. The captain of a Panamanian freighter hit near Chittagong said in Rangoon one crewman was killed and two wounded. He said a Danish ship also was hit.

The bombing of the Moslem orphanage in Dacca was the second major apparent mistake bombing in the area this week. About 300 workers were reported killed when bombs hit a jute mill housing project near a power plant. The Dacca orphanage was near the Dacca airport which has been put out of business by the bomb attacks.

Radio Pakistan said the government had drawn the attention of the International Red Cross "to the heinous acts being committed by the Indian air force by indulging in indiscriminate bombing and strafing of the civilian population..."

Both sides reported sinking or damaging submarines. Ram told the cheering Indian Parliament that a second Pakistani uubmarine had been sunk and that Pakistan has so far lost three warships, nine gunboats and two submarines.

Pakistani spokesmen in Karachi said the Pakistani navy badly damaged a Soviet-made submarine of the Indian navy 47 miles south of Karachi on Wednesday and that a destroyer and a frigate were following up today in hopes of confirming the kill. A spokesman said the submarine was leaking oil badly.

OBITUARIE

GRACE C. SCRIPILLITI

Requiem Mass will be offered at 10:30 a.m. tomorrow in St. Pius Catholic Church, Redwood City, for Grace C. Scripilliti, mother of Eustace Scripilliti of Tiburon.

Mrs. Scripilliti, 69, died on Tuesday in Redwood City, where she was a longtime resident. She was a native of Italy.

She was a member of Galileo Galilei Chapter 1959, Sons of Italy and of the Italian Catholic Federation in Redwood City.

She also is survived by another son and a daughter, Rosario Scripillini of Belmont and Mrs. Ralph Gatton of Redwood City, eight grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

Sons of Italy services will be conducted at 7:45 p.m. today in the Redwood Chapel, Redwood City, followed by recitation of the Rosary at 8 p.m.

STRIKE

About 100 members of the association had struck the high schools last month to back their demand for higher wages.

"While the teachers were not completely satisfied with the contract offer from the archdiocese, they felt it was in the interests of the school system and their students to return to the schools and end the crisis," Killian said.

Nonstriking lay teachers at the seven struck schools yesterday had denounced the American Federation of Teachers for its role in the three-week walkout. The teachers association affiliated with the federation shortly after the strike began.

Ed Fennelly, business manager at Riordan High School in San Francisco, acted as spokesman for nonstriking instructors yesterday and said the strike would have ended two weeks ago if the AFT had not been involved.

Crash Victim Satisfactory

A San Rafael woman was reported in satisfactory condition today at Marin General Hospital with injuries suffered when her car crashed into a San Anselmo shop earlier today.

Terry Leland, 49, of 754 Bamboo Terrace, suffered a cut forehead and left knee and a dislocated right hip, the hospital said.

San Anselmo police said she was injured when she lost control of her car and crashed into the Londoner Fish and Chips Shop, 75 Red Hill Avenue, at 2:15 a.m. today.

A Windmill Caper Staged In Michigan

LUDINGTON, Mich. (UPI)— Mrs. Anna Miteen complained to the Mason County Sheriff's Department that someone had stolen the 35-foot tall windmill from her farm.

Officers said the windmill was sawed off at the base and tracks indcated it had been hauled away in a truck.

LET THERE BE LIGHT

The Christmas lights festooning that tall tree in Courthouse Square in San Rafael today are not the work of Christmas elves. As can be seen here, they were strung Tuesday by members of the San Rafael Fire Department using the department's 85-foot snorkel truck. The lights were provided by the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce.

Patrick Firm To Court Dec. 20 On Sales Count

A San Rafael men's clothing firm, accused of using a false sales pitch to recruit prospective distributors, will be called on to defend itself Dec. 20 in Marin Superior Court.

The firm, Alexander Taylor, Inc., headed by cosmetics magnate William Penn Patrick who is not named in the suit, plans to call two experts in marketing, according to its attorney, Alvin H. Goldstein Jr., to rebut five days of prosecution testimony that ended Tuesday.

The state is asking the court to stop the company from soliciting distributors and to pay $250,000 civil damages and $250,000 punitive damages.

After Diana Woodward Cohan and Michael J. Kelly, deputies in the State Attorney General's office in San Francisco, completed their case, Judge Joseph G. Wilson set the Dec. 20 date to hear the defense's key witnesses.

Mrs. Cohan and Kelly alleged that Alexander Taylor Inc., located at 68 Paul Drive in Northgate Industrial Park, is an "endless chain" scheme that violates the state Penal Code. They said the company also violates the state Franchise Investment Law by not registering its offer of franchises with the state Commissioner of Corporations, and is guilty of misrepresentation.

Mrs. Cohan said the company misrepresented the amount of money a distributor can earn, and told distributors they would get goods directly from the factory at low prices.

Calvin McPherson of Fresno, a senior consultant who worked for the company since December 1970, testified he was told he could earn $31,000 per year by recruiting one senior consultant per month. He said he became disillusioned because he had trouble selling the firm's products.

H. K. White of San Rafael, who was president of Alexander Taylor until Nov. 1, testified that the company's price markup was triple the cost. He said goods bought for $1 would be sold for $3. White was succeeded as president by Thomas J. Benzing of San Diego on Nov. 1.

Gary Richmond, buyer for the company, testified that some suits were marked up more than three times the cost price.

Goldstein protested that the amount of markup has no bearing on the case. "Brooks Brothers might mark up many items more than three times, and cosmetics companies and jewelry stores have markups of 10 and 20 times," said Goldstein.

He said his expert witnesses on Dec. 20 will show that Alexander Taylor is a legitimate clothing firm that is violating no law. "Its object is not to proliferate distributorships but to sell products," said Goldstein.

Judge Wilson said witnesses will be heard on Dec. 20 and final arguments will be presented on Jan. 7.

Alexander Taylor Inc. was founded in the spring of 1970, with offices on Lincoln Avenue in San Rafael. The office moved to Northgate Industrial Park, and Patrick, founder of Holiday Magic cosmetics firm, became chairman of the board of directors in August.

Other Patrick firms include Sta-Power Industries.

Seven Injured By Live Shell

SAIGON (UPI)—South Vietnamese officers "accidentally" threw a live cannon round into a U.S. officers' hut at a Da Nang Air base party Monda, injuring seven Americans, military sources said today.

Official spokesmen confirmed there had been "an explosive device" detonated inside the billet, but refused to give specific details because the case was under investigation.

Vietnamese Air Force officers at a party next door to the American hut had thrown a number of smoke grenades at the officers' barracks, the sources said. Suddenly, apparently by mistake, one threw a shell from an aircraft 40mm cannon at the hut.

FIRE CALLS

YESTERDAY:

10 a.m., Sausalito — Smoke from overheated furnace in the R. Donaldson home, 301 Bridgeway; no damage.

5:09 p.m., San Rafael —Overheated furnace motor in Harry Bach residence, 17 Crestwood Drive, caused minor smoke damage.

6:38 p.m., Petaluma — Car fire at Petaluma Boulevard North and Washington Street; vehicle owned by Theresa Oliver, 10 Bassett Street. Found to be short-circuited battery cable; no damage.

7:26 p.m., Petaluma — Fire in kitchen and entryway of the Richard Robert home, 119 Post Street, caused by overheated pan of grease on stove. No damage estimate made.

9:47 p.m., San Anselmo — Kitchen fire in F.B. Niess home, 317 Laurel Avenue, caused by wax igniting during candle making project. Smoke damage and damage to curtains estimated at $150.

New and prospective brides and bridegrooms should check their health care coverage to make sure they are adequately protected, suggests the Blue Cross Association.

Facelifting Plans For Firms Approved

The Larkspur Planning Commission approved plans yesterday for facelifting the Rainbow Market, 483 Magnolia Avenue, and an adjoining barber shop and beauty parlor, according to the city's planner, John W. Appleton.

The structure will be redecorated with stucco, a coat of paint and trim in conformance with plans for the downtown by the Downtown Action Committee.

The Independent-Journal erred yesterday in reporting that development plans turned down by the Larkspur Planning Commission included only one parking place for each four units.

The plans actually included 1.4 spaces for each of the 224 units as recommended by the city's consultant, Sydney Williams.

The commission shot down the proposal of Larwin Multi-Housing Corp. of Beverly Hills after more than four hours of discussion during which city staff repeatedly warned of a possible lawsuit if the plan was denied.

The commission adjourned to 8 p.m. Tuesday at city hall to take up items on the agenda not discussed last night.

Serving The Needs

DETROIT (UPI) —More than 523,000 trucks serve the daily needs of Michigan's people and industry, reports the Michigan Trucking Association which maintains a Cooperative Safety Patrol of 95 men, some with radar equipment, to check on the driving habits of regulated truckers.

Progress Made On Dutch Elm Disease

DETROIT (UPI) —Detroit is making progress in the war against Dutch elm disease with the 1971 elm inspection revealing 9,600 positive Dutch elm disease cases, a drop of 400 from last year.

"While the figure is still within the 10,000 range we've been experiencing annually, we're holding on to many trees," report Leslie Toth, city forester.

Angela Leaves Her Tiny Cell For Court Hearing

have preferred that the trial be here (Palo Alto) because of the security."

He added there are no women's quarters at the present time in the San Jose building. Miss Davis's chief counsel, Howard Moore Jr., said later that it will take officials about a month to prepare quarters for her in San Jose and she will remain in Palo Alto in the interim.

As for the date of the trial, it was a compromise, according to Asst. Atty. Gen. Albert W. Harris Jr., who said he had asked an earlier one and the defense a later one.

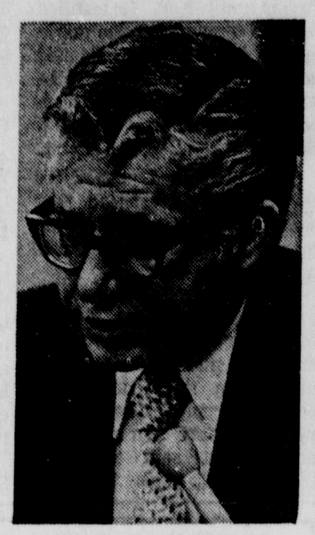
Harris estimated the trial will last from four to six months and said he plans to call about 110 witness. Asked if that number of witnesses was not unusual, Harris replied, "This is a complex case."

He blamed the long delays on Miss Davis's attorneys and her codefendant, San Quentin convict Ruchell Magee, who stalled the case before his case was split from Miss Davis's. His trial awaits the conclusion of hers.

Miss Davis's current quarters and the security in Palo Alto were in great contrast to Marin yesterday.

Outside the four-story building in Palo Alto, only two deputies patrolled in the morning before the crowd of supporters arrived. Although their number was later increased, there were no metal detectors, no personal searches and no banning of "Free Angela" placards within the building.

Business, too, was going on as usual in the building, which seems stark alongside Marin's Civic Center. There was an air of friendly quiet, however, as county workers cheerfully volunteered information.



ALBERT W. HARRIS JR.

"She's almost my roommate," a law librarian said, referring to her proximity to Miss Davis on the basement level of the building.

Outside a tunnel entrance to the jail, a workman was installing drop gates, a precaution apparently due to Miss Davis's presence. Inside the jail, the usual booking desk was manned by sheriff's deputies.

The sheriff's department yesterday handed out pictures of Miss Davis's quarters, showing two tiny cells and an even tinier day room between them.

According to menus given to press, Miss Davis lunched yesterday on chicken gumbo soup, a sandwich and coffee and for dinner she got cole slaw, stew, spinach and jello.

Although Moore carefully refrained from favorably comparing Marin's jail facilities with those at Palo Alto, he said she cannot use her electric typewriter in Palo Alto because there is no electric outlet.

Moore also said he will continue to "fight until there's no more room to fight" against the trial being held in Santa Clara County.

"In many ways, San Jose reminds me of the South," he said, "although there are more races (in San Jose.)"

He had asked her trial be held in San Francisco.

Mini-Plants Urged For Sewage

A retired sanitary district engineer last night urged directors of the Bolinas Community Public Utility District to investigate small packaged sewage treatment plants, with an eye to buying one for use in the district, secretary Helen McKay reported.

She said former engineer Jack Kerr told the board such a small plant might solve the district's sewage problems and stop the district from dumping raw sewage from about 180 homes into Bolinas Lagoon. The district is under an order from the Regional Water Quality Control Board to cease the sewage discharge into the lagoon.

The board appointed Kerr to a committee to study the district's sewage treatment needs and investigate the various treatment plans available, Mrs. McKay said. Others appointed to the committee, which also will study the district's water distribution system, include directors Gregory Hewlett and Fred Wade, district Gen. Mgr. Archie Goldsberry and residents Mark Maser and Peter Warshall.

In another matter, the board agreed to send out a newsletter with water bills.

Innocent Plea In Forgery

Pamela Mae Wilson, 20, of Fairfax, pleaded innocent yesterday in Marin Superior Court to possessing stolen property and forging a credit card sales slip.

Judge E. Warren McGuire set Feb. 14 as the trial date.

She was arrested on Nov. 1 in a Sausalito shop and accused of trying to use someone else's credit card.

School Consolidation Opposed By Cotati

The Cotati School District board agreed last night to oppose consolidation of Southern Sonoma school districts.

Board secretary Miriam Horne said the board agreed that it would not be to the best advantage of the Cotati district to merge with nine other districts and the Petaluma Board of Education.

Southern Sonomans will vote June 6 on whether to merge all elementary schools districts with the Petaluma district. In 1967, voters heavily defeated a unification election. State law requires an election be held at least every four years.

Mrs. Horne said the board believed that residents would have better control over their schools with only local people serving on the school board. They said the tax rate also would increase if districts were unified.

In other matters, the board saw the recently elected Anthony Carbone sworn in as a board member, and met in closed session with Schools Supt. James H. Davidson to instruct him in salary negotiations with the Association of Cotati District Teachers.

7,500 Coupons For Machine

Pupils of San Rafael's Coleman School have collected 7,500 Betty Crocker coupons for the Kidney Foundation drive to buy kidney machines for hospitals.

The coupon collection has been under way for two months as a student council project under Robert Epstein, student council president at the kindergarten-sixth grade school.

The coupons will go toward obtaining a kidney machine for an Oakland hospital since one already has been obtained for Marin County. Eight hundred thousand coupons are required for one such machine.

Merchant Ship Going Under

HONOLULU (UPI) — The Coast Guard said today the Danish merchant vessel "Heering Kirse" was sinking or has sunk in 30-foot seas about 120 miles north of Midway Island.

A spokesman said several SOS signals were received the final one saying, "Leaving ship now." The Coast Guard reported "terrible" weather in the area with visibility three miles.

A Coast Guard C130 search plane was dispatched from Honolulu.

China Charges S. Korea, U.S.

HONG KONG (UPI)—China today accused South Korea and the United States of "increasing acts of war provocations" against North Korea.

The People's Daily said that the United States and South Korea took a "serious" step to "aggravate the tension in Korea deliberately" on Monday by proclaiming a "state of national emergency" in South Korea.

"It is very clear that the perverse action of the Park Chung Hee clique is aimed at further tightening its Fascist military dictatorship over the South Korean people and maintaining its tottering puppet regime," the newspaper said in a commentary broadcast by the New China News Agency.

Yule Trees Exempt From Price Controls

NEW YORK (UPI)—Christmas trees untainted by paint sprays or any other treatment are "raw agricultural products" the Internal Revenue Service declared Wednesday and exempted from the price controls.

The ruling was an early Yuletide gift for Christmas tree vendors who now can charge whatever they wish. The IRS ruling does not apply to artificial trees, those sprayed with paint or fireproofing material or treated in any way.

Five Found Slain In Jersey Mansion

WESTFIELD, N.J. (UPI)—Patricia List, 16, had worked hard to get the lead role in "Streetcar Named Desire," but in early November her drama workshop was told she would not be able to appear in the play.

On Nov. 10, notes were sent to the schools which Patricia and her two brothers, John, 15, and Frederick, 12, attended, saying they would not be in class because the family was taking a vacation to North Carolina.

The day before, the post office had been notified to stop delivering the mail to the $90,000 home of John E. List and family in the affluent New Jersey suburb.

For the next month the 18-room mansion remained apparently empty. The paint began to peel and the lawn as cluttered with unraked leaves. There was no activity in the yard and no one came or went — until Tuesday.

Acting on the suspicions of some neighbors, two policemen entered the house Tuesday and found the bodies of the three children and their mother, Helen, next to each other on top of sleeping bags on the empty ballroom floor. They had been shot to death. In an upstairs closet, police found the children's grandmother — List's mother—Mrs. Alma List, 85, shot in the head.

A warrant was issued for the arrest of John List, who until early November had been a salesman for State Mutual Life

JOHN E. LIST
Object of search

The notes to the schools, the excuse of a vacation and discontinuing the mail apparently were part of an elaborate attempt to conceal the five murders, officials said.

Autopsies showed young John, who police theorized had put up a struggle, had been shot 10 to 12 times and the others had been shot once in the head. All had been dead for more than a month and it appeared some were killed in other sections of the house and dragged to the ballroom. The grandmother lived in an apartment upstairs.

The disappearance of the family caused little notice in the suburb where executives move in and out frequently without making close friends. Edwin Iliano, instructor at Patricia's drama workshop, became concerned when a truant officer visited the house Nov. 22 and found no one home.

Iliano began talking to neighbors and they finally asked the police to investigate.

Except for Patricia, a pretty girl with long straight hair who starred in several other plays, neighbors considered the family reclusive. They said the children's mother apparently was bedridden and List worked hard to make up for it.

"He gave every appearance of being a hardworking, dedicated father," said Dr. William Cunnick Jr., a neighbor. "He played baseball with the boys in the back yard. He took them to Little League games. He drove the kids everywhere, and he did the marketing too, because his wife had a vision problem and couldn't drive."

Betty De Voe, who lived across the street, said she believed Mrs. List had suffered a nervous breakdown and spent most of her time in bed. She said she had not seen Mrs. List in five years, almost the entire time the family lived here.

"Patricia was the true mother of the family," Mrs. De Voe said.

"She was absent from school quite a bit and we heard it was because her mother wanted her to cook for the family," said Alice Manca, a classmate. "We all heard a lot of stories about her mother, but Pat would tell you nothing."

Mrs. Alma List will be buried Monday in Bay City, Mich., Mrs. Helen List, survived by her mother, three brothers and a sister, and a daughter by previous marriage, and the three List children will be buried Saturday in Westfield, after services at the Lutheran Church of the Redeemer, where List taught Sunday school.

"They were a wonderful family," said the pastor, Rev. Eugene Rehwinkel. "God have mercy."

Trio Steals Milk Money

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Three men entered the classroom of a 51-year-old second grade teacher Tuesday and stole about $3 from a paper bag containing her pupils' milk money.

Miriam Elizabeth Hudson, who teaches at Sir Francis Drake Annex in Hunters Point, told school officials that three young men came into the room shortly after classes ended.

She was alone when the men, who apparently knew where the milk money bag was, walked in and locked the door.

Mrs. Hudson's husband later said she was not threatened or harmed.

Found Guilty In Slaying Of Son

OAKLAND, Calif. (UPI)—A middle-age security guard was found guilty Wednesday of killing his 20-year-old son in the kitchen of their home following an argument over long hair and life styles.

Warren Freitas, 53, Castro Valley, was convicted of voluntary manslaughter. He shot his son, Roger, twice with a .32 caliber revolver April 12.

The San Leandro manufacturing firm guard gave himself up after the shooting, which climaxed a feud over his son's anti-establishment attitudes.

Superior Court Judge Harold B. Hove set Dec. 27 for sentencing.

Texas Judge Rules On Topless Dancer

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) — Municipal Judge Ronald D. Earle says a topless dancer cannot be convicted of disorderly conduct unless she creates a disturbance.

He made the ruling in the case of a dancer arrested for performing topless in a nightclub, noting that even if the dance had caused a disturbance, those potentially disturbed had subjected themselves willingly to the experience.

Guilty Plea To Pot Charge

I-J Special Report

YREKA — Michael Bruce Millar, 20, of Homestead Valley, has pleaded guilty in Siskiyou County Superior Court to a charge of possessing marijuana when arrested in Yreka last June 7.

Judge James E. Kleaver set sentencing for Dec. 27.

In exchange for his guilty plea, Millar was told that additional drug charges against him would be dismissed and that he would be fined, not jailed.

Millar was picked up by authorities in Marin County last week after he failed to show up for a trial in Siskiyou County and a bench warrant was issued for him.

Behr To Report On The Legislature

A report on this year's record legislative session will be made by Sen. Peter H. Behr, R-San Rafael, to the Marin County Board of Realtors at 8 a.m. Tuesday at the Corte Madera Lions Club.

The senator will discuss the Legislature's effort to grapple with taxes and ecology issues.

High School 'Exchangers' Are Listed

Ten Redwood High School students will participate in student exchange programs next school year and two others will take part in a summer program, according to the Redwood International Student Exchange.

According to the group, six students will be involved in direct exchange programs with other high schools. They are: Betsy Burton of Kentfield, who will travel to Blandford, England; Bill Chrisman of Tiburon and Monica Moore of Kentfield, both to Preetz, Germany; Brian Ripley to Freiburg, Germany; and Tom Roth and Jeff Guasco, both of Greenbrae, to Highland Park, N.J.

Four others will study abroad, but the location has not been decided, according to a Redwood official. They are Diane Ring, Ann Proctor and Mark Stokes, all of Tiburon, and Reuben Haller of San Francisco.

The two who will participate in 1972 summer programs are Rick Holman of San Rafael and Lynden Larson of Corte Madera, according to the exchange group.

Guilty Plea To Card Forgery

Howard Earl Rhodd, 21, of Novato, has pleaded guilty to a misdemeanor charge of fraudulently using someone else's credit card.

Rhodd was originally charged with a felony, but this was reduced Tuesday in exchange for a guilty plea. Judge David Menary set Dec. 30 for sentencing.

Rhodd was arrested on Nov. 16 in San Rafael where police said he used the credit card of George Morf of San Rafael to get gasoline and a lubrication job from a Third Street service station.

CALLING ALL
CAMERA FANS
By Ken Reichard

THE POLAROID CHRISTMAS FAMILY

Among the most popular photographic gifts is the Polaroid family of cameras ... from the budget-priced Swinger and the remarkable Colorpack II on up to sophisticated models with fine lenses, close-up attachments, timer signals to let you know when the picture is ready, and other features.

We're sometimes asked which is better, a conventional camera or a Polaroid. The answer depends on the user. Polaroid cameras have one great benefit of seeing instant results, which is fun for parties, family get-togehers and the like. They have disadvantages in the areas of fast shooting, reprints, slides, lens attachments.

Whatever your choice, photographic gifts, like the pictures they take, can give a lifetime of enjoyment. See us now for the right camera or other gift selection that shows how much you care.

U.S. Harsh In Paris Talks —Hanoi Envoy Challenged

PARIS (UPI)—The United States formally asked North Vietnam today to comment on reports the Communists have launched military attacks in Cambodia and Laos to force allies into accepting negotiating demands in Paris.

U.S. peace negotiator William J. Porter challenged Hanoi delegate Xuan Thuy to confirm recent reports from Peking quoting visiting North Vietnamese Premier Pham Van Dong as saying Communist negotiating proposals were "an offensive to drive the other side into a corner."

Porter said he had a report that one of Hanoi's government-controlled newspapers "openly admits your intention to step up your military aggression in Laos and Cambodia in order to support this 'diplomatic offensive' and pressure us into negotiating solely on the basis of your demands."

Porter said the Communist performance at the negotiating table was "lamentable." He said Hanoi after three years of talking apparently has not given its Paris representatives the authority to truly negotiate.

"Your authority to answer even the simplest question apparently is non-existent," Porter said. Unlike his predecessors, Porter has been handling his Communist opponents more harshly because his experience in Paris, he said, has strengthened his belief tha Hanoi and Viet Cong delegates merely use the talks as a propaganda forum.

Porter said the Communists so far have been authorized "to provide only immediate and automatic 'no's'" to U.S. and South Vietnamese negotiating offers.

He listed rejection of five basic issues ranging from allied calls for a cease-fire to exchange of war prisoners.

"After 137 sessions and almost three years, your attitude toward a peaceful settlement of the Vietnam problem remains consistently negative," Porter said.

He walked into the conference calling on North Vietnam to agree to the selection of a neutral embassy or consulate in Hanoi to handle mail from U.S. prisoners of war who, he charged again, have not been allowed to write home contrary to international rules.

There are about 200,000 professional firemen in this country.

"Somehow, this all seems like a rerun."

Pope Still Firm On Priest Issue

VATICAN CITY (UPI)—Pope Paul VI repeated his opposition today to a proposal allowing married men to become priests but he did not reject outright a recommendation by the Third International Synod of Bishops to relax the church law.

The synod, which ended Nov. 6, came up with two proposals —one forbidding married men from becoming priests under any circumstances and one which would allow the practice in special cases.

The Pope, in making public documets approved by the group, said he alone would decide when and if any of its recommendations would be converted to church law.

Vatican Secretary of State Jean Villot said the Pope repeated to him his opposition to allowing married men into the priesthood but the recommendation was not publicly rejected outright.

The Pope already had confirmed he would not relax the church law forbidding priests to marry and Villot said the Pope reiterated this again today.

The Pope is not obliged to accept any of the recommendations of the bishops, who spent 38 days in Rome deliberating subjects touching on the lives of all the world's 614 million Roman Catholics.

The Pope himself earlier agreed reluctantly to consider allowing some elderly married men to become priests under special circumstances. That is, in places where there is a desperate shortage of priests.

Other recommendations covered a vast range of subjects, from pollution to the arms race, from church wealth to abortion and birth control.

New Leukemia Research Told

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—A scientist who successfully switched leukemia-producing cells in mice to those that produce antibodies combatting it, says the process is a "long way" from being applied to humans.

Dr. Louis Borella, of St. Jude's Children Research Hospital in Memphis, Tenn., reported on his findings Tuesday at a meeting of the American Society of Hematology.

The doctor said that he introduced a protein called hemocyanin into the spleen cells of mice inflicted with leukemia. The result was a decrease in leukemic cells and an increase in the number of anti-body producing cells, he said.

FIREWOOD: A FAULTY DELIVERY

A haul of firewood headed southbound on Highway 101 at the Marin City exit was sidetracked yesterday when a truck pulling the wood-laden trailer flipped on its side. The driver, Morris T. Bootzin, was uninjured. The California Highway Patrol could furnish no further details of the 3:40 p.m. mishap.

San Rafael Club Asks Book Banned

The San Rafael Improvement Club has adopted a resolution calling for removal of "The Movement Toward a New America" from San Rafael High School and banning views which it represents from the public schools.

The resolution was adopted by the club's executive board on Monday and approved by the membership Tuesday, Marion L. Tacchi, secretary, said today. A copy has been sent to the San Rafael Board of Education.

The resolution says the club investigated the teachings in the book and "we find this teaching to be completely alien to the democratic system by which we live. The book teaches and advocates an overthrow of government . . ."

"We as a group employ (sic) and demand such teachings be banned from our public schools and such books removed immediately," it concluded, "and further:

"Resolved, that copies of this resolution be sent to concerned public citizens, with a view to having it enacted by our Legislature."

Conflict Arises On Playing Field Size

Conflicts between baseball and soccer expansion plans went unresolved last night at the Petaluma Recreation, Music and Parks Commission meeting.

Representatives of the American Little League requested permission to expand the Little League field at Lucchesi Park by 20 feet to accommodate senior league play. Soccer league officials, however, complained that the expansion would cut off a portion of the soccer field, when actually it needs to be enlarged.

The baseball representatives said fences on the expanded field could be made portable to allow for soccer play, but commission members said that would not be a long range solution to the problem. Recreation Director Richard Schollenberger said the expanded field would cost an extra $310 a year maintenance costs.

Representatives of the Valley Little League requested approval for a second baseball field at the La Tercera School play area. Costs for irrigation systems and maintenance at the proposed field have not been determined.

Commission secretary Phyllis Brewer said the commission agreed to gather representatives from all three groups for another meeting later this month to find a solution and send a recommendation to the city council.

Jail Term On Theft Of Car

Robert Ben Choate, 19, of Modesto was sentenced yesterday to 90 days in Marin County Jail and put on supervised probation for two years for auto theft.

Judge E. Warren McGuire of Marin Superior Court sentenced him for stealing a car from the Milton Morse home on Miller Avenue in Mill Valley last September.

Choate and Daryl Lloyd Waddell, 19, of no known address, were arrested on Sept. 17 and charged with burglary of the Morse home as well as car theft. The burglary charge was dropped when they admitted the car theft.

Waddell was sentenced last month to 60 days in jail and two years' probation.

Fire Board In Tiburon Picks Slate

William J. Carter was elected chairman, Fred C. Hannahs vice chairman and Wellman Topham secretary of the Tiburon Fire Protection District board last night, Topham reported.

The board also awarded a contract for an emergency power generator to Cal West Electric Co. of South San Francisco, low bidder at $2,992, Topham said. Installation will run another $300.

The board agreed to consider at its next meeting Jan. 12 a policy on providing emergency aid to residents. Topham said some citizens are "going too far" in their requests for assistance.

Winds Hamper Fire Fighters

VENICE (UPI)—The strong winds that whistled through Southern California helping to spread numerous fires for two days began to diminish Thursday but not before hampering firefighters at two major early morning blazes.

The wind swept a greater alarm fire through three homes and two apartment buildings in venice shortly before 4 a.m. Some 30 residents, many in their night clothes, evacuated the structures.

A fire department spokesman said the blaze was believed caused by a faulty furnace in one of the homes. The flames whipped by the winds, then spread to the other buildings, causing an estimated $75,000 damage.

Youth Held In Burglary Probe

Two 16-year-old Petaluma boys have been arrested in connection with the theft of six cases of liquor from a Northwestern Pacific Railroad car.

The youths were booked into Sonoma County Juvenile Hall on suspicion of burglary, possession of stolen property and possession of alcohol by a minor. Police refused to name the youths or give further information about the case on the advice of the Sonoma County District Attorney's office.

Officers said they believed a third youth was involved in the theft and would be arrested today. Police said some of the liquor, valued at $238, had been recovered.

Belvedere Building Story Clarification

(Editor's note: A story in Tuesday's Independent-Journal reporting Belvedere City Council adoption of an emergency ordinance imposing an interim building moratorium contained numerous errors. The council, by a 4-0 vote, approved the measure, which will be in effect for 90 days, in order to consider zoning revisions proposed in a study by the planning consultant firm of Livingston and Blayney. Following is a summary of the inaccuracies and their correction.)

The story quoted City Atty. Robert F. MacKay as saying the moratorium would deprive owners of property rights, but MacKay said he was referring to an alternate moratorium suggestion which was not adopted. The attorney said he is convinced the adopted ordinance does not infringe upon property rights.

Further, City Mgr. William L. Cavalli was quoted as giving assurances to MacKay that a property owner could file for a conditional use permit to build or repair during the 90-day period. MacKay told the I-J he made the assurance, adding that a property owner would be eligible to file only if he met requirements of the ordinance, and would be granted a building permit only if the planning commission and city council approve a conditional use permit.

The moratorium, MacKay said, was not suggested by Livingston and Blayney, as the story reported. The attorney said he drew up the ordinance following discussions with city officials, who have been reviewing the firm's proposals since the plan was offered in June.

Mayor Thomas S. Price was quoted as saying the city would use the 90-day period to examine zoning suggestions, preserve the status quo and to protect the "safety, health and welfare of the community," when he, in fact, was reading from Livingston and Blayney's report.

Elsewhere in the story, Councilman Edwin J. Drechsel was reported to have said that "housebuilders who are complying with conditional use" could sue the city. Said MacKay, "My recollection is that Councilman Drechsel simply raised the question that the city might be subjecting itself to lawsuits by imposing the moratorium." The attorney said he pointed out "that property owners could still obtain building permits and commence new construction provided the contemplated construction satisfied the conditional use requirements."

The story also quoted MacKay as indicating the moratorium would prevent rebuilding of "faulty structures." The attorney said, "I do not recall making any such statement, and it would be out of my province to do so." Moreover, he added, "so long as the proposed construction complies with the existing and future restrictions, it would be permitted after obtaining the use and building permits."

Spending Hike

MANILA (UPI) — Household spending in the Phillippines increased at a rate of 3.9 per cent last year, compared with 6.1 per cent in 1969, government statistics show.

White House Is Being Decorated For Christmas

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Christmas season officially opened at the White House today as the household staff began to deck the halls with boughs of holly and trim a 20-foot fir tree with sparkling baubles.

The massive evergreen, a gift from North Carolina tree growers, goes up in the Blue Room —Pat Nixon's favorite spot for it. Some of last year's trimmings were to be used again but there were expected to be some new touches in the executive mansion this yuletide.

Mrs. Nixon has requested J. W. Lidden, a Philadelphia floral designer, to transform the White House for the thousands of vistors who will come to see it during the holiday season.

The $25,000 native Italian crib donated to the White House during the Johnson era again will be the main attraction in the gold-draped East Room. The White House will be closed to public tours Friday and Saturday during decorating.

Supervisors Agree To Continue 'Swing Shifts'

The Marin County Board of Supervisors has agreed to continue its schedule of holding a "swing shift" night meeting once a month for at least another few months.

Supervisors, under pressure from the Marin Alternative and other groups, agreed Tuesday to continue the afternoon-night sessions before evaluating their aiding public participation in government.

Due to the holidays, December will not have a night meeting.

However, night meetings will be held on the last Tuesday of January, February and March, the supervisors said.

County Administrator John F. Barrows had recommended that night meetings be held only when public interest in an issue was high.

The Marin County Board of Supervisors also:

ROAD REALIGNMENT — Turned down a request from a group of Bayside Acres residents that the board reconsider the approved realignment of Point San Pedro Road from Bayside Acres to Peacock Gap. Residents said the road widening poses a threat to pedestrians.

CONTRACT — Approved an $800 contract for a consultant to the planning department to study the compatibility of housing development to agricultural use in the agricultural preserve. The consultant will be Edward P. Morphy of San Rafael.

CLOSED SESSION — Entered a 15-minute closed session to discuss threatened litigation against the county by a former employee who contends he was fired from the public defender's office before his probationary period was up.

NAME CHANGE — Authorized changing the name of Quarry Road near McNear's Beach to Haley Road in memory of Superior Court Judge Harold J. Haley who was killed in the 1970 Civic Center shoot-out.

MOTORCYCLE — Directed the parks and recreation department to help the county's ad hoc motorcycle committee find open land for off-street riding. A location near Gnoss Field was suggested by Supervisor Arnold Baptiste.

CONVENTION — Authorized expenditure of $250 to host a state-wide convention of county auditor-controllers next February in Marin. The convention is expected to draw about 200 persons.

POLICE RELATIONS — Heard a progress report from Bella A. Aaron of the police-community relations project on the three-year, state-funded police training program in Marin.

AMBULANCE — Authorized a reduction in the rates charged West Marin residents using the county fire department's ambulance in trips to the West Marin Medical Center. Some residents were charged the $80 rate — levied for trips to Marin General Hospital — for the short runs which are now set at $37.50 plus $1.50 per mile.

FIRE HOUSE — Awarded a $103,000 contract with Joseph Redmond Co. to construct the Marin City Fire Station and Sheriff's substation. Approval of the contract was delayed earlier over insurance matters.

SOUND EQUIPMENT — Approved purchase of $4,645 worth of additional sound equipment for the new Marin Veterans Memorial Building. The equipment includes sophisticated recording devices.

BIKE TRAILS — Received a report from the parks and recreation department on bicycle trails showing constructin of such paths near Fort Baker and between Novato and Stafford Lake as highest priority.

CLAIM — Rejected a claim for damages totaling $1 million from the family of Frank DeLeon, a San Quentin guard killed in the August escape attempt by inmates. Claims from the families of two other guards killed have also been rejected.

Texas Commission Has Growth Goal

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) —The Texas Industrial Commission set up goal for industrial growth in 1963 designed to carry the state through 1977.

The 15-year plan alreadh is over 90 per cent completed, however, and officials now expect the goals to be reached during 1971 —six years ahead of schedule.

TOSSING TRASH IN TIBURON

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Bullard gather discarded beer cans (left) and dump the litter from their cleanup efforts into a bin (right) at the Hilarita Housing Project in Tiburon. The Hilarita couple joined in a three-pronged attack on the litter problem by residents, the Marin County Housing Authority and the state Division of Highways. Bullard said the cleanup, expected to last a week, is a public relations gesture to blunt criticism of the new Hilarita housing project. The existing development of World War II barracks housing is to be torn down within six months to make room for a moderate income apartment project. (Independent-Journal photos)

Overthrow Plot Sentences Given

CAIRO (UPI)—Former Vice President Aly Sabry and a group of former government officials were found guilty today of plotting to overthrow President Anwar Sadat and were sentenced to death. But Sadat commuted their sentences to life at hard labor.

The Middle East News Agency said a three man revolutionary court passed the sentences on Sabry, Former Interior Minister Eharawi Gomaa, former presidential affairs minister Sami Sharaf and Farid Abdel Karim Bisyouni, an official of the Arab Socialist Union, Egypt's only political party.

The agency said former war minister Mohammed Fawzi, in a separate trial before a military court, was sentenced to life imprisonment today. This was reduced to 15 years in jail at hard labor by Sadat on appeal.

Reinecke's Redistricting Idea Brings Quick, Heated Reaction

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Legislative reapportionment, supposedly enjoying a 10-day cooling off, was thrust into new controversy today after Lt. Gov. Ed Reinecke announced plans to activate a Republican-dominated redistricting commission.

Reaction exploded in every direction:

—Republicans split their support and opposition.

—So did commission members.

— Republican Atty. Gen. Evelle Younger, himself a commissioner, urged Reinecke not to carry through, at least until the legislature completes its current reapportionment special session.

But Reinecke, chairman of the commission, said he had no choice under the state Constitution but to activate the commission "within 30 days" since the Legislature failed to reapportion itself during the 11-month-long regular session.

He told reporters Wednesday he was convinced the current special session on reapportionment called by Gov. Ronald Reagan at the request of lawmakers is unconstitutional. He indicated he might challenge in court any redistricting plan passed by the legislature and signed by Reagan.

The lawmakers recessed the special session Tuesday for 10 days so legislative leaders of both parties and staff consultants could meet together and quietly attempt to draft a compromise.

The commission, never used in modern history, includes Reinecke, Younger and state Controller Houston Flournoy, all Republicans, and state Schools Superintendent Wilson Riles and Secretary of State Edmund G. Brown Jr., both Democrats.

Democrats contend the commission is unconstitutional on ground it would be illegal to delegate legislative power to a separate government agency.

The Constituion provides for the commission in case the legislature doesn't reapportion itself, and Reinecke said he had private legal advice that the concept is legally "valid."

"I think the responsibility of the commission is to come up with a fair, honest and equitable nonpartisan approach to reapportionment, something the people of California have never had."

Assemblyman Henry Waxman, Assembly Democratic reapportionment chairman, said Reinecke agreed not to activate the commission until the Legislature had an opportunity to act in exchange for Waxman's promise not to test the commission's legality in court.

He accused the lieutenant governor of breaking a "gentlemen's agreement" but Reinecke said the lawmaker "read a lot more into my words than I indicated."

Reinecke said he was merely serving "notice of intent" to gear up the commission and said he assured Waxman "under no circumstances would I pull any surprises."

Pisces Is Visible Any Clear Evening

By SHERMAN WALKER

The constellation of the Fishes (Pisces) is one that can be seen on most any clear night at this season, but it is a little on the dim side and its delicate lines can best be traced out on a moonless night. The two fishes are separately known as the Western Fish and the Northern Fish. They are supposed to be tied together at the tails, and the star where the two lines join is called Al Rischa, which translates as the Knot.

The Northern Fish appears to be headless, but the other has a well-defined head made up of a very pretty little subgroup called the Circlet. About 5 degrees southeast of the Circlet is the vernal equinox where the sun crosses the celestial equator on March 21-22 in its apparent journey northward.

To locate the Fishes, face southward at 9 p.m. and look at the region of the sky that is three-fourths of the distance up from the southern horizon to overhead.

The Fishes are made up of stars of magnitudes 4 and 5 in almost equal numbers. Stars of magnitude 5 are at the limit of vision and are the faintest that can be seen without optical aid.

A few persons claim to be able to see stars of the 6th magnitude, but this requires exceptional eyes and exceptional observing conditions.

Pick 'Em On Ability, Not Sex

FRAMINGHAM, Mass. (UPI) —Gloria Cuzzi broke tradition her first day in the job as superintendent of the state women's reformatory here.

She appointed Alfred D'Simone, 42, of Foxboro deputy superintendent Wednesday. He is the first male to hold the post.

"One should be picked on the basis of ability and not on sex," Mrs. Cuzzi said.

List Of Numbers On Skyjacker's Loot

The list is being sent to police departments, banks and other financial and business places across the country. The hijacker jumped from the plane with the ransom money while it was en route from Seattle to Reno, Nev., and has not been heard from.

Heavy Snow Blankets Sections Of Montana

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Heavy snow, freezing rain and high winds continued to blanket the western portion of the nation today as two powerful storm systems remained anchored overhead.

Heavy snow warnings were posted for the south central Rockies and the adjacent plains of New Mexico while blizzard warnings were in effect for the southwest portion of Montana.

Los Alamos, N.M., was buried under nearly a foot of new snow and 10 inches of snow covered Jemez Springs, N.M.

High winds combined with snow and blowing snow reduced visibilities in the southwestern portion of Montana to near zero as severe weather warnings were posted. At Livingston, Mont., wind gusts were better than 70 miles an hour with a recorded peak of 90 miles an hour.

Gusts of up to 80 miles an hour forced the closure of Interstate 90 and U.S. 10 between Bozeman and Big Timber, Mont., as visibility in the area reportedly dropped down to one-sixteenth of a mile.

Semi-trailer trucks, snow plows and an unknown number of private cars were blown off the slick, wind-swept road.

Continuing sub-zero temperatures created logjams of ice above Great Falls, Mont., in the Missouri River slowing the water flow necessary for hydroelectric power. Power problems were felt as far south as Billings and as far west as Missoula.

Additional snow fell in the upper Mississippi Valley and travelers' warnings were posted for much of the interior of New England as light snow mixed with rain coated highways with an icy glaze.

Exceptionally warm weather spread over southern Texas and much of Florida with early morning lows in the 60s and 70s.

Throughout the rest of the east cloudy and mild weather was the rule although showers and thunderstorms were occurring near the Mississippi river.

Temperatures ranged from nine below zero at Aberdeen S.D., to 75 at McAllen, Tex.

ALFABELLE DOUGLAS
(Independent-Journal photo)

I-J's Alfabelle Douglas Retiring After 25 Years

"I haven't been sorry."

That's the way Alfabelle Douglas looked back on the day 25 years ago when she stopped at the office of Marin newspaperman Roy A. Brown on her way to a job interview.

Brown offered her a job. She called the other business and canceled the interview and has remained with the newspaper since.

That career will end Dec. 31 when Mrs. Douglas will retire from her position as Independent-Journal credit manager.

She started in a business office with three employees and a newspaper with a circulation of 8,000. She'll leave a business office employing 11 and a newspaper with a circulation of about 43,000.

As credit manager, it's been her job to check the credit of large advertisers, approve giving them credit and then "try" to collect it, she said.

When she started with the newspaper, "I thought it was the most thrilling thing in the world to work for a newspaper," she said.

The thrill has faded, she said, but has always come back again.

The growth of the paper has been "almost unbelievable," Mrs. Douglas said, but she looked back with fond memories of the days when "it was more of a family affair."

Now some departments are larger than the whole staff was 25 years ago, she said.

Mrs. Douglas, 65, who was born, raised and married in Kansas came to California with her husband, Glenn, in 1942, when the war made it difficult for Douglas to get supplies for his oil field welding shop.

Douglas continued in the welding business for several years and later worked as a guard at San Quentin Prison. He died in 1952.

Mrs. Douglas, who lives at 260 Merrydale Road, San Rafael, said she's looking forward to retirement.

"I have so many things I want to do, I could never get them all in," she said.

For starters, she's planning a trip to visit a friend in Egypt. Other activities will include organ lessons, work with the Christian Church of San Rafael and further involvement with meditation and the Inner Light Foundation of Novato.

Arson Suspect Dies Of Burns

NAPLES, Italy (UPI)—One of two men charged with arson and multiple homicide in the explosion which destroyed an apartment building at Frattaminore last week died early today.

The death of Francesco Mozzillo, 64, brought to 16 the number of persons killed by the explosion.

Raffaele Donelli, 63, owner of a furniture store on the ground floor of the building, also is charged with arson and multiple homicide.

Police said the explosion apparently came after gasoline was poured on the floor and walls of the furniture store.

Ferry Music On Again; Temporary Truce Reached

A temporary truce between the Golden Gate Commuters Club and Musicians Union Local 6 will allow resumption tomorrow of live music aboard the 5:30 p.m. Sausalito ferry from San Francisco.

David Elliott Stovel of Sausalito, publicity director for the club, said the union had granted the club a 30-day reprieve on its demand that the musicians be paid union scale.

Pressure from the union forced cancellation of last week's Friday music program. The union threatened to picket the ferryboat, which could have forced it to stop operating.

Stovel, praising union officials for their "cooperative attitude," said they had given the club a month to negotiate a contract assuring payment of union-scale wages. Stovel, an architect, said the contract would mean the weekly programs would cost about $3,000 a year, adding the club will seek donations "from wealthy Bay Area citizens."

The club started the programs about two months ago, paying musicians whatever commuters gave voluntarily.

Contract For School Additions

The San Rafael Board of Education last night awarded a $105,740 contract for classroom additions at Santa Venetia Middle School to Pearson and Johnson Co. of San Francisco.

The company submitted the lowest of five bids, Supt. John F. Plank reported.

Plank said the base bid calls for construction of three new classrooms at the school and modernization of six others.

Alternate bids by Pearson and Johnson accepted by the board were a $13,800 offer for covered locker areas and $28,000 for an additional exercise room at the school gymnasium.

Plank said the projects should be completed by July 1972 and will be paid for with a final $100,000 remaining from a 1965 construction bond issue and reserves in this year's budget.

Two Minor Crashes In Traffic Jam

Skies cleared over Marin this morning but not before rains that began in the night had contributed to two minor traffic mishaps which backed up traffic on Highway 101 to the Marin County Civic Center.

The California Highway Patrol said accidents at the crest of Puerto Suello Hill in San Rafael and on the Golden Gate Bridge teamed up with slick pavement to contribute to heavier than-usual traffic.

The patrol said the regular morning traffic jam, which usually stretches from Greenbrae to the bridge, began around the Civic Center today. No details of either accident were available.

A spokesman for the California Division of Highways said the road work being done to the freeway Tuesday and yesterday is complete and there should be no repeat of delays caused by closing of lanes near Marin City.

He said the lanes were closed from 9:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. both days for repaving, catching the tail end of the commute jam and also hordes of shoppers on their way to San Francisco.

Gate Span Crash— Ross Woman Critical

A Ross woman whose car collided with a tractor-trailer on the southern approach to the Golden Gate Bridge yesterday was reported in critical condition today with multiple fractures and internal injuries.

The California Highway Patrol credited the truck driver with averting an even more serious accident by bringing his brakeless rig to a stop and preventing it from jackknifing into the opposite lane.

A spokesman at Mission Emergency Hospital said Ravelle M. Prola, 22, of 34 Shady Lane, was in the intensive care unit with multiple fractures of the legs and ribs and a collapsed left lung.

The highway Patrol said her car, southbound on Doyle Drive at 11:20 a.m., crossed the center divider and struck the rear of a trailer rig driven by Lawrence H. Laackman, 37, of Broderick, Yolo County, knocking one pair of wheels off.

According to the patrol, Laackman said he felt a jolt and looked into his rear view mirror to see the wheels rolling away. The trailer began to slide, throwing sparks, the patrol quoted Laackman as saying, but he managed to keep the rig in the northbound lanes and downshifted the brakeless truck to a stop.

A San Francisco Fire Department rescue squad extricated the injured woman from the wreckage and rushed her to the hospital. Traffic in both directions was slowed for nearly an hour while crews cleared the wreckage.

Panel Seeks Session On City Growth

The Petaluma Water Commission yesterday called for a joint meeting with the city planning commission to coordinate efforts to keep city growth in line with the amount of water available.

The commission supported the efforts of the city council in urging the Sonoma County Water Agency to make more water available by next June to meet projected increases in water consumption, but said a meeting should be held as soon as possible with the planning commission to study all possible contingencies.

City engineer David A. Young has said that all building will stop in Petaluma next summer if more water is not available. He said new wells should be drilled on Russian River and a new pumping station installed in Cotati to increase the water supply to Petaluma and North Marin.

Office Party Still Popular

NEW YORK (UPI)—The office Christmas party, often criticized because of excessive drinking and necking, is still popular with many companies, the Administrative Management Society said Wednesday.

In spite of all the criticism and the 1970-71 recession, just about as many companies will have office parties this year, the society said. The actual proportion is 68 per cent, down only 1 per cent in the past four years.

And 74 per cent of the parties will have liquor compared with only 67 per cent four years ago.

Of the companies that answered the society's inquiry and said they were not having parties this year, 61 per cent said they had Christmas parties in the past.

Mill Valley Site For Yule Songs

Mill Valley's Lytton Square will ring with the music of 40 young voices tomorrow when the Tamalpais High School choir and the madrigal singers present a program of Christmas carols and holiday music.

The 30-minute concert, which begins at 6:30 p.m., is being sponsored by radio station KTIM and Mill Valley merchants. The program will be broadcast on KTIM-FM.

The singers will hold forth from a flatbed truck to be parked in front of the Mill Valley Chamber of Commerce office fronting on the square, according to Hugh Turner of KTIM.

The Christmas concert was a tradition in Mill Valley for many years but was dropped several years ago, Turner said. Laurence A. Nelson, a music teacher at Tamalpais High, will direct the choir and madrigal singers.

Also on hand will be Rita Abrams, the schoolteacher who wrote and recorded, along with her class, the "Mill Valley," and Richard C. Conrad, past president of the chamber of commerce.

Secret Memo Claim On Closing Of Two Public Health Hospitals

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Rep. Paul Rogers, D-Fla., disclosed a secret administration memorandum today which indicates the government wants to close the Boston and San Francisco public health hospitals this year and turn them over to local organizations.

At a news conference, the chairman of the public health and environment subcommittee charged the Department of Health, Education and Welfare with "Conspiracy" to withhold this information from Congress.

Rogers said Congress appropriated $85.7 million for eight Public Health Service hospitals and 30 clinics with the directive they remain under government control through mid-1973.

The memo, dated Nov. 10 from Assistant Health Secretary James B. Cardwell, said it was important to demonstrate to the Office of Management and Budget (OMB). "We are definitely going to do something about the two cities in question —this year —here and now."

He said the OMB which is the White House budget arm, needed the information to determine employment ceilings.

"In short," the Cardwell memo said, "all this means that we can not postpone for very long identification of Boston and San Francisco for early conversion. This means, of course, that we have to sound out the proposals affecting those two cities immediately."

Rogers told newsmen there was a rumor the Boston hospital might be turned over to a private consortium soon.

He was enraged at language in the memo which suggested Rogers and other congressmen be excluded from the department's plans.

He said Health Secretary Elliot Richardson should review the status of Cardwell and other officials involved in the memorandum, but stopped short of recommending they be fired.

The memorandum said Rogers and other congressmen should get an "innocuous" letter describing the results of studies on whether the hospitals should be converted.

"It is quite clear that we will eventually have to go up and explain both the proposals and our decisions concerning them to Rogers and other key members, and committees.

"Primarily at the suggestion of Steve Kurzman (another assistant secretary), we decided that the better part of valor at this time would be to offer them as few materials as we can get away with and hold off for as long as possible a confrontation concerning what we will or will not do vis-a-vis each of the hospitals."

Rogers said "This obvious policy of withholding information in an attempt to keep the Congress from acting is the most arrogant form of contempt for the legislative branch of government I have seen."

"This conspiracy leads me to believe that HEW's (the Health Department) attempt to pervert the law in this situation by secretly withholding information most probably is carried throughout the department on many other situations and completely undermines any information which the Congress receives on other matters."

Private Club Plans Approved

Preliminary plans for a private swimming and tennis club in Scott Valley have been approved by the Mill Valley Architectural Advisory Committee.

Zoning administrator Howard R. McGill said the Scott Valley Swim and Tennis Club still must receive a conditional use permit from the city Planning commission and final architectural approval from the advisory committee.

The club, to be located on 5.32 acrss at the east end of Underhill Road, will consist of six tennis courts, a swimming pool, an office building, locker and equipment rooms and 27 parking spaces.

Innocent Pleas In Charges Of Burglary

Two Oakland men have pleaded innocent in Marin Municipal Court to a charge of burglarizing the Pacific Motor Co. and the Railway Express Agency at 35 Jordan Street in San Rafael on Dec. 3.

Franklin Wilder, 24, and Fred Michael Chavez, 24, appeared before Marin Municipal Court Judge Robert A. Smallman, who set preliminary hearing for Dec. 21.

Marin Women

DR. BETTY HALPERN, (standing) and Mrs. Libby Byers (seated foreground) share an office at Sonoma State College, where it is not unusual for them to hold a class and conference simultaneously. Their students are enrolled either in the early childhood credential or permit program; both designed to train educators of young children.

Sonoma State — One Of A Kind

By DYANNE FORTNER

Of the 19 California state colleges, Sonoma State College in Rohnert Park has the only accredited early childhood credential program.

Dr. Betty Halpern, coordinator of the two-year-old program, and her colleague, Mrs. Libby Byers, explained modestly, "we had a good proposal ready when the accreditation team came to the college and it was accepted on its first draft."

Dr. Halpern said that a prerequisite for the fifth year program is to have a BA or post graduate degree in any major but management. Two semesters of 15 units each are required of students. This includes student-teaching experiences in three school settings — the pre-school, kindergarten and one of the first three grades. The program is limited to 24 students because class space is at a premium and because of the size of staff needed to supervise that number of student teachers.

"THESE ARE beautiful kids, bright. I like them," said Dr. Halpern of her students. "It's a different choice now, they have their degrees. Education isn't the last alternative but rather a discovery to involve themselves in educating the young."

Of the three young men in the credential program, the coordinator mentioned they lend a definite balance to classroom teaching.

"Most of the fellows feel that for too long the classroom has had an atmosphere of a feminine trip," she said. "My students are compassionate with one another: I don't teach competitiveness in my classroom. We're a very integrated group and enjoy the feedback between each other, whether it is in the classroom or on a field trip," she said.

Dr. Halpern has recently been named by the state colleges chancellor to the liaison committee on early childhood education articulation conference. Also, she recently accepted an invitation to serve on the accreditation committee for the early childhood program at Chico State College.

BETTY HALPERN immigrated to New York City with her parents from Rumania at the age of 5 and lived at home until she was 20. (Her daughter, 19, and studying music in India, recently moaned, "Mama, you mean you stayed at home with your mother until you were 20?")

She holds a BA in drama, an MA in elementary education and an ED. D., all from the University of California at Berkeley.

"Role Playing: Its Therapeutic and Educative Application to the Black Ghetto Child" was her thesis topic. She has worked two summers at the Bank Street College of Education in New York. For 15 years she served as director of the Berkwood School in Berkeley, a kindergarten through sixth-grade environment. Before joining the Sonoma State faculty three years ago, she was a member of San Francisco State College's and U.C. Berkeley's faculty.

Special interest areas of Dr. Halpern include the curriculum of the elementary school: language arts, reading, children's literature and creative dramatics.

A recent publication by the educator is titled, "Using Creative Writing, Dramatics and Role Playing with the Mexican American Child."

She and her husband, a psychologist, reside in Berkeley and are the parents of a 22-year-old son.

THE PERMIT program, described by Mrs. Sanford Byers, is in its fifth year at Sonoma State College. Its emphasis is the education of young children from the ages of 2 to 5. Graduates earn a certificate which authorizes them to teach in any California preschool situation, public or private.

Recommended prerequisites are a major in psychology, anthropology, sociology or an approved behavioral science plus 12 semester units of psychology and a standing of junior or above. Student teaching also is required of the participant with an emphasis on planning activities for the young child as well as evaluating his growth in learning. This program also is limited to 15 students because of staff size needed to supervise appointments of the student teachers.

Although the outlook for teacher placement appears to be negative, Mrs. Byers acknowledged that of the graduates desiring jobs, all were placed last year.

She continued that if a teacher is to be effective and enjoy a harmonious relationship with students she must maintain a positive attitude.

"On campuses today you will discover many students fleeing authoritarian homes," she stated. "However, without realizing it, most are seeking the comforts of structure. They will eventually see guidelines are necessary but only at a later time in their lives."

She said that often a student will come to her and admit "what a fine rapport" they share despite an age differece. "What they don't understand is that they need a good relationship with someone of their parents' age, if not with their parents."

MRS. BYERS expects her students to be concerned with the possible misunderstandings young children have of certain experiences, for example a divorce or death in a family.

"A child sometimes blames himself and carries a burden of guilt because he does not understand that he was not responsible for the event. To restrict ourselves from being swept away emotionally as adults we must balance our thoughts and feelings. Sometimes it is our intellect that pulls us through life's crises," she believes.

LIBBY BYERS lives in San Rafael. Her husband is a research chemist in coronary disease. The Byerses are parents of four sons and a daughter, ranging in age from 16 to 27. A native of New York, she holds a degree in physiology from Hunter College and an MA from San Francisco State College in early childhood education. She is now a doctoral candidate at U.C. Berkeley. Commuting more than 100 miles a day, she supervises 12 students in 10 locations throughout Marin County and Berkeley.

An extension class at Coleman School also is taught by Mrs. Byers and she admitted, "The feedback from this class of experienced teachers. . . he aring it from the horse's mouth is invaluable to me."

Children's art and literature are her curriculum favorites and her most recent publication is a paper titled, "To Laugh Is To Know," seeking the cognitive element in children's humor. She is the vice-president of the Northern California Association for the Education of Young Children.

Good Combination

A good combination for clean-up chores is a straw scrubber and a low-phosphate, all-purpose cleaner. Straw scrubbers, made from the root of the rice plant, won't absorb water and can be used for all types of scrub jobs, according to the household products department of American Cyanamid Company.

Attorney Describes Women's Struggle In Law Profession

By PAT BALMES

"It is an alienating experience to walk into a courtroom full of men. You feel intimidated with no support from other women," attorney Colquitt Walker told students at Redwood High School Little Theater on Wednesday.

In a soft, southern accent the woman attorney added that her career has been stimulating and exciting. A woman lawyer must be poised, not shy. She must be competitive; willing to work long hours in a competitive field.

Miss Walker, assistant dean of Boalt Hall School of Law, University of California in Berkeley, spoke on "The Law as a Profession for Women."

She told high school boys and girls that young women must start thinking about what they are going to do after college and marriage. Textbooks are "horrible" and do not stimulate girls to think beyond teaching and being laboratory technicians. They depict men as the professionals.

"I DID not know what a woman lawyer looked like. I only knew I wanted to be a lawyer," she recalls.

Girls should not think of a profession as ominous or that a professional woman is a non-fun, aggressive type, she said.

Intoning reasons why there are so few womenin professions, she droned for effect,

"Everybody is telling them they can not do it. They do not think that they can do it. They do not try to do it."

Women number 9 per cent of doctors, 2 per cent of lawyers and 1 per cent of accountants, engineers and architects, she said.

"The only way to break down the sex barrier in professions is by numbers. If women would graduate in large numbers from law schools, they would be more accepted in professions. The law requires firms to hire women in law in the same proportion to men, as they are available in the national pool of available lawyers."

FIRMS COP OUT by saying, "There are no women. We cannot find qualified women."

At Boalt Hall Law School this year, 25 per cent of the freshman class was women. The assistant dean says they represent only 12 per cent of the applications. The women lawyers group there has made posters for high schools reading, "WANTED BY THE LAW: WOMEN!"

Boalt Hall's top graduate this year is a woman in her early thirties, a wife and the mother of two children. She has been appointed clerk to Justice William O. Douglas of the Supreme Court, and her husband will accompany her to Washington, D.C.

Law firms come to Boalt Hall to interview second and third year law students for jobs. The school's sex discrimination committee may show concern about the firm's attitude toward women, she said.

"If they ask women law students what they are going to do after marriage Are they going to have children? The committee may feel they are in violation of the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission ruling. They may ask the law firm not to come back and interview their students," Miss Walker said.

Reciting the gloomy prospect facing a woman law graduate in recent years, Colquitt said Harvard Law School only took its first woman student in 1950. Her prospect if she got a job with a prestigious firm was a low-status position in the back room, doing some kind of family law.

Of 5,000 judges in the United States 150 are women. Women are stopped from becoming judges because they cannot achieve the steps before judgeship, becoming partners in law firms, clerks to judges or political appointees, she said.

FEDERAL JUDGE clerkships, a most sought-after position, is almost closed to women graduates, she says. Only four Federal judges have had women clerks.

There are only 53 women law professors in the United States.

Of the 92,500 law students in the United States 8,800 are women, but that is an increase of 2,000 women over last year, Dean Walker said.

Colquitt Walker is the author of an article on sex discrimination in government benefits to be published in the Hastings Law Journal later this month. She is a graduate of Salem College in Winston-Salem, N.C., and Emory University school of law in Atlanta, Ga. She has practiced law in Oakland, Jersey City, N.J., and Atlanta.

Mr. and Mrs. Roby E. Thomas are announcing the engagement of their daughter Jean Marie to Kenneth H. Loer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Loer, all of Novato.

Jean is the sister of Mrs. Steven D. Reynolds of South Pasadena, Stanley Thomas, serving with the Navy and Alan Thomas of Novato. Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Loura of San Francisco are the future bride's local grandparents. She was graduated from San Marin High School and is attending Santa Rosa Junior College. She is employed at Mix and Match in Novato and Louella's in San Anselmo.

Kenneth was graduated from Novato High School and Gavilan College near Gilroy. He is employed at Williams Brothers in Terra Linda.

Wins Round In Fight Against Plane Smoking

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz. — When Mrs. Herbert E. Carnes, internationally known ornithologist, wants something she doesn't give up until she gets it.

Her latest victory came when American Airlines agreed to put in a no-smoking section on all flights, but it didn't come until she canceled reservations and flew either United or TWA, both of which have no smoking areas on all planes.

The climax came in Buffalo when she learned her American flight was filled and no arrangement could be made for nonsmokers. So she transferred to TWA. A letter of apology came from American.

She has no problem with guests in her home. A tactful little sign everyone sees reads, "Thank you for not smoking" saves everyone embarrassment. (Los Angeles Times Syndicate.)

Holiday Party

Tamalpais Retirement Residence annual Christmas party will be held Dec. 20 in the auditorium of the residence in Greenbrae.

A Christmas pageant with Mr. and Mrs. Santa Claus will precede the exchange of gifts and refreshments.

Women's Lib Movement In Morocco

RABAT, Morocco (UPI) — American women discard their bras and Europeans on occasion disrobe completely in the name of women's "lib," but Moroccans still consider it rather risque even to lower their veils in public.

Equality of the sexes in this Arab monarchy has progressed considerably from the time a few years ago when Princess Llalla Aiche unveiled for the first time in public to dramatize women's demands for a better deal.

American author Paul Bowles, a longtime resident of Tangier, recalled the outrage among conservatives then, and how "many of my friends whispered the princess was a harlot and worse."

Today, the princess is her country's ambassador to Rome, the highest position reached by any woman in Morocco.

Women have been granted the right to vote. Many city girls dress Western style, sport bikinis on the beach, and coyly hold hands in public with their boy friends.

ON THE AGENDA

Santa To Make An Appearance At Yacht Club's Party For Children

The Christmas party season has arrived and organizations in Marin are ready to celebrate the season.

SANTA CLAUS will arrive by boat for the Loch Lomond Yacht Club's children's Christmas party Saturday at the clubhouse in San Rafael. Mrs. Robert C. Ryan, chairman of arrangements, said that during the 1 to 3 p.m. party the children will also be entertained by a magician and be served cookies and punch.

The club's adult Christmas party will be given Dec. 18 with a buffet supper and band for dancing. Mrs. Lewis Glaeser of Corte Madera is arrangements chairman for that party.

THE BRITISH American Club's North Bay Chapter will have its Christmas celebration and dance at 9 p.m. Saturday at the American Legion Log Cabin in San Anselmo. It will feature novelty dances to the music of a live group.

MARIN MOTHERS of Twins Club will have its Christmas party Monday at 8 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Joelene Pariani in San Rafael. A silent auction will be held during the evening.

THE CHRISTMAS party of the Marin County Alumnae of Alpha Omicron Pi will be given for the members at 11 a.m. Monday at the home of Mrs. Arthur W. Feidler in Ross. A short business meeting will be followed by a luncheon and silent auction of white elephants. Auction proceeds will go toward refurbishing the Berkeley chapter house of the sorority. Mrs. Peter Skaer will assist the hostess with the event.

Members will hear a report that the club's benefit raised $200 for the Endowed Bed Fund at Ross General Hospital.

"CHRISTMAS CUSTOMS in Colonial Times" will be the theme of the meeting of El Marinero Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, Monday at noon at the San Rafael home of Mrs. Edwin W. Thomas. Again this year, members will bring presents for the veteran patients at nearby military hospitals.

Hostesses for the luncheon will be Mmes. Donald D. DuPertius, Henry F. Clouette, Edward J. Ehmann and Charles W. Thissell.

MEMBERS OF the Petaluma Garden Club will bring holiday arrangements for public display Monday to the Kennilworth Recreation Center at 1 p.m. A club member will deliver a commentary on several of the arrangements.

Refreshments will be served and gifts for Los Guilucos School for Girls will be collected from each member.

THE SOCIAL-LITES Singles Club of Marin and Sonoma Counties will hold a dance Saturday evening at the Sportsman's Lodge in Novato. Dancing to a live band will begin at 9 p.m.

WORLD WINGS International Marin Chapter, will have a dance Saturday at the Bel Marin Keys Clubhouse, beginning at 8 p.m. A magician will be on hand to entertain the former stewardesses, their husbands, and other guests. Proceeds will go to the "Nancy Fund" at Napa State Hospital. Reservations chairmen are Mmes. Richard D. Hamann of Mill Valley and Robert F. MacKay of Ignacio.

THE SAUSALITO Yacht Club will have its Christmas Party and installation of officers Saturday at the clubhouse with Carl Lischeske taking over the duties of commodore from Ernest N. Perry.

Chairman and reservations chairman is Daniel Ohman. Cocktails will be served at 6:30 before the 8 p.m. dinner and dancing to music of an orchestra.

Homecoming Queens And The Like Are Sometimes Welcome Relief

DEAR HELEN AND SUE:

The Student Affairs Committee of our College has voted to withdraw student support from future homecoming queen and other festival queen contests. They are traditions in our town and I am sure that most of the college students still want these contests to continue.

However, the Women's Liberation Group (of about 40) persuaded the committee that campus queen contests are "meat shows" and morally degrading to women.

Seems to me this should be up to the majority of students on campus, not a small Student Affairs Committee. (Yes, members are elected by "popular vote," but very few people bother to vote — perhaps one-tenth of all registered students. Therefore they don't represent us.)

As for so-called beauty contests being "degrading," why is it bad to award girls for popularity? After all, awards are made in other fields — scholastic, athletic, scientific.

Do you, Helen and Sue, consider that queen or beauty contests put down women? — COLLEGE STUDENT

DEAR STUDENT:

Let's put it this way: Many professions which draw women (and men too) require attractiveness, outgoing personalities, the "cool" that comes from public appearances. Many beauty queens (actually, they're popularity queens) have gone on to careers in acting, advertising, modeling and maybe these can also be put down as "meat show" jobs but the pay is great, they require brains as well as looks, and they offer self-esteem which is what Women's Liberationists push hardest, right?

We think queen contests are pleasant traditions for high schools and colleges. If they are to be eliminated, then it should be by popular vote, not by edict of the student council. True, they don't generate wild enthusiasm as they did in past years (nor do national or worldwide "beauty" contests), but they're still a welcome change from all that "life is real life is earnest" tension that envelops campuses these days.

(Okay, Liberationists, strike us dead!) — HELEN AND SUE

NOTE FROM HELEN: Occurs to me that if only one-tenth of all registered students bother to vote in campus elections, then the others haven't much cause for complaint on how student affairs are run. They've already defaulted.

NOTE FROM SUE: Why doesn't "lib" concentrate on important issues, and leave queen contests to those who enjoy them?

DEAR RAP:

This is for " A Friend of the Fair Sex" who implied that women's dress and actions invite rape, etc.

I had to recheck the date on the paper! I couldn't believe that letter: it sounded like "Friend" just stepped out of the 1950s.

This is 1971, Sweetie: Smarten up! If every girl who wore hotpants got raped, I'd start feeling sorry for the rapists.

No one "invades" bars any more. That's left to John Wayne and old westerns. People walk right up civilly (leaving their harpoons at the side, of course), and girls aren't "asking for it" when they stop for a drink.

As for bringing crime under control (by dress regulations, and making bars off-limits to females), gals got raped when they wore ten crinolines and two corsets. It just took a little longer, that's all. On the other hand, Eve had no trouble, and she only wore a fig leaf.

People belong only where they want to belong. If they want to stay at home, that's cool, but I'm not the cookie-baking little homebody that "Friend" seems to want all women to be. Actually, I'm 15, so I can't go into bars yet, but I defend the right of older girls to do as they please. — NOT A CHINA DOLL

Red Cross Is Seeking Volunteers

The chapter will have an open training course for those who wish to volunteer on Tuesday from 9:30 a.m. to noon at the Red Cross Chapter House, 715 Fifth Avenue, San Rafael.

The volunteers visit lonely and elderly in convalescent homes, hospitals or private homes.

A Storing Hint

Do not starch garments before you store them for the winter. Substances contained in stains and starches are food for insects.

A MOST UNUSUAL ARTIST

Work Reflects Her Belief In Children

By GAY PAULEY

Concentration on the young sets her apart from most other artists. But what makes her even more unusual is the fact that Mrs. Spiro-Smith is legally blind. With contact lenses in the one eye that functions, she has about 10 per cent vision.

"I like the honesty of a child, the freedom, doing its own thing as it were," said the sculptor, whose works capture the world of children from the games they play (follow the leader), to parent-child relationships (a mother and child sculpture is called "lullaby"), to a solitary youngster huddled in a corner ("he might be trying his first smoke") to the adolescent girl wallflower to the sculpted heads of a boy and girl named "puppy love".

Mrs. Spiro-Smith (a combinatio of her maiden and married name) does not use child models for her sculptures. All the figures are done from her imagination and vivid memories —you see, the sculptress began to go blind when she was 14, loss of sight caused by uveitis, an inflammation of the eye. By the time she was 21, she had lost all sight. The small percentage since restored in the left eye is thanks to several operations ("about 12 I think") including those for cataracts that developed.

"I always feel as if I'd gone to every doctor who was an eye specialist," she said in an interview at the Jewish Guild building. "I got a lot of no-nos."

It was Dr. Joseph Laval of Mt. Sinai Hospital, New York, who finally through intricate surgery was able to restore some vision. It was at Mt. Sinai too that she met a patient who became her husband, Joseph Smith, a businessman now deceased. The couple had one son, John, now 19, who is an accomplished artist also.

THE TWO women recalled that for generations there had been artistic and musical talent in their families "but no one pushed it." Mrs. Spiro-Smith said, "I suppose I pushed because of the handicap I had to overcome."

She models most of her little figures in wax and then has them cast in bronze by a Long Island firm with the kilns and other equipment needed.

Her first "break" with a gallery showing came when a neighbor saw her delicate artistry and sent her to see Charles Mann, who runs a fine arts gallery. In New York and national competition, she now has six firsts.

I asked her how with such minimal vision she could sculpt fine details —eyes, hands, hair and the like. "Oh, I have all sorts of magnifying lenses," she said.

The sculptor is largely selfeducated (she was still in high school when her sight began to go). She has a trigger-quick mind, and keeps up with what's going on in the world with the magnifying glass which permits her to read a few minutes at a time, uses the Recording for the Blind books and music and reads from tape. She knows Braille but elects not to use it.

I asked her if she ever felt any bitterness at loss of sight. "No," she said, "never bitterness. Frustration, yes. Frustration of waiting for someone to go with me, at wanting to read more. I was awfully lucky to have parents who encouraged me to run, to feel..."

She recalled that when she makes her regular visits to her eye doctor, she always says "Thank You" as a routine politeness when she leaves. He always tells her, "Don't thank me, thank God."

Marin Units To Sponsor 'Sweet Shop'

The Y Debs and Young Ys of the Marin YWCA Youth Program will sponsor the "sweet shop" at the Holiday Fair to be held at the San Francisco YWCA, 620 Sutter Street, on Sunday from 1 to 6 p.m.

The girls are having candy parties and packaging parties to supply the booth, and contributions will be accepted at the Marin YWCA, 305 Mission Avenue, No. 8, in San Rafael.

The girls will attend the fair and work in the booth and also swim and enjoy the other activities at the fair, which will include international food, flea market, films, craft booth, and a children's play.

The Y Debs and the Young Ys are fifth and sixth grade girls from Marin City, Sleepy Hollow, and Bahia Vista elementary schools.

SIMPLE DECORATIONS

Oranges Can Give Special Holiday Air

The fragrance of fresh oranges and their natural look will give a holiday home or office a special air. Here are two decorations that are simple to make but lend an elegant mod look.

FESTIVE HOLIDAY SWAG

Supplies needed:

Natural or artificial pine or laurel rope long enough for swag and drops

20 medium-size oranges

8 lemons

2 rolls orange cellophane wrap

1 roll yellow cellophane wrap

Lightweight household wire

2 wall hooks to attach swag to wall

Prepare oranges and lemons by cutting 12-inch squares of cellophane. Place fruit in center of square, bringing edges to stem end and secure with wire. Allow six inches of wire to attach firmly to swag. Use nine-inch squares of yellow cellophane for lemons. Attach two oranges and one lemon in groups on swag and several single pieces of fruit here and there. Form two bows and attach these with wire to swag; then hang on wall hooks. Or you can lay swag in center of dining table or on mantle top.

MOD ORANGE CNTERPIECE

Supplies needed:

14 medium oranges

14 cylinders in various heights (from toilet tissue, paper towels, juice cans, etc.)

Bright colored metallic foil paper to accent your color scheme

Green pine

Small ornamental balls the same color as foil paper

Wrap each cylinder in metallic foil and secure with glue or tape. Depending on the area to be decorated, arrange cylinders in circle or line. Top each with orange. Arrange greenery around base and scatter balls throughout greens. Keep extra oranges on hand to replace the ones that get eaten.

The Reins Of Business Passed To Daughters

An ancient Asian adage says, "To a creative man, a dynamic daughter is born." According to an article in the December issue of New Woman magazine, more and more fathers are taking the saying to heart by passing the reins of control of their businesses to their daughters.

The article profiles 13 women who have inherited command of a business from their fathers. Included are Caroline Goldstein, president of Candyland Novelty Co., Brooklyn; Ella Brennan Martin, general manager, Brennan's French restaurants in New Orleans, Houston, Dallas, and Atlanta; Laura Maioglio, owner, Barbetta restaurant, New York City, and Dorothy Fritz Cope, owner and managing director, the Huntington Hotel, San Francisco.

Unlike many male counterparts, women don't appear to concentrate as much on their competitors or jockeying for rank within their industry, as they do on satisfying their personal demands for superior performance, the article states.

A Profile Assembled On The 6 To 11 Age Bracket

I-J Special Report

NEW YORK — A profile of 6-to-11-year-olds has been assembled by the Health Insurance Institute from early childhood surveys by the National Center for Health Statistics in Washington, D. C.

American children in this age category are among the largest in the world, according to the institute. While boys at the age of 6 are slightly taller and heavier than the girls, by the time they get to be 11, girls are larger.

According to parents, 46 per cent of the children have no difficulty getting along with others; 49 per cent "get along as well as most children do," and 4 per cent report having difficulties.

The children are not too fussy about their food, according to the surveys. While 44 per cent eat nearly all kinds of foods, as they get older they eat more varied foods. At 6, 25 per cent are finicky eaters, but about five years later only 19 per cent are fussy about what they eat.

In answer to "how much television do children watch?" the survey revealed that one-third of 6-year-olds watch one hour of television daily, and 4.1 per cent watch four hours or more. Eleven-year-olds have the same figure for one-hour watchers, but 8 per cent watch four hours or more daily.

More than three-quarters of the children have at least one regular household chore, with the number of bed makers and leaf rakers growing as they get older. Nine out of ten 11-year-olds have regular tasks.

The average bedtime is 8:50 p.m. Half of 6-year-olds are in bed by 8:30 p.m., while half of 11-year-olds stay up until 9:10 p.m. Only 6 per cent do not have a regular bedtime.

The average child has 10 days per year of restricted activities — days in which the child cuts down for an entire day on things he usually does because of illness. Less than half of these days are spent in bed.

Tonsilitis and acute respiratory conditions are the major causes for staying away from school or play. Among medical problems of children in the 6-to-11 category the survey showed that less than 1 per cent have defective hearing, while 8.4 per cent have speech defects or similar problems.

Candle Safety Tip

For safety, enclose Christmas candles in hurricane lamps. Soot and candle drippings can be washed off glass chimneys with hot soap or detergent suds. Wash them in the dishpan, right along with ash trays, candy dishes and other holiday accessories that need daily sudsings.

How To Look Exotic For The Season

Begin with a light, delicately sheer foundation make-up in a shade lighter than normally used to give today's newest, more colorful make-up accents their proper prominence.

"Try one of the shimmering shades of make-up for added glamour. To make up your eyes in the current fashion, select smoky, sultry tones of shadow. Add a narrow band of silver or white shadow highlight over the center of the lid for an even more extreme sultry look under evening lights. Apply long upper and lower lashes.

Blend blusher in a circular motion onto the cheeks. Confine the color to a small rounded area for the newest effect in cheek coloring. Select a clear, bright shade of lipstick and polish nails with one of the deeper, most fashionable frosted shades.

Marinites To Participate In Area Event

Marin women will participate with 400 Bay Area women in a pageant being produced by Build the Earth tomorrow from 10 to 11:30 a.m. at the Masonic Temple in San Francisco.

Build the Earth is a nonprofit, educational organization dedicated to pereserving and enhancing the quality of life and educating women to claim their full role in the contemporary world.

"From Woman to Bless Mankind," is the title of the pageant, that will present a new identity for women — an identity that includes all men, religions, races and nations, according to Mrs. Donald Fitton pageant program chairman.

The Male Image In Advertising Under Attack

There seems to be an industry-wide orientation among drug manufacturers to perpetuate male chauvinistic thinking, in the opinion of Dr. Natalie Shainess, lecturer in psychiatry to Columbia University College of Physicians and Surgeons.

Interviewed in the December issue of New Woman magazine, Dr. Shainess notes that ads placed in medical journals, in essence, tell a doctor that he can solve man's problem (showing a picture of a bedraggled husband) by giving his wife this pill (some new sedative).

"That sort of thing is obviously antifemale," Dr. Shainess states. "It entirely overlooks the fact that a female patient might have a perfectly legitimate reason for reacting to her husband the way she does."

ART REVIEW

Main Failing Of Any Student Show: The Lack Of Expertise

By LAURA DEVENDORF

Unless there is a display of startling capability and polish, most student shows can be best enjoyed with a few thoughts in mind. And with the senior art show, through Dec. 16 at Dominican College's San Marco Gallery in San Rafael, it is most helpful.

First, consider that to graduate, a student is usually required to take many subjects outside his field. Second, in high school there is usually little emphasis on art. Therefore, most students begin college with only limited experience. And third, most college art departments require that he explore several areas from art history to drawing and painting, and from wood, synthetics and steel sculpture to such things as ceramics and weaving.

Obviously, to master any one of these requires time, usually years of concentration to develop technical skills, plus his own talent and ideas. So, in viewing a student exhibit, expertise cannot be expected.

It is mainly interesting to see if a student's special mark can be seen threading through each of the things he tries. Or, if he has already developed a special device or style, how distinctive it is and how sophisticated he has made it.

The two-man senior show at Dominican has students who give an idea of each. Sister Marjorie Kouba's work is like a visit through all her exposures and her ups and downs along the way. She works in batik, charcoal, glue, ink, acrylic, oil, watercolor, wax and pastel.

And the qualities which come through are a fairly strong sense of design — a poetic quality when she lets her work flow and an ease in working with the figure, even though there is no distinctive style to connect the various media and approaches.

Lesley Matusek takes a theme and sticks to it. Working solely in acrylics on canvas, she produces variations on a theme of colored pools and splashes. In some, color suggests a specific, such as "Springtime," done in brilliant greens. In others, she refers to generalities such as "My Fantasy World," a galaxial, purple mass dotted with pale tones.

These, however, are no different than her untitled works. And all are more or less effective according to their color and sense of happenstance or structure. In the latter instance, especially, some seem to have just happened aimlessly with no assistance from the artist.

Others, such as a canvas in moody deep reds strung with black, another which has a nice solid brown shape within greens, and most of all, "Tides," which is exquisite in its swirling, delicate darks and misty light, all show that she has a pleasant idea going if she learns to control it.

Unless he is some sort of genius, a student should be reaching. And the show by Sister Marjorie and Miss Matusek explain a little about how, and also where, he may arrive.

Orchestra Piccola Will Be Featured

The first concert in the new Family Vespers Concerts at St. Stephen's Church in Belvedere will be given Sunday at 5 p.m.

Performing will be the Orchestra Piccola, consisting of 35 members of the Marin Youth Orchestra, conducted by Hugo Rinaldi.

The first half of the program will include Ives's "Unanswered Question," Vivaldi's Concerto in C Major for Violin, Two String Orchestras and Harpsichord, with Dan Smiley as violin soloist, and the same composer's Concerto in D Major for Guitar and String Orchestra, with Paul Bertolli as guitar soloist.

The second half of the program will be composed of Mozart's Sinfonia Concertante, with solos by Jenny Sperry, oboe; Steve Gordon, clarinet; Kathy Kaeppel, bassoon, and Brian McCarty, French horn; and the first movement of Bizet's Symphony in C.

Complimentary refreshments will be served in the parish hall after the concert.

Ticket information may be obtained by calling Mrs. Gustav Snelling of 2002 Paradise Drive, Tiburon.

Novato High Sets Choral Concert

The Novato High School music department will present a choral concert, featuring three groups, at 3 p.m. Sunday in the girls gymnasium at the school.

Performing will be the 65-voice choir, the 45-voice choraliers, and the 25-voice "Vocal Message," under the direction of John Enders, vocal music instructor, and Craig Bond, former Novato High student.

Bond, music director of the Church of Nativity in Lucas Valley, has performed with Vince Guaraldi. A song from a mass he has composed will be sung by the choraliers.

The singers will be accompanied by a small instrumental group. Proceeds will benefit the school music department.

'Dandy Dick' To Be Presented by ACT

By JAMES E. WILLIAMS

The American Conservatory Theater of San Francisco will introduce Bay Area audiences to Arthur Wing Pinero's "Dandy Dick," on Tuesday night at the Geary Theater.

The spirited Victorian culture-confrontation pits a conservative clergyman against his family's black sheep — his racetrack-loving sister.

Taking the leads of the comedy which will join ACT's rotating repertory will be William Paterson as the Dean and Joy Carlin as Georgiana, his sister.

In connection with the opener, ACT announced this week booking of "The Effect of Gamma Rays on Man-in-the-Moon Marigolds" for a run at the Marines' Memorial Theater beginning Dec. 27. The 1971 Pulitzer prize for drama winner will feature Dorothy Loudon in the central role.

MUSIC

The New York Pro Musica is currently staging "The Play of Daniel," and "The Play of Herod" at Zellerbach Auditorium on the University of California campus at Berkeley. They will run through Sunday with "Daniel" tonight and tomorrow night and "Herod" Saturday and Sunday nights and Sunday afternoon.

The San Francisco Bach Choir will present its 36th annual Christmas concert Sunday night at St. Ignatius Catholic Church on the University of San Francisco campus. The work to be performed will be Bach's "Christmas Oratorio."

Featured as this week's guest with the San Francisco Symphony — in its second week of the season — are pianist Andre Watts and the symphony's concertmaster Stuart Canin and flutist Paul Renzi. The featured works of the program, which will be presented again tomorrow night, are Beethoven's "Pastoral" Symphony and Liszt's "Totentaz," featuring Watts.

Other events.

Out Of Hospital

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (UPI)—Barbara Stanwyck, 64, was released Wednesday from St. John's Hospital where she underwent a kidney removal operation several weeks ago.

Marinites To Campus Music Spots

Four Marin County students have been chosen to participate in musical groups at the University of California at Santa Barbara.

Teresa Ann Becker, daughter of J. W. Becker of 853 Pine Lane, San Rafael, was chosen to play the violin in the university's symphony orchestra. Michael Stephen Rosso, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Rosso of 121 Du Bois Street, San Rafael will sing with the chamber singers and also with the Schubertians, a small group specializing in the music of Franz Schubert.

Janet A. Guastavino, daughter of R. A. Guastavino of 114 Barber Avenue, San Anselmo and Grace E. Fielder, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Fielder of 1 Underhill Road, Mill Valley, have been selected for the women's glee club.

The Paddy Buffalo Is Being Replaced

KUALA LUMPUR (UPI)—Mechanization of rice paddy operations in Malaysia has led to a decrease in the number of water buffalo in the country, the government reports.

Between 1964 and 1969 the buffalo population dropped by 50,000 to a total of 223,300.

Ex-Warden Duffy Keeps Alive His Fight For Prison Reform

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Clinton T. Duffy, former San Quentin Prison warden often called the "father of America penology," is now 74 and supposedly retired.

But he remains an active factor in prison reform. He is the author of three books and continues lecturing nationally.

"When people are sent to prison," he says, "they are there for a reason. Call it punishment, if you will, but to me confinement is all the punishment that is needed.

"From the moment a man or a woman enters the front gate of a prison, every effort has to be made by the inmate and the staff to change that anti-social person to one who may be considered for eventual release back into the community."

Duffy, vigorous and clear-eyed despite his years, said a stepped up program should be made in meaningful trade training, academic opportunities offered by intensified teaching, more religious training, and, most of all, better and more widespread use of sociological and psychiatric help.

"One of the main stumbling blocks in the effort of prisons to remotivate its inmates is lack of adequate program financing and adequately paid personnel," he says.

"Every prison administrator I've known—and that covers hundreds—wished to have a better developed program in their institutions...but most prison budgets are considered toward the bottom rung on the ladder.

"Idleness and assignment gimcracks that are not meaningful , are a cause of much trouble inside the walls. Active minds that are being developed toward a change in their personal lives and future rarely cause trouble...Of those who do return to society a good many today are as good as you or me and are good citizens because they had the proper approach to their needs."

Duffy believes that prison terms for 90 per cent of all the crimes against property and 10 per cent of crimes against persons could be handled at the community level.

Those who are sent to prison, he says, "should remain there until they, with the help of staff, are known to be ready for release back into the community as better people."

This approach, Duffy says, stimulates the committed person to work harder on his own problems, solving as many as possible and understanding himself.

"It could also stimulate the prison staff to work more closely with the inmate in preparing him to be released back into the community. If some inmates want to sit around and just do time, they would be required to remain in prison for the rest of their natural lives, or make changes for their future," he says.

"Not only would society be saving millions of dollars in the case of the large prison population, but we also would be reducing crime and recidivism. More important of all," he said, "we would be salvaging human beings.

Old Rocket Refurbished For Skylab

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—A rocket built in 1966 has come out of hibernation and is being refurbished for the launch of the first skylab space station crewmen in 1973.

The Saturn 1B first stage, stored in a plastic cocoon for 34 months, will be shipped to Cape Kennedy in August for final flight preparations.

The eight-engine booster is one of three Saturn 1Bs that will launch three-man Apollo command ships to rendezvous and link up with the orbiting skylab. Each crew will occupy the station for four to eight weeks over an eight month period.

The skylab, a 188,000-pound assembly with the room of a small house, is scheduled to be lofted into orbit first on April 30, 1973, by a Saturn 5 rocket.

The smaller two-state Saturn 1B will follow the next day with the first skylab crew. The second three-man team is to be launched by another Saturn 1B July 30, 1973, with the third crew following on Oct. 28, 1973.

The initial skylab booster, identified as vehicle No. 206, has been at the cape before. It was standing on launch pad 37 in January, 1967, when the three Apollo 1 astronauts were killed in a spacecraft fire atop another Saturn at an adjacent pad.

At that time, Saturn 1B 206 was to have launched an unmanned moon landing craft on an Earth orbital test flight. After the accident, the test program was revised and the original Apollo 1 rocket launched the lunar module.

Another Saturn 1B orbited Apollo 7 astronauts Walter M. Schirra, Donn F. Eisele and Walter Cunningham in October 1968. The Apollo program then turned to larger Saturn 5 rockets and the Saturn 1B booster were put in mothballs at the hugh Michoud Rocket Plant here.

The first skylab rocket was rolled out of its massive, airconditioned storage tent Oct. 19 and now is being inspected and readied for flight. A maze of yellow scaffolding surrounds its engine section.

Parts such as rubber seals, valves and some electrical parts that wear with age or periodic testing are being replaced and some engineering improvements are being made to bring the rocket up to date. Then the rocket systems will be thoroughly tested before being shipped to Cape Kennedy.

Charles A. Vogtner, assistant chief of manufacturing for the Saturn 1B program here, said the first stage for the second skylab crew launch will be taken out of storage Feb. 1 with the third emerging from its cocoon in March.

There are a total of nine Saturn 1B boosters in the inventory and three others also will be removed from storage and updated. One will be kept at the cape for possible skylab rescue missions and the other two may be used for Earth orbital flights in 1974 for which the space agency now is seeking financing.

Legitimate Need; Illegitimate Method

Seeking the money, it has cast its eyes on the city treasury — which is not unusual either.

The city council this week heard a plea by Paul Ciampi, chamber president, that the city contract with the chamber of commerce for services. Just what the services would be was not detailed.

The idea is that a contract for services would get around a city charter restriction that limits to $1,000 the amount San Rafael can spend annually for promotion and advertising.

The idea is not new. In fact, it was done once before.

THE STORY WAS the same: the chamber needed money; the council was willing to extend a helping hand, but was limited by the charter. And so a contract was made with the chamber. For $4,000, it was to provide a survey of business conditions, types of businesses, number of hotel and motel rooms, etc., etc. — all the sort of thing the chamber collects regularly anyhow (or should).

The city paid the money. But no survey report approximating $4,000 value, even at the ridiculous prices charged by consultants for surveys, resulted from the expenditure.

And so, when the chamber proposed that the same thing be done again the next year, then-City Atty. David Menary Jr. told the council he had doubts of its legality, and recommended that no such attempt to circumvent the charter restriction be repeated. The council listened to his advice.

STILL, THE CITY fathers wanted to help the chamber. So in April, 1967, they put on the municipal election ballot a proposal to remove the $1,000 promotion expenditure limit, leaving the city free to spend as much for such purposes as the council wished.

The voters turned that down, 3,344 "no" to 2,177 "yes."

They tried the same thing again on the June, 1970, primary election ballot. It was dumped, 7,962 "no" to 2,797 "yes."

They tried again last April. For the third time, it was defeated, 3,780 "no" to 3,038 "yes."

In June, Ciampi appeared before the council asking $19,000 for the chamber, in the form of a special contract. Couldn't be done, said City Atty. Fred C. Robbins Jr. The voters had spoken.

BUT THIS WEEK, Ciampi was back — his sights lowered only slightly, to $15,000. And this week, Robbins reversed himself — and likewise reversed his predecessor, who now sits on the municipal court bench. He thought such a contract might be legal.

And Mayor C. Paul Bettini, in an amazing statement, said, "I have no qualms about giving the chamber the money." The three turndowns at the polls, suggested the mayor, resulted from "misunderstanding of our charter by the people."

The council put the chamber's request down for discussion during budget time next May.

WE APPRECIATE the chamber of commerce's need for more funds. We agree that it can make a good case that its activities benefit the city as a whole, therefore are entitled to taxpayer support.

But the voters of San Rafael have said plainly three times that they don't want to give the chamber, or anybody else, a free hand at the public treasury. The charter stands. It is the city's law. If there is any misunderstanding involved, it is misunderstanding by the mayor of what is meant by abiding by the law.

Too Many Democrat Campaigns; Too Little 'Mother's Milk'

By PHIL HANNA

SACRAMENTO (Capitol) — "Money is the mother's milk of politics," is the oft-repeated quote of former Assembly Speaker Jesse Unruh, and it was never more true than it is today.

As many as 10 potential Democratic presidential candidates are eyeing California's delegation to the 1972 Miami Beach convention.

To gain this delegation is costly, with expenditures estimated at from $1.5 million to $2.5 million for the winning candidate.

How many Democrats can afford to campaign under circumstances such as this? The answer is, "Not many."

Sen. Edmund Muskie of Maine is a cinch to try to qualify his delegation. Also likely to be on the California ballot are Senators Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota, Henry Jackson of Washington and George McGovern of South Dakota.

CAN DEMOCRATS SUPPORT successfully four different presidential primary campaigns and have any cash left over for the final campaign? It doesn't seem likely.

Where does this put the candidates for Congress, State Senate and Assembly?

Congressional campaigns cost from $100,000 to $250,000 at a bare minimum. State Senate races are pegged at from $75,000 to $150,000. Drives for State Assembly candidates can easily cost $50,000 to $100,000, depending on the competition.

Adding all these factors together it could cost Democrats $23 million to campaign in California in 1972, and this kind of cash just isn't in the cards.

At last report the Democratic Party had a $7 million national deficit, and many printers, billboard companies and airlines want to have this tab paid before starting a new one.

REPUBLICANS ARE IN MUCH better condition.

President Richard M. Nixon reportedly has put $25 million or more in the bank to operate the presidential drive next year.

Except for the gadfly, Rep. Paul McClosky of San Mateo, Nixon won't have any competition in primary elections. This saves money.

It also means that congressional and legislative candidates will have clear sailing when they hit the GOP "fat cats" for the $10 million - 15 million they need to mount active, effective and successful campaigns of their own.

ALREADY ONE DEMOCRAT Sen. Fred Harris of Oklahoma, has pulled out of the race, because he had a $40,000 debt, the campaign was bankrupt and he couldn't see any chance for more money in the future.

How many more prominent presidential hopefuls will fall by the wayside when they tally the bills and find they can't keep the gas turned on and the telephone in service?

Jesse Unruh was never more accurate.

Mt. Sutro Tower Affront To Region

A monster is growing up in San Francisco that menaces the entire Bay Area. I refer to the enormous TV tower being erected on Mount Sutro. Although less than half its final height, it is already a hideous sight on the skyline. It is especially repulsive when viewed from Marin and the East Bay as it looms over the Golden Gate Bridge and the Bay Bridge. To permit such a development in the midst of the finest metropolitan landscape in the world is a travesty of planning that cannot be ignored. We should not quietly submit to this affront to our esthetic values because of jurisdictional boundaries. We will all have to live with the result.

Because several of the major news sources in the Bay Area are involved in the project, it has received very little publicity. I beg you to bring out the facts, to print the artist's conception of the final structure (the Sierra Club Yodeler has done this), and to expose the way it came to be.

This is not just another TV tower. It is unprecedented in its height and bulk. At 980 feet it will be 200 feet taller than the Golden Gate Bridge towers and comparable in bulk to the bridge towers without their design quality. All that stuck on top of 900-foot Mount Sutro!

This is the time for indignation! This is a symbolic clash of values: TV reception vs. the quality of our environment.

When will we put a stop to these assaults on the incomparable beauty of our region? Now?

Interior Department Concerned About Delta

Your Nov. 27 editorial entitled, "Desecration of Delta Finally Being Reversed," was most informative.

As you are undoubtedly aware, we in the Department of the Interior have been working with the Corps of Engineers and the State of California in a cooperative effort to insure a proper balance in the Delta.

The Sacramento-San Joaquin Delta Guidelines represent the efforts of the various Department of the Interior bureaus to crystalize our concerns on how the delta should be treated.

America's Interests Tied With Israel's

While the military dictators of 10 Arab nations are rattling their Soviet-made sabres, our Arabist State Department refuses to sell jets to Israel for her survival. This embargo might eventually lead to the Soviet domination over the entire Middle East. Arabian oil interests seem to be more important than U.S. national interests. While 78 of 100 senators signed a petition urging to sell Phantom jets to Israel, our secretary of state, Mr. Rogers, not only maintains the embargo, but also pressures Israel into withdrawing to indefensible borders and allowing Egypt's tanks to cross the Suez Canal.

According to the paper Near East Report, the Arab states have a combined total of 2,226 aircraft of all types; Israel has 478. The Arab armies have 5,075 tanks; Israel has 1,375. In Egypt alone there are 980 missiles, 20 times Israel's number. There are some 200 Russian pilots who regularly fly supersonic jets for the Egyptian air force, and at least 20,000 Russian military advisers. In the last month the Russians flew Tupelov bombers to Egypt — planes equipped with air-to-surface missiles which can attack Israel's towns from a distance of 85 to 100 nautical miles.

Despite President Nixon's stated policy of maintaining the military balance in the Near East, we deny Israel the means to defend herself. No wonder that Sadad feels that this is an excellent time to start a new bloodshed in the Middle East.

Coalition Seeks Water Bond Vote

Why should you sign the petition that is now circulating in Sonoma County to put the $115 million authorization for water projects on the ballot?

Here's why:

This $115 million is not tied to any specific project or projects. It's just there on the books to be tapped whenever the board of supervisors — sitting as the board of directors of the water agency — wants to put in a water system. All they have to do is find some city or water district or group of developers who'll buy the water — in this county or in some other county.

The Sonoma-Marin aqueduct is not dead. Marin voters voted down the bonds that their county was to raise, but Sonoma's part is just as alive as ever, only temporarily dormant.

Marin citizens got to vote on their bonds. How come we didn't? . . .

On Oct. 12, 15 organizations in the county, speaking through a coalition, asked the board for a public hearing. It was denied.

On Nov. 8, this coalition askedthe board to repeal Ordinance No. 1, since the Marin voters had so clearly said they wanted no part of the Sonoma-Marin aqueduct (the first water project to be constructed). Mr. Vella, chairman, said it should be repealed — there was no longer any justification for it, and fiscal accountability called for a repeal. On Nov. 11, the coalition asked Mr. Vella when he would put this to a vote of the Board, and there has been no answer . . .

Ample Reason For Worry About Radioactive Wastes

(Reprinted from Buffalo Evening News)

An incredible situation has come to light in several western states where radioactive waste poses a potential threat to thousands of persons.

Since the beginning of the atomic age, uranium mills around the country have been creating dump piles of radioactive sandy material called "tailings." Hundreds of thousands of tons of the potentially dangerous material have been given away for use as land fill around houses, factories and public buildings.

THESE TAILINGS contain the same radioactive elements that can cause lung cancer — years later — in uranium miners. A U.S. Public Health Service doctor estimates that of 6,000 Colorado uranium miners, 600 to 1,100 will die of lung cancer within the next 20 years. Genetic damage is also a threat.

Various authorities have urged the removal of all tailings from within 10 feet of habitable structures at an estimated cost of $20 million in Colorado alone. Two federal agencies opposed this.

In the present confused situation, some things seem obvious. First, there seems to be an incredible lack of any sense of urgency among many high officials. There may be some doubt about what exactly is a "safe" level of radioactivity, but the readings in many buildings are well beyond the level considered permissible in uranium mines. A school in Grand Junction, Colo., has readings 38 times the danger level every morning until the school is ventilated.

SECOND, THERE is a deplorable gap in regulations governing radioactive materials. The Atomic Energy Commission, which rigidly controls the handling of nuclear materials, takes no responsibility for materials such as tailings with comparatively low radioactivity. So far no one else has either.

Two members of the Joint Congressional Committee on Atomic Energy have requested a hearing. It should be expedited to bring about some action on this strange and worrisome situation.

Nixon In Japan Must Focus Attention On Trade Problems

TOKYO — In the merry-go-round of summits that President Nixon will hold prior to his mission to Peking, none is more important than the meeting with Japan's Prime Minister Eisaku Sato. It will be an opportunity to achieve at the very least an atmosphere in which the terms of trade with America's largest overseas trading partner can be adjusted to the Nixon new economic policy.

The bruises of the Nixon shock are still deeply felt. The government officials I have talked with do not believe it will be possible to get agreement on new terms with concessions from both sides prior to the Sato-Nixon meeting in January. And, in the meantime, what is called here a recession continues to deepen with the specter of a worldwide slowdown on the horizon.

WE MUST TRADE TO LIVE! The visitor hears that on every hand in a country only a little larger than Finland, with less than 20 per cent of arable land and a population of more than a hundred million. If trade with the United States and Western Europe is blocked by protectionist measures, then Japan must find other partners.

That search is now going forward with the vigor and the drive that have put this country in second place economically in the non-Communist world. In a close-knit society, private industry and government work together with an awareness that virtually all raw materials must be imported. Shigeo Nagano, chairman of Nippon Steel, has just returned from Peking, where with other Japanese industrial leaders he explored the potential of trade with mainland China.

At the same time he is responsible for negotiation with the Soviet Union on a deal involving $2.5 billion —some sources put it as high as $5 billion —for oil, natural gas, minerals and timber from Siberia. A pipeline from the Siberian gas reserves will extend at least 6,000 miles under water and then across Sakhalin and the northernmost province of Hokkaido to the big industrial centers.

This is by no means final, yet the outline is clear enough. The Japanese government would lend Japanese industry one-third of the construction cost for a project of extraordinary magnitude. A new port would be built on the Japan Sea, and Japan would participate with the Russians in development of a petroleum field.

WHILE IT IS in the more-distant future, Nagano, as a result of his trip to Peking and a lengthy talk with Premier Chou En-lai, sees the potential of a similar negotiation with China. The outcome would also depend to a considerable degree on Japanese government loans to underwrite the initial costs.

"My personal impression," Nagano said, "is that economic planning in China is steady and sound. Progress is based presently on increased agricultural production. But in the future there will be a parallel development of heavy industry and consumer goods. This is gradual and carefully thought out, with nothing high-flown about it."

In Nagano's opinion China is a good credit risk. If trade is expanded, underwritten by government loans, the first imports will be soy beans and other agricultural products. Soy beans today come largely from Indiana, Illinois and other midwestern states. Later Japan would take coking coal, most of which comes now from West Virginia, petroleum and other minerals as sources are developed.

IN ALL THIS there is no sense of reprisal. It is simply the urgent need to find alternative sources of supply for vital raw materials closer at hand than the Middle East and the United States. Most Japanese, both in government and in industry, understand that the United States had to take steps to correct the trade imbalance and protect the dollar. With a reserve of $14 billion — in dollars except for only a small fraction in gold — the health of the dollar is no laughing matter.

The ties with the United States are so close in every field that the visitor, after a brief look at this complex society, must believe that the present differences will be resolved. The two Pacific powers are so alike and yet so unlike. The paternalistic nature of Japanese industry masks the economic slowdown. It is still, even in textiles, following the government-to-government quota on exports to the U.S., little felt at the worker level. But nearly four months have passed since Aug. 15 and time is running out.

WINDOW ON THE WORLD

Castro Visit Demonstration Hints Trouble For Allende

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

The life of a Latin American ruler, whether freely elected or a dictator, frequently is not an easy one, and Chilean President Salvador Allende Gossens is beginning to find it out.

Cuban Premier Fidel Castro was just winding up his three-week-long visit to Chile, his first trip outside Communist Cuba in 11 years, and generally it had gone well. From blustery Punta Arenas, the world's southernmost city, to the deserts of the north, Castro had met friendly audiences and had preached unity against imperialists.

He had in fact seemed to come closer to Allende's theory of "construction of socialism" through majority rule than his own frequently proclaimed belief in victory through violent overthrow.

A FAREWELL RALLY at National Stadium in Santiago should have brought the visit to a successful climax.

Instead, there were empty seats and troops enforced a state of emergency declared after some 5,000 women had staged the most violent anti government demonstration yet experienced by Allende's year-old regime.

Beating upon empty pots and pans and filling the street from curb to curb, the women marched along Bernardo O'Higgins Boulevard leading to the presidential palace.

"In Chile there is hunger. We do not want Castro here," was one of their chanted slogans.

THE COMING YEAR could be the determining one for Allende and for Chile.

In his first year in office, Allende took over the American-owned copper interests, took control of the nation's banking system, speeded up the agrarian reform program and nationalized a variety of industries and businesses.

It aroused no great opposition at home, both because it played to Chilean nationalism and because of general sympathy for any program that seemed to soak the rich.

He halved inflation and increased purchasing power through a general 35 per cent raise for all workers.

THE TIME WAS COMING though, when he would have to pay the piper. Foreign reserves were down to about $120 million from $500 million when he took over. Miners were demanding wage increases higher than government ceilings. Farm production was down, partly as result of illegal seizures by leftwing peasant groups.

He needed foreign investment but his seizure of the copper interests without compensation did nothing to encourage the flow of new money into Chile.

His move to replace the two-house parliament with a single "people's assembly" meant that he also was tampering with democratic processes.

The Chilean army is noted for its loyalty to democratic traditions.

So far it has kept hands off the Allende program. But in the end it may hold the key.

Christmas Mail On Phase Two; No Raise For Bob Cratchit

WASHINGTON — There are many persons concerned with how Phase Two will affect their Christmas this year. Here are some letters the Cost of Living Council has had to deal with.

The first is from a man named Ebenezer Scrooge, a partner in the firm of Scrooge and Marley. Mr. Scrooge writes:

"Dear Sir,

"I HAVE AN EMPLOYEE named Bob Cratchit who works as a clerk in my warehouse. For some years I was under the impression that Cratchit was not doing his share of the work. (For example, he always asked to take Christmas Day off, which I have considered humbug.)

"But last year I had a bad experience. I won't go into the details, other than to say it changed my attitude on many things. One of them was my feeling toward Cratchit. I decided I had been mistaken about him, and to make amends I promised him a raise. Unfortunately, I told him the raise would go into effect on Aug. 16, 1971.

"My question is: Can I now go ahead and give him this raise, as I would hate to go through the same bad rip this Christmas as I did last year?"

Scrooge's letter was turned over to someone at the pay board who replied:

"Dear Mr. Scrooge,

"YOUR LETTER in regard to your employee Robert Cratchit was referred to this office. Unfortunately, we cannot give you a definite answer at this time as to whether you can raise his salary. The raise, if permitted, would have to be within the wage guidelines set forth by the Cost of Living Council.

"Would you be kind enough to tell us if this is a merit raise, an across-the-board raise or an inflationary raise which would cause you to raise the price of your products?

"Speaking for the administration, we urge you to forego Mr. Cratchit's raise at this time so that we all can win the President's great battle against inflation."

Another sample of the kind of mail the Cost of Living Council is getting comes from Mrs. Dalla Young, who writes:

"WE HAVE NO MONEY for Christvas this year so I'm going to sell my beautiful hair and with it buy a gold chain for my husband's watch. I understand Jim is secretly planning to sell his watch to buy a comb for my beautiful hair. Are we permitted to do this under Mr. Nixon's Phase Two economic plan?"

"Dear Mrs. Young,

"In answer to your question, I am advised to tell you that you can exchange a gold watch-chain for a comb, providing you apply for an exemption on combs and watch-chains as specified in Paragraph 4A, Chapter XII of Volume III of Phase Two price and wage guidelines (as amended in Index 345). Please submit in quadruplicate your request to the price commisssion and we will try to get you an answer before March 1,1972."

THE FINAL LETTER came from a young girl named Virginia.

"Dear Sir,

"Is there a Santa Claus? My friends say that under Phase Two there isn't. Who am I to believe?"

"Dear Virginia,

"You should stop speaking to people like George Meany and get on the President's team.

"Hail to the Chief,

"John Connally

"Secretary of the Treasury."

Reed Acts To Head Off Property Taxes

The Reed School District board has declared two surplus school sites as outdoor classrooms in a move to head off paying property taxes on the parcels.

Supt. Ralph D. Giovanniello said the board declared the sites surplus Tuesday and then instructed him to inform the State Allocation Board that they are "biological, geological and environmental study and outdoor clasroom areas."

Under a new law, districts which do not use property for school purposes for five years must notify the state board, which in turn tells the county tax assessor to begin taxing the land.

The sites are the 10-acre ring point site on Paradise Drive and the 13-acre north central site on Hacienda Drive. Their existence was not known to trustees until April.

Giovanniello said it is up to the allocation board to determine whether Reed's use of the two sites for outdoor classrooms is sufficient to exempt the district from paying taxes on them.

He said he has no idea how much the district would owe in taxes if the parcels were to be taxed.

Several commercial uses have been suggested for the land, including sale and long-term leases for commercial or housing purposes. The land definitely would be taxed if such plans were carried out.

In other business, the board set a sale of surplus desks, chairs and a pickup truck for 10 a.m. Dec. 18 at the district office and said it may hold a special meeting at a date to be announced to discuss roles of and appointments to three district citizens committees.

The board failed Tuesday to give instructions to the sixth, seventh and eighth grade committee after some audience members questioned the need for the panel, Giovanniello said.

If the special meeting is called, the board also will consider charges to the committee and appointments to two others, the small schools fact-finding and the recreation and community services committees.

The board also approved a combined application for a $2,262 federal grant for Reed Schools plus Marin Country Day School and St. Hilary's School. If the money were obtained, it would be split among the applicants and spent for library materials.

A Beacon Shines For Pearl Harbor

OAKLAND (UPI) —A light that shines only once a year blinked on Tuesday night atop nearby Mount Diablo as a memorial for servicemen who died 30 years ago in the attack on Pearl Harbor.

Present for a brief ceremony were 14 survivors of the attack.

The beacon was built as a navigational aid in 1928 and switched off the day of the attack because the military feared it might guide Japanese bombing runs in this area.

Since 1964, it has been turned on only as a memorial.

Libya Punishes An Oil Company

ALGIERS (UPI)—Libya nationalized a major British oil company Tuesday to punish Britain for allegedly enabling Iran to seize three Arab-ruled islands in the faraway Persian gulf.

The action by the two-year-old regime of Col. Moammer Khadafy, ruler of one of the world's richest countries, came a week after Iran invaded the three islands on the eastern fringe of the Arab world.on what Khadafy said were "orders of British imperialism."

Libya withdrew its funds from Banks in London as well as taking over the assets, shares and operations of the British Petroleum Co. The action was announced by Tripoli radio after the playing of martial music and patriotic songs.

Rites Set For Zen Buddhist

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Services will be held Sunday for Suzuki Roshi, 67, who is credited with bringing Zen Buddhism to the West.

He died Saturday.

Suzuki Roshi, one of the 10 highest priests in the Soto School of Zen in Japan, came to San Francisco in 1958 as the spiritual leader of the Sokiji Zen Buddhist Temple.

He was the author of the book, "Zen Mind, Beginner's Mind."

Tam Board Will Have Goals Session

A dinner meeting to discuss the place of goals in educational planning has been scheduled by the Tamalpais High School District for 6:30 p.m. Dec. 20 at Dominic's in San Rafael.

Trustees, school board members, school administrators and Parent-Teachers Association representatives from throughout the county have been invited to the discussion with Dr. J. Richard Harsh, Southern California representative for the Educational Testing Service.

Construction Financing To Be Eyed

The Marin Community College District board again will consider ways to finance future construction today, but must first deal with objections by one board member to building a new campus in Novato.

Board vice president Charles W. Gray said Dec. 1 he opposes building the Indian Valley Colleges, thus causing the board to adjourn its discussion of financing to 8 p.m. today in Room 101 of the Science Center at the College of Marin.

The board is expected to discuss Gray's stand, which has met with mixed public reaction, but is pressed for time to decide the issue.

It must apply by the end of the month for state matching funds if work on the Novato campus is to begin next fiscal year. The board previously had voted a maximum tax rate of 32 cents per $100 assessed valuation to finance site preparation in Novato and work in Kentfield, but the tax is contingent on state matching funds.

Authorization to apply for state funds for building next year also will be considered today.

The board has been grappling with alternate methods of financing its long-range building program since voters turned down a $16.8 million bond issue.

Candy Canes To Be Given Away

The Marinwood Firemen's Association board agreed at a meeting Tuesday night to sponsor the Christmas gesture, Gerald A. Falbo, association secretary, reported.

The candy will be distributed between 1 and 4 p.m., he said.

(UPI Telephotos)

Special Bus Lane In Washington Area Producing Amazing Results

WASHINGTON (UPI) —It's morning rush hour on an interstate highway called Shirley, and the traffic snarl is at its frustrating worst.

The cars are bumper-to-bumper. Inside, drivers fiddle with radio dials, smoke, curse, or simply sit in quiet resignation as they go through the Monday-through-Friday routine that imprisons them up to one hour in their autos covering 10 miles or so from their northern Virginia homes to their offices in Washington.

But out of the clouds of carbon monoxide, red and silver buses loaded with commuters race by the glut of cars, at 45 miles an hour, using a lane completely free of other traffic.

What the automobile drivers see —and which more of them have come to join —is one of the most simple, and most successful, innovations in mass transit: the exclusive bus lane.

(California's Division of Highways is expected to decide by early spring whether to allow an exclusive lane for Marin commute buses on the Waldo Grade. The lane would reverse bus traffic on a northbound lane mornings and a southbound lane evenings. The division also is studying extension of the exclusive bus lane north to Greenbrae.

(The Golden Gate Bridge District's long-range transit plan envisions an exclusive right-of-way for buses from Novato to downtown San Francisco.)

Shirley Highway, officially known as Interstate 95, is the first government-financed, exclusive bus lane program in the nation and its success has produced some equally successful imitators.

The Shirley concept is basically this: Buses are provided a lane of their own during rush hours —one way into the city in the morning and the reverse in the afternoon. Free of traffic jams, the buses can provide commuters with a quick, comfortable ride from an area as far as Springfield, Va., and they are therefore willing to leave their cars home.

The trip can often be accomplished in barely more than half an hour.

Federal and local leaders are enthused about the acceptance of the program which got in full swing last spring. Because of heavy use of the "Shirley Express" buses, the number of runs already has been increased.

The Transportation Department's Urban Mass Transit Administration (UMTA) says ridership on the exclusive lane buses has increased to 20,000 a day, a 167 per cent jump since the first segment opened in 1969.

So far, UMTA has put $7 million into the project, including newly released money for the purchase of 60 additional buses. By 1970 the outlay will rise to $9 million, which will include funds for development of fringe parking lots.

With the bus lane concept a success, the next step may be to allow car pools to share the bus lanes. Again, the theory is that commuters will leave cars in the garage, if given an efficient replacement.

The Shirley Highway experiment has been emulated in other areas, using their own variations of the idea.

In the New York City area, an exclusive bus lane is used to carry 35,000 New Jersey commuters into downtown Manhattan.

Unlike the Shirley project, the New York buses use a lane normally occupied by out-bound traffic. The lane is used by the buses for one hour during the morning rush, allowing an average of 495 buses to travel the 2 1-2 mile section of the highway. The normal commuting time is cut by 15 minutes.

In California, the state's toll bridge authority is using still another variation.

Buses are allowed to pass over the San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge on an exclusive lane and the bus company is billed by the month, eliminating delays caused by bus drivers paying the toll.

The idea has been expanded under a test program to allow persons using car pools to cross the bridge free of charge during rush hours.

Officials are hoping the number of cars crossing the bridge will be substantially reduced during rush periods.

Also in California, an 11-mile exclusive busway is being built between Los Angeles and El Monte. Engineers estimate that travel time from El Monte to downtown Los Angeles will take a bus 18 to 20 minutes compared to twice that for cars in the rush hour traffic.

Seattle also is operating exclusive bus lanes, and Pittsburgh is planning two lanes, one eight miles long, the other four. Highway planners in Milwaukee have recommended construction of eight miles of exclusive bus lanes.

But there will always be some who will try to beat the system. In the Shirley Highway project, police have made a fruitless effort to catch the "Red Baroness," a lady motorist in a red mustang.

She likes to dart into the exclusive lane through one of the bus entrances, race along a stretch of the highway, packed with snail-paced traffic, then squeeze back into the line of commuter cars near destination.

Art Being Displayed

A collection of various art works by Jackie Kirk of San Rafael, teacher in the San Rafael Schools' adult education department, is being shown this month at the Redwood Bank in San Rafael.

Bay Bridge Auto Pool's First Round

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— The San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge yesterday began an experiment letting car pools pass in special lanes for free. Officials said the first day looked promising.

Normally, commuters waste 10 to 15 minutes as 23,000 vehicles try to get on the bridge between 6 a.m. and 9 a.m.

In an effort to rejuce congestion, autos with three persons or more were allowed to zip through the toll plaza in special lanes 1.3 miles long.

The smiling car poolers waved as they were watched by thousands in the lonely splendor of their cars waiting bumper-to-bumper. The other drivers paid 50 cent tolls.

On the first day, delays for non-car poolers were slightly more than normal, but bridge officials were relieved. They said the experiment could have gone wrong and caused a monster jam.

For the experiment to work, traffic engineers believe they must motivate creation of 500 new car pools—which theoretically would reduce volume by 1,000 autos.

But a spokesman said, "It looks promising, but we don't know yet if it will work."

The experiment was the first of its kind in the nation, and it was observed by officials of the New York Port Authority and other bridge operators.

Some irate citizens phoned to argue that the experiment didn't improve things. They said it wasn't fair for people in car pools to get preferential treatment.

Gross Investment

A 30-YEAR SECRET IS OUT AT LAST

WICHITA, Kan. — For 30 years Ralph Reynolds had a secret — one of which he wasn't too proud.

But, the world knows it now. A few weeks ago his 16-year-old son, Greg, caught a turtle and took it home.

The 48-year-old Reynolds took one look and then turned the turtle over and there they were — the initials he had cut into its shell in 1941 when he was 18. His son found it about a mile from the spot his dad originally caught it.

"The reason I remembered it," Reynolds said, "is I was half ashamed for cutting him as deep as I did." (Los Angeles Times Syndicate)

Soledad Trial Petition Loses

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The American Civil Liberties Union has lost a petition to ease courtroom security measures for the trial of the "Soledad Brothers."

The ACLU called the strict precautions, including a bullet-proof glass shield "harassment" and said women were deterred from attending the trial, where testimony begins Tuesday.

The state District Court of Appeal rejected the petition, ruling that the precautions "under all circumstances, are reasonable."

Mountain Recreation Area Is Proposed

Teague was joined by 25 other California congressmen as cosponsors of the measure to help preserve open space in the Los Angeles area.

Costs Through 1985 For Airport Work Computed

By PAUL E. PETERZELL

Improvements planned at three airports in Marin and Southern Sonoma would cost $16.5 million if built this fiscal year, and more than twice as much if delayed until 1985, the Association of Bay Area Governments reported yesterday.

Converting Hamilton Air Force Base for joint use by scheduled airlines would cost $11,691,000 if done this year, but $23,146,000 if put off to 1985, it said.

Needed improvements at Gnoss Field would cost $3,702,000 if done this fiscal year, and $8,014,000 if delayed until 1985.

A privately owned landing strip at Petaluma would require $1,115,000 if needed improvements were made now, and $2,498,000 if postponed to 1985.

The estimates came in a capital cost analysis by Bechtel Inc. of San Francisco to guide future airport planning. The improvements assumed by the consultants as needed were based mostly on master plans for the various airports.

In the case of the county's airport north of Novato, however, the consultants relied on predictions by Airport Mgr. Francis E. Torr, who told the Independent-Journal that the cost totals never before had been computed. The county is only beginning its master planning for the field.

Torr also told the Independent-Journal that the list of anticipated improvements he outlined for the ABAG consultants included "a lot of deluxe things" that would have to be built either by the federal government or private operators.

The ABAG report, figuring Gnoss Field now is the base for about 125 aircraft, assumed its capacity would be expanded to 300 aircraft. This expansion, in turn, would mean reconstruction of dikes and drainage canals to protect the additional 120 acres needed to accommodate the related improvements.

Because of low elevation, 790,000 cubic yards of fill would be needed for an additional runway, taxiway and aircraft apron, the report noted.

Also, a frontage road would have to be extended some 600 feet and parking for 60 cars added.

Other additions would include an annex to the administration building, a control tower, tee hangars for 32 aircraft, runway and taxiway lighting and navigational aids for operations in poor weather.

At Hamilton Air Force Base, according to the report, facilities would be necessary to handle 2.7 million passengers a year by 1985. The new terminal would be northeast of the runway, and a four-lane road would be needed connecting Bel Marin Keys with the terminal.

Cost estimates also were computed for the intermediate years of 1975 and 1980. The figures for Gnoss Field were $4,903,000 and $6,264,000, respectively, with the 1985 estimate at $8,014,000.

The 1975 and 1980 estimates for Hamilton Air Force Base were $14,933,000 and $18,629,000.

The estimates for Petaluma were $1,528,000 and $1,953,000.

Bolinas Lagoon Plan Adopted By Park-Rec Commissioners

The Marin County Parks and Recreation Commission adopted the Bolinas Lagoon plan yesterday during a brief hearing which, unlike earlier hearings, produced no major objection from residents.

The plan, which calls for keeping the lagoon as an ecological preserve, will be forwarded to the planning commission for expected review next month.

During three earlier hearings, West Marin residents complained bitterly that the plan was defeating its own purpose of preserving the lagoon by including recreational facilities around the picturesque body of water.

As proposed by the parks and recreation department, the plan calls for observation points, nature interpretation centers, hiking trails and picnic and parking areas.

Bolinas and Stinson Beach residents said such development would attract tourism, thus spoiling the tranquil lagoon area.

At the commission's last meeting, objecting residents were characterized by one commissioner as "unfair and completely selfish" in proposals to block easy public access to the lagoon.

At yesterday's session, no resident spoke in favor of dumping the plan.

Discussion among the commissioners centered on changes to the plan suggested last month to reduce much of the parking and picnicking facilities at Pine Gulch Creek.

The commission, in voting approval of the plan, amended it to include statements that the county would consider small boat launching facilities when needed, that the state highway department notify the county on proposals to cut or fill along Shoreline Highway and that the county will treat the lagoon's watershed area as part of the ecological environment of the lagoon in future planning.

The lagoon plan was required by the state when it turned over responsibility of preserving the lagoon to the county. The plan must be adopted by the board of supervisors and forwarded to the state within a year.

Funding Discussion On East Marin Open Space

An outline of ways to finance purchase of open space lands in Marin's "eastern urbanized corridor" was considered yesterday by the county's park and recreation commission which took no action, pending further study.

The proposal, drafted by Park and Recreation Director Pierre W. Joske and others, calls for the county and participating cities to budget matching funds to acquire desired open lands in danger of being developed.

Yesterday's discussion centered on the acquisition of the North Ridge between Larkspur, Corte Madera and Mill Valley and how the estimated $2 million purchase price might be divided up among local governments.

Mill Valley City Councilman Jean S. Barnard complained that city shares based proportionately on city property within the acquisition area would work an unfair hardship on Mill Valley which has about 400 undeveloped acres on the ridge.

Corte Madera, she noted, only has about 56 acres on the ridge, thus meaning they would pay less unless all jurisdictions shared equally for the entire project.

"Corte Madera has a lower tax rate, more industry and all our auto agencies," she said, urging they share equally.

Her comments prompted lengthy discussion by the commission on other possible means of financing purchases. It ended with the matter being referred to a special committee for further study.

In other action, the commission approved changing its meeting day from the second Wednesday of the month to the third Wednesday.

Mrs. Atkin Files For Dissolution

The wife of James Blakesley Atkin, 41, former chairman of the Redd School District Board of Education, has petitioned in Marin Superior Court for dissolution of their marriage.

Margarita Frances Atkin of 38 Alcatraz Avenue, Belvedere, filed the petition for dissolution last Friday. Mrs. Atkin said she and her husband were married in New Jersey on June 29, 1956, and separated in August 1968. They have two girls, 11 and 12, and a boy, 8.

Atkin, an attorney with the San Francisco firm of Pillsbury, Madison and Sutro, was on the Reed School board from January 1965 to December 1968, serving as its chairman in 1966.

Pianist To Give Recital Sunday

Pianist James Conway of Fairfax will present a recital at the Methodist Church of Mill Valley Sunday at 4 p.m.

Conway's program will include the variations on a Theme by Paganini, Opus 35, by Brahms; "Klavierstuecke," Opus 11, By Schoenberg; The Partita in B Flat Major, BWV 825, by J.S. Bach, and the Sonata in F Minor, Opus 57 ("Appassionata") by Beethoven.

Conway earned bachelor and master degrees from the Juilliard School of Music in New York and a doctor of musical arts degree from the University of Arizona.

Baroque Consort To Play Sunday

A free concert will be presented by the Baroque Consort, directed by Dr. S. Drummond Wolff, Sunday at 4 p.m. at the Episcopal Church of Our Saviour in Mill Valley.

Works by C.P.E. Bach, Vivaldi, Telemann, Albinoni and Handel will be performed.

Crippled Children Budget Is Filled

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Moving to guard against any "further disruption of services," Gov. Ronald Reagan has ordered a budget shortage filled in the $13.2 million crippled children's program.

Reagan directed state Human Relations Secretary James H. Hall Wednesday to determine the size of the "deficiency" and advance money previously budgeted for the last three months of the current fiscal year to plug the gap.

The governor's order came four days after the Assembly narrowly failed in an attempt to override his veto of a $1.2 million bill to provide more funds for the health program.

"Information has been made available to us which indicates that there would be insufficient funding of the crippled children's program without this action," Reagan said of his plan.

Under the proposal, previously budgeted funds already set aside for expenditure in April, May and June would be advanced to cover the shortage.

Reagan said Placer, Santa Cruz, Siskiyou and Tulare counties "are known to have reduced" the level of services while Tehama County closed its crippled children's operation.

"The additional money which is to be made available will assure that there is no further disruption of services for this vital program," the governor said.

Assemblyman Robert W. Crown, D-Alameda, leader of the override attempt, said during floor debate there were 23 counties which had sharply curtailed or abandoned such services as the result of Reagan's budget cuts.

The governor said the resulting gap from advancing the budgeted money would be met by the legislature passing a deficiency appropriation bill at the 1972 session. He said Crown agreed to sponsor the measure.

Crown succeeded in rounding up 51 votes to override Reagan's veto of his $1.2 million bill, just three short of the two-thirds majority necessary.

The program is a joint state-county affair with the state providing 75 per cent of the financial support in the form of loans.

The governor last February proposed the state's share at $12.6 million in his budget, but the legislature increased it to $14.4 million. Reagan then vetoed the figure back to $13.2 million.

Crown then introduced his bill, contending that although the case has remained about the same as the previous year inflation had taken its toll and Reagan ignored it.

Reagan then vetoed the Crown bill contending that the $1.2 million sum proposed was "inappropriate."

An aide said when Reagan vetoed the Crown bill, the state budget was faced with a $330 million deficit. He said passage of the tax bill by the legislature puts a "little different light on the problem."

The caseload statewide of crippled children has remained about the same at approximately 50,000 patients. In fiscal 1970-71, the state contributed $13.6 million while it spent $13.5 million in the previous fiscal period.

New College Announces 12 Trustees

The New College of California in Sausalito has announced the appointment of 12 new trustees to form the institution's first governing board, president John Leary reported.

Appointed to four-year terms as trustees were Dr. Romulo Gonzales, a Fresno psychiatrist; Andrew Polich, Lake Oswego, Ore., engineer; Delos Putz, dean of law at the University of San Francisco and Urban Whitaker, dean of undergraduate studies at San Francisco State College, Lewis Mayhew, author and professor of education at Stanford University; Donal Cummins, San Francisco attorney; Raymond Roy, president of the Sausalito Chamber of Commerce; Mrs. George Sears, Sausalito housewife; Eli Thomas, San Jose Businessman, and Leary.

Appointed for one-year terms were Robert Raines, assistant professor at New College and Daniel Christianson, a student at the school. The faculty and student representatives to the board will subsequently be elected each year by their respective constituencies.

The college begins its spring term Jan. 10, Leary said. It has no campus, but holds classes in various locations, including the basement of Star of the Sea Catholic Church, the Sausalito Art Center and the president's home.

Theft Suspect Pleads Innocent

Judge Robert A. Smallman set a preliminary hearing for Dec. 21.

Derham, a service station attendant, was arrested on Dec. 6 and accused of stealing a car on Oct. 29 from Quality Auto Repair in Mill Valley.

Welfare Law 5-Week Delay

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Enforcement has been delayed for at least another five weeks of a state welfare law provision allowing counties to invoke a one-year residency requirement for applicants during high unemployment periods.

Superior Court Judge Irving Perluss Wednesday issued a preliminary injunction that will remain in effect until a full hearing on the controversial provision is held Jan. 11.

The ruling was praised by Catherine Jermany, president of the California Welfare Rights Organization, which sought the injunction along with a Stanislaus County family which moved to California in October and went on welfare Nov. 1.

Withholding Tax —Reagan Talks

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —With state income tax withholding now set to begin Jan. 1 for 8 million California wage earners, Gov. Ronald Reagan says he is determined to make it tougher for future legislatures to hike the tax rates.

"There's no question that withholding makes it easier to increase taxes," Reagan said Wednesday as he signed the historic act, part of a $501 million tax hike this fiscal year.

"That's one of the reasons why I had to be dragged kicking and screaming into wanting withholding."

Reagan, who signed withholding into law at the Los Angeles International Airport then immediately flew to Sacramento, said he believes any income tax increase from now on should require a two-thirds vote of the legislature.

"You'd really have to have a need for increased taxes to be able to muster a two-thirds vote in the legislature," he said. "I can't foresee of a time when you could easily get that unless there was a crying need for the revenue."

Current law permits income and sales taxes to be raised by a majority vote of the legislature. But it takes a two-thirds vote to boost bank and corporation taxes. That's why the $501 million tax increase bill containing withholding required a two-thirds vote of each house to pass the legislature Tuesday.

Reagan indicated he will propose the two-thirds vote requirement as part of a comprehensive property tax relief plan after the 1972 legislative session convenes. He suggested a similar two-thirds provision last year but the legislature didn't act upon it.

Reagan, seated before a battery of television cameras and newsmen in a jampacked jumbo jet satellite, said he still is philosophically opposed to withholding—a concept he did not endorse until two years ago.

The Republican governor said he has been against withholding because "the Republican governor said he has been against withholding because "the people should always be conscious of the pain of taxation so that they will be more on guard to keep their elected representatives from carelessly increasing taxes."

"I spent a lot of sleepless nights," he continued, "exploring and forcing our people to explore every avenue to meet this problem without going to withholding and there was no other way. We had to go for it."

Reagan said the state's uneven cash flow caused by lump sum income tax payments in April, the crippled economy and the bad bond market forced him to accept withholding.

"We had to meet the payroll and pay the bills on a regular basis," he said.

"It proved one point I'd always said—that withholding was really for the convenience of government, not for the convenience of people. And this proves it. When I finally had to give in it was for the convenience of government."

But Reagan signed the bill with a smile, using three balky pens and proclaiming, "it is now law."

The bill was signed in Los Angeles as soon as Reagan stepped off a jet from New York because state fiscal experts didn't want to wait for him to return to Sacramento. They said it was imperative for the measure to be inked before 1 p.m. to meet a deadline for advertising tax anticipation notes.

If it were not for that, the state would have had to issue I.O.U. registered warrants for the first time since the depression.

Reagan philosophosized that "evidently the people are getting so used to credit cards and federal withholding that gradually over the years they too now want withholding. They feel it will be a convenience for them."

Besides explaining his withholding views, Reagan also ticked off the major features of the bill to newsmen, legislators and state finance officials who crowded nearby.

The measure, by Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, will plug a $310 million revenue gap in this year's $6.8 billion state budget, finance $150 million in capital outlay, pump $21 million into business inventory tax relief and provide the state with a $20 million fiscal cushion.

Of the capital outlay, $80 million will be spent for higher education, $40 million for beaches and parks and $30 million for earthquake-threatened schools.

In January, 1973, the minimum income tax will be raised from 10 to 11 per cent, hitting primarily couples earning more than $36,000.

The bank and corporation tax this fiscal year will be increased from 7 to 7.6 per cent. The oil depletion allowance will be cut from 27 ½ to 22 per cent.

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Old Saying: "We Don't Always Know What Is Best" Holds True

In an argument with some Athenian bridge players, Socrates once stated that man does what is best for him. Now, everybody seems to agree that Socrates was a pretty wise old bird, but he was a pretty naive bridge player. The bridge records of some 2,400 years ago are somewhat sketchy, but we can test the Socratic statement with a hand he played himself.

A HEART LEAD

East put up the king of hearts at the first trick, and Socrates won with the ace. Then he led a diamond and tried a finesse with dummy's queen. This proved that Socrates didn't always do what was best for him.

East could defeat the contract by refusing to win the first diamond trick with the king. Declarer would get only two diamond tricks by any normal line of play, since dummy doesn't have enough entries to develop and cash the last diamond.

NO WISER

But East wasn't any wiser than Socrates. East took the king of diamonds at his first opportunity, and that was the end of effective defense. East returned a heart, of course, and Socrates held off. Declarer took the next heart, led his remaining diamond to cash the ace and jack, and then gave up a diamond. This set up dummy's last diamond, and the ace of spades was the entry to cash it.

After all these centuries we know how Socrates should have played the hand. When he leads the first diamond from his hand he should try a deep finesse (really a duck rather than a finesse) with dummy's eight of diamonds. East must win with the nine since it doesn't pay him to refuse this kind of trick.

NORMAL FINESSE

When Socrates takes the queen of hearts, he tries a normal diamond finesse with the queen. East can take the king, but now the rest of the diamonds are good. Declarer reaches dummy with the ace of spades to take the ace and jack of diamonds followed by the established three of diamonds.

♠ - Q 10 5 4
♥ - K 8 6
♦ - K 10 9 6
♣ - J 10.
What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid two clubs, the Staymen Convention, asking partner to show a major suit of four or more cards if he can.

If he bids two spades, you will raise to four spades. If he bids anything else, you will bid three no-trump.

Funds Advanced To Fight Blood Disease

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Senate yesterday has passed unanimously a bill authorizing a three-year $142 million campaign to fight sickle cell anemia, a deadly blood disease believed to affect at least 2.5 million black Americans.

The measure, introduced only two months ago, was approved on a 81 to 0 roll call vote and sent to the House, which is considering a similar bill.

28 Selected For Advisory Panel

The Dixie School District board last night named 28 citizens to serve on its Citizens Advisory Committee for 1971-72.

The group will conduct a general study of the district's budget, enrollment trends and school boundaries, and will prepare materials in connection with the required unification measure on the June ballot, Supt. Clifford W. Campbell reported.

The board also heard a report from assistant superintendent Joseph B. Goff that the district will be able "to survive another year" with increased property tax revenue, based on increased assessed valuations, balancing decreased state assistance.

Passage of a proposed state ballot measure which would limit property taxes, however, "could hurt the schools massively," Goff said.

Campbell noted that the district now derives about 75 per cent of its income from property taxes and the rest from state and federal support. He said the percentages had reversed themselves in the last eight or nine years.

The Dixie School District Board also:

SECURITY — Authorized spending up to $5,000 for installation of burglary and fire detection systems in the district's schools in an effort to combat increased breakins and vandalism.

REPRESENTATIVE — Named board member Dorothy Brown as the district's representative to the Marin County School Boards Association.

FUNDS — Approved an application for $6,517 in federal funds for library materials.

SALARY — Adopted a new salary regulation to allow the district to hire instructors for short special class offerings at $7.50 an hour.

CARPET — Authorized installation of carpet at the Bernard Hoffman School library and kindergarten and at the Santa Margarita School library. The $4,700 estimated cost of the carpet will be offset, according to Campbell, by a donation of $1,500 by the Bernard Hoffman School teacher-parent group.

HIRES — Agreed to employ Roselee Metzger as part-time teacher at Mary E. Silveira School for $3,871 for the rest of this school year; Thelma Martin as library assistant at Miller Creek School for $2,617 for the rest of the school year; John Vaughn and Paul Carmichael as custodians at Vallecito School for $1,927 for four hours a day for the rest of the school year; Marybeth Gaskins as instructional aide at Vallecito School for $76 for one hour a day for 28 days; Mary Lou Jacobson as instructional aide at Vallecito School for $677 for two hours a day for the rest of the school year, and Mary Tober as instructional aide at Don Timoteo School for $1,041 for three hours a day for the rest of the school year.

MEETING — Adjourned to Jan. 12. No meeting will be held Dec. 22.

Utility Undergrounding Canvass Is Under Way

Tiburon residents in Del Mar and Little Reed Heights are canvassing their neighborhoods for support in forming an assessment district to finance putting utilities underground, according to Asst. City Mgr. Robert L. Kleinert.

Kleinert said today that he and officials of Pacific Gas and Electric Co. and Pacific Telephone Co. met with some 35 members of the Del Mar Homeowners' Association in the Del Mar School on Tuesday. They reviewed pros and cons of forming the assessment district.

Average cost of the undergrounding would total about $2,000 per home, Kleinert explained.

No opposition appeared when a show of hands was requested, the city aide said.

He added that a spokesman for the neighboring Little Reed Heights homeowner group reported on a postcard poll of its members, in which 30 of 52 cards returned were in favor of an assessment district.

Tuesday's meeting resulted from a city council letter sent to all Tiburon homeowner organizations. The council requested that areas wanting inclusion in undergrounding districts submit petitions asking for help in preliminary engineering and other groundwork, Kleinert said.

Car Hits Tree; Two Injured

Two persons were injured at 12:01 a.m. today when their car struck a tree on North San Pedro Road, according to the California Highway Patrol.

Norman E. Nelson, 20, of 432 Calle Arboleda, Novato, was treated at Kaiser Foundation Hospital in San Francisco for scrapes. His passenger, Robin Campbell, 19, of 805 Vendola Street, San Rafael, was reported in good condition at that hospital with a jaw injury and cuts.

The patrol said Nelson told them he was eastbound on North San Pedro Road when an animal ran into his car's path and he swerved to avoid it, ramming a tree.

Tax Notes Will Be Sold

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —State Treasurer Ivy Baker Priest has set Dec. 20 for the sale of $160 million of California tax anticipation notes to help the state meet its revenue needs.

Mrs. Priest said the tax bill signed Wednesday by Gov. Ronald Reagan extends the authorization to sell the anticipation notes. The notes will mature on April 28, 1972.

It will be the third sale of notes under legislation designed to finance the state's cash needs in times of low revenue. The first issue of $150 million, sold Aug. 17, was redeemed Nov. 15. The second sale of $200 million was held Sept. 14 and the notes will mature next March 31.

Flash Fire At Veterans Auditorium

A flash fire in the Marin Veterans Memorial Building did between $1,000 and $1,500 damage yesterday, and slightly injured one workman.

The blaze started at 3:14 p.m., while contractor's crews were spraying lacquer on metal trim on the movable seating in the auditorium. Firemen said cigarette ashes fell onto a drop cloth on which lacquer thinner had spilled, igniting it. While workmen were trying to drag the cloth out a door at the north lobby, a gallon can of the thinner spilled, spreading the flames.

Dry chemical extinguishers and a hose put out the fire. Damage was limited to asphalt tile flooring and carpet, with minor smoke damage to the walls, according to Les Wider of the county public works department.

Bruce McClenden, a member of the contractor's crew, suffered minor burns on his left hand, but refused treatment.

Wallet Taken From Woman

San Rafael police said Mildred B. Tannyhill, 62, of 15 Blossom Drive, told them she was jostled by another woman while shopping yesterday at the Disco department store, 555 Francisco Boulevard, and later discovered her wallet missing.

The wallet was found outside the store, police said, but $230 in cash was gone.

Mustang Stolen

A 1969 Ford Mustang was stolen yesterday from a parking lot at San Rafael High School, police reported today. Officers said the green car, with license plates 357EDJ, owned by Roy A. Padgett of 34 Redding Way, San Rafael, was parked at 8:15 a.m. and discovered missing at 9:27 a.m.

If I Were You

I'd see this one for sure. Big 4-bedroom with separate family room and fireplace, 2 ceramic baths, electric kitchen. It could stand new carpeting in living room and hall; however it's a lovely home complete with central air conditioning. Near new Catholic church. The absentee owner has priced to sell fast at $33,500. It has an assumable GI loan of $14,550 at 4½% interest.

Eves: Ross Tankersley 892-2781

This Is It!

Our "leader" of the week. It has everything: 3 bedrooms, 2 baths and separate family room with fireplace. Formal dining room. Sparkling electric kitchen with self-cleaning oven. Quality carpeting. The landscaping is beautiful, and the rear yard has a large patio. High and dry area next to a greenbelt. It's immaculate and priced at $41,750.

Rehnquist Vote Set By Senate

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Senate agreed today to vote at noon EST Friday on a motion to shut off the week-long debate on the Supreme Court nomination of William H. Rehnquist.

Senate Republican Whip Robert P. Griffin said he was "very close" to having the required two-thirds majority necessary to stop the debate and force a confirmation vote. The GOP leadership filed a petition for cloture —a device to stop debate — late Wednesday.

Griffin said the Republicans would offer a second cloture petition later today as insurance if they lose Friday. That would require another vote on Saturday to shut off debate. Under Senate rules, a cloture motion must be voted on within two days after it is filed.

Sen. Alan Cranston, D-Calif., announced in a speech prepared for the Senate that he would oppose Rehnquist, the Justice Department's legal counsel, on grounds he is "lacking in requisite judicial temperament and ... embraces an extreme and unbalanced judicial philosophy."

Cranston said Rehnquist, 47, of Phoenix, Ariz., had used "reasoning backwards" in taking positions on racial equality, civil disobedience, the vote for 18-year-olds, woman's rights, the President's war powers, privacy, government surveillance and other issues involving the First Amendment.

Rehnquist, whose record on civil rights has been criticized, picked up more support Wednesday and appeared certain of confirmation.

If debate is cut off Friday, each senator would have one hour to speak on the nomination. The time is not transferable and not all would take the opportunity to speak. In that case, it was expected a final vote on the nomination would take place late Friday.

Cloture normally is used to stop a filibuster. But Sen. Birch D. Bayh, D-Ind., leader of the anti-Rehnquist forces, denied any filibuster was in progress.

"How can this be a filibuster when we've been debating this nomination only two days?" Bayh asked.

A key factor in forcing a quick vote was that Congress wanted to adjourn. If Bayh could have delayed Senate action until next year, he thinks he might have generated enough public support against Rehnquist to defeat him.

But that apparently was not in the cards.

Rehnquist picked up key support Wednesday when Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., announced in a floor speech he would vote for him.

Rehnquist also sought to allay doubts on his position on school desegregation. He wrote a letter to Sen. James O. Eastland, D-Miss., chairman of the Judiciary Committee, saying:

"... I wish to state unequivocally that I fully support the legal reasoning and the rightness from the standpoint of fundamental fairness of the Brown decision." He referred to the 1954 Supreme Court decision which said segregated public schools were unconstitutional.

Rehnquist felt such an avowal of support for the decision was necessary because his Senate opponents were using a memorandum he wrote as a law clerk in 1952 to Justice Robert Jackson.

Rehnquist conceded he wrote the memorandum. But he said he prepared it "as a statement of Justice Jackson's tentative views for his own use at conference ...

"It is absolutely inconceivable to me that I would have prepared such a document without ... specific instructions to do so," he said.

Fourth-Party Candidate Liked, State Poll Shows

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—A fourth-party candidate would find strong support among California voters and also might help President Nixon's chances for reelection, the California Poll reported today.

Pollster Mervin D. Field said today his findings indicate a large potential vote for a fourth party to the left of the Democratic Party and seeking the votes of "disaffected groups such as militant young voters, blacks, brown, women's libbers, consumerists, and anti-war activists."

In a three-way race among Nixon, Democrat Edmund Muskie and Alabama Gov. George Wallace, for instance, the current percentages of support show 42 per cent for Nixon, 40 per cent for Muskie and 10 per cent for Wallace.

But if former Minnesota Sen. Eugene McCarthy runs as a fourth candidate, it results in 37 per cent for Nixon, 30 for Muskie, 7 for Wallace and 20 for McCarthy.

If New York Mayor John V. Lindsay is the fourth-party candidate, the percentages are 39 for Nixon, 31 for Muskie, 7 for Wallace and 18 for Lindsay.

The potential strength of a fourth party candidate are even more in evidence when a less well-known Democrat is mentioned.

In a race involving Washington Sen. Henry M. Jackson and McCarthy, for instance, Nixon gets 40 per cent, Jackson 13 per cent, Wallace 8 per cent and McCarthy 29 per cent.

Trains Facing Operation Halt

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Amtrak has told the governors of New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois that it will discontinue two passenger trains operating between New York and Chicago via Cleveland and Buffalo, N.Y., unless those states reimburse the rail corporation for two-thirds of the $3 million annual operating loss on the runs.

The service was started May 10, on a provisional basis to give the states time to arrange the financing, as provided in the law which established Amtrak. But the corporation said none of the states has complied and it gave them until Jan. 5 to do so.

If the provisional service is dropped, trains would continue on the regular New York-Chicago route via Pittsburgh, Lima, Ohio, and Fort Wayne, Ind.

Smog-Free Car Rulings 'Conflict'

DETROIT (UPI) — The development of safer, pollution-free cars has been impeded by conflicting state and federal standards that in most cases cannot be met, Henry Ford II said Wednesday.

"I say that it is wrong in principle to establish requirements that cannot be obeyed and are bound to cause conflict and controversy," said Ford, board chairman of the Ford Motor Co.

"To leave management uncertain of what it must do to obey the law until the last moment before the law becomes effective is to create waste and chaos and to trifle with the jobs and incomes of American workers."

DOUBTS TOLD

Ford, in his traditional year-end statement on the economy and the nation's auto industry, also expressed doubts about some of President Nixon's Phase II programs.

"Under Phase II," he said, "some goals must be sacrificed so that others can be achieved. But there are serious risks of making the wrong choices and compromises and thereby doing more harm than good."

Ford cited recent Pay Board decisions and said that if wage pressures are not contained "either inflation control will turn out to be short-lived or profits will be severely restricted," undermining business expansion in 1972 and in the future.

On the positive side, Ford said 1971 has been an "excellent year for the free world motor vehicle industry" with total sales of 30 million units—10 per cent higher than last year's effort and 8 per cent better than the previous high in 1969.

He said car sales will hit 10.2 million in the United States this year and could reach 10.5 million in 1972 if Congress repeals the 7 per cent excise tax. If the business climate improves, he said, car sales could be even better.

Ford said his company will spend about $150 million next year to meet governmental bumper standards for 1973 models and $35 million to reduce air and water pollution from its plants in North America.

NOT OPTIMISTIC

He said he was not optimistic that the company would meet 1975 and 1976 federal exhaust emission standards because "Our research and development programs continue to be impeded by constant changes in the interim requirements of the federal government and by conflict between federal and California requirements."

Federal emission standards require that 1975 model cars reduce emissions of hydrocarbons and carbon monoxide by 90 per cent from 1970 models and that 1976 models cut nitrogen oxide emissions 90 per cent from 1971 models.

Unauthorized Car Horns Attacked

SINGAPORE (UPI) — Motorists in Singapore who use unorthodox car horns risk violating traffic laws.

The Registrar of Vehicles reports six motorists were ordered to dismantle their horns after complaints from the public that five of them used "musical" horns and one had a high-pitched air horn.

Wolves Attack Suit Is Filed

SAN DIEGO (UPI)—The father of a Palos Verdes Estates boy who was attacked by wolves at the San Diego Zoo last April filed suit for $100,000 Wednesday.

Lucien C. Williams alleges his son, David, 15, was injured because the wolf enclosure was negligently and carelessly operated.

The boy climbed the enclosure barriers and was attacked by wolves, who inflicted 26 lacerations, puncture wounds and bruises.

An Attack On ACLU's Stance

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—The American Civil Liberties Union has stepped into the shoes of Scrooge and the Grinch as an enemy of the Christmas spirit, charged a legal defense group that said it would fight the ACLU efforts to bar cribs and hymns from public school holiday celebrations.

The Citizens Legal Defense Alliance Tuesday offered to defend in court any teacher or school administrator who disregards the ACLU drive.

The ACLU recently issued a set of "constitutional guidelines" mailed to school administrators, contending that the display of any religious symbols in holiday festivities in the public schools violated the constitutionally required separation of church and state.

Grain Farmer Aid Bill Clears House

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A program to boost price support loans to grain farmers 25 per cent and raise their income by $2 billion annually passed the House early today and was sent to the Senate where it was expected to receive a favorable reception.

Democratic supporters of the legislation, which is opposed by the administration, said they expected the Senate to pass the bill in the waning hours of the current sessio and send it to the White House.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

How Do You Get The Child Who's Underweight To Eat?

Mrs. P. T. writes: "My 6 year old is slight of build and weighs eight pounds less that he should. Our family physician has examined him carefully and tells us that the child is otherwise healthy. How can I get him to eat?"

Slimness per se is not an indication of malnutrition even though the child is 10 pounds lighter than he should be. Since he is not ill, we must assume he is a victim of poor eating habits. All too often, the mother is overly concerned about the quantity not the quality of a dietary regimen. Inadequate rest, insufficient sleep, and too much emotional excitement may also play a role in keeping down the weight.

SOME YOUNGSTERS eat a scanty breakfast or none at all. Others may not drink milk and yet receive no substitutes for the beverage. A few become tea or coffee users at an early age. Many are between-meal snackers and are not hungry at mealtimes.

For nervous, irritable, and restless children, we must emphasize serving meals that are appealing to the eye and at regular times. Quarreling, bickering, and fussing at the table can kill anyone's appetite. If junior refuses to eat, don't use force or threats. After a certain length of time, remove the plate and allow no bedtime snack. Each mother must work out the plan most successful for her particular child.

NOW AND then a midmorning (or midafternoon) snack, such as a glass of milk or orange juice, may prove beneficial. Most mothers know something of the basic dietary requirements. Yet, we all know homes where the table is heavy with starchy indigestibles and essential foods are excluded. So long as the son of our reader remains healthy and lives in a loving environment, we predict that he will thrive.

Questions on medical topics will be answered by mail if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the Independent-Journal.

WARTS AND VIRUSES

H. B. writes: I always considered a wart to be a kind of tumor but read that it is due to a virus. Is this correct?

REPLY

Yes, but the wart is also a growth. Viruses stimulate the skin to form an uneven wrinkled mound which we call a wart. We do not know how long the virus remains in the lesion. Send stamped, self-addresses envelope for our leaflet on warts.

MAPLIKE TONGUE

J. P. writes: Is geographic tongue due to eating the wrong foods?

REPLY

We do not know why furrows develop in the tongue, creating a pattern that looks like a map. Fortunately, it is a harmless disorder. For more information on this manifestation, send stamped, self-addressed envelope for our leaflet.

ACNE AND MENSTRUATION

D. T. writes: Why does the face break out during the menstrual period?

REPLY

Acne during menstruation usually is due to changes in the hormonal secretions. I assume you are not taking medicine at this time to which you are allergic.

DAYDREAMING

Miss P. writes: Can arteriosclerosis cause the mind to wander?

REPLY

This is a moot question, as daydreaming is more prevalent among teen-agers than in the elderly. There is no correlation between senility and hardening of the brain arteries. Our leaflet on senility can be obtained by sending stamped, self-addressed envelope with request.

INSANE BEHAVIOR

C. L. W. writes: How does a person act when he is temporarily insane?

REPLY

Insanity comes in many forms and the early stages are difficult to detect because they border on the normal. The condition is more obvious when the individual becomes abnormally depressed or excited, suspicious of everyone, sits like a statue all day, thinks he is Napoleon, or becomes so overactive he works 20 hours a day. The situation finally reveals itself in his total lack of judgment and understinding.

CALCIUM ON THE SPINE

F. D. writes: There is calcium on my spine, and I wonder if there is any way to remove it.

REPLY

Not without mutilating your back. Calcium deposits represent battle scars from arthritis and strain. Removal of these deposits will not lessen the symptoms.

CHAPPED SKIN

REPLY

Various ways of protecting the skin from this annoying winter disorder are discussed in our leaflet on chapping. It can be obtined by sending stamped, self-addressed envelope with request.

PREGNANCY, HYPERTENSION

Mrs. J. D. writes: Would it be dangerous for a woman with essential hypertension to become pregnant?

REPLY

Pregnancy aggravates an elevated pressure but the condition can be maintained at safe levels through diet and medication. The experience is trying because the expectant woman must see her physician at frequent intervals. These visits enable him to detect sudden weight gain, dropsy, albumin in the urine or an increase in the blood pressure. Bed rest and even hospitalization often are necessary. Send stamped, self-addressed envelope for our leaflet on hypertension.

THREE MOLES

B. A. writes: I tried to remove a mole from my forehead by putting a loop of thread over it and pulling it off. Now I have three moles instead of one. Please explain.

REPLY

A person who treats himself has a fool for a doctor. Never monkey with moles. Consult your physician and tell him what you have done.

Beachcomber Turns Up Solid Gold Teeth

NAHANT, Mass. — Harold Sprague has been an almost full-time beachcomber for 45 years, since he was 8.

He admits that his take is spotty, but after big storms and high tides he does very well. He has found more than $10,000 worth of old coins, such as a Liberty set of dimes from the 1950s and 1870s, and eagle pennies from 1865 to 1868.

He also has dug up, using a metal detector, all manner of rings and, once, a set of solid gold teeth.

"I do it for the fun of it," says Sprague, "but I am lured by the hope of someday finding something very valuable."

U.S. Life-Style May Collapse

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— Sociologist Philip M.Hauser said Wednesday the United States and its way of life may collapse in the next half century unless money is spent to make all citizens productive.

Hauser, director of the University of Chicago's Population Research Center, said the current federal and state welfare programs are ineffective. They do about as much good as "Bandaids applied to wounds of cancer," he said.

In a speech to public welfare administrators holding a four-day national convention here, Hauser said persons on welfare are predominantly denied access to the mainstream of American life. They are not given the education and job skills essential to equal partnership in the economy, he said.

Self-Confessed Bank Robber

SANTA ROSA, Calif. (UPI)— A man who allegedly walked into a bank and robbed it by saying "give me what you've got," walked into a police station Wednesday.

"Do I look like a bank robber?" said the man, tossing a roll of bills on the desk. "This is part of what I got."

"Yeah, you could be," replied Lt. Robert Waldron. "Let's sit down and talk about it."

Police later identified the man as Sanford Calvin Shrout, 30, a drifter, whom they believed robbed a Wells Fargo bank Branch Monday of $3,500 without showing a weapon.

Burglary Case To Higher Court

Thomas Eric Grayson, 21, and Robert Louis Arnett II, 22, both of San Rafael, have been ordered to appear in Marin Superior Court Dec. 13 on a burglary charge.

After a preliminary hearing Tuesday in Marin Municipal Court, Judge David Menary bound them over to the higher court for trial.

The two were arrested by San Rafael police on Nov. 24 and charged with burglarizing the home of Jack G. MacPhee on Woods Street.

Picture-Framing Course Scheduled

A five-week course on picture framing will be held Wednesdays from 7:30 to 10 p.m. beginning next week at the Sausalito Art Center, 630 Nevada Street.

Gerald Kotler and Alan Pugh, co-owners of The Framery in Sausalito, will teach the course. Interested persons should call the art center for more information.

FALLEN OBJECT FROM PLANE PROMPTS CHASE

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — A police sergeant noticed something drop from a light plane flying low over the city yesterday and he mobilized an aerial chase.

Police ground units hastened to look for the object, radar operators of the Federal Avaiation Administration tracked the plane, and three police helicopters took up the pursuit.

Bill Sumner, a photographer for the State Division of Highways, told the police pilots who followed him to the Santa Monica Airport that he had been taking aerial photos of a freeway project and his glasses fell off.

The glasses were not recovered.

Vietnam Murder Charges Against General Dropped

Ft. MEADE, Md. (UPI) The Army dropped murder charges today against Brig. Gen. John W. Donaldson who had been accused of killing six South Vietnamese civilians by shooting them with a rifle from his helicopter in 1968-69.

The announcement was made by Lt. Gen. C. E. Hutchin, the commandant of First Army headquarters here where Col. Oran K. Henderson is on trial on charges he failed to investigate an earlier mass slaying of civilians at My Lai, and subsequently tried to cover it up.

The incidents involving Donaldson were alleged to have taken place after My Lai — from November 1968, to January 1969. The My Lai massacre was on March 16, 1968.

Donaldson succeeded Henderson as commander of the 11th Brigade of the Americal Division, and was in that position at the time of the incidents. The 11th Brigade was still operating in coastal Quang Ngi province, which includes My Lai, at the tine.

Donaldson was charged with shooting the civilians as he directed ground actions from his chopper.

The murder charges were announced against him last June 2 —the first American general since the turn of the century to be accused of murder.

Besides six counts of murder, Donaldson was accused originally of two counts of assault. One of these was dropped at the outset of the subsequent investigation and the other was dismissed today.

Early in the Henderson courtmartial, which began Aug. 23, Donaldson testified in the absence of the jury at one of a long series of hearings on the whereabouts of the report on the My Lai operation by Lt. Col. Frank Barker, commander of the task force involved, who was killed less than three months later.

The Henderson case will go to a jury of two generals and five Colonels next week.

The dismissal of charges against Donaldson left one other officer facing charges related to alleged war crimes in Vietnam. He is Lt. Col. William J. McCloskey, a native of Wilkes-Barre, Pa., charged with murder of two Vietnamese civilians in March, 1969, a year after My Lai.

Award Goes To New York Times

TUCSON, Ariz. (UPI)—The 1971 John Peter Zenger award, presented annually for "distinguished service to freedom of the press and the people's right to know," has gone to The New York Times for its publication of the Pentagon Papers.

It was the first time in the award's 18-year history that it went to an organization rather than to an individual.

The award, given by the University of Arizona, will be accepted Jan. 14 at the Arizona Newspapers Association Meeting in Scottsdale, Ariz., by A. M. Rosenthal, managing editor of The Times.

Zenger was a Colonial printer who in 1735 won acquittal of libel charges, an early victory leading to establishment of a free press in America.

Taiwan Is Booted From Worldwide Atomic Panel

VIENNA (UPI)—The board of governors of the International Atomic Energy Agency (IAEA) voted today to expel Nationalist China from the IAEA and invite Mainland China to join.

Nationalist China called the vote "entirely illegal" and said it may appeal to the IAEA general conference, which meets in Mexico City in September.

The board voted 13 to 6 with five abstentions for a Romanian resolution, with the United States fighting Taiwan's expulsion but with Britain and France joining the Soviet Union in favor of Peking.

White Bread 'Facelift' Asked

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Food and Drug Administration (FDA) has proposed the first nutritional facelifting for white bread in 30 years. Iron content would be doubled and Vitamin D removed.

Amounts of other nutrients also would be affected, with fixed levels replacing the ranges presently allowed for thiamin (vitamin B1), riboflavin (vitamin B2), niacin and calcium.

The proposed regulations also would increase doses of the same nutrients in enriched flour to amounts that would result in bread and rolls with nutrient levels matching those proposed for commercially baked white bread.

A spokesman for the American Bakers Association said the baking industry probably would support the changes.

SPORT NOTES

Marin Grid Pair Get Plethora Of Honors

By RALPH CHATOIAN

Honors keep rolling in for two former Marin County footballers now doing their thing at University of Pacific. Pete Carroll (Redwood High and College of Marin) and Vern Kellerman (College of Marin) were among the 11 players picked for the All-Pacific Coast Athletic Association defensive team yesterday.

Carooll, a safety who intercepted eight passes this season to rank fourth in the nation, is a junior so will be back for another season. Kellerman is a senior and his college playing days are through.

MARK LEWIS had a fantastic freshman football season for University of California at Davis, leading the Aggies to a perfect 7-0 season. The former whiz from Marin Catholic High was unanimously named player of the year on a team that averaged 45 points per game.

As a tailback in the Aggies' I-Formation, his impressive season statistics included 109 carries for 737 yards, a 6.8 average, and 13 touchdowns rushing; five pass receptions for 66 yards and one touchdown. Against Santa Clara he gained 235 yards, picked up 133 yards against San Francisco State and 106 against Sacramento State. In that San Francisco State game he scored four touchdowns. I wonder if he helped out in the halftime entertainment or sold peanuts.

SCOTT TROBBE, all-star basketball player from Redwood High, will be playing for the University of Stanford freshmen team this season. Said the Stanford pressbook about the 6-foot-6 Trobbe: "Very polished both offensively and defensively, according to Stanford coaches ... Considered an outstanding forward prospect."

MOTORCYCLE BUFFS will be able to get their fill Saturday at the Cow Palace in San Francisco when the Cycle Circus, first show of its kind, is staged. A collection of the best motorcycle stuntmen in the country is promised by show organizers. Highlight of the show is expected to be an attempt by Super Joe Einhorn to set a new indoor motorcycle jump record by leaping over more than 14 cars from a ramp. Crazy, man, crazy. Show times are 2 and 8 p.m.

SCHEDULED SPEAKERS at next Monday's luncheon of the Marin Chapter, 49er Goal Rushers Club are defensive tackle Earl Edwards and running back Vic Washington. The meeting, at Holiday Inn, starts at 12:15.

THOSE OF YOU planning to hitchhike to Sunday's game at Candlestick between the 49ers and Falcons might be able to buy a seat on Shaun Wiltshire's double-decker bus. If interested, give him a call at Wiltshire Towers, San Rafael.

HAPPY FISHING at Happy Camp area of the Klamath River. Report from Jim Roads of Klamath River Guide Service has it that Bill and Paul Chase and Peter Berg, all of Tiburon, caught limits of steelhead between four and 10 pounds.

Roads, in his report, says, "Before you rush to this area, remember that steelhead aren't easy to catch." Amen. I've tried.

Club Owners 'Helping' A's To Move

CHICAGO (UPI) —A Chicago baseball writer says major league club owners are trying to help Charles O. Finley move his Oakland A's baseball team and California Seals hockey club to Washington, D.C.

Finley, a Chicago insurance executive, said, "I don't want to say anything about it. I don't want to get into hot water with the people in Oakland."

WRITER SAYS

Writer Jerome Holtzman of the Chicago Sun-Times said Wednesday baseball owners in both leagues have held discussions on the matter. He wrote that these owners were anxious to move the A's because the San Francisco-Oakland area can support only one team.

According to Holtzman's contacts, the owners are trying to help Finley find ways to break his 20-year baseball lease with the Oakland-Alameda County Coliseum board which has 16 more years to run.

CONTRACT

Holtzman wrote that Finley's contract with the coliseum carried a clause requiring him to pay a penalty of $300,000 per year if he moved.

However, Robert T. Nahas, president of the Oakland Coliseum complex, said there was no such clause, but that there was "an injunctive clause in relation to his baseball team playing in Oakland throughout the contract."

'INTEREST'

"It isn't just that the rent for those seasons is important," said Nahas, "but the interest of the community is taken into consideration as well as he is obliged to field the team at the coliseum."

Nahas said the contract requiring the Seals to play in Oakland has three years to run.

Representatives seeking a baseball team in Washington appeared before the major league meeting last week in Phoenix attempting to help acquire a new franchise for the area. Another meeting on the matter will be held in the nation's Capitol Dec. 14.

Approval would be needed from the American League to allow the A's to move and the National Hockey League would have to approve a transfer of the Seals' franchise.

VS. FALCONS

All-Out War Set By 49ers

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — With everything to lose and still something to gain, coach Dick Nolan of the San Francisco 49ers is pulling out all stoppers against the Atlanta Falcons.

"They have momentum going for them," said Nolan of the Falcons. "Their victory over the Raiders last Sunday and our loss to the Chiefs really helped them. They have a good chance to grab a playoff spot by beating us and it's bound to give them a lift."

Nolan is worried that the 49ers have been able to dump the quarterback only three times in the last four games.

"We're going to do something about that," he said.

Nolan also said Steve Spurrier will probably take over Jim McCann's punting duties because Spurrier "is better under pressure."

If Spurrier is retained as the regular punter, Nolan might put McCann on the taxi squad and bring up newly acquired defensive back John Douglas.

Nolan also said he is certain quarterback Bob Berry will be at quarterback for the Falcons despite his troubles with the law this week.

Seals Tie Pittsburgh In Defensive Battle

PITTSBURGH (UPI) —There are 60 minutes in a hockey game and the California Golden Seals were scoreless in 55 of them Wednesday night.

But what they did in the first five minutes earned them a 1-1 tie with the Pittsburgh Penguins before 8,831 at the Civic Arena.

Gerry Pinder got the puck to That gave California a 1-0 lead until 2:41 remaining in the second period when Bob Leiter zinged a 15-footer past Seals goalie Gilles Meloche to even it up. There was no scoring in the third period as the Penguins outshot the Seals 11-9 and 28-21 for the game.

The tie lifted California into a fourth-place deadlock with idle St. Louis in the NHL West and gave Pittsburgh sole possession of third place.

California returns to Oakland for a five-game home stand starting with St. Louis Friday night. The Boston Bruins come to the Coliseum-Arena Sunday night.

Novato Upsets Marin 'Cats

San Marin Trampled By Napa

By LEW CODDINGTON

Before last night, Novato High School's basketball team was alleged to consist of Marty Moroski and four spear-carriers. Maybe so — but the spears were awfully sharp and the participants knew what to do with them.

Novato got a balanced scoring attack with three men in double figures and stunned the fourth-seeded Marin Catholic Wildcats, 72-49, in the Drake Invitational Tournament last night at Drake High School. In an earlier game, top-seeded Napa overwhelmed San Marin, 73-22.

First-round play continues today, with third-seeded San Rafael (2-1) facing Terra Linda (2-2) at 5 p.m. and second-seeded Petaluma (3-1) meeting host Drake (2-2) at 6:30.

Novato (now 2-3) bolted out to a 19-4 lead, raised it to 36-17 at halftime and still had Marin Catholic doubled late in the third quarter at 50-25. This represented a sharp reversal of form for the Hornets, who tended to let Moroski carry the load in earlier games.

Willie Barnes, a 6-4 forward, scored 12 points, many on tip-ins and follow shots. Joe Powell added 10, chunky Joe Robinson nine, and Dan Del Rose eight, mostly on free throws when Marin Catholic (now 1-3) started fouling late.

Moroski was there with his usual excellent contribution, scoring 19, mostly on picture-perfect jump shots from the key or the corner. He also rebounded effectively.

"They (Novato) played like I thought they could play," said Hornet coach Jim Carinica. "The 1-3-1 zone defense was very good. We got excellent rebounding from Barnes, Moroski and Robinson — Robinson did a great job for his height." He is a 5-foot-11 guard.

"We kept our poise on offense," continued Carinica. "Even when we got ahead, we kept working our patterns. We were aggressive this time — we weren't in the other games."

In the decisive first half, Moroski scored eight points, and Barnes, Robinson and Powell had six each.

Raiders Release Dickey

OAKLAND (UPI) —Wide receiver Eldridge Dickey won't be around for Sunday's titanic in Kansas City between the Oakland Raiders and Chiefs, or for the Denver game Dec. 19.

The 25-year-old native of Houston, Tex., was dropped from the Raiders squad Wednesday after a series of missed workouts and suspensions. The 6-2, 198-pounder had been the Raiders top draft pick as a quarterback from Tennessee State in 1968.

Coach John Madden refused to talk about the Dickey case. It is presumed the Raiders will try to make a deal for him.

The Raiders drafted Dickey, who is married and has a daughter, for his all-around athletic ability on the gridiron. He didn't play in 1969 due to knee injury and later was used as a backup quarterback and kick return specialist.

Dickey was switched to wide receiver this year and appeared to be adjusting well to the new position. He scored his first professional touchdown against the Philadelphia Eagles after catching a pass and faking out four defenders on a brilliantly executed run into the end zone.

He had been suspended for two weeks early in November for repeated absences from practice. When reinstated, Dickey was placed on the taxi squad but still skipped workouts from time to time.

Johnson Fires 67 In Bahamas Golf

Johnson celebrated his 33rd birthday Wednesday by shooting a four-under par 67 at the 6,805 yard Lucayan Country club, the scene of the 44th and final tournament of 1971.

Cal Of Santa Barbara Ends Football Program

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (UPI)—The University of California, Santa Barbara, has bowed out of intercollegiate football competition because of financial losses.

UCSB Chancellor Vernon I. Cheadle made the announcement Wednesday saying a series of studies indicated football was not financially feasible.

"It is clear from these studies that the football program as presently constituted has consistently produced the greatest financial loss among all sports.

"It is also quite clear that, except for a comparatively small number of extremely loyal and dedicated townspeople and students, football at UCSB lacks any broad range of support," he added.

North Stars Mull Offers

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

TORONTO — Four members of the Minnesota North Stars, including Barry Gibbs and Bill Goldsworthy, said Wednesday night they have been approached with offers to jump their National Hockey League club next year and sign with teams in the World Hockey Association.

Gibbs, Goldsworthy, Jude Droiuin and Cesare Maniago all admitted interest in the newly-forming league but said they would wait until the end of the NHL season to make decisions.

Gibbs said that he had been contacted by Scotty Monroe, general manager of the Calgary team. He further claimed that each club in the WHA had submitted a list of our NHL players whom it wished to contact.

"Every team submitted to WHA headquarters the names of four NHL players they wanted to approach," said Gibbs, who played junior hockey under Monroe. "They called me long distance and we had a chat but I told them I wouldn't think about it until after the season. If the proper deal could be made, I'd be interested."

"A few of us were talking to a representative of the league," said Goldsworthy. "He asked what we would expect if we jumped to the new league. I told him long-term contracts and money in escrow. I told him I was happy in Minnesota but I definitely would consider playing for St. Paul (in the new league) if a proper offer were made."

Auto Racing

BOLOGNA, Italy — World champion driver Jackie Stewart told sports car makers Wednesday that his colleagues want instant adoption of a new gasoline tank designed to prevent fires in auto crashes.

Stewart's plea for gasoline safety tanks came two months after BRM team leader Jo Siffert died when his car crashed and burned at Brands Hatch, England, during a formula one race to honor Stewart, the 1971 formula one world champ.

Equestrian

LONDON — Prince Philip, president of the International Equestrian Federation (FEI), said Wednesday it was the duty of the federation to segregate riders in order to ensure Olympic rules are not broken.

Prince Philip, speaking at the annual meeting of the FEI, said: "It is necessary to segregate those competitors who compete for a living and those who compete for fun.

"I don't think we are being successful at the moment. If we don't make this effort we can't complain if competitors are thrown out of the Olympics. We owe it to the public to make this distinction."

Prince Philip's daughter, Princess Anne, is one of those who compete for fun. She won the European three-day event title earlier this year despite a lack of training.

Under FEI rules, successful riders do not personally receive prize money which is paid to the horse's owner. This has been a bone of contention as far as the International Olympic Committee is concerned.

Baseball

NEW YORK — A meeting focusing on exploratory discussions with an eye to obtaining a major league franchise for Washington, D.C. has been scheduled for the nation's capitol on Tuesday morning, Dec. 14.

SEATTLE, Wash. — Wycliffe N. (Bubba) Morton, a retired outfielder who spent 15 years in professional baseball, will become baseball coach at the University of Washington, it was reported Wednesday.

Morton, who will be 39 Monday, completed his playing career with the California Angels of the American League in 1969. He will succeed Ken Lehman, who retired last May after seven years as baseball coach.

He is the third black coach to be hired at Washington since demands for more black coaches less than a year ago.

NEW YORK — Orlando Cepeda of the Atlanta Braves, who underwent knee surgery last August, plans to give the knee a good workout even before spring training. He'll play in the sixth annual $30,000 American Airlines Golf Classic for baseball and football stars in Puerto Rico, Feb. 4-6.

The tournament, won a year ago by Bill Mazeroski of the Pittsburgh Pirates and linebacker Andy Russell of the Pittsburgh Steelers, is a 54-hole event for two-man teams made up of one baseball player and one football pro.

Bowerman To Coach Olympic Track Team

PORTLAND, Ore. (UPI) — Oregon's Bill Bowerman, who will coach the men's U.S. Olympic track team next year, says rules governing amateur athletics need updating.

Trip To Ballet Scheduled

The Rohnert Park Recreation Commission will sponsor a trip to the San Francisco Ballet Company performance of "The Nutcracker Suite" Dec. 27 at 2 p.m.

Registration for the bus trip should be made at the recreation department office.

The department will also offer an astrology class beginning Jan. 13 to meet on Thursdays from 7 to 10 p.m. at Rancho Cotate High School.

Carolan, Wolford Lead Cage Victory

Former Kansas City Chiefs tight end Reg Carolan and Ray Wolford each scored 19 points to lead Buresh, Vallarino, Costamagna and Claxton to a 66-43 victory over Dump Truck in San Rafael Parks and Recreation adult basketball last night.

Bill broody, former St. Ignatius star, led the Turkeys to a 53-39 triumph over We in another game, scoring 17 points.

HOCKEY PLAY

New York Rangers Tie Chicago

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

The division-leading New York Rangers rallied to tie Chicago 2-2 Wednesday night while Boston beat Los Angeles 5-3 and Montreal downed Detroit 4-2. As a result, a mere point separates the top three teams in the division.

Vic Hadfield scored his 20th goal of the season with 12 minutes left to give the Rangers their tie with Chicago. The Black Hawks had taken the lead a little more than a minute earlier on Pit Martin's goal. The tie left Chicago unbeaten on home ice in 15 games this season and pulled the Black Hawks to within two points of first-place Minnesota in the Western Division.

Chicago can tie for the lead tonight by beating Los Angeles.

Boston erupted for three goals in a 2:56 span early in the third period to beat Los Angeles but the victory may have been a costly one for the Bruins. Center Derek Sanderson was ejected from the game after two consecutive misconduct penalties.

Jerry West Leads Lakers To Victory

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

That was Coach Bill Sharman's summation Wednesday night after the Los Angeles Lakers beat the Houston Rockets 125-120 and moved to within two victories of the National Basketball Association's all-time mark of 20 in a row.

The Lakers' 18th straight victory —two behind the 20 in a row put together by the Milwaukee Bucks last season gave them a seven-game firstmark to 24-3 and gave them a seven-game firstplace lead over idle Seattle in the NBA's Pacific Division. It was the Lakers' second closest margin of victory during the man. "The Rockets are 100 per "This was by far the toughest game of our string," said Sharman. "The Rockets are 100 per cent improved since our last meeting and seem to be adapting to Tex Winter's triple post offense. And Jerry West was just great in the clutch — as usual."

"They're getting harder every game," said West, who scored six of his 33 points in the last two and a half minutes to clinch the verdict. "The other team has our number in their eyes and we're beginning to think about it ourselves. We weren't at first, but we are now. If we break the record, we're going to have to do it the hard way."

Gail Goodrich had 42 Hayes led the Rockets with 31 points. the Cleveland Cavaliers 126-107, the Baltimore Bullets beat the Portland Trail Blazers 115-97 and the Philadelphia 76ers topped the Cincinnati Royals 115-109 in other Wednesday night games.

John Havlicek's 28 points led six Celtics who scored in double figures in an easy victory over the Cavaliers. The Celtics led 63-46 at halftime and closed out the victory with a 40-29 fourth period.

Kentucky Smashes Carolina Cougars

By U. P. INTERNATIONAL

Rookie Artis Gilmore says that defense is his "bread and butter" but the Kentucky Colonels' 7-foot-2 rookie also packs a mighty offensive wallop.

Gilmore, who had been averaging "only" about 22 points a game while leading the American Basketball Association in rebounding and blocked shots, showed some of his offensive prowess Wednesday night when he and Dan Issel combined for 75 points in a 122-111 victory over the Carolina Cougars at Charlotte, N.C.

Issel scored 41 points and Gilmore added 34 for the Colonels, who raised their record to 18-7 and increased their first-place lead over the idle Virginia Squires to three games in the ABA's East Division. Fourteen of Gilmore's points came in the fourth period during which he led a 122 breakaway from a 109-109 tie.

George Lehmann led the Cougars with 26 points and Larry Miller and Jim McDaniels added 20 each.

The Utah Stars defeated the Dallas Chaps, 116-97, and the Memphis Pros beat the Denver Rockets, 109-91, in other Wednesday night games.

Zelmo Beaty scored 25 points, including 20 in the second half, to lead Utah to its victory at Salt Lake City. The stars shot only 38.5 per cent from the field in the first half but wound up with 50 per cent for the game on the strength of a strong second half.

The victory was the 20th in 28 games for the Stars, who have a 3 ½-game first-place lead in the West Division.

Johnny Neumann scored 18 points and Wendell Ladner 17 for the Pros, who had seven players in double figures. The Pros led, 57-38, at halftime and the Rockets never drew closer than seven points. Ralph Simpson scored 24 points for the Rockets.

Nate Bowman Signed

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — The Pittsburgh Condors, attempting to gain some strength under the boards Wednesday, signed 6-foot10 center Nate Bowman, a five year veteran of the National Basketball Association.

Fellow Golfers Honor Trevino

NEW YORK (UPI) —Lee Trevino has been picked by his fellow pros as "Player of the Year" and heads the eight man 1971 Golf Magazine All America team.

WEEKEND FIGHTS

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI)—Amando Vasquez, 171, Mexico, stopped Cipriano Hernandez, 170, San Diego, Calif. (5); Marco Gerardo, 151, San Diego, knocked out Bobby Carrillo, 144, Los Angeles (3).

Slalom For Men Begins

It follows the first downhill in St. Moritz last week —and the top 10 there were heavy favorites today.

One exception was Noel Augert of France, who was busy at Les Munieres in France during the St. Moritz week, winning a special slalom in the European Cup competition.

Bernhard Russi of Switzerlan winner at St. Moritz and World Downhill champion, has to be among the very top favorites, as are his teammates Walter Tresch and Michel Daetwyler, third and fourth at St. Moritz.

Among the Austrian favorites are Heini Messner, veteran Karl Schranz and Josef Loidl, second, fifth and sixth, respectively in Switzerland.

The French, severely beaten at St. Moritz without one placing in the top 10 which count for World Cup points, are determined to take revenge on their home ground.

Besides Augert, Henri Duvillard and Bernard Orcel were certain to go all out for a high placing.

Tam Wrestlers Lose To Oceana

Tamalpais High School's wrestling team lost a close match to Oceana High of Pacifica yesterday in Mill Valley, 38-30.

Tam wrestlers winning their matches by pinning opponents were Dennis Beaird, 95 pound class; Greg Ford, 103, and Jerry Ford, 127. Winning decisions for Tamalpais were Alvin Price, 154; Steve Wallace, 175, and Craig Marshall, 191.

A Pool Problem In Water Polo

By LEW CODDINGTON

Jim Brosnan, the celebrated pitcher-author of a decade ago, ought to write a book about Marin County water polo. He could call it, "The Wrong Season."

The Marin County Athletic League plays water polo from November through January. The rest of the known world plays it September through November, concurrently with football.

There is a reason for this, however, says MCAL commissioner George Corson. It seems that girls swimming, also held in the fall, has squatter's rights on the pools. Girls swimming is a long-established sport in Marin County, while water polo is only four years old.

Nonetheless, there is a movement afoot to change it. A proposal to move water polo to the fall was approved by the MCAL athletic directors Monday and will go before the board of managers (principals) early next month.

In September, the board of managers rejected the proposal on a 3-3 vote, with one abstention. A two thirds majority of the voting schools is required to pass the proposal.

The main roadblock is the pool situation in the north county. Novato High has a pool, but San Marin does not, forcing the Mustang aquatic teams to practice at Novato. In addition, some local non-school teams have made arrangements to use the Novato pool for practice. If you add the girls swim teams to this, the resulting situation resembles the Bayshore at rush hour.

At the other schools, having water polo at the same time as girls swimming would present problems, but not insurmountable ones, at least in the eyes of the water polo coaches. But the Novato situation is a dolphin of a different color.

One solution would be the pool at the San Marin Recreation, Tennis and Swim Club, a private club. However, officials of the club want to charge for its use. The price tag is or is not prohibitive, depending on whom you talk to.

"The rental cost probably equals what it would normally cost to maintain a pool," said San Marin coach Dave Barni, who is growing weary of holding his practices at exotic times like 6 a.m. and 7 p.m., the only hours he can get the crowded Novato pool.

"I'd like to see a pool built at San Marin," he went on. "Obviously, it wouldn't be ready for next fall, so I think we should rent the country club's pool until ours is ready." Barni is already trying to drum up support for his ideas.

Novato principal Stanley Onderdonk disagrees. "The (Novato Unified) school district simply can't pay that kind of money," he said. He refused to comment on whether or not his school would change its vote if another solution were found.

San Marin principal Henry Moroski also claimed the price is high, and added that it would be difficult for his small school to remain competitive if water polo joined the other nine sports in the fall. "Moving soccer to the fall (from the winter) has already hurt our football program," he said. Moroski agreed that "the community needs another pool."

Significantly, no one argues that water polo truly belongs in the winter. It's simply a question of whether or not the obstacles against moving it to the fall are too great.

Terra Linda's coach, Charles Metz, perhaps the leading advocate of moving the season, ticks off four reasons. "We could schedule outside teams," he says. "We could be on a par with these teams, instead of being at the beginning of our season. We could enter tournaments. And we would have a better chance of getting our athletes some All-America recognition."

A fifth reason is weather. All pools are outdoors, and the cool, rainy Marin winters are no fun for a wet athlete clad only in swimming gear. The pools are heated, but that presents another problem — hot water and cool air produce steam. "We had one game where we couldn't see six feet in front of us," said Metz.

In my opinion, water polo belongs in the fall, but damaging the athletic program at the Novato schools is an awful price to pay to move it there. A solution should be found along the lines of getting hold of another pool, somehow.

Redwood, Tamalpais In S.F.

Redwood and Tamalpais High Schools will be gunning for some regional glory — and maybe each other — when they open play tonight in the Crusader Classic basketball tournament at Riordan High in San Francisco.

Tamalpais (2-1) plays Lowell of San Francisco at 7:30 p.m. Redwood (3-0) meets Lincoln, also of San Francisco, at 9.

The winners tonight play each other at 9 p.m. tomorrow, which sets up the possibility of a Redwood-Tamalpais confrontation. Such a game would provide an interesting peek into the future, since the two teams are expected to contend for the Marin County Athletic League title.

There is a less glamorous possibility. The losers of tonight's games also play each other tomorrow, at 5 p.m.

Redwood defeated Lincoln last weekend, in a 64-54 game that was not that close, but an instant replay is not expected. "Lincoln will be better," said Redwood coach Dick Hart. "They beat Sacred Heart (of San Francisco) Saturday. It should be a closer game."

Redwood's star center, Steve McGee, scored 24 points against Washington earlier. Darrell Elder and Tim Hennessy also scored in double figures, and Sam Farb and Mike Connor provided reliably steady guard play.

Tamalpais has a problem on its hands. Lowell beat the St. Ignatius team that handed Tam its only defeat. Lowell plays the kind of steady disciplined game that freewheeling Tam finds so obnoxious.

Will Garner, who goes to the basket with the same ease that other people go to the store, will spearhead the Indians. (He will also be trying to wreck the Indians, since Lowell and Tam share the same nickname.) Forwards Mike Dinehard and Jared McFerrin and guards Pat Losey, John Johnson, David Jones and Clifford Hall will also be in evidence.

Golden State Hosts Hot Lakers Tonight

OAKLAND (UPI) —Quick now, what was the last team which defeated the sizzling Los Angeles Lakers?

Yes sir, or madame, it was the stumbling, bumbling Golden State Warriors. With Joe Ellis getting hot in the final stages, the Warriors upended the Lakers 109-105 Oct. 31 at the Forum in Los Angeles.

Since then, it's been steak and potatoes for the Lakers and mostly water and crackers for the Warriors. Under the superb tutoring of former Warrior coach Bill Sharman, the Lakers have reeled off 18 wins in a row and need only two more to tie the Milwaukee Bucks for the alltime win string in the National Basketball Association.

Trying for No. 19 in a row, the Lakers come to the Oakland Coliseum-Arena tonight to meet a rag-tag group of Warriors who have been nearly run out of the stadium in losing four straight to the likes of the Portland Trail Blazers, Phoenix Suns (twice) and Atlanta Hawks.

Walkenhorst, was the big factor in his team's victory over San Marin even though he scored only 12 points.

"We got psyched out," said San Marin assistant coach Tito Velasco, subbing for head coach Andy Frauenhofer, who is in bed with the flu and strep throat.

"We started concentrating on the big man (Walkenhorst)," Velasco continued. "We shut him off offensively, but he got a lot of rebounds. He got the ball out on the outlet pass and the other three guys ran."

San Marin (now 1-2) did not attempt to penetrate on offense, settling for the outside shots and not making them. The Mustangs also suffered a number of pass interceptions and stolen balls, and Napa (now 4-0) ran effectively after getting control of the ball.

When San Marin's defense sagged on Walkenhorst, Tom Warrington was there to score 16 points and Ron Fisher 15. The outcome was never in doubt.

Napa will play Novato in the tournament semifinals at 7 p.m. Friday. San Marin will meet Marin Catholic in a loser's bracket game at 4 p.m. Friday.

Giants Sign Baylor Shortstop Phil Beall

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Phil Beall, a shortstop from Baylor University, has signed a contract with the San Francisco Giants.

A defensive back on a team coached by his father, Beall delayed his signing until completion of the football season at Baylor. He was a top selection in the June free agent draft.

Smith Wallops In Tennis

PARIS (UPI) —Stan Smith joined the U.S. Army and won $100,000.

Smith, currently America's top tennis player, this week celebrated the anniversary of his induction by installing himself as the favorite for the Pepsi Masters tournament — and another $15,000 in prize money.

The 6-foot-3 private, who now plays out of Sea Pines, S.C., Wednesday won his third straight match in the roundrobin Masters tournament of six matches —the last major tournament before the International Lawn Tennis Federation (ILTF) and World Championship Tennis group (WCT) split. He beat Pierre Bartles of France 6-4, 6-7, 6-3.

Pat Sullivan, Marinaro Named

ST. LOUIS (UPI)—The Sporting News Wednesday named Auburn's Pat Sullivan and Cgrnell's Ed Marinaro as co-College Players Of The Year.

Sullivan, a quarterback and winner of the Heisman Trophy, and Marinaro, a running back, led the 38th annual All-America team chosen by the weekly newspaper. Michigan and Notre Dame had three players each on the team, and Auburn, Oregon and Southern California had two each, but not one player was taken from collegiate powers Nebraska, Oklahoma or Alabama.

The other running back spot on offense was filled by Bobby Moore of Oregon with Terry Beasley of Auburn and Mike Siani of Villanova as wide receivers and Riley Odoms of Houston as tight end.

Although Oklahoma was not represented by any players, The Sporting News selected Chuck Fairbanks of the Sooners as the Coach of the Year.

On defense the newspaper picked players at pro-formation positions with a front four of Walt Patulski of Notre Dame and Herb Orvis of Colorado at ends and Mike Kadish of Notre Dame and Sherman White of California at tackles.

Sugar Bowl Adds Two New Runs

By CHARLIE COANE

It wasn't there when the Donner party strolled over the last summit on its trek across the Sierra — but it's there now. Sugar Bowl is located very near that summit and is now the fourth largest ski resort in California.

In a nutshell, Sugar Bowl has seven chairlifts, a gondola, a T-bar, a rope tow, a 500-car underground garage and a lodge.

"We've added two new runs this season," says general manager Don Schwartz. "This will enable intermediate skiers to handle the upper part of Mt. Lincoln and give advance skiers a chance to try a powder run through some trees."

Other changes on the mountain include the installation of anti-backroll brakes on the lifts.

"A bit of luxury has been added to our cafeteria," says Schwartz. "We've installed wall-to-wall carpeting and wall paneling. The lodge has a new roof, a new deck and a new coat of paint."

The skiing area and the overnight lodge of Sugar Bowl are located away from the main highway and parking areas and are reached via a "magic carpet" or chairlift. When first arriving at the area, you can park your car in an underground garage and ride the magic carpet gondola and never step outside. A chairlift into the area also parallels the gondola, and outside parking is also available. The underground garage costs $2 for 24 hours.

Lift tickets can be purchased at the entrance to the magic carpet or in the ski area itself. The adult daily tab runs $8, with children under 12 half-price. A season pass is $25 or $200, Wednesdays only for $25; every day for $200. Half-price rates apply during mid-week for a number of groups: playboy bunnies, stewardesses, nurses, clergy, students, military and Far West Ski Association members.

The ski school at Sugar Bowl is commanded by Alex Brogle and Toni Marth and the GLM (Graduated Length Method) of teaching is available.

Sugar Bowl has a number of package plans involving accommodations in the lodge, lifts, lessons and meals.

TIME AND TIDE

Department of Commerce, United States Coast Geodetic Survey. Times and heights of tides at San Francisco (Golden Gate):

The column of heights gives the elevation in feet of each tide above or below the plane of Coast Survey chart soundings. The depts are always additive to the chart depts unless preceded by a (-), when the numbers are subtracted from the depth given in the chart. Lightface type indicates a.m. times; bold-face type indicates p.m. times.

GOLF NOTES

A Wintry Season On Marin Courses

As the rainy winter season drips into Marin County, activity at the local golf courses decreases, and members begin to focus on next season.

Mill Valley Golf Club held its elections for 1972, with Keeler Nash being re-elected as president. Ed Victor will return as secretary-treasurer, while Bill Cavalli is the new vice-president.

Board of directors consists of Jules Prizant, Paul Taylor, Tom Wallace, Dr. Dave Schmidt, Mike Cunningham and Gene Addleman.

Also at Mill Valley, the blind-draw best-ball twosome of Prizant and George Davenport shot 123, one stroke ahead of the Mario Polacci-Herb Theime duo.

The results:

BOWLING TIPS

By MARION LADEWIG

Good balance at the release offers the bowler the best chance of delivering an effective ball. Although finishing with your weight forward — on the left leg — is not the only answer to balance, you will be off kilter if you do not release the ball in this manner. "Rearing back" always causes a loss of balance.

San Marin Grapplers Pin Tomales, 48-26

San Marin High School wrestlers won one of two battles in a triangular meet with El Molino of Forrestville and Tomales yesterday.

San Marin defeated Tomales 48-26 in Forrestville but lost to the host El Molino team 42-27.

Terra Linda Cagers Move Marks To 3-0

The Terra Linda High School freshmen and "B" teams upped their basketball marks to 3-0 yesterday.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Concern Over His Retirement Fund

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. I recently sold property and invested more than half the $20,000 I cleared in Gulf Oil and Talley Industries preferred. These promptly dropped several points. Since this is my retirement fund I am concerned. — L.B.

A: The drop in price for your Big Board holdings reflects more the uncertain state of the stock market than any fundamental weakness in either issue. Long-term equity investors must develop a certain amount of detachment in order to survive the fluctuations which characterize the stock market. If you find you are unable to live comfortably with these ups and downs you might be happier holding bonds, or bank certificates of deposit.

Gulf Oil, a worldwide integrated petroleum company, has sizeable interests in Kuwait, Venezuela, Nigeria, Iran and Canada. Reflecting the growing militance of the OPEC nations, the market overreacted and the international oils sold off. Gulf has stepped up exploration activities in Indonesia, Canada and the North Sea in order to spread its crude sources. Earnings this year should reach about $2.80 and shares now trading 9x this figure are on the bargain shelf. Talley has aggressively moved out of government-funded business through acquisitions. Consumer and industrial products account for 80 per cent of sales and government business 20 per cent. Earnings are estimated at $1.10 a share for the year to end March 31. Shares are well worth holding toward your retirement.

Q. I plan to retire in less than six months at 66. It is possible for me to increase my annuity income by $9.20 per year for each additional $100 voluntarily paid into the Civil Service Retirement Fund. Would this be advisable or should I put it into a commercial annuity? — C.J.

A. This rate, 9.2 per cent, is probably as generous as any available commercially. While in some other investment vehicle such as a bond or a savings account your capital would be wholly or partially retained, the return would be at best 7 per cent. I certainly approve of increasing your retirement benefits through this fund.

Stocks In A Slow Retreat

Analysts said the weakness reflected more of the same profit taking that began trickling in early in the week in the wake of the market's sharp advance since Thanksgiving.

Near noon, the Dow Jones industrial average was off 4.82 at 850.03. Standard & Poor's 500 stock index showed a loss of 0.25 at 96.67, and declines topped advances, 724 to 456.

Prices also worked lower in moderate trading on the American Stock Exchange.

Among the most active Amex issues were Syntex down more than a point on 16,000 shares, Presley Development slightly lower on 14,000 shares, and Ozark Airlines also fractionally lower on 14,000 shares.

On the Big Board, Honeywell and Wrigley (ex-dividend) fell 2 or more. Down a point or so were Getty Oil, Superior Oil, Bausch & Lomb, Control Data, Burroughs, Itek Corp., and Walt Disney.

Steels, chemicals, rails, and aircrafts were fractionally mixed. Motors and airlines were slightly easier.

A NEW PROGRAM

The Division of Bay Toll Crossings has put into effect a new bridge-painting program aimed at achieving long-range savings in maintenance costs — mainly by stretching out the time between paintings. Here San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge painters, 60 stories up, move the headblock for the suspender stage.

Building Begun

SAN FRANCISCO (BW) — Construction of the Fromm & Sichel Inc. headquarters building has begun — at the corner of Beach and Hyde streets, with completeion expected early in 1973.

Company Reports Revenue Losses

SHERMAN OAKS (BW) — Western Research & Development Inc. announced sales and earnings for the fiscal year ended April 30.

Total revenues for the period amounted to $1,779,531 while posting a loss of 13 cents per share. Comparable figures for fiscal 1970 show revenues of $3,164,326 and a net profit of 9 cents per share. Earnings figures include extraordinary losses of 2 cents per share in fiscal 1971 and 7 cents per share in fiscal 1970.

WR & D spokesmen attributed the loss in fiscal 1971 to a change in accounting procedures whereby the provision for contract cancellation was increased from 2 per cent to 11 per cent.

El Chico Reports 61% Earnings Hike

DALLAS (BW) — El Chico Corp. has reported a record six months as earnings rose 61 per cent on a 17 per cent sales increase.

For the 24 weeks ended Nov. 12 net income amounted to $288,836, or 25 cents a share, up from $179,560, or 15 cents a share a year ago, spokesmen said.

OTHER PEOPLE'S BUSINESS

By HARRY CRAFT

Marine Supply Company's New Owners To Expand, Renovate

There are new owners for Loch Lomond Marine Supply in San Rafael, which is now in the hands of two East Bay boatsmen.

Don Tomb of Oakland and M. B. (Marty) Kimpson of Alameda have bought out Arthur E. McIrvin, who is concentrating his time on his pest control business (Jackson Pest Control).

Both men have been in the boating business for many years. Tomb still has Catalina Marine in Oakland. Kimpson has been associated with the Cris Craft line of marine equipment.

They are increasing the inventory at Loch Lomond Marine to about three times its former size, with considerable expansion in equipment for cruisers, including refrigeration, air conditioning, water pressure systems and other lines. The store is being renovated — a process that will probably go on until the spring boating season.

Winter hours are from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. seven days a week. There will be extended hours during the summer season.

NEW MANAGER at Kinney Shoes, 2100 Fourth Street on the San Rafael Miracle Mile, is Ben Garr, who has been transferred to Marin from Hilo, Hawaii where he has been assistant manager for the past 18 months. He has been with the Kinney organization for about three years and has taken up residence in East San Rafael.

Former manager James Campbell has been transferred to Oakland.

IF YOU SHOULD come across some new buildings on Gravenstein Highway between Sebastopol and Forestville in Sonoma County, done in country Russian architectural style and appearing as though they should be located over on the coast at Fort Ross, these are the new winery and accessory structures designed and now being completed by R.E. Nolan and Son of Anselmo for the Russian River Vineyards.

"BARGAINS," "SALES" AND "SPECIALS" that are advertised may offer less than you expect, according to the Federal Trade Commission, which says some pricing practices are deceptive by their nature and are used to mislead — and that a little comparison shopping will prove it.

The pricing claim, "All items in stock reduced 25 per cent," is misleading if the regular merchandise carried by the store is removed from the floor and inferior quality merchandise is substituted. Also, offers such as "Buy one — get one free", or "Two for one," are not true bargains when the price of a single item is inflated.

Generally speaking, the consumer gets no bargain unless the sale price is less than the regular market value. "Manufacturer's list price" and "suggested retail price" often are inflated and are nothing more than the price the manufacturer would like to get.

These and other deceptive practices are covered in "Guides Against Deceptive Pricing," available free from the Federal Trade Commission, 450 Golden Gate Avenue, Box 35005, San Francisco 94102.

MOTOR VEHICLE REGISTRATIONS in Marin County for the first nine months of this year increased 4 per cent from the same period in 1971. The 1971 total was 132,750, compared to 127,200 in the nine-month period of last year. Biggest percentage gain was in motorcycles — more than 10 per cent.

Western's Mileage

LOS ANGELES (BW) — Western Airlines has reported preliminary November traffic of 373 million seat miles sold. In November 1970, seat miles sold — inflated by a strike that shut down a major competitor — totaled 377 million.

Hub Schools To Fight Pupil Transfer Cost

The San Anselmo School District board has agreed to fight a Marin County Board of Education decision approving transfer of a student to the Sausalito School District.

The transfer previously had been approved by the San Anselmo board, with the condition that there be no charge to the San Anselmo district.

The Sausalito School District board then rejected the transfer with that condition, saying San Anselmo must pay for the education of the student.

Carol Pukis of 12 Hazel Avenue, mother of the student, Anthony Pukis, appealed the Sausalito decision to the county board of education, which upheld the appeal, but in doing so knocked off San Anselmo's condition.

If the decision is allowed to stand, San Anselmo Schools Supt. W. Kenneth Lowry said, the district will have to pay Sausalito about $1,500 or $1,600 a year when the boy could be educated in San Anselmo for about $700 or $800.

The San Anselmo board had no objection to the transfer, Lowry said, but agreed at a meeting Tuesday to appeal to the county board to reconsider its decision which would force San Anselmo to pay.

Mr. Pukis requested the transfer because, she said, she leaves Anthony at the Manzanita Day Care Center in Marin City while she works.

No day care center facility is available in San Anselmo, she said.

The San Anselmo School District board also:

WINDOWS — Agreed to continue its policy of replacing broken windows with nonbreakable plastic windows, a policy which has been costing the district about $400 a month. The board directed Lowry to send letters to parents explaining the problems the district has had with vandalism and asking parents' help in combatting it.

BUS — Authorized Lowry to call for bids on a surplus school bus and agreed, if approval of the Marin County Counsel's office is obtained, that payment for the bus could be in goods or services, as an alternative to cash.

MEMORIAL — Rejected a committee recommendation that a manual skills program be established and a geodesic dome be constructed at Red Hill School to house it as a memorial to former Red Hill principal Donald L. Shaw, who died in July. Lowry said the board considered the projected $16,000 cost of the dome beyond its means. He was directed to investigate the possibility of establishing a manual skills program anyway and to review other proposals for the Shaw memorial.

STUDY — Agreed to hire Management Design Inc. of San Francisco for an appraisal of district management at a $300 fee.

Opera Opens On Low-Keyed Note

MILAN, Italy (UPI)—An audience in evening dress packed La Scala opera house Tuesday night for the opening of the 1972-73 season, but something was missing.

Gone was the ostentatious display of past years. Gone, too, were the demonstrators whose yells and egg-throwing of the late 1960s put an end to the parade of wealth which regularly brought tax officials to the opera to help them decide who was cheating on returns.

Nothing more than dark suits was requested for this year's opening, a speeded-up renditon of Giuseppe Verdi's "Simon Boccanegra." A prologue and three acts was presented in two parts with only one intermission, and the opera was out by midnight —something rare for Italy.

Ashland Festival Deer Is Killed

ASHLAND, Ore. (UPI)—A five-pointed buck that was lodged in the Lithia Park adjacent to the Shakespearean festival facilities has been found decapitated — the apparent victim of a trophy hunter.

Park officials said the buck was shot with about six arrows sometime before dawn Tuesday morning. Some of the arrows went completely through the animal.

The body was dragged over the stream bank on the edge of the pen holding the herd of deer and the whole head with the rack of horns of at least five points was removed. There was no meat taken.

Park officials said the animal, raised in the city-run park, was tame.
